THE CAMPAIGN.

John B. Graham, Esq., has been nominated for convention by the conservatives of Moore county.

The Democrats of Cabarrus met in Convention last week, and nominated

Major H. W. Allison, as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

In every part of the State the news is good. The Democratic party is growing stronger and stronger every day.

Brave men are coming to the front;

croakers are beginning to sink back to the rear, where they belong.

Catawba is a noble old county and glories in the proud distinction of being the banner Democratic county of the State. We hear that Col. McCordie

the Democratic Convention nominee will have no opposition.—Charlotte Observer.

A. A. Campbell, the favorite orator of the Radical party of North Carolina, and a candidate for convention in Cherokee county, not only endorses the Civil Rights Bill as it is, but regrets that it is not more severe.—Charlotte Observer.

The Journal of Commerce of last week stated that Mr. R. F. Lehman, one of our candidates for convention, had declined. The Journal had picked up a street rumor and attached an undue importance to it. Mr. Lehman has not declined to run, and is, and will remain the candidate of the republican party for convention.—Newbern Times.

While coming up the Central Railroad,

a few days ago, from town of Wilmington, a gentleman overheard the routie agent in conversation with a nego-passenger. He told the negro that "this d—d convention business must be killed" if the Democrats got a chance to change the Constitution, the whipping post would be re-established, taxes would double, the negroes would be put back into slavery, and every other sort of disaster would result to the colored race.—Char. Observer.

The City.

A GOOD LAWYER.—We direct attention to the interesting letter of J. C. Wootton, Esq., appearing in another column. Mr. W. makes good points on the question of election of Judges by the Legislature. He tells of an attempted assassination.

SUPERIOR COURT.—The Lee and Dunn cases were called to-day. Counsel appeared as follows: For ex-sheriff Tim Lee—Messrs. Batchelor, Davenport, Carter, and Griffin. For sheriff Dunn—Cox, Smith & Strong, Pace, and Bumbee & Boston. The case was opened by some preliminary motions. The argument will begin to-morrow.

DIED.—On the 6th of May, 1875, after a short illness of pneumonia, John Thompson, in the 40th year of his age. The deceased was a son of Sam'l T. and Margaret Thompson. He leaves a wife, six children, and a large number of friends to mourn his loss; but they have the assurance that their loss is his eternal gain. His last words to his family around his death bed were, "Meet me in heaven."

SCOTT PARTIE.—The murderer of Mrs. Scott Partie and her baby is said to have arrived by the northern train this evening, and some excitement prevails by reason thereof. The police are particularly active in the search for the felon. At the hour of going to press he has not been seen. That $400 reward in these dull times is what makes men stir around so.

THE ORPHANS.—The concert at Metropolitan Hall last night was a success. The hall was crowded. It is very touching to listen to the sweet, plaintive voices of those fatherless and motherless children. The great heart of a generous public should open wide to their appeals. The Oxford Asylum requires the support of the citizens; and let us never be said that North Carolinians have permitted their only orphan asylum to go by the board. The energetic efforts of its noble superintendent should be warmly seconded.

PERSONAL.—Hon. William Johnson, Mayor of Charlotte, is in the city at the residence of Capt. A. B. Andrews.

Col. R. M. Sims, of South Carolina, is in attendance upon the Cotton States Congress.

Eugene Morehead, Esq., is among the delegates to the Cotton States Congress. He removed to Savannah a year ago.

Senator Worthy was in the city to-day. He brings cheering intelligence from his country.

Col. D. E. Butler, President of the Cotton States Congress, is sojourning at the Yarborough.

The President of the N. C. State Grange is expected to-morrow; and so is Col. J. L. Bridgers.

Col. Shankland, of Iowa, is stopping at the Yarborough.

J. C. Wootton, Esq., of Lenoir, is in the city.

One of the ablest and noblest among the public men of North Carolina, which we from a Western county—"All that we need to secure a brilliant victory, is to arouse our people, and show them that we are now fighting the battle of 1876; and, charging the outer works of the enemy who are intrenching for that great contest." Every Democrat should remember this. To lose North Carolina in the coming August is to lose it in 1876, when from Maine to Texas the hosts of Radicals and Democracy will join battle for the control of the nation. North Carolina will be counted upon by the friends of true government in that great contest. But should we be beaten in August, we may hang our heads in shame and confusion, and shrink away from the field—the subsequent proceedings will interest us no more."

The Charlotte Observer says "several names are whispered around as candidates for convention." Independent, we suppose. We had thought that after the severe drooping independent candidates received in that section last year, there was no man in Christendom bold enough to undertake to run for office there without a nomination.

EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.—The 5th annual meeting of the Educational Association of North Carolina will be held in the city of Raleigh, commencing Wednesday, July 16th, 1875.

A programme of proceedings will be published in a few days.

Papers friendly to the Association will please notice.

By order of the Executive Committee.

JOHN H. DUNSTON,
Secretary.

COTTON STATES AGRICULTURAL CONGRESS.

THE MORNING STAR.—The Second Annual Session of the Cotton States Agricultural Congress opened to-day in the hall of the House of Commons at 11 a. m. Colonel D. E. Butler, of Georgia, presiding.

After the President had called the body to order, on motion Captain H. T. Peugh was appointed Secretary, and Colonel John D. Whitham and Mr. Johnstone Jones were appointed assistant secretaries.

On motion of Colonel Thos. M. Blair, a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Holt, Graham and Johnston, were appointed to wait upon His Excellency Gov. Brogden, and invite him to a seat in this body.

The President stated that Raleigh had been selected as the place of this meeting by virtue of a resolution which was adopted at the last session of the Congress at Atlanta, Ga.

The Governor entered—excited by the select committee, and standing in the central aisle, delivered an excellent address to the Congress, full of good common sense, wise counsels, and a thorough appreciation of the great future before the agricultural classes of the South. He touched upon the improvements in the art of agriculture, and said the mode now in vogue are far superior to the modes known to the ancients, when Job spoke of the "ox ploughing in the field, and the asses lying down on the grass of his side." He advocated the substantial encouragement of the agricultural interests. He advocated home manufacture, enforcing his views with a strong array of facts and arguments. The address was well received, and adjourned until 3 p. m. to-day.

For the Sentinel, KINGSTON, July 13, 1875.

Mr. BRISCOE: I fear in the east and west where the white population is mainly to be found, you are not mindful of your white brethren who have lived for ten years under negro and carpet-bag rule. You remember the horrid and bloody scenes we have had in this county in years gone by, when John Miller and his wife were brutally murdered in broad daylight by Jake Lovejoy and his gang. Mrs. Argent Brown, a respectable old lady, was tied and brutally whipped on the same day and by the same parties.

Col. Butler in behalf of the Congress, responded in a brief, comprehensive, and eloquent address. He paid a touching tribute to old North Carolina.

We thanked North Carolinians for the principles which they gave the world in 1775 at Charlotte. He looked with bright hopes to the future. He believed the Cotton States Congress would surely do work that would redound to the honor and glory of the South. He thanked the Governor for his cordial welcome, and excellent address.

Colonel Wm. Johnson accompanied by Major Separk, then presented to the Congress, Mr. Jas' H. Ulmer, a representative of the city government and of the citizens generally. He delivered a capital address. He alluded to the increase of the cotton trade in Raleigh and of North Carolina; and demonstrated how important to Raleigh is this cotton trade. He thought there was a good deal of truth in the old saying that "cotton is king." He welcomed the delegates to Raleigh in felicitous terms. Our space is too limited for a more extended report of his remarks.

We have a magistrate in LaGrange Township by the name of William J. Sutton. He was indicted and convicted of receiving stolen cotton. Judgment was suspended. He is now indicted in Wayne for larceny or receiving stolen goods. This morning when Richard Rather, a colored man was on his way as a witness to Wayne Court to testify against our magistrate Sutton who is also one of the committee of finance for the county, was shot down in the big road leading to Wayne courthouse. The firing took place near the house of Mr. Thomas Ursell who heard the gun and heard the cries of the wounded man and sent to his relief. The ball struck the hip bone and glanced, or the shot would have proved fatal.

The wounded man discovered three men in the woods who had ambushed him, but could not identify them. Sutton is a popular man with his party as is shown by his election as a magistrate and member of the finance committee.

A simple statement of these facts ought to convince our white brethren of the worth of the necessity of convention, as well as electing in the old way judges and magistrates. We have a negro Congressman, we have negro lawyers, and I ask how long will it be before we have negro judges. I tell you Mr. Butler the white men of the east hold analogously to the white men of the west for deliverance.

The leading republicans of the State, Hon. Sam'l F. Phillips, and this must be a white man's government, from President down to constable. If republicans can no speak, will democratic Institute so to voice. Let it be known in all the west how much they can do for us of the east, and how anxious we look to the 5th of August as a day of deliverance from such magisterial officers as William J. Sutton.

With high hopes of a grand victory, I am, Your friend,

J. C. WOOTTON,
Secretary.
