The City.

LEA & PERREN'S
In the only GENUINE WORCESTER SAUCE.
Capt. A. A. Ramsey, of Carey, is in the city.

Cotton receipts this week 3,016 bales; 708 more than were ever before received in one week.

John W. Thompson, a prominent business man of the declining little city of Apex is in town today.

Notice.—The editor of this paper is compelled to be absent from the place will be filled by Miss Sarah Turner.

Ned Brodie, a son of Alfred's sunny clime, was judged to-day by Judge Barber, in default of $200 bail, on a charge of assault and battery.

Only three plain drunks were before the mayor this morning. The penalties were slight contributions to the city treasury and the payment of costs.

Notwithstanding the influx of country people to-day on account of the circus, trade has been dull in all directions. Cotton receipts yesterday were very large, amounting to 607 bales, the largest number ever received in any one day. The market is dull and down at 12 7/8 for best grade. No demand for low grades.

We had a call this morning, from the boy-editor of North Carolina, W. A. Davis, of the Oxford Torchlight; only 18 years old, and has been an editor 3 years. Face fair as a girl's; dark brown hair and eyes; destined to be a formidable rival in handsomeness, of Deasy Battle; and runs one of the best papers in the state. He is on his way to Orange court, and remains in the city till to-morrow evening.

AN AGED COUPLE.—We told the other day, of a child born in this city, that has eleven living grand and great-grand fathers and mothers. One of these venerable ancestral couples is the father and mother of our townsman, J. C. S. Lumsden. The old patriarch is 85 years of age, and his wife 80. They have been married 59 years, and are still strong, active, and wide awake to all that is going on in the world they have so long out-lived.

GOING.—W. Earl Brown, our distinguished Raleigh artist, from whose portrait of Stonewall Jackson Foley's famous statue was copied and modeled, leaves this evening for Richmond, to attend the unveiling and dedication ceremonies of next Tuesday. It is a proud satisfaction to him to see his work stamped with the approval of the whole art world, and consecrated with rites so august in the presence of the assembled representatives of nearly every state of the southern confederation.

ALTERATION OF GAUGE.—The authorities of the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad have ordered the alteration of the gauge from 4 feet 8 1/2 inches to 5 feet, to conform, as the law requires, to the gauge of the North Carolina railroad. We learn that a line of steamers will soon commence plying between Morehead City and New York, and that trains will run through from Morehead City to Charlotte. It is understood that the gauge of the Western North Carolina road will soon be made uniform with the others.

FLORICULTURE.—Every well regulated front yard ought to be ornamented with an immense diamond, which can be tastefully formed by driving down shingles, boards and chips for a border. When the plot is perfected, plant a big sun-flower and some popcorn in the center, with a row of Johnny-flippers, dog-fennel, marigolds, cauliflower and XXX-flour around the edges. Vokaberry, barr and jimson-oleanders will volunteer to relieve the harshness between center and border. When in full bloom the moral effect is touching and beautiful even to a blind man in cross-eyed green spectacles.

GROWING.—No place in the south is growing more rapidly and substantially than Raleigh. On every hand, new buildings are going up, many of them large and handsome enough to do credit to any city on the continent. Business houses are being enlarged, and the whole surrounding region is being dotted with beautiful dwellings. As one small evidence of our growth, the butchers in our market, ten years ago, only sold 5 hives in a day; now they kill and dispose of, daily, 23 beef cattle, 15 hogs and 13 sheep; nearly a ten-fold increase. You needn't "go west, young man," to find growth, thrift and prosperity.

RELIGIOUS.

A big Methodist revival is in progress at Lenoir. The Methodist church of Wadesboro, N. C., has a very serious attack of heart disease yesterday morning on the streets of our city. He was more comfortable in the afternoon and was taken to the car with a view of reaching his home in Pittboro.

PANORAMA LAY.—As large numbers of letters are pouring in from every direction, enquiring about the premium list awarded at the late fair, the Sentinel is authorized to answer one and all, at wholesale and retail. Secretary Windsor finds that he still lacks some outlines that are necessary to a full publication of the list; but all possible means are being used to complete it, and it will appear in the Sentinel at the earliest moment.

BOOKS.—We are indebted to W. W. Whitney, of Toledo, Ohio, the publisher, for two excellent collections of vocal music: "Silver Carol," a handsomely got up 160-page book of songs for the use of day schools; price 60 cents a copy, or $5 a dozen. "Crown of Life," 160 pages for Sunday Schools; price 35 cents a copy, and $30 a hundred. Both books contain many pieces of real merit, admirably arranged.

And D. Appleton & Co., 549 and 551 Broadway, New York, have laid us under obligations for a copy of "Brigadier Frederick," a thrilling story of the Franco-Prussian war, by Erickmann-Christman. It tangles with all the fire of a Frenchman's hatred of his country's foes, and will be found interesting to the general reader. Price 50 cents.

All these books are for sale at Alfred Williams' book and stationery establishment, on Fayetteville street.

BUTTER.—It is astonishing what a difference there is in butter. To make good cow butter, it is not best to feed the animal wholly on dog-worm chips, shoe-leather and old straw-bonanza. Cow butter differs from store butter in all the essential elements of flavor, tenderness, pliancy, hair, cotton-biting, white lead, sour flour, grates, ginseng, and anasthida. It ought not to contain more than one pint of rancid lard and an ounce of chicken feathers to the pound. Roll it in the hands till it forms a round ball, when it ought to be tied up neatly in a rag which has not been used more than twice as a pocket-cloth for a sore toe. We are not like the fellow who, wild about his girl, swore he would have none but her. We'll take some butter; every time, if it's good, sweet and fresh, as that made by Dr. D. W. Kerr, of Alamance county, who took the premium as a daisy at our fair. W. H. Jones, of this city, has the agency, for his butter, and all who appreciate the best article of its kind, can get it by calling on him.

DOG-GONE.—And several long-necked, feathery pets gone too. Perhaps G. T. Stronach didn't fracture the anti-cussing commandment this morning; and perhaps he did, which is considerably more perhaps. The cause of his highest indignation was the discovery that, last night, while the good man of the house slumbered and slept, or worse to that effect, some diabolical canine son of another dog like unto himself had, feloniously and with malice prepense, invaded his premises, domestic or domain; and, there—and there, by force and violence, y. e. arms of fang and claws, had slain, slaughtered, lacerated and slain his fine pair of wild geese, that took the premium at the fair; and furthermore, at the time and place and by the means aforesaid had also sent one of his splendid black-tailed necked China geese to join the spirits of all our American hunting statesmen departed. This is the half-way legal style of informing the reader that a dog killed three of Stronach's prize geese.

COMPLIMENTARY.—Our good-looking and talented young townsman, Fab. H. Busbee, delivered the annual address at the Petersburg fair, last Tuesday. The News of that city says: "Mr. Busbee is a very interesting and happy speaker, and was honored with the warmest attention of his auditors. He treated at length and very lucidly the mode of agriculture of this section, and pointed out its defects and gave some very valuable suggestions as to how to improve it. Some excellent, witty points were made by him on our young bachelor planters, which provoked great merriment among the audience, especially his lady auditors. The speech was well received, and at its conclusion Mr. Busbee resumed his seat amidst applause."

TAB DROPS.

Without remedy for the eye, the eye will be ruined. The eye is the window of the soul, and it is of the highest importance that it should be kept in a healthy state. Tab Drops are a simple and effective remedy for all eye troubles, and are sold by all druggists.
