THE OLD WOMAN AND THE MIRROR.-There is a large pier glass mirror in the parlor of the Exchange Hotel in this city. Sming up from dinner the other day, as we passed the parlor, we observed an old lady from the country, with a basket on her erm, and she was standing close to the mirror, with her face nearly jam up to the glass. She heard us as we passed, and ere we got at of the door she called to us and pointing towards the parlor asked us if that lady over there was deal and dumb. Thinking probably that one of the lady boarders was acting the mute to the old woman we humored the loke that the lady was deaf and dumb. The old lady then asked us if we didn't want to buy some country made socks, and showed us some very nice ones she had in the basket. As we lest the hotel the thought struck us to go back and urtool the old lady about the desf and dumb weman, never once thinking that ] on the sofa at the door. Incold buly felt in her basket and haute bout a pair of sonal canvass. socks, and he t them up before the mirfor: Lut no somer did she do it, than with a sort of curesy and a mod of her head, she said, "On, an' you have got some to sell, too; an' they are just like mine." As she was coming out she said to us, "I never could talk to thes: deaf and dumb folks," "Madam," said we, "that woman is the exact image of you."

"Oh," says she, "I'm not deaf and dumb."

"No," we told her, "but the woman favor-

THE TWO OF B BREACHERS On the examination of character of supersonuated preachers quite an affecting cene presented itself. The Bishop asked for addresses from two gray headed old preachers, M., B. T. Blake and Mr. Gray. These two old servants of the Lord each made a tearful and impressive talk. At the close of their addresses the Bishop said there was a remarkable circumstar co posected with the lives of these two aged servants. Mr. Gray had been converted through the instrumentality of Mr. B. T. Binke and through the instrumentality of Mr. Gray hundreds and thousands had been added to the church. thus showing the amount of good it is in the power of one man to do.

REV. DR FERRIN, OF NASHVILLE, was introduced to Conference. The Dr. has just made an extended trip to the Conferences in California, Oregon and Los Angelos. He made an interesting address to the Conference.

BUENTON STREET CHURCH. Mr. Mangum called attertion to the want of room is the Edenton Street Church and stated they were talking of enlarging it, but they needed help from abroad. The bishop and Dr. McFerr.n both pressed the necessity for a large church in this city, and that it behooved the Methodists of the State to give help ferred to a committee

SILVER FOR GOLD. - The members of the Cross Creek Lodge of Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of Payetteville, received golden words well put together, from Major Seaton Gales. They gave him thanks and silver for his gold, as will be seen by reading what follows :

The members of Cross Oreck Lodge, No. 4, I. O. O., Fayetteville, have heard, with pleasing emotions, the chaste and unsurpassed address of Past Grand Master Scaton Gales, and desire to express these obligations to him for the fund of information imparted, the intellectual treat (urnished, and the masterly and forcible manner in which he set forth the principles of our Order, therefore,

Resolved, That the thanks of our Lodge are due our Worthy Past Grand Master for his refined and charming address this evening. In acknowledging its indebt edness, the lodge begs to assure him that his visit was one of the most pleasurable events in its history, affording, as it did the occasion for the members to form the acquaintance of this distinguished and estimable brother, the genial gentleman remembrance as a brother fixed in the hearts of individual members never to be lorgotten

Resolved. That the committee commit nicate these proceedings to Brother Gales, and ask him to accept, as a memorial of his visit to our lodge, the persent of a sil-
