That Steam Washers are better than others is now generally conceded. That the Peerless is the best of Steam Vashers will be as readily admitted by every one who sees it end trice it with on.

Its construction is such as to rush the largest quant to water through the is such as to rush the water through the cloth-at time, and to compell all where it is desired, and pre-anywhere else. It hav no largest quantities water through the clothing in the time, and to compell all the water to where it is desired, and prevent its an anywhere else. It have no bungling vary to make the water flow by fits and cease to flow at intervals—but causes it to few steadily—pouring sixteen streams the whole surface of the clothing. Then the risa not to descend to the centre or sate of the false bottom to get back to rising boint but goes straight down from here it falls, washing all parts of the clothing—now untouched by its sapid current. It rushes through the clothing many times per minute and cleans them in 15 to 30 minutes!

The cost of the machine may be saved very soon in difference in wear of the clothes. It may be saved very soon in the difference of labor required.
