NOT ALLOWED.

The Constitution made by plunderers, bummers and rogues, abolishes corporal punishment. The old Mosaic law of forty. save one, was discensed with. The result is 528 convicts in the penitentiary and the cry is still they come. When our old friend Winston of Franklin goes on a visit to the prison he is charged 25 cents victs. He refuses payment upon the consequently have no need for books. There are thirty prisoners in Wake county jail who should be out at work under guard upon the streets, highways or railroads of the State. We take it there are 500 prisoners in the various jails who ought to be at work about old Fort and Ducktown. We tell the men of the mountains to cut loose from ring men and ring papers, and look to the thousand good hands shut up in prisons for the completion of their railroads. The men you have trusted and wish now to trust, the people will trust no longer. They are thoroughly corrupt. They sided Littlefield and Swepson in rquandering $7, 000,000 of State bonds, intended to build your railroads. They are now seeking to handle mortgage bonds when they are unsafe custodians of small size granite rocks for culverts in a railroad track. Every railroad in North Carolina is under mortgage. The three in which the State owns about three-fourths of the stock have two mortgages on them. In nine years $8,000,000 of bonds issued by the State for building the three roads will begin to fall due. The State cannot pay, the railroad corporations can if allowed to do so, and no more mortgages put upon them to gratify Billy Smith, Col. Humphrey, Gen. Sibley, R. Y. McAden, Co!. Woodfin and the like.

W. A. SMITH AND CONSOLIDATION It rarely happens that one single individual, in a private station, has it in his power to defeat the earnest cravings of a selfish whims, yet such is the spectacle now presented by the attitude of W. A. Smith towords the consolidation measure. He went to the stockholder's meeting on Thursday, with the deliberate intent to defeat or postpone consolidation by a skillfully concocted scheme (in which he had the countenace of Gov. Caldwell, who was present to cast the State vote through proxy.) by which he pretended to accept the legislative amendment, except the section which banned him. was carefully prepared, and kept secret the citizens, then we are prepared to be even from the introducer of it, who says, we understand, that he was not aware of blood letting between the races in M.sits perport until he began to read it. sissippi if he thought it would enable Thus, while Smith and his party thought him to regain his lost ground it. Massato deceive the country by pretending to chusetts, accept consolidation, they were, in realiriod. For, of course, it was folly to pre tend to accept a part of the amendment, when the act itself demands its adoption wholly.

There can be no denying then that Smith, Caldwell & Co. defeated consolidation and destroyed the hopes of the people of Western North Carolina, who have listened too credulonsly to the deceitful promises of these schemers. We trust they will now awaken to the truth, and refuse to any longer trust a set of demagogues, whose objects, like Littlefield's, are not to build the road, but to swindle the State, and at the same time to make political capital by continued appeals to sectional prejudices. If the Western Conservatives do not utverly cast off the Smithites now, they deserve to be deprived of a railroad for the next ten years .- Southern Home, April 20th.

NVADING THE SOCIAL CIRCLE Charlotte must be recovering, a gentleman who withholds his name pitches into a dining given to Mr. Ed. Matthews, like the hornets nest boys did in to Lord Conwallace in 1881. At the same time be reviews the conduct and charges against Mr. Matthews, he 'invades the social circle' by rapping some of our friends for dining with Mr. Mattews, the great railroad builder, and intimates that the people our him just as much as the people of b ... da owe Gen. Littlefield for completing their railroads which he had in the first place robbed them et. We look upon it se s go d sign that a citizen of Charlotte should be so bold as to write such a letter, which if published without his name would throw the responsibility of at least three fights upon the editor. We know what he says is true and much more besides, but he must give us hie name. Matthews may be a fighting man and the natives who dined with him are not quakers. Besides there are three papers published in Charlotte, any one of which might publish the communication sent us. Give us your name "Mecklenburg" and you may make the wool fly to your hearts content.

McADEN'S ROAD.

When Gen. Barringer, at the late Ed. Matthews' dinner, in Charlotte, called on McAden to know when he would complete the Western road, we construed the call into an effort of the attorney to bull up the weak title of his client to property which he could not hold, Now, we don't know that the General is of counsel for McAden. If he is not, we will take back what we have said, and | Can't you may a word to encourage it. beg pardon for our ill tounded suspi-

ECRAPS OF RAILROAD HISTORY. On the 16th of April, 1874, the stockholders of the North Carolina Railread met in Salisbury to pass upon the consolidation amendments to their charter. proxy. Gen. Rufus Barringer, who voted the State's stock of 30,000 shares to accept all the act, except that which ex cluded dishonest persons from holding office. "This pertion of the act we do not accept but reject," said they. At Hillsboro' they "pented themselves" July, at their annual meeting they resolved to accept the whole of the consoladmission fee to "buy books for the con- idation sot and exclude from office al. dishonest persons. Immediately after ground that the convicts can't read and the April meeting in Salisbury, Judge decreed a sale of the Western Road to secret history of this Sibley transaction will disclose a gigantic swindle, and no ing me about $3,000 profit, I think." mistake. Before sale day arrived, John Branch, of Petersburg, a large stockholder in the North Carolina Road obtained ding the North Carolina Road to pur chase the Western Road, as Billy Smith do with McAden, Sibley & Co. Judge sale for 60 days. Before the expiration of the 60 days, Judge Bond, at the in stance of the construction bondholders as forbidding the North Carolina Road buy indeffinitely postponed the sale. When he will make another order of sale, we are not advised. We can only hope the Judiciary may never find itself again exinjunction came off before Judge Henry at ias' Wake Superior Court and was dis solved. The Bond injunction has not yet been heard, and no one knows when it will be. If Boad's court holds up the injunction, as it did the indictment Fat Carrow had against us in that court, it is two years yet before a hearing.

AMES AND BUTLER.

The first is Governor of Mississippi and sonsit law of the first named. It is vast region of country, to gratify his own | charged that Ames, moved by Butler, has been stirring up strife in Mississippi by inciting the negroes against the whites, that Butler may recover his lost position in Massachusetts by raising the cry of rebel oppressing the negre. This hardly looks possible, yet it may be so, for the negro is the hinge upon which the elections in Massachusetts has surped for these twenty years.

If it be true, as Burgen said of Holden, that he sought by arresting innocent men in Caswell and Alamance to bring about The resolution adopting the amendment a collision between Kirk's soidiers and lieve that Butler would encourage a little

What you said about not impeaching Logan Harris, was construed by the ring men to mean that you were going over to the enemy. Now it is the talk that Logan Harris will send bills not only against Mr. Swepson, but against some of the blackmailers-Judge Watts and others. HOLDEN, JENKINS, SWEPSON AND DR. HAWKINS.

There is an unsolved mystery in the sale of $180,000 of mortgage bonds of the North Carolina Railroad Company to Gov. Cald well was present with his State George W.
