The City.

LONGHORN.—Secretary Bristol is the only member of the cabinet now in Washington.

ICE IN JUNE.—Last Monday ice was formed on the lakes in New York and Pennsylvania.

RICHMOND PYTHIANS.—The Pythians from Richmond visiting Boston will number seventy five.

POISON.—A young man in Norfolk drank bed bug poison by mistake and was only saved by most skillful medical aid from dying the death of a child.

MEETING OF BANKERS.—The bankers of the United States will meet in Philadelphia on the 24th of June for the purpose of organizing a National Bankers Continental Association. They will exhibit in 1876 this country's coins and the world's notes and coins from the earliest ages.

SUPREME COURT.—The Doctory case vs. French, Robeson county, was finished this morning, and argument was begun in the Wilmington suit of the People and A. H. Von Bokkelen vs. W. P. Canby et al. Messrs. Strange and Smith and Strong for the plaintiffs and Russell, Fowle, Shipp and Bailey and R. C. Bader for the defendants.

THE UNIVERSITY TRUSTEES.—They were in session this morning and meet again this evening at four o'clock. The morning session was consumed in speaking, Messrs. Graham, Cameron, Patterson, Battle, McKoy and others, engaged in the debate. About forty recommendations by letter were before the meeting. No nominations were made. We observe Judge Mills Euro, the youngest, and one of the best Judges in the State, of the trustees.

HEAVY DAMAGES.—In federal court this morning the case of W. Waller and wife of Montgomery, Ala., against Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, was argued, the suit based on injuries received by Waller's wife in an accident on said road, September 1872, between Goldsboro and Wilmington. The plaintiff laid damages at twenty-five thousand dollars. Vance, Battle & Son and Busbee appeared for Waller, and Messrs. Strong, Smith and Pace for the Railroad. The jury gave damages of five thousand dollars.

GOV. VANCE AT TUCKER HALL.—Moody and Sankley might possibly draw a larger crowd, but with one night before our people to hear Vance, the little children may get to bed as best they can, for every family with a good ear for something nice is certain to turn out. He lectures on "Scattered Nation" at Tucker Hall Friday night at eight o'clock. The receipts at the door will be appropriated in behalf of our wounded soldiers.

HARD TIMES.—Some talk is made of hard times in this State being caused by the usury law passed by the recent Legislature. It is hard times elsewhere than in North Carolina. In Danville, Va., there has been a strike among the employees because the tobacco men were compelled to reduce wages, and we learn that the city of Richmond opened this year three millions pounds short of the tobacco she put up last. In contrast with North Carolina Capt. Carter Harrison has just returned from Louisiana, and he reports crops good, and things lively out there, and the rate of interest through the State is slight per cent.

IN THE CITY.—We find among the guests at the National the following gentlemen: Chief Justice Pearson, Judge Bodman, Gov. Brogden, Attorney-General Hargrave, Auditor Holly, Treasurer Jenkins, Geo. Greene, A. G. Hubbard, M. London, Giles Eitch, N. A. McKean, John A. Moore, Col. W. L. Steele, E. C. Daskery, Rev. N. McKoy, Jno. F. Diville, B. F. Geady, R. L. Patterson and family, W. H. Johnston, Col. McLeod Turner, R. N. Peterson, A. M. Kirkland, D. L. Stringle, Col. T. B. Long, H. C. Cowles, E. Hayne Davis, E. B. Drake, J. M. Chasnat, T. E. Sprunt, J. S. Hobbs, Gov. Z. B. Vance, Col. N. McKoy, Frank McNeill, N. W. Ray, Jacob Waggoner, Col. Livingston Brown, Thos. Steers, John E. Harper Mrs. Murchison, Dr. E. Nye Hutchison, Dr. W. E. Murchison, P. A. Wilson.

How they picnic in Arkansas: Mumble-pog was indulged in at the picnic yesterday, also the game of choose and kiss the one you love best, one of the babes in the woods figured prominently in this latter game, and kissed some several times, making us wish there were more babes than one or two.

WILMINGTON.—Rev. Dr. Moran has permanently located in Baltimore at Bethany Independent Methodist Church.

—Here's a scene of poverty and suffering in Wilmington: A white woman dead from hunger stretched on an old mattress; crouched around the woman, five children starved enough to gnaw at their fingers, and on a pallet near by was stretched the father a pale and helpless victim of disease. The Starman says it was a woman, a member of the Ladies Benevolent Association, who hunted up this scene of suffering and fed the hungry.—The Cornet Concert Club have had a stand donated them, erected on Sunset Hill, and propose giving a number of open air concerts. Above gleanings from Star and Journal.

THE LADIES.

A young lady who was just recovering from a severe indisposition was visited by a gentleman friend, who found her reclining on a sofa in the parlor. After some little conversation she remarked: "I have been laying long enough. I'll get awhile."—Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser.

An old lady noticed her: She tried to sit down in the street-car, but was pinned back so tight she couldn't. Old lady peeped over her specs and asked her, "How long have you been afflicted that way?" The young lady blushed and made "a break," sitting down sideways, and holding her knees together so tight that she looked as if she had on a one-legged pair of breeches. Old lady noticed her sitting in this awkward cramped position, and whispered, "Bile, I suppose; I've had 'em thru myself."—Hayesville, (Ky.) Plaindealer.

A lady that sang in the choir. A yellow cat had been making his home in the Methodist church at Austin, East Sunday he took a position on the big pedal base of the church organ. He was enjoying a comfortable nap when the services opened, and when the organist came down on the pedal base that cat went up into the body of the church like a rocket. He lit on the back of a pew in the centre of the church, and with an unearthly yell, jumped herself and proceeded to clean the stuff out of an adjacent waterfall. With frantic recklessness the lady, thinking no doubt the devil was after her, turned a complete somersault out of the pew and landed on the other side of the aisle. A general stampede was only prevented by the escape of the cat out of a door near the pulpit.—Nevada Enterprise.

The creation of woman: A prince once said to Rabbi Gamaliel: "Your God is a thief; he surprised Adam in his sleep and stole a rib from him." The Rabbi's daughter overheard this speech, and whispered a word or two in her father's ear, asking his permission to answer this singular opinion herself. He gave his consent.

The girl stepped forward, and feigning terror and dismay, threw her hands aloft in supplication, and cried out: "My liege, my liege, justice I revenge!" "What has happened?" asked the prince.

"A wicked theft has taken place," she replied. "A robber has crept secretly into our house, carried away a silver goblet, and left a golden one in its stead." "What an upright thief!" exclaimed the prince. "Would that such robberies were of more frequent occurrence!" "Behold, then, sire, the kind of thief our Creator was; he stole a rib from Adam, and gave him a beautiful wife instead."

"Well said!" avowed the prince.—Talmud Sanhedrin.

"Lucinda Jane Thomas, is it ladylike for a woman to send out after a pint of beer, drink it and then wait to fight her neighbors?" asked His Honor of the last case.

"No, sir."

"Of course it isn't, Lucinda. We were put into this world to live at peace with each other—to slide along towards the unknown valley as the goose slips off the grassy bank into the clear pond. We all have faults, it is true, but we needn't encourage them nor harbor jealousy or revenge. You were never here before, Lucinda, and I've a good mind to let you go."

"Do, sir—do."

"Well, you may go, but look out for me if you come again. I can be a singing chickadee or a screaming eagle, and if you appear here a second time you won't be able to recollect whether it takes sixteen yards or sixty to dounce a dress after the latest fashion!"—Detroit Press.

The Elmwood collar, with all the edges folded, will fit better and wear longer than any other. Prove this by trying.

PERSONAL.

There was heavy frost Monday night in New York and Pennsylvania.

A flashy white man for stealing, some clothing was tried near Fredericksburg and sentenced to 30 lashes at the whipping post.

The Norfolk and Richmond military surgeons in the business of the territorial. Col. Bennett of the Esquire's accompanied the Richmond boys as historiographer of the trip.

Charles Jackson, a well known colored musician of Wilmington, N. C., was murdered in that city Friday. William Jackson alias C. P. Snow and James Burgess are charged with the crime.

Mrs. Wickett, of New Orleans, was attacked by a coon which entered her sleeping apartment one night last week. After a terrible fight the animal was killed, but the lady was severely bitten, though the wounds are not dangerous.

The handwriting of the poet Gray has a considerable market value. The original manuscript of the "Elegy" was just sold in England for £200, Mr. W. Frazier being the purchaser. At the same sale the manuscript of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" brought £100.

A machine for writing spoken words has been invented by Mrs. M. H. Happinger. The Review Industrielle describes the machine as being about the size of the hand. It is put in connection with the vocal organs, the instruments recording their movements upon a moving band of paper in dots and dashes. The person to whom the instrument is attached simply repeats the words of the speaker inaudibly. This lip language is then faithfully written out.

RELIGIOUS. Those who have had the most forgiveness on them should be the least addicted to slander.

The aggregate average attendance of children to the Methodist Sunday Schools in Richmond is 1,444.

Be always receiving or doing good. This will make your life comfortable, your death happy and your account glorious.

The redemptorist Father, Miller and Smulders, arrived in Norfolk Sunday afternoon, from their North Carolina Mission.

Rev. Castle P. Jones, of St. Mary's City, Md., has accepted a call to the rectory of St. Paul's church, Beaufort, N. C.

Do all in your power to teach your children self-government. If a child is passionate teach him by patient and gentle means to curb his temper. If he is greedy cultivate liberality in him. If he is selfish promote generosity.

Never be above your business, whatever the calling may be but strive to be the best in that line. He is a poor smith who quarrels with his own spurs; there is no shame about an honest calling. Don't be afraid of soiling your hands; there is plenty of soap to be had.

There is a family at work in the cotton-mill here which consists of father and mother and twenty-four children, all the children large enough being at work. The woman is the fourth wife. A brother of the husband living with his fifth wife in Montreal has twenty-five children. Three families arrived here last week to go to work in the mill, and they number, all told, thirty-seven persons. A lady friend of ours a few days since, met a French woman, who, looking at the babe in the carriage, said to our friend, "I have got fifteen of those." The only possible reply of the lady with the one babe was, "Gracious!" Ten and twelve and fifteen children are by no means uncommon in the French Canadian families, but twenty-four is a little above the average.—Brunswick (Me.) Telegraph.

CHARLOTTE.—The Observer office has an accordion send in the upper story. A spelling bee Tuesday evening. Gen. W. L. T. Prince, umpire. McMurray & Davis, and Koopman & Rothschild, merchants, have failed. Gen. Joe Johnston passed through Charlotte Monday night en route for New York. The streets are to be macadamized. Gleanings from Observer.

FAIRBANKS' SCALERS.—It is a satisfaction to know that notwithstanding the depression of business throughout the country, the principal fair in this place keeps up. Forty-eight full car loads of scales were shipped from the factory in the month of May. The price in all sections for the best five cents of the recent year was over 250 more than for the corresponding time in 1874.—Johibury Caledonian.

ASSASSINATION OF THE MAN THAT VALLANDIGHAM LOST HIS LIFE DEFENDING.

CINCINNATI, June 14. Tom McGeahan, a notorious desperado, made famous by the tragic end of his counsel, Hon. C. P. Vallandigham who lost his life in explaining some points in the trial of McGeahan for the murder of a man named Myers, was assassinated in his saloon at Hamilton last night. From appearances of the room and position of the body, the supposition is that some one entered the saloon, called for a drink, and while McGeahan was serving the customer he was shot by some one through the window, or a pane of glass in the window was shattered into fragments. Although shot with several bullets in the right of the temple and side of the face McGeahan had strength enough to get his revolver to defend himself, but fell dead on reaching the end of the counter. No clue to the murderer.

LIBERATION OF BOSS TWEED. ALBANY, June 15. In the Court of Appeals this morning, Judge Allen and Rapalye read opinions for the reversal of the judgment of the Supreme Court in the Tweed case. The action of the Court gives Tweed his freedom.

MISCELLANEOUS. A tornado prevailed at Quincy, Ill., yesterday. Many houses are prostrated one man killed and many hurt.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 14, 1875.—A fiendish outrage was committed on Saturday, at Lafayette, Onondaga county. A negro named W. H. Mason outraged a young married white woman of the highest respectability, wife of N. O. Hoyt, of that place. He threatened her life if she revealed his act. She made the fact known to her husband, who caused Mason's arrest. Great popular excitement followed, and the negro was sent to the Penitentiary.

MORE ABOUT TWEED. NEW YORK, June 15. Every precaution has been taken to arrest Tweed when he leaves the penitentiary, and unless three million bail is forthcoming the unfortunate gentleman will be placed in Ludlow jail for several days. The suits against him are civil, not criminal. Should he give this bond it is said there is another action for which he will be held requiring another three million bail. Tweed has requested that he be taken direct to Ludlow jail, there to await these harsh issues.

RAMSAY IN CANADA: This evening Theodore N. Ramsay, Esq., State lecturer for the I. O. G. T. of North Carolina will lecture in the Town Hall upon temperance. Though somewhat surfeited with temperance lectures our citizens are becoming fully alive to their importance, and their necessity in preserving a healthy sentiment on the question, and will doubtless give him a full house. Mr. Ramsay is a young man of push and energy and has had a large experience in the temperance work. A full house should greet him.—Napans Standard.

The sterling testimony we print this morning in reference to Mr. Beecher is given with sorrow, for it is believed it will decide the verdict of the public, no matter what may be the action of the jury. It is a matter of regret that it was not submitted in court, to enable the counsel for the defence to reply to it; yet it is also to be admitted, that if the counsel for the plaintiff had known it, they might have offered it with vast effect. We give the astounding statement as a matter of duty to the public, which is, after all, the ultimate tribunal by which the great clergyman is acquitted or condemned.—New York Herald.
