TRUSTEES.—University Trustees meet in this city to-morrow to organize a faculty for Chapel Hill.

SUPREME COURT.—The fourth district is not near through. But one case from Robeson county was argued this morning.

Persons desiring to attend the Methodist Sunday Schools on their picnic to-morrow, must be at the Central Depot at 7 o'clock, a. m. sharp.

GOV. GRAHAM.—Ex-Gov. Graham is in the city to-day. A picture hangs in Watson's gallery of Gov. Graham surrounded by his seven sons. It was taken in Charlotte at the Centennial.

HUNG.—The black fiend who violated the young lady in Anne Arundel, Md., has since been taken out of jail and hung. The lynchers were masked and painted black.

THE BLACK MOTHER.—Betsy Yates, a black mother in Norfolk county, Va., last Sunday, got mad with her child, and stopped to a well in the yard and let it drop. The child was dragged up and buried and the mother jailed

KITTRELL'S.—The Blacknalls will not open entertainment at Kittrell Springs this season but Mr. K. W. Coghill will entertain visitors and at a very moderate price. He writes to a gentleman in this city that he will board his wife and two children for fifty dollars a month.

PERSONAL.—The following gentlemen are at the Yarborough House: Hon. E. G. Reade, Hon. Thos. Settle, Hon. Hugh L. Bond, W. L. Saunders, Hon. W. A. Graham, E. W. Kerr, W. Foster French, Robt. Strange, Platt D. Walker.

DR. BARKER.—Dr. Barker the great phrenologist is in the city. The doctor has his tape line with him and says he measures men's heads as men measure lumber. There is much in a man's walk. The cunning man goes stooping over, and shoulders shrugged, nervously winking his fingers; the combative man carries head erect and hands rather behind him, frequently fisted; the vain man walks with a swagger, his vanity on both sides the head regulating the swing of his arms. Men are apt to harp a great deal on that faculty wherein they are deficient. A man fond of talking of his honesty may safely be put down as a grand rascal, and so on. The doctor goes from here to Greensboro

ANOTHER SPELLING MATCH.—The ladies having been earnestly requested to repeat the spelling match, have decided to do so at Tucker Hall on Thursday evening next, the 17th inst. The proceeds of the evening will be appropriated to the payment of one hundred dollars for which they pledged themselves on last Sabbath, to Person street church, and they hope that the community will give them a full house. About thirty persons have already agreed to join in the spelling and others are invited to do so. A handsome silver cup will be given the best speller Robt. T. Gray, Esq., will conduct the spelling class, aided by two competent umpires. Admission 25 cents. The spelling match will be conducted by the established rules for the government of spelling matches.

THE BLOCKADE CORN.—We are told the blockade corn whiskey can be bought in this county at seventy-five cents per gallon. A full bloom countryman unbuttoned his vest and remarked that he and his family had been consuming eight gallons a month ever since the war. About the time our people were all "scattered" about the "forty acres and a mule" to every negro, this countryman bought 160 acres at $400 payable in five years time, and besides making a fortune he has been drinking blockade corn whiskey, a pleasure he scorns to use himself without having it "go all around" and he sweetens up the family before every meal to the tune of eight gallons a month.

WAKE FOREST GRADUATES.—Degrees were conferred on following members of graduating class at Wake Forest:

Bachelor of Philosophy—B C Sanding, Wake county, N C. Bachelor of Science—W W Jenkins, Charlotte, N C. Bachelor of Arts—L W Bagley, Johnston county, N C; W C Brewer, Wake Forest, Thos Carrick, Davidson county, J Y Phillips, M D Phillips, Richmond county; Master of Arts—John E Ray, Wake county, H E Scott, Rockingham county.

NEWBERN.—The change of gauge on the Atlantic road is the topic of talk in Newbern. Gen. Haupt the general manager of the Richmond and Danville Railroad has been in the city on a tour of inspection. The Athens Dramatic club play "Lady of Lyons" at theatre to-morrow night for the benefit of the Newbern Greys. We get the above from Journal of Commerce.

WILMINGTON.—Capt. Dalley of Fayetteville died in Wilmington on the 4th and was sent to Fayetteville where he was buried with military honors. There was a hail storm in Wilmington on Friday night A man in disguise, wearing a false beard visited the city, and was thought by the citizens to have been the Rev. Charles Wesley Warren. Two little boys of Mr. W. P. Oldham narrowly escaped being burnt to death from a spark of fire that popped into the cradle.

We are indebted to the Star and Journal for the above gleanings.

CHARLOTTE.—Levi Drucker, an Israelite, taken ill Thursday and died Friday night The cigar manufactories ship cigars to Boston The authorities are asked to cut down the Canada Thistle growing in the streets. The Democrat learns that Judge Mitchell contemplates resigning. A severe hail storm Saturday evening injured the plantations in the upper part of Mecklenburg. W. P. Little, a farmer in the county, has finished cutting wheat, and never had a better crop. Mr. W. W. Grier has shown the Southern Home an old Bible with this entry on the outside leaf:

Richard S Andrews, Randolph Co.
Samuel T. Ashe, Anson.
Benjamin E Blount, Pitt.

HOUSE'S CREEK TOWNSHIP.—A meeting of the people of House's Creek Township was held at Hayes' Store on the 12th inst., for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention to be held in Raleigh on the 26th.

On motion J. Y. Chappell was elected chairman and J. D. Hayes was requested to act as secretary. The chairman stated the object of the meeting It was determined that twenty delegates should be chosen to represent the township in the county convention. The following persons were selected: W. R. McDade, G. W. Norwood, D. Jackson, Willis Whitaker, J. W. Wiggins, J. Warren, Dr. Patrick Sorrell, W. H. Barnes, L. M. Green, B A. Perry, W. Smith, J. H. Rogers, John King, Dr. Forrest, W. S. Hobgood, W. H. Dean, R. Fleming, J. Y. Chappell, J. D. Hayes, James Haly.

The following resolution was then unanimously passed:

WHEREAS, The county of Orange has nominated the Hons. W. A. Graham and Josiah Turner to represent the county in the State convention, therefore,

Resolved, That our congratulations be extended to the people of Orange upon their choice of candidates, that we rejoice at the prospect of having so worthy and able delegates to assist in making our constitution, and we are especially proud of the nomination of Hon. Jo. Turner, a fearless advocate of right, whom we regard as the most deserving of our fellow citizens.

It was ordered that a copy of the proceedings be sent to the SENTINEL and News.

Alexander May died in New York on Friday, from a beating given him a few days ago by John Dole a barkeeper, for refusing to pay for drinks.

The father of the Boston boy murderer, Jesse Pomeroy, has taken to drinking to drown the sorrows caused by his son's crimes, and has been before the courts twice for drunkenness during the past week.

One of Tennyson's friends quoted one of Tennyson's lines to the poet as the natural expression of a spontaneous thought, and the poet said: "I smoked a dozen cigars over that line."

Dr. T. P. Rogers, one of the most eminent medical practitioners in Louisville, Ky., and for many years a professor in the University of Louisville, died Sunday morning after a protracted illness of cancer in the stomach.

Under the ruins of the old castle of King Dagobert the Abbe Denis found a hen's nest full of eggs. They had been there 1,200 years, hidden from the light, the air and the changes of the temperature, and the hen herself, had, perhaps, barely escaped when the falling walls sealed her eggs, hermetically for future times. Abbe Denis put three eggs under a hen, and they were hatched.

A well-known barrister at the criminal bar, who prides himself upon cross-examining a witness, had an odd-looking genius upon whom to operate. "You say, sir, that the prisoner is a thief?" "Yes, sir, 'cause why, she confessed it." "And you also swear she bound shoes for you subsequent to the confession?" "I do, sir." "Then," giving a sagacious look to the court, "we are to understand that you employ dishonest people to work for you, even after their rascalities are known?" "Of course I do; else how could I get assistance from a lawyer?" The barrister said, "Stand aside"

RELIGIOUS.

In Scotland they fancy they would be very fond of the Pope if he would turn Presbyterian.

Of all the freaks of the telegraph this is one of the most laughable: A young man when about to start for his new parish, was unexpectedly delayed by the inability of the Presbytery to ordain him. In order to explain his non-arrival at the appointed time he sent the following telegram to the deacons of the church: "Presbytery lacked a quorum to ordain." In the course of its journey the message got strangely metamorphosed, and it reached the astonished deacons in this shape: 'Presbytery tacked a worm on to Adam's nose.' The sober church officers were sorely discomposed and mystified, but after grave consultation concluded that it was the minister's facetious way way of announcing that he had been married, and accordingly provided lodgings for two instead of one.—Scotch Paper.

St. Dominic (a new Catholic church in Washington, D. C.) was dedicated Sunday by Archbishop Bayley of Baltimore, assisted by Bishop Becker, of Wilmington, Del., Bishop Gibbons, of Richmond, Va., Bishop Grace, of St. Paul, Minn., Very Rev. J. A. Rochfort, provincial of the Dominician Order in the United States and a large number of priests. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Bishop Becker. An augmented choir, with full orchestral accompaniment, rendered Von Weber's Mass in G. In the evening pontifical vespers were celebrated and Bishop Gibbons preached. St. Dominic is one of the largest church edifices in Washington, having a seating capacity of 1,700. The cost of the building was $250,000.

In the Circuit Court of the District of Columbia, on Friday, a novel case came up in the shape of a suit to compel additional payment for a present to a foreign minister. Mr. W. W. Corcoran, the defendant, and others, on learning that Baron Gerolt, the Prussian minister, was about being recalled, determined to present him a suitable testimonial of esteem, and a Mr Kennedy was selected as their agent to procure it He ordered the silver set direct from the plaintiffs, and collected $2,500 and sent it to them as payment, but the price charged was $2,800, and they now seek to hold the defendant individually liable for the balance due. The defendant claimed that he was only responsible for the debt pro rata with other subscribers to the fund The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $150

THE LADIES.

Greensboro College Concert. There was a young lady student from Greensboro (Miss Nellie Scales) who won much applause and received several tokens of appreciation in the shape of (no) roses and handsome bouquets.—[Roanoke News.

The prettiest singer at Misses Nash and Miss Kollock's school, Hillsboro two years since, was a Scales, relative of Miss Nellie's, in fact the name is a good one as a whole Scales Brigade of ex-confeds will testify.

If here is Tommy? Nine years ago to a fashionable mother was born a baby boy. She got a wet-nurse, who remained with her six months, and then, as the child liked the bottle best, the wet-nurse was discharged. When the baby was born the grandmother was there from her distant Western home, and shortly thereafter returned, to come no more till this summer. In the meantime the young mother has seen her child sometimes once a day, sometimes once a week, as the case might be. The first thing on grandma's arrival was a loud call for Tommy, and Tommy was forthcoming. He was kissed and hugged and praised and petted, and grandma just lugged him about till finally, old lady like, she stripped him to see how much he had grown. Then came a shriek, 'Where was Tommy's extra toe?' Tommy was born with six toes; grandma knew it. The family doctor was sent for, and whereon examination of Tommy was made the M. D. unhesitatingly pronounced it not the Simon-pure Tommy, by any means. There had been a malformation of the original Tom's feet that time would not have remedied. Then all sorts of speculations were in order. Put one servant had anything to do with the baby, and she had been six months away, no one knows in what direction. Thomas sets up in a dubious position. If he ain't Tommy, who is he?—New York Cor. to St. Louis Republican.

A PROFITABLE ADVERTISING JOB.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune states that the total amount of the bill for the publication of the delinquent tax list of the District of Columbia in the National Republican will be about $90,000, of which more than $70,000 will be clear profit. It occupies 420 columns and is by law to appear four times, at the rate of 25 cents a line for each insertion. As originally passed the law requiring the publication of the list required eight insertions, which would have made the bill nearly $200,000, of which at least $170,000 would have been profit. At the last session of Congress the original act was so amended as to provide for four publications instead of eight, and to postpone the advertisement from March to June, thus reducing the number of publications and cutting down the expense one-half. The expense has been still further reduced by the settlement of a great number of delinquent taxes within the past three months. The Tribune's correspondent alleges that the influence of the White House was used to secure the job for the Republican, and thinks it an ample remuneration for its energy and devotion in advocating a third term for Gen. Grant

The telegraph reports an accident near New York to the express train which left Boston Saturday afternoon, caused by a stray horse on the track, the result of which was the upsetting and smashing of the parlor cars and the injury of a number of passengers. Vice-President Wilson, who was in one of the parlor cars, escaped injury, but Speaker Blaine, who was in another car, sustained a severe contusion of the right side. Other passengers were injured, but most of them slightly.
