Harpers Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED:

Notices to the Press.

The ever-increasing circulation of this excellent monthly proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs. Indeed, when we think it to know many more than exists every month, we are not surprised. It is as if all the news stores, as well as enterprisers
of the public mind, for its vast popularity have been won by no appeal simpler or more devious than — Entertainment.

The character which this Magazine presents
as for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth, and literary culture that has kept pace with it has not led the times, should cause its conductors to regard it with justifiable confidence. It also entitles them to a great claim upon the public gratitude. The Magazine has done good and not evil all the days of its life.—Advertiser.

The City.

SUNDAY IN RALEIGH.—A venerable citizen has just remarked what a glorious morning it is and he wished he could live a hundred years longer to enjoy such a beautiful world. But—

"Tis but an hour ago, since it was nine; And after an hour more 'twill be eleven; And so, from hour to hour, we ripe and ripe;

And then, from hour to hour, we rot and rot;

And thereby hangs a tale."

The church bells are now ringing and the bells that chime to-day are the bells that can toll to-morrow. If a man listens to these bells without heeding their call it is his own fault. They chime for him on Sundays alone one hundred and four times in a year but they never toll for him but one time.

PREACHERIAN.

At the Presbyterian Church this morning Dr. Atkinson preached from Psalms 107, 7: "There be many that say, Who will show us any good? Lord, lift up the light of thy countenance upon us." A young lady and young gentleman joined the church, Miss Georgia Scott, and Mr. James Peterson Curth. Communion service was administered. In the evening a congregational meeting of the children and friends of the Sunday School. There is some seriousness in the congregation and Dr. Atkinson will continue the prayer meetings at the church during the week.

BAPTIST.

Dr. Skinner preached at the Baptist church in the morning from 1st Timothy vi, 6: "For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out." He told them there was no use laying up money here, they could do nothing with it, and frequently their wills were destroyed, and they had no control over their money after they were gone. He spoke of the impoverished condition of this State in an educational point of view, and said he had a long talk yesterday about our University with a gray headed lawyer of this city. He was coming back among us and wished to give the remainder of his days to helping the benevolent and educational institutions of his mother State. Dr. Skinner is undoubtedly an able man. As proof of it a prominent Episcopalian remarked this morning, "I remember when he preached twenty years ago." Another old citizen, not a Baptist, remarked, "I remember a sermon he preached at least 20 years ago from the text, 'Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.' Dr. Skinner expects to leave for Georgia to-morrow. Dr. Pritchard will still continue his sunrise prayer meetings during the week, and the meeting will go on as usual every night. Rev. Dr. Durham of Goldsboro, a brother of Pluto Durham, is expected to assist Dr. Pritchard this week. There is much interest manifested, and even Friday night, when the rain pored down, there was a good attendance and souls converted.

EPISCOPAL.

At Christ Episcopal Church in the morning Rev. Mr. Marshall preached from 1st Corinthians xvii, 35, 36, 37, 38: "But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come? Then fool, that which thou seest is not quickened, except it die: And that which thou seest, thou seest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain: But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body."

At the Free Church of the Good Shepherd Rev. Mr. Rich preached from St. John xx, 10: "Peace be unto you," when Christ after he had arisen appeared to his disciples who were in fear and were shut up from the Jews. Two children of Dr. J. R. H. Carter and a child Mr. Frazier were baptized at this church.

METHODIST.

At Edenton Street Church in the morning the Presiding Elder Mr. Moore preached from Matthew xxviii, 19: "After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them." Communion was administered. The following persons united themselves with the church: Miss Emma Bledsoe, Mr. James Harrell, Mr. Skidmore Cheek, and Mrs. Carr L. Gray. After they were received into membership a class of the blind from the Institution came to the altar and sang with touching melody the beautiful song, "Will you meet me at the Fountain?"

At Penn Street Church Rev. Mr.

Willis of Wilson preached from Mark xi, 22: "And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God." Twenty of the new converts joined the church this morning, and the revival is still going on.

MISCELLANEOUS.

We hear Dr. Skinner says that the first money given to the building of the present Baptist Church was subscribed by a Presbyterian.

A boy of business Little Willie Harrison, only five years old, stepped up to the Superintendent in the Baptist Sunday School this morning, and handing him a five dollar bill, observed in a very business way that he had promised to give that much to the Second Baptist Church.

Dr. Atkinson preached to-night at the Presbyterian Church from the text, "Jesus of Nazareth is passing by," a sermon very appropriate to the wonderful pouring out of God's grace on this city. A good old Presbyterian remarked after the sermon, "It's just the sermon for me, sir: I'm glad to hear that (mentioning one of our young merchants) and (one of this merchant's clerks) are both converted; religion was all that they needed."

Several new converts were baptized at the Baptist Church to-night.

"You ought to see what a change there is on Wilmington street," said a business man of that street, "Men, sir, you once saw drunk and down are to-day at church and look like new men."

HOBBITON CASE OF INFANTICIDE.—We

learn of a case of infanticide in Orange county last week which caps the climax for its cold-blooded barbarity. It happened in a negro quarter at Fairmont, the place of residence of Major George Collins, the son-in-law of Mr. Paul C. Cameron at Hillsboro. A young negro woman was found in her cabin, her neck tied with a rope to the bed post, and the only words she said were, "Take me out quick, or many-a-will kill me." She died soon after she was removed, but her death is thought to have occurred more from the effects of child birth than from strangulation. Major Collins immediately had search made to find the child, the woman's mother declaring there had been no child born, and there was no use in looking for it. A barrel of ashes stood at the door with a hen's nest on top and three eggs in the nest, and as the party approached it the old negro woman sung out, "One away from my hen's nest, don't bother along with it!" and this excited their suspicions and they searched in the ashes for the child, the old woman all the time making a great to do about it, but no child did they find, until Major Collins resolved to empty the barrel, and turning it over the dead negro girl lay out from the bottom and its arm and neck were found both broken. The woman was carried to Hillsboro, and is now in jail.

FIRE INSURANCE.—While cutting feed for a horse, Dulepall, a little boy at Morrisville, cut his hand severely, so severely as to necessitate the amputation of two of his fingers. He was brought to this city and Dr. E. Burke Haywood performed the operation.

FINCHINS OXF.—While cutting feed for a horse, Dulepall, a little boy at Morrisville, cut his hand severely, so severely as to necessitate the amputation of two of his fingers. He was brought to this city and Dr. E. Burke Haywood performed the operation.

JUSTICE.

—It will be seen from a communication signed "Justice" that the Sentinel was in error about the opinion of Judge Pearson on the change of gauge from Greensboro to Charlotte. We have understood for twelve months that the Chief Justice Pearson was opposed to the change of the gauge of the road, and that he used strong language in expressing his opposition to it. Justice shows the impropriety of Judges talking about cases that are before them for decision.

ALL ABOUT.
