Raleigh, N. C., June 30, 1875.

The attention of the Board of Dir tors of the Raleigh and Augusta Air

Line Railroad Company having been called to the fact that an act passed by the late General Assembly has been made the subject of public discussion, the Board deems it proper to submit

The Chatham Railroad Company was chartered by act of the Legis 1800-'61. During the war work was commenced on the road, but no part was completed for use. The Convention in March 1868 passed an ordinance authorising the exchanging of one million two hundred thousand dollars State. the purpose of continuing the work which had been begun during the war. In this ordinance it was provided that the company at any time before matu-rity might take up its bonds deposited with the Public Treasurer "by substituting in lieu thereof coupon bonds of the State or other indebtedness of the State." To secure the payment of these bonds by the company it was re-quired to and did execute a mortgage on its road bed, property, &c. The State had before the war excha bonds with other companies on terms imilar to these.

The bonds thus received from the State were sold by the company, and the proceeds used in the construction of the road. Several amendme made at different times to the chr of the company, and it being its inten-tion to extend its line by the most direct and practicable route to Augusta, eigh and Augusta Air-Line Railroad

To carry out this intention and co plete this great work, it became a matter of importance to the company to take up its bonds held by the State. and to substitute therefor co bonds of the State, which it had the right to do under the ordin Convention above referred to, and which authorizes the exchange of bonds. In making the substitution, the Treas urer of the State and the officers of the company differed in opinion as to what classes of bonds the company had the right to substitute, and the Treasurer ferred to, and an act of the Legislature in relation to the same subject, ac the Supreme Court in order that the rights and duties of the parties might o adjudicated by the highest tribunal of the State. The decision of the court was in effect that the company had the company for its bonds any valid bonds or other indebtedness of the State, which had been issued or contracted prior to the passage of the ordinar above referred to, to wit : 11th March ceeded to deliver from time to time to the State Treasurer State bonds, the validity of which was not question and which had been issued before the said 11th of March, 1868.

Before the late war begun the Legis lature had passed acts providing for the issue of State bonds for Internal Improvement purposes. Under these acts bonds were issued to railroad companies after the war begun, but they were not regarded as connected with the war, and were always recognized as valid. Under the Funding Acts of '66, '67 and 68 coupons of these bonds were received by the then Treasurers of the State. sed therefore, which were recognized as valid by the State and on the stock market; and in the act na sembly entitled "An act to compr commute and settle, the State debt," he original bonds and bonds issued for fication. The most, if not all of the ern States, as the Directors are informed, they not being recognized in the tock market North because they had on their face Confederate States instead on of the court which allowed the ing and intention of pravious legislation and in accordance with the ducking passage through that body. It being in itself right and free from objection they suppose it was passed in the usual course of business. The Jermal show ourse of business. The Journal shows he day of its introduction—that it was provements, was reported favorably

As a matter of law these bonds bei nized by the Legislature as valid bove referred to, the Treasurer was and to receive them without any ad

The passage of this act, however, cannot injure the State, since it is only additional recognition of the validity of the bonds which ought never to have been questioned, and when paid into the Treasury the State is benefitted by having her debt reduced by the amount thus paid in. But it may benefit the holders of these bonds who reside chiefly in the South by giving them a better opportunity to sell if they do not do calus, and are placed by the bill to con promise the State in the same days with these bonds issued by the State to

A copy of the act is hereto ap from which it will be seen that the whole purpose was declared in the
