The City.

Norfolk and Portsmouth cotton exchange send a large delegation to our fair.

Mechanics' Building and Loan association meets to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Hargett street public school has been cut apart in barracks for the boys of Mr. Bunch at school during fair week.

Read Mrs. Andrews' advertisement. Ladies attending the fair will find her assortment of bonnets, trimmings, ribbons, feathers and flowers full, beautiful and cheap.

Hon. R. R. Bridgers, president of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad, one of the best managed railroad corporations in the South, is in the city, stopping at the Yarborough house.

The famous Simpleton troupe which was here advertised to appear at Metropolitan hall Friday and Saturday evenings, will not be here. Failure of railroad connections, the cause.

The Petersburg Index-Appeal announces that P. H. Busbee, of Raleigh, is to be one of the orators at the fair in that city, and adds: "Mr. Busbee is one of the most distinguished and eloquent men of the Old North State."

Game.—Wm. M. Boylan, of this city, has just returned from a visit to his plantation in Johnston county, and reports the whole region alive with deer. The negroes on his place jumped up six in a day, and killed two. Our sportsmen may make a note of it.

Mr. Wm. Major Gray, the new president of the Raleigh & Gaston and Augusta Air-Line roads, has settled down to the active discharge of the duties of his new and responsible position. His thorough brain, qualities, and his gentlemanly courtesy of manner toward all with whom he is brought in contact, are winning him the good opinion of our citizens, and augurs for him a career both successful and pleasant.

Cannibalism.—Patrick Gallagher and Wm Johnson, two gentlemen of Hibernian extraction, had a rather animated discussion yesterday afternoon, in the back-yard of Benford's saloon. Empty bottles, oaths, fists and teeth flew around promiscuously. When the smoke and dust of the controversy cleared away, Gallagher was noseless, and Johnson was the possessor of a broken skull and innumerable cuts from bottle-blows. Policeman Waters arrested the combatants, and on the way to the guard-house Gallagher constantly plead in piteous tones: "Oh, Waters, won't you go back and find my nose?" After lodging his prisoners the obliging officer returned to the scene of the fray and, amid the rubbish, broken bottles, blood, hair and other signs of riot, found the missing nose, which had been bitten off clean and clear by Johnson. It was sewed on its old location by Dr. Hines, Gallagher now and then murmuring: "Don't get it on wrong-end-up, doctor, please don't!" Dr. Towles weatherboarded Johnson's damaged head; and both parties are now tolerably comfortable, though neither will be able to appear for trial Saturday, or be on dress parade Sunday morning.

CONVENTION SUMMARY.

This body was more orderly than it has been during the past week. A resolution was offered by Mr. Morehead, of Rockingham, to adjourn, Monday, Oct. 18. The debate yesterday and to-day was on an ordinance to disfranchise all persons convicted of felony and debar them from holding office. Many speeches were made which we will notice hereafter. Mr. Thorne spoke eloquently on the right of a rogue to hold office when the people were willing to trust him. Messrs. Barringer, Dockery and the colored delegates spoke on the same side with Mr. Thorne. Messrs. Jarvis and Turner advocated the bill. Mr. Turner said he was not for cruelty even to criminals. He almost believed in the inviolability of human life and abominated corporeal punishment, but he preferred to see convicted felons have 39 lashes rather than see them in office or at the ballot box.

Mr. Turner presented a petition from citizens of Wake county, asking for measures to prevent the interference of railroad corporations in state or county politics; and one praying that the legislature be restrained from paying the state debt or any part of it, except by a vote of the people.

Blunder.—In our report of the wedding yesterday, a printernatical error makes us mix up the attendants and leave out two of the most prominent. It should have read: Alex. London, of Wilmington, and Miss Janet Hogg; Chas. Root and Miss Coriane Dortch.

Exciting Trial.—The superior court was engaged nearly all day yesterday on the case of the State against W. O. Wolf, charged with assault and battery on his wife, Hattie Wolf. The case excites a deep and general interest, and the court-house was crowded. A number of the ablest members of our bar are enlisted: the state being represented by Solicitor J. C. L. Harris, Judge D. G. Fowle, E. Graham Haywood, A. M. Lewis and Geo. H. Snow; and the defendant by Merrimon, Fuller & Ashe and Busbee & Busbee. After the impaneling of a jury, the first witness was Mrs. Wolf herself. She was subjected to a long and severe examination, and about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, while undergoing a cross-examination, she fainted in the court-room, and the judge adjourned the trial to 10 o'clock Friday morning.

A CARD.

Editor Sentinel: By an error of the receiving telegraph operator in New York, the concluding clause of a paragraph in my dispatch to the New York Herald relative to the proceedings of the constitutional convention on Monday last, was transferred to the commencement of the succeeding paragraph; thereby materially misrepresenting the Republican delegates, who were, by this blunder, put in the false position of "generally opposing" Mr. French's ordinance providing for a department of agriculture, immigration and statistics, to which they had, in fact, no objection whatever.

The Boys in Gray.—We were wont to admire the boys, who wore the grey alone, but for the noble, chivalrous hearts that beat under it. They commanded the admiration of the true and the brave in every land. But how few admire a fine head enveloped in grey hair and whiskers—very few. We all love admiration and nothing in our appearance is more calculated to secure it than pretty hair. If old age, sickness or sorrow has robbed you of it, you can regain it by the use of Dr. Tutt's Hair Dye. Its popularity is so great that it can be found on the shelves of every druggist in the land. oct 2-3w

Vanderbilt University, at Nashville, was dedicated Monday. Rev. Dr. Deems, of New York, delivered the address. Just as he was closing, this dispatch was received from the blasphemous old stock-gambler and business pirate, Cornelius himself: "Peace and good will to all men." Dr. Deems read it aloud amid thunders of applause; then striking a dramatic attitude, gazed some moments at a life-size portrait of the ancient cut-purse commodore, and tenderly exclaimed: "Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God." This brought down the house in a whirlwind of vociferous cheers.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Wednesday, October 6.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The convention met at 4 o'clock.

Ordinance to strike out section 3, article 4 of the constitution. Deprives the magistrates of jurisdiction under the present laws, and leaves the matter of arranging their jurisdiction in the hands of the legislature.

Mr. Manning, of Chatham, moved an amendment giving the right of appeal in all cases decided by the justices of the peace, extending the jurisdiction of the justices to civil actions other than those furnished on contracts, where the value of property in controversy does not exceed $50. Adopted.

The ordinance thus amended then passed its third reading.

Mr. Badger moved a suspension of the rules to consider his resolution in relation to the W. N. C. R. R. It appearing that the restrictions in the oath taken by the members prevented any legislation upon this subject, the motion to suspend was lost.

Mr. Holton moved a suspension of the rules to take up an ordinance introduced by himself, relating to the relief of the disabilities of Gov. Holden, submitting the question to the people as a separate ordinance. The convention refused to suspend.

Ordinance to add three sections to article 4 of the constitution, so as to provide for the removal of judges by the legislature and clerks of the courts by the judges.

Mr. Jarvis called the previous question, which call was sustained.

The ordinance then passed its second reading by a vote of 56 to 38.

Mr. Badger asked that substitute striking out sections 26 and 27, article 4 of the constitution be read. The substitute provides that the judges be elected by the people. Passed its second reading.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

Thursday, October 7.

At 10 a. m., President Ransom called the convention to order.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Marshall, of the city.

Journal of yesterday read and approved.

Mr. Turner presented a petition from citizens of Wake against paying special tax and penitentiary bonds, and asking the passage of an accompanying ordinance to that effect. It provides that the question of paying these bonds shall be submitted to the people as a separate amendment.

Mr. Turner moved to suspend the rules and put the ordinance on its second reading. The yeas and nays were called and the motion failed by a vote of yeas 60, nays 42, it requiring 61, a majority of the whole number of delegates. The petition and ordinance went on the calendar.

Messrs. Shepherd, Manning, of New Hanover, submitted reports from standing committees.

By Mr. McCandless, an ordinance to amend section 7, article 7 in regard to taxation in municipal corporations.

By Mr. Badger, a resolution to abolish the senate and to give the governor, by and with the advice of his Council of State, a limited veto power. Referred.

By Mr. Morehead, a resolution to adjourn sine die on the 18th inst. Calendar.

Mr. Turner presented a petition from citizens of Wake county asking the convention to condemn the frauds and corruptions of the Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line Railroad. The petition and accompanying resolutions went on the calendar.

By Mr. Badger, a resolution to adjourn sine die. Calendar.

By Mr. Thorne, an ordinance to abolish all test for suffrage or office. Abolishing all moral, religious and sexual bars to suffrage and office. Calendar.

By Mr. Kerr, an ordinance to submit the question of mixed schools to the people of the state as a separate amendment. Calendar.

On motion of Mr. Reid the rules were suspended, and the ordinance in relation to printing the amendments adopted by this constitution, was taken up. (This ordinance merely relates as to how the printing shall be done and how the documents shall be distributed.)

After long debate Mr. Durham called the previous question. The call was sustained and the ordinance passed its second reading.

On motion of Mr. Durham the rules were suspended and the ordinance came up on its third reading and passed.

Mr. Boyd moved to suspend the rules and take up his resolution, instructing the Committee on Judicial Department to prepare and report a suitable ordinance declaring that the general assembly shall not have power to levy a tax to pay special tax and penitentiary bonds, without first submitting it to the people. The yeas and nays were called and the motion to suspend the rules was carried by a vote of yeas 63 nays 41.

The resolution was adopted.

The ordinance to amend sec. 1, art. — was taken up on its third reading.

[This ordinance was published in full on its second reading yesterday. It relates to suffrage and eligibility to office.]

O'Hara, col., took the floor in opposition to the measure.

Crosby, col., was also opposed to the ordinance. In the course of his remarks he said that the convention might pass this ordinance; he knew that it would pass, but he would tell gentlemen that the negroes were a power in the land and would remain so even if not a single white man came to their aid, &c.

Cary, col., spoke in opposition to the ordinance.

General Barringer offered an amendment limiting purview of the ordinance to offences hereafter committed, so as to prevent the effect of indictments now pending. He proceeded to read from manuscript in opposition to 90 days residence.

Col. Dockery also read a speech denouncing the requirement of 90 days residence as a land disability upon voters.

Smyth, col., spoke in opposition to the ordinance.

Mr. Badger was opposed to the ordinance.

Mr. Jarvis was in favor of the ordinance. He did not think the 90 days would unfairly disqualify a single honest voter in the state. He continued at some length to show that the 90 days residence would be a long step towards preventing fraud and preserving the integrity of the ballot. Mr. Jarvis exposed colonization of negro voters in this county in 1874, when fifteen negroes had been colonized from Newbern and quartered in Greenville and voted on the day of election and decided the result of the election.

Mr. Badger wanted to know why a justice of the peace was not applied to and a warrant got and those colonizers arrested.

Mr. Jarvis replied by saying that the very man who was foremost in the matter was a Republican justice of the peace.

Mr. Turner next followed in support of the ordinance.

Mr. Thorne was opposed to it.

Mr. Durham called the previous question. The call was sustained.

The various pending amendments were voted down and the question recurred on the ordinance on its third reading.

The question was divided and it recurred on the first proposition, the 90 days residence. The yeas and nays were called and it was adopted by a vote of yeas 57, nays 49.

The question recurred upon the second proposition of the ordinance, the disfranchisement on account of conviction of an infamous crime, and it passed.

The question recurred upon the passage of the ordinance as a whole on its third and final reading. The yeas and nays were called and it passed by a vote of yeas 58, nays 49.

On motion of Mr. Jarvis the convention took a recess until 4:30 p. m.

THE SLEEP OF DEATH.

[illegible]
Compositors Lethe, Sept.—Typo
After life's fitful fever he sleeps well.

Let us look on death calmly and clearly,
Not with unmanly fears—'Tis a quiet sleep.
That all, or soon or late, must slumber in.
They lie down beneath the flowers,
A blue sky bending o'er us,
Regretting not life's fleshpot fears,
Nor aught of bliss they bore us.
The Summer winds, will they not hear
Their sunny light clouds on?
And trees their flowers and verdure wear,
As they have ever done?
Sweet harmonies of life and love,
Still charm the earth and air,
As since the light with darkness strove
They have done everywhere.
The rivers, restless as they go
By cliff and wooded hill,
As in time past shall they not flow
In power and beauty still?
O'er me still spread the heavens sublime,
Around the mighty deep,
With slumberers of all by-gone time,
Shall I not sweetly sleep?

COLOSSAL GOLD SHEAF SEED WHEAT. The attention of Farmers is specially invited to this new cereal, which for its prolific qualities, hardiness and freedom from disease, perhaps surpasses all other estimated varieties. Its perfect adaptation to every variety of soil and climate makes it a peculiar favorite with both American and British Farmers.

It matures in about twenty days less time than oats.

It is a remarkable grain to stand severe drought.

It yields from 40 to 90 bushels per acre.

The heads will average ten inches in length.

(We will send sample specimen heads to Farmers on receipt of ten cents, by mail, which will be a fair evidence of the enormous growth of the wheat. Agents to whom we have sent specimen heads are making enormous profits, showing the heads to their neighbors, and taking orders.)

The stalk is sufficiently strong to support the head and prevent its lodging. The grain for stock food is equal, if not superior, to Indian corn. It ripens while the stalk is yet green. We have tested its superiority as far North as Ontario and Quebec, and as far South as New Mexico, proving its perfect adaptation to every variety of soil and climate of North America.

Terms, Cash. No C. O. D. packages sent out.

Sample packages sent postage paid, for $1.10 by mail. One bushel, by Express, $3. Ten bushels by Express, $25. Send money by Registered Letter, at our risk. Address
