THE MARKET.—In New York yesterday cotton was weak and irregular with sales of 1,804 bales at 15 1/4. Turpentine and rosin remain unchanged.

Religious Services at Tucker Hall.—Owing to undisturbed rains on the Edenton street Methodist church, its congregation will worship to-morrow in Tucker Hall.

OLD JAMES ROBINSON'S TRUNKS.—For SALE.—In order that the public may not be annoyed by the vast quantity of trunks, around Old John Robinson's ticket wagon on the day of exhibition, he has placed tickets on sale at the well known and popular Drug Store of William Simpson, No. 53, Fayetteville Street.

SWORN PRESENTATION.—Several members of the Halifax Light Infantry last evening at their regular drill presented Orderly Sergeant, John T. Pullen, with a letter expressing their confidence and esteem for him as a most capable and efficient officer.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.—To night the eclipse of the moon begins at 17 minutes and 23 seconds past 12; total eclipse begins at 45 minutes and 23 seconds past 12; middle eclipse 57 minutes and 17 seconds past 12; total ends at 19 minutes and 5 seconds past 1; eclipse ends at 37 minutes and 11 seconds past 1.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.—He came into the city about 1 o'clock yesterday and was up to town 10 o'clock. His job today as the engineers would say had gone off and with 125 pounds of steam he was "blowing."

CHARLES OSWELL.—We are informed that a bond of indemnity has been given in the case of Dr. Orr against the Carolina Central Railroad, and that the plaintiff has been summoned to appear before Judge Sobieski, at Lincolnton, this evening to show cause why the injunction shall not be dissolved or modified.

VALUABLE HORSE.—Many valuable horses die from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Lintment into a long-necked junk bottle, add half a pint of molasses and water, then pour the whole down the horse's throat.

EXCHANGE HOTEL. RALEIGH, N. C. By Mrs. ROSA HOWE. Always good as the Market can afford. Charge reasonable. March 1874.

CURRENT ITEMS

King Combs, of Africa, has made use of the new cable to say to Boston: "Let humanity just be to be, rather than something corpulent."

The warehouse of San Francisco and the Pacific coast are said to be almost empty, while those inland are bursting with grain, and much is yet said to be left in the fields in stacks.

A coupon of one of Maximilian's Mexican bonds was recently sent to Treasurer Spitzer, at Washington, together with a note, the writer of which stated that he was a poor man and wanted money, and thought that Mr. Spitzer could dispose of his coupon for him to the best advantage.

The ambitious town of Huntington, West Virginia, the present terminus of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, and a recent creation of that road has entered the Chicago insurance field with three insurance companies. The Chicago Tribune seems to intend the appellation "widest" for one or more of them.

J. W. Halsey, a cattle trader of Texas recently obtained $10,000 from Rogers, Power & Co., a stock firm of Kansas City, on the representation that he owned a large drove of cattle.

RALEIGH MARKET. WHOLESALE CASH PRICES. RALEIGH, Oct. 24, 1874.

Business brisk, Bacon declining. Sugars firm and a truce. Syrup and Molasses quiet. Cotton lower but in good demand.

As the party entered the alcove they fronted towards the guests, while the attendants, bridesmaids and groomsmen stood on either side.

On one side of the table stood a large table-cloth, surmounted by a shield and two flags, inscribed with the date of marriage and with the monogram of the wedding pair.

After the wedding there was a reception, which lasted from 4 to 6 o'clock. The bride party left at 9 o'clock this evening for St. Louis, where they will remain for three days, and then proceed to Washington and New York.

INSPY TERNER.—An injured writer, whose name may have been stung by one of the missiles, thus writes of Young America, all of which we are a quincunx and so.

"The wickedness of the small boy is not yet fully known. It was thought he had reached the lower depths when he leaped from the villainous gimble-shooter. But recent developments prove the absurdity of such a presumption. Their rebellious small boy, whether he goes up or down, has the motto "Prigions" stamped on his brow. He commenced by shooting gravel, which only broke an occasional pane of glass, or slightly stung the unwary pedestrian whenever it hit him in a tender place. Next he resorted to stones and small bowlders. Here it was thought he was in the zenith of his glory, for he not only broke windows, but crippled animals and wounded the inoffensive citizen. Now it is thought he has touched the top, or bottom, of his misadventure. He shoots the deadly bullet with the precision of a rifleman, and every object of his anger is wholly at his mercy.
