ABOUT ANDY J. HARRIS.

Mr. Love, resolution—Senate and House concurring—sending greeting from North Carolina to Tennessee over the election of Andy Johnson to the United States, and a copy be sent to Governor of Tennessee, and one to Andy Johnson.

The resolution was put on its reading. Mr. Kerr couldn't vote for these resolutions—we were once engaged in what we thought was right and Andy Johnson did what he could against his own native State. Mr. Parish asked Mr. Kerr if he didn't vote for Horace Greeley. Mr. Kerr replied he did, he took him for the lesser evil, but that was no reason he should endorse these resolutions.

Mr. Love supported his resolutions. He said he was on the same side with the Senator from Sampson during the war, but all that had passed, and Johnson had acted on his convictions under the Constitution and Union. There were twenty of his Captains and Lieutenants shut up in prison at Knoxville during the war, and he didn't know how to get them out, when he had just surrendered. They told him to go to Andy Johnson. He went, and Andy told him, "This war is over, your men shall come out." Mr. Love opposed any such resolutions as these here. It does not become us to have anything to do with Tennessee's election. He was glad Andy was elected because he would worry them a good deal at Washington. But there were better men these resolutions would more become.

Mr. Standford would never vote a compliment to a man who had hung an innocent woman. Hoped resolutions would be tabled.

Mr. Waring contended that Andy Johnson's hands were clear of the blood of Mrs. Surratt, and it had so been proven. He was sorry though these resolutions had been brought up. He was the only man who after descending from his high position had been elected by a sovereign State to represent her in the highest tribunal of the country, and his ability reflected credit on this his native State and this the city of Raleigh. He was sorry for the resolutions, because he did not wish Mr. Johnson to go to Washington cramped and embarrassed by a slight from the Legislature of the very State that gave him birth.

Mr. LeGrand thought such legislation out of place and moved to lay on the table. Ayes and nays called, ayes 35, nays 5. Tabled.

Colored Mr. Mason, resolution to adjourn since die on 4th of March. Lies over.

Mr. Latham, bill to amend Battle's Revised. Referred.

Mr. Love, resolution urging Congress to extend aid to Western North Carolina road or Southern Pacific and make national gauge of 4 feet 8 1/2 inches. Lies over.

USURY.

Mr. Babcock regretted that trial of important law suit yesterday prevented his appearance in this chamber when such a furious onslaught was made on him. He then asked clerk to read resolutions of District Orange No. 1 in Franklin county, providing that repeal of usury laws will serve 3 changes money, E. C. Manly signed as Secretary. On motion then, the further discussion of the usury bill was postponed until half past seven to-morrow.

THE FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

In a report on the part of the Senate, Gov. Bogden has sent in the following special message in relation to the affairs of the North Carolina Railroad:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 25, 75

To the President and the Senate of North Carolina:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a resolution passed by the Senate, requesting me to furnish information in relation to the financial condition of the North Carolina Railroad, and in compliance with said request, I transmit herewith such information as I have been able to obtain concerning the subject matter of the resolution.

The whole number of State Bonds is used for construction of the North Carolina Railroad, under the act of 1848 '49, chapter 93, and the act of 1864 '65, chapter 93, par. value of $1,000 each, $2,794,000. The number of stock Bonds taken up in exchange for stock formerly owned by the State in Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, &c., 206.

Leaving whole number of North Carolina Construction Bonds outstanding, 2,794. Par value of $1,000 each, $2,794,000.

Whole number of North Carolina Railroad Bonds proved in the United States Circuit Court, Eastern District of North Carolina, in the suit of Anthony H. Swazy for self and others against the North Carolina Railroad Company, D. A. Jenkins, Public Treasurer, and others, 1827, making $1,827,000.

Whole number of past due coupons of said bonds proved up to and including those due October 31, 1874, 25,663,977.00.

Of this there has been ordered to be paid under decrees of the Court made in the above named suit, at several times, (about) $324,000.

Leaving balance of coupons still due, and proved of $246,400.

Interest claimed on these coupons by the holders, and if allowed, will amount to between $115,000 and $180,000.

Balance of Bonds outstanding and not proved, $967,000.

Estimated coupons past due on these Bonds $11,504, making $245,150.

In addition to balance of coupons on proved Bonds now due and unpaid, to-wit: $245,150.

The coupons on these bonds falling due January 1, and April 1, 1875, will amount to $54,616.

Total of coupons on proved bonds due or before April 1, 1875, $301,766.

I have not yet seen any satisfactory reason to change the opinion expressed in my regular message in regard to this matter, as follows:

"The sum necessary to be raised by the present General Assembly to pay the past due interest on the Construction Bonds, and thus save the stock of the State from sale under the decree of the United States Circuit Court, will probably amount to more than $300,000.

I entertain this opinion from information derived from Hon. W. A. Smith, President of the North Carolina Railroad J. A. McCauley, Treasurer of said road, and J. B. Betchler, Esq., the Commissioner the amount of interest past due and unpaid in the Swazy suit.

The North Carolina Railroad has already paid three million nine hundred and sixty thousand dollars ($3,960,000) in dividends, and reducing the dividends in Confederate currency to six per cent, this road has paid two million four hundred and forty thousand dollars ($2,440,000). This valuable and important road ought not to be lost to the State.

It gives encouragement to labor and enterprise, and increases our taxable wealth.

It tends to the promotion of trade and commerce, and it is of great public benefit and utility. Judging from the past prosperity and future prospects of this road, it is reasonable to expect that it will be able to pay at least six per cent. dividends on its capital stock.

The rent of the North Carolina Railroad, $300,000, has been paid punctually by the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company, according to the terms of the lease made by said Company, September 11, 1871.

I respectfully and earnestly recommend the General Assembly to preserve and protect the State's interest in this road.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, your obedient servant,

C. H. BROOKER, Governor.
