The City.

The editorial page to-day gives way for the address of the Executive Committee.

THE GAUGE.—We learned at Greensboro last night they would commence the change of gauge from Greensboro to Company Shops to-day, and get to Durham in about two days.

CAPT. E. B. STAMPS our young townsmen and attorney is every day growing in the confidence of his people as a lawyer of decided ability whose future is ripe with promise.

MARRIAGE.—In the merry month of May seventeen couples pledged at the matrimonial altar in Mecklenburg county their lives and fortunes and their sacred honor to love and obey each other until Death do part—trot out the mother-in-law.

RALEIGH LIGHT INFANTRY.—The Raleigh Light Infantry by order of their Captain B. C. Manly will assemble promptly in full uniform at their armory at Metropolitan Hall to-morrow morning at seven o'clock, and march to the North Carolina depot for purpose of escorting the wounded artillerymen who will arrive from Charlotte to their place of residence in this city.

COMMENCEMENT AT GREENSBORO.—The commencement exercises at the Female College in Greensboro drew quite a large crowd. The sermon last night to have been preached by the Rev. A. W. Mangum of this city was preached by Bishop Marvin. Mr. Mangum's health was still too feeble to permit the exertion, and the Bishop kindly filled his place and preached a sermon glorious, beautiful and arrayed in the richest colors of scholarly diction and the truth of eloquence. Rev. Dr. Granberry of Richmond will deliver the address at eight o'clock this evening and the concert takes place in the chapel to-night.

THE SPELLING MATCH.—There was a spell put upon two squads of a dozen each as they stood under the gaslights in Metropolitan Hall last night and wrestled with a blue spelling book in the hands of the umpires. They lifted up their voices and spelled at "rasoon" but nobody could come it until an old possum hunter stepped forward who said he'd do it as sure as falling off a log, and he spelled it so clean and neatly that several young men came down with their Burt's gaiters (hey them at Tuckers) and cried bravo, and the ladies fluttered and fanned and smiled like a dress parade in the evening. But they all stepped down and out on "sacredligions" except a young printer Andrew Williams who stuck to the "burning deck whistles all but him had fled" and in consideration of his unexceptionable good spelling he was awarded by the judges with a copy of Byron's poems. Let's have another.

A PRESENT FOR THE ARTILLERYMEN.—The Watkins Brothers, manufacturers in Milton, this State, have just sent by express to Capt. A. B. Stronach, of the Raleigh Artillery, two boxes of their finest brand of chewing tobacco to be sold and used for the benefit of the unfortunate artillerymen who were disabled at Charlotte. As an old user of the weed the writer pronounces this to be the best in the State, in fact the very name of the firm gives character to the article, for it is simply a duplicate of the old "Watkins Natural Leaf," a brand manufactured by the late Samuel Watkins which made the firm a fortune and was known and used all over the country. The tobacco factory of the Watkins Brothers is a beauty for neatness, system, and its general makeup and management. They work one hundred hands and twenty-four twistlers. Larkin Grinstead, the overseer, (an old confid of Lee's army) holds inspection every week, and the hands must keep themselves clean or they are sent "up to the Captain's office" and settled with. A day is also set apart each week for scouring the benches and cleaning the floor and stands. The machinery is complete. The dry rooms are on the first floor. On the second and third floor is the prettiest show of yellow leaf we ever saw. One hundred thousand pounds of the bright golden yellow is already dried and packed up on sticks and will all be manufactured this year. To many of the sticks the tags are still tied, showing from 70 to 100 dollars to have been paid per hundred for the tobacco. This leaf was wiped off and cleaned of every particle of grit and dust before it is manufactured. The tobacco sent to Capt. Stronach for his artillerymen will be at the factory for sixty cents per pound.

THE FOLLOWING ARE THE MARSHALS. Chief Marshal—W. H. Pace. Assistants—N. S. Harp, J. M. Betts, J. J. Thomas, Jno B. Neathery, Fred A. Watson, F. W. Brewer, P. C. Hardie, John W. Upchurch, John W. Horton, Wesley N. Jones, F. P. Hobgood, T. W. Heald, Eugene Harrell, J. C. Marcom, Charles Williams, A. H. Winston, Walter Newsum, C. S. Farris, M. A. Parker, W. C. Norris and W. A. Wyatt. We are requested to state in this connection that parties not connected with the school who desire attending them on their excursion will have to procure tickets from W. H. Pace, Esq.

Unmanned by the loss of her husband, is the latest style of indicating a widow's grief.

MARRIED.—Mr. Joseph Cooley, the railroad agent at Hillsboro depot, was married last night in Thomasville, by the Rev. Mr. Cole of Hillsboro to Miss Mollie Shelley of Thomasville. The groom and his bride arrived at Hillsboro this morning accompanied by quite a pretty selection of the Thomasville girls.

THE TOWNSHIP.—In Oak Grove township, this county, cotton looks well though some is dying from the moles and cold weather. A steam saw mill has just been put up at James Lynn's near a belt of long leaf pine which is the best locality for timber in Wake county. This mill is eight miles north of Morrisville and ten east of Durham.

In Barton's Creek township the cotton is all right but the corn is grassy.

In House's Creek they sowed cotton too thick and chopped it up to a stand, but the dry weather has brought it up again and the same work has to be done over.

TOBACCO IN DANVILLE.—There was a heavy break of tobacco in Danville yesterday. At J. M. Neal's warehouse they were selling all day and then didn't finish, will have to continue the sales to-day. John Neal, the Napoleon of auctioneers, had too much tobacco for his voice and was compelled to be relieved by his assistant. At Graves' the house was packed, and 25 wagons still stood outside waiting to unload. At the Pace Brothers warehouse the floor was packed with eighty thousand pounds and fully twenty thousand more pounds of the weed yet to unload. The sales there will begin to-day. We found Ed. Pace just recording the name of our old friend Dennis Tilley, from Knop of Reeds, in Granville county, who had brought fourteen hundred pounds of tobacco to the Pace warehouse. The Beetzes also from the same section of county had 2,000 pounds at this warehouse. Mr. Tilley is known as the raiser of the finest tobacco in the State, and it is the man and not his land that makes the tobacco, for some contend his land is poor. Off of four acres of land Mr. Tilley cleared nineteen hundred dollars, outside of all expenses in tobacco. His first big sale was in the town of Milton some five years before the war. Several planters were contending for the biggest price and Smith and Watkins were bidding lively on the different parcels. Tilley's pile won the figures and Charley Hill, (now of Hill & Skinker in Richmond) ran out of George A. Smith's store and helped tie the little bell around the lead horse of Mr. Tilley, and he drove home tinkling at every step. The negroes at home were as glad as Tilley and when the wagon got in sight the old cook fairly shouted for joy. Mr. Tilley now uses this little bell to call his people to breakfast. He plants his tobacco and never misses a season, rain or no rain. With a walking stick he makes a hole in the ground, pours water in and lets it settle, and then puts in the plant. He says it answers all the same as a good rain.

FIRST BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION.—The First Baptist Sunday School of this city will to-morrow leave on a picnic excursion to Haywood. The church bell will be rung at 5:15 a. m. The school will assemble at the First Baptist Church as soon thereafter as possible. The procession will leave the church at six o'clock, and march to the train at Hargett street station, which will leave at 7 o'clock sharp. Every arrangement has been made to care for the comfort of the children and to secure a good time for the excursionists generally. Each car will be under the supervision of the two Assistant Marshals who will see that no one is allowed to stand on the platform, and prevent any disorder or confusion. The Chief Marshal will be known by a white rosette and the Assistants by a blue one.

The following are the Marshals. Chief Marshal—W. H. Pace. Assistants—N. S. Harp, J. M. Betts, J. J. Thomas, Jno B. Neathery, Fred A. Watson, F. W. Brewer, P. C. Hardie, John W. Upchurch, John W. Horton, Wesley N. Jones, F. P. Hobgood, T. W. Heald, Eugene Harrell, J. C. Marcom, Charles Williams, A. H. Winston, Walter Newsum, C. S. Farris, M. A. Parker, W. C. Norris and W. A. Wyatt. We are requested to state in this connection that parties not connected with the school who desire attending them on their excursion will have to procure tickets from W. H. Pace, Esq.

It is a little singular that Col. Wheeler, who opened the mint in Charlotte in 1835, (40 years ago) should be here now, in 1875, to close it up. A pair of boots, with gold-tipped toes, and heels of the same metal, and valued at $100, have been made at Idaho City, to be worn by the High Sheriff next Fourth of July, when there is to be a festival celebration there. They will afterwards be sent to the Centennial Exhibition in Philadelphia. Lovers of house plants will be sorry to learn that the oleander is a dangerous plant. But so it is. Children have been poisoned by eating the flower petals; cattle have been killed by browsing on the foliage; a single drop, it is said, of the milky, acid juice that exudes when a twig or leaf is broken off is sufficient to produce the death of an infant. The odor exhaled from the blossom is also deleterious to the health.

The printers of Charlotte (about 40 in number), have held a meeting and resolved to have a picnic of their own on the 4th of July, at some place which has not yet been selected. R. M. Henson, Esq., the oldest printer in town (and, by the by, one of the best men), was selected as Chief Marshal of the day, and the associate editor of the Home, the associate editor of this paper, and the city reporter, as assistants. [Char. Observer.]

Rev. Dr. Smith will deliver a lecture to the young men in the Presbyterian church on the evening of the 13th. Work has begun on the new Catholic church, the contract having been taken by Mr. Ashley, who is vigorously pushing it forward. We understand the building will be completed without delay. The Presbyterian church at Milton is still without a pastor. The four Elders, venerable with age, and honored by all for their faithful walk as the sons of God, N. M. Lewis, and Messrs. Hines, Wilson and Stamps, conduct the service every Sunday, and it is a cheering feature of the church that its younger members have recently shown great interest in the Sunday School and have built up quite a fine school. The church will probably arrange for its pastor either with Rev. Mr. Donnell of Amelia O. H., Va., or with a Mr. Rankin, from Columbia, S. C. The salary is by no means a mean one.

FINE PRINT. Mr. John E. Owens, the comedian, has bought the Academy of Music building in Charleston, S. C., for $12,000. On and after the 1st of June the market bell will be rung at 7:20 o'clock p. m., for the stores to close. [W. J. Star.]

"It's three," said Paddy to Dennis one day "it was a grand sight. But while ye're standin', sit down, an' ob'liged I'll tell ye all about it."

"Jake," said a rather seedy-looking negro to a friend, "hev you got a black weskut to spare for a few days?" "What for, Abe?" "Oh, I lost my aunt Betsy a few days ago, and I want to take a short mourn."

Levi Donnell, aged about 17 years, son of J. Donnell, died on yesterday after an illness of only three days. Levi was a promising young man and his death is greatly regretted by the community. [Green. Patriot.]

We have before us now a truly venerable document in the shape of a deed dated at Newton (the original name of the settlement at Wilmington) on the 20th day of February, 1734, and during the administration of Gabriel Johnston, the Royal Governor of the Province. [W. J. Journal.]

The agricultural picnic at New Garden Station last Friday was a success. There were about eight hundred persons present, and addresses were delivered by Messrs. Jos. Morehead, J. T. Morehead, Jno. N. Staples and W. E. Edwards, each one of whom told what he knew about farming. [Green. Patriot.]

Missouri is about to solve the grasshopper problem by eating the eaters. At an experimental feast at Warrsburg, in that State, to test the cooked locust question, the company were served with grasshopper soup, which "tasted like chicken soup," but was better; batter cakes mixed with locusts; and baked locust—plain hoppers, without grease or condiment. The meal was closed with desert, a la John the Baptist—baked locust and honey.

Ralph Waldo Emerson attained his seventy-second birthday on Tuesday last. It is a little singular that Col. Wheeler, who opened the mint in Charlotte in 1835, (40 years ago) should be here now, in 1875, to close it up. A pair of boots, with gold-tipped toes, and heels of the same metal, and valued at $100, have been made at Idaho City, to be worn by the High Sheriff next Fourth of July, when there is to be a festival celebration there. They will afterwards be sent to the Centennial Exhibition in Philadelphia. Lovers of house plants will be sorry to learn that the oleander is a dangerous plant. But so it is. Children have been poisoned by eating the flower petals; cattle have been killed by browsing on the foliage; a single drop, it is said, of the milky, acid juice that exudes when a twig or leaf is broken off is sufficient to produce the death of an infant. The odor exhaled from the blossom is also deleterious to the health.

THE LADIES. A London clergyman was once sent for in the middle of the night by one of the ladies of his congregation. "Well, my poor woman," said he, "so you are very ill, and require the consolations of religion? what can I do for you?" "No," replied the old lady; "I am only nervous, and can't sleep." "How can I help that?" asked the parson. "Oh, sir, you always put me to sleep so nicely when I go to church, that I thought if you would only preach a little for me!" The parson hurried off.

As a certain theatre in Paris the actresses have a habit of never coming to rehearsal without an escort of one or several old women. An extraordinary number of old concubines, box-owners and companions, with their baskets and knitting, are always to be seen at rehearsal time, filling the greenroom of the theatre. Annoyed by such a state, the stage manager has just had the following notice displayed in the greenroom: "Actresses are absolutely forbidden to bring more than one mother at a time."

"Maria," said a lady to her colored maid, "that is the third silk dress you have worn since you came to my house; pray, how many do you own?" "Only seven, miss, but I've savin' my wages to buy another." "Seven! Of what use are seven silk dresses to you? Why I don't own as many as that." "Specs not, miss," said the smiling darkey; "you doesn't need 'em so much as I does. You quality white folks everybody knows is quality; but we better most kind of colored pussions has to dress smart to distinguish ourselves from common niggers!"
