WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE.

When a member of the Convention wants to go out into the rotunda and munch an apple he has to pair off.

The News says that Mr J. Q. A. Bryant, of this city, has fallen heir to $100,000 by the death of a relative in Virginia.

We are authorized to state that a train will leave Raleigh at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning and arrive at Durham about seven—affording a fine opportunity for those wishing to attend the exercises at Chapel Hill to-morrow.

The Southern Illustrated Age explains that it didn't go to say that the people of the State were opposed to the Convention as it is now controlled. The paragraph was based upon the hypothesis that the reds would hold high sway in it. The explanation is a complete illustration of the age.

In the last issue of this paper we inadvertently neglected to call attention to the advertisement of W. H. & R. S. Tucker, the celebrated dry goods men. The Messrs. Tuckers are not only successful and experienced merchants, but liberal and genial gentlemen.

Years ago a distinguished gentleman remarked that Raleigh was a "vehicular" place. We think the remark applicable now. Now only public vehicles rattle day and night, but every body who can possibly do it, will have a team of some sort, even if they have to patch clothes and live on short rations, and in constant dread of the sheriff.

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.—We regret much to hear of the death of James A. Williams, Esq., one of the editors of the Wilson Advance, which occurred last night, at the residence of his father, Henry A. Williams, Esq., in Wilson. Mr. Williams was a young man full of promise and his early demise is universally regretted. Though but a few years beyond his majority, he had achieved a reputation in this State as an easy and graceful writer. In his private and social relations he was esteemed by all who were acquainted with him.

TELGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

Spotted Tail has agreed to the sale of the Black Hills.

Last Wednesday the Turkish troops sustained a heavy defeat at the hands of the Servian insurgents.

It is said that Attorney General Pierrepont has received no further intelligence from Gov. Ames, concerning the disturbance at Clinton.

Hon. Jefferson Davis spoke at the Galloway county, Mo., Fair, held at Fulton, on Saturday. A very large crowd was present, and he was enthusiastically received.

A gentleman from Charleston, Miss., reports that last Thursday two negroes, who, it is claimed live in Arkansas, registered. Warrants were issued and they fled from the constable and posse who ran them, Evans and Buford of the posse firing. The negroes in the vicinity of Trenton hearing of the affair armed to the number of 70, and demanded Evans and Buford to be given up to them. They behaved riotously. On Saturday a large number of armed negroes assembled in Trenton. The whites sent the county Treasurer, Steward, who is also deputy sheriff, and Jerry Robinson to try to induce them to disperse. They threatened to hang both Steward and Robinson, who returned in haste, and notified the citizens that the negroes were swearing vengeance. Calls were made on Oakland, Charleston and Grenada for assistance. Parties from these points have gone to Fraison's store, where the trouble originated.

Up to 12 m., yesterday, the election had progressed quietly in Portland, Me.

At Bangor the Republicans charged trickery on the Democrats, and claimed Augusta where it was expected a very large vote would be polled on both sides.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

MONDAY.

At 10 a. m., Mr. President Ransom called the Convention to order.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Spake of the Convention.

Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. Durham said he would move a suspension of the rules in order that the rules be amended as to the hour of meeting in the morning. He wished to fix the hour of meeting at 11 a. m., that the business of the Convention made an earlier hour necessary, members were kept up late at night by Committee work. Until the Committees were prepared to report there was no necessity to meet in the morning earlier than 12 o'clock, &c.

Mr. Barringer was in favor of Mr. Durham's suggestion.

Messrs. Clingman and Shober were opposed to it. If the Convention met at 12 m., it would extend beyond the usual dinner hour. The Convention, they thought, should continue to meet at 10 a. m.

The motion to suspend the rules was put to a vote and lost.

Mr. Bennett, from the Committee on the Judicial Department, submitted a report on various resolutions amendatory of sec 2, art 4, in reference to the power of courts, offering a substitute therefor; also a report upon resolutions in regard to the number of the Justices of the Supreme Court, recommending that an amendment be adopted making the Supreme court consist of a Chief Justice and two Associate Justices.

Mr. Reid, from the Committee on the Executive Department, submitted a report asking the reference of various resolutions and ordinances to the Committee on the Legislative Department which had been referred to his Committee.

Mr Morehead, from the Committee on Education, submitted a report, offering a substitute for bills, 26, 29, and 144, requiring that the white and colored races shall forever be kept separate in the public schools of the State.

The following resolutions and ordinances were introduced and appropriately disposed of.

By Mr. Carter: An ordinance to amend sec 31, art 4, in regard to filling vacancies in office by appointment by the Governor unless otherwise ordered.

By Mr. Kerr: An ordinance to prescribe an oath for members of the General Assembly.

By Mr. Rumley: An ordinance to prohibit counties, cities and towns from contracting debts.

By Mr. Badger: A resolution of instruction to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, to inquire whether that part of the Convention act making the qualifications of a member of this Convention those of a member of the General Assembly is binding, and also as to the eligibility of members, &c.

By Mr. Watts: An ordinance abolishing the Senate.

By Mr. Blocker: An ordinance to amend sec 1, art 3, regarding a call of a Convention. Requiring two-thirds of Legislature and ratification by popular vote.

By Mr. Allison: An ordinance to amend sec 3, art 2, Senators to be elected for four years chosen by ballot, one half to go out of office every two years.

By the same: An ordinance to amend sec 25, art—. No bill to originate in either House of the General Assembly within five days of adjournment.

By Page, col.: An ordinance to print all ordinances.

By Mr. Cooper: An ordinance to amend art 3. Fixing salaries of State officers. Governor $3,000; Secretary of State $800; Treasurer $2,000; Superintendent of Public Instruction $1,600; Auditor $1,000; Attorney General $1,000, &c.

Mr. Badger moved to suspend the rules and take up his resolution of instruction to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Mr. Badger said that it did not become so grave a body as this to deal with this matter in a personal and political manner. Let the Committee take up the whole matter, and deal with it in a frank and manly manner. If it unseats five, ten, or twenty delegates let them go. It becomes every man to challenge himself. This matter should not be taken up in driblets, but taken up and dealt with in a manner becoming a sovereign body.

Mr. Turner did not see any necessity for the resolution. The Committee had already gone to work upon various resolutions. Members had already sworn to observe the restrictions, and he did not see what good the resolution would do in this respect. He thought the resolution would be productive of nothing good, and only increase the difficulties. Some gentlemen on the other side were only willing to protect, but he did not know whether they were going to observe the protection or not, &c.

After more further debate the rules were suspended, and the resolution was adopted.

The ordinance in regard to the pay of members of the General Assembly was taken up. The following is the proposed ordinance:

The Committee on the Legislative Department, to whom were referred several ordinances in relation to compensation of members of the General Assembly, having had the same under consideration respectfully report, and recommend that the Constitution be amended by the addition of a section to follow section 29, of article 2, in these words:

Section 30. The members of the General Assembly, for the term for which they may have been elected, shall receive as a compensation for their services the sum of three dollars per day for each day of their session, for the period of sixty days, if they shall remain in session so long; and for a further period, not exceeding 20 days, they shall be entitled to receive two dollars per day only; and should they remain longer in session they shall serve without compensation. They shall also be entitled to receive ten cents per mile both while coming to the seat of government and while returning home, the said distance to be computed by the nearest line or route of public travel, but they shall not receive more than one set of mileage each way unless called to an extra session, in which case their compensation shall be three dollars per day for not more than thirty days, and the mileage the same as above specified; but at both the regular and the extra sessions the per diem compensation of the presiding officers of the two Houses shall be six dollars per day.

Mr. Clingman took the floor in explanation of the proposed amendment.

Mr. Manning, of Chatham, moved to strike out "3," and insert "4" wherever it occurred.

Mr. Barringer said he saw no objection to adopting the ordinance. He would take this opportunity to say that while he accepted the results of the late revolution, and he stood as firmly upon the changes wrought as any one, yet he wanted to get back to the order of old things as much as possible, whenever it could be done judiciously and consistently, &c. He said that the present constitution had much that was good in it, and some things that were a source of irritation to the people and ought to be taken from it.

Mr. Manning, of Chatham, thanked the gentleman from Mecklenburg (Mr. Barringer) for his honest words of cooperation, and would assure him that none of his (Mr. Manning's) side were disposed to destroy the foundation stones of the late revolution. He now invited the gentleman (Mr. Barringer) and his friends to join him (Manning) and his friends to do away with all that is evil in the present constitution and retain all that is good. He argued that this ordinance was a long step in the direction of economy, &c.

Mr. Chamberlain would support the amendment of Mr. Manning. He believed that this $3 business was all claptrap. He never had voted for less than $5, and never would except in support of the pending amendment.

Mr. Tourgee thought that these restrictions upon the Legislature was treating them too much like school boys. He was in favor of a fixed stipend. He was opposed to paying officers by the day. It looked too much like jobbery, &c. He moved to amend by striking out all after the word "sum" in line 3, down to the word "they" in 7th line, and insert in lieu thereof the words "two hundred dollars for the term of service;" also strike out all after the word "session" in line 14. He argued that no one could tell the time that the Legislature should sit and he was opposed to any Legislature sitting under the ban of any party.

Mr. Clingman was opposed to Mr. Tourgee's amendment to the amendment. If members came here on a fixed salary it would be difficult to retain them in their seats long enough to attend to the necessary business. The idea that poor men could not come here at $3 per day was preposterous.

Mr. Albertson said that the friends of this measure argued that it should be adopted because our ancestors practiced it. If the records were searched it would be discovered that our ancestors did no such thing. They never restricted their Legislatures nor refused to trust them by throwing all sorts of restrictions around them. He thought the ordinance ought to pass, but he thought that the arguments for it should be based upon what is right and just at the present and not upon contradictory precedents of the past. He thought $3 and $4 per day was too small, &c.

Smyth, col., supported Mr. Manning's amendment.

Mr. Wheeler was in favor of Mr. Tourgee's amendment.

Messrs. Blocker and Buxton were in favor of Mr. Manning's amendment.

On the call of Mr. Price the previous question was ordered.

After a long debate on points of order as to whether Mr. Manning's or Mr. Tourgee's amendment had precedence, the question was put on the amendment of the latter gentleman and it was rejected by a vote of yeas 23, nays 87.

The question recurred upon the amendment of Mr. Manning making the per diem $4 per day, instead of $3. The roll was called and the amendment was rejected by a vote of yeas 45; nays 63.

The question recurred upon the adoption of the ordinance on its second reading, which was adopted by a vote of yeas 77; nays 34.

Messrs. Barringer, Blocker, Brant, Dockery, Dula, Hampton, Hinnant, Hoffman, Justice, Kerr, Massey, McCandless, Wilcox, Woodfin and Young, republicans, voted for the ordinance.

Mr. French moved to suspend the rules in order that a resolution might be introduced in order to amend the rules so as to prevent an ordinance passing two readings in one day. The motion to suspend the rules was rejected.

Mr. Dixon was granted a leave of absence until Monday next.

By Mr. Davis: An ordinance giving the members of the Convention $3 per diem; the presiding officer $5 per day; the other officers and employees $2; mileage 10 cents each way.

Mr. Badger moved to suspend the rules and consider it at once.

The motion to suspend the rules was adopted, yeas 71; nays 40.

The question recurred upon the passage of the ordinance on its second reading.

Mr. Badger moved to amend by making the compensation of the President $8 per day; Principal and Assistant Clerks $5; other clerks and Sergeant-at-arms $4; doorkeepers $4.

Pending this amendment the Convention adjourned until to-morrow at 10 a. m.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Judge Gilbert, of the Supreme Court of Brooklyn, yesterday rendered a decision in a civil rights case, wherein Wm. P. Johnson, a colored man, sought to compel the principal of a public school to admit his son thereto instead of sending him to the school provided for colored children. The court holds that common schools are public charity that the benefits conferred by them are a free gift from the State, and like every other donor the State may prescribe in what manner and upon what terms and conditions the gift may be enjoyed. In conclusion, Judge Gilbert says that the statute, by guaranteeing equal privileges does not confer the right to enjoy them in common with any class of persons or in any particular school, and that nothing has been shown from which it can be inferred that the relator has been deprived of equality of privilege to which he is entitled. The motion for mandamus was denied.

The Weekly News is the cheapest paper published in North Carolina. It is only one dollar per year, postage paid.—Raleigh News.

It is dear enough to the people. Two stockholders of the Chatham Railroad are known to have furnished most of the $35,000 Stone & Uzzell say they lost when the News was published at $2 for the weekly. The Chatham Railroad has swapped ten cent bonds with the Treasurer for bonds worth one dollar to the amount of near one million of dollars. And now in the face of an injunction issued by Judge Kerr, demand, of the Treasurer that he shall continue the swap to the amount of some $300,000 more.

The Raleigh News is the only paper in the State bold enough to advocate such swapping as honest and fair.

Mrs. Davenports, out in Iowa, was elected delegate to a town convention and claimed her seat, supposing perhaps, that the parties would be more liberal than the law is; but the seat was refused, "it being doubtful whether the party would consider itself bound by acts of delegates who were non voters."
