LEASPERRINS is the only GENUINE WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE

Remember the citizens' debt meeting this evening.

Prayer and praise by general order See Gov. Brogden's proclamation.

No fellow who went to the Wilming fair can say he had a "dry old time." Mr. Baker, salesman for W. C. & A. B. Stronach, and Mr. Wesver, salesman for L. R. Wyatt, are sick.

David Parks, treasurer of Oran county, and a prominent business of Hillsboro, is in the city to-day.

Parties desiring to secure reserved seats at Tucker hall for Friday evening had better apply at once, as it is probable there will be a jam.

Our townsman, R. Greer, a skilled worker in wood, carried off the premium at the Weldon fair for a double-shafted wagon, and for a patented dump-cart.

Governor Brogden has appointed J. R. Good, a Newbern darkey, a member of the insane asylum board of directors in place of G. W. Brodie, another sable and savory citizen, who is absent from

Our young infantry heroes reached Wilmington last evening, with plumes and banners gay, brass horns tooting, drams thumping, and muskets glinting brightly in the moonlight—if there had chanced to be a moon.

Yesterday's Wilmington Journal says "The Raleigh Light Infantry and the Norfolk City Guards are expected to arrive here by this evening's train. Our bome companies will form an esecrit for them down to the city."

Joe Williams, of Yadkin county, is in the c'ty. He is said to make the best whisky in Yadkin, and Yadkin makes the best in the world. Ben. Franklin said bridges were made by smart men for fools to ride over; and so Williams thinks about wblskywise men make it and wis drink it.
Joe Williams never drinks.

E. J. Hale & Son, 1.7 Murray street New York, are the publishers of a nest little pan p'ilet, which will be of interes of the church. It is a defence of the charge on sacramental confession delivered by Bishop Atkinson to the clergy of his diocese, in St. John's church. Wilmington, May 22, 1874; and a refutation of the reply to that charge by Right Rev. James Gibbon, Alfred Williams has it for sale at 25 cents

FAR AWAY .- We have just received with the compliments of our young townsman, E. A. Merrimon, a copy of the Bombay Indian Statesman and the Ceylon Times. He was in Colombo, where the "spicy breezes blow soft p'er Ceylon's isle," Sept. 17, but expected to leave for Penang in a day or two. The Times contains a handsome notice of his vessel, the United States war steamer Tennessee, and her welcome by the British authorities of Colombo.

I. O. G. T.-We are indebted to Sam' J. Fall, grand worthy secretary, for a tastefully got up pamphlet report of the proceedings of the fourth annual session of the Grand Lodge of Good Templan of North Carolina, held in Fayettaville, We learn from it that the order, starting only four years ago with one lodge of 225 members, now shows a proud mus-ter-roll, in the state, of 238 lodges and 7,927 members. The expenses of the Grand Lodge during the past year, were 83,001.50; and after paying everything, the treasurer still finds himself lugging around a wallet stuffed out with $502.41 Thirty-three years have passed since as introduction of Dr. Bull's Cough yrup, and it still stands unrivaled.

RALEIGH, N. C. WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1875. VOL. XXI

MORE INFLATION. -This morning, sheriff Ashworth, of Randolph county, called on the auditor, settled his taxes, and then waltzed over to the treasurer and inflated the finances of the commonwealth $6,461,87 worth. MAYOR'S COURT.—This establish

ARRIVALS AT UNION LEAGUE HO-TEL. The sheriff of Wayne county came in last evening with 6 black-andtan guests for Union League hotel. Five have come to learn the difference hotween moun and turn, and one to learn to tell the truth when an oath is ing every year. They understand their administered by a proper officer. One of the rogues was formerly an officer of the Goldsboro police corps.

FIRE AT THE NEUSE PAPER MILLS. Yesterday at Falls of Neuse, about 12 miles from this city, a house used as lodgings for a number of employes of the paper-mills, took fire and was consumed. All the furniture and other contents were saved. The origin of the fire has not been discovered. Fortunately the direction of the wind kept the flames from extending to the main able and valued contemporary, the Wilmington Journal, of Nov. 7, thus vigoronaly comes to the defence of the North

The Raleigh Sentinel prints an anecdote taken from the columns of Harper's Magazine, the whole point and humor of which consists in making it humor of which consists in making it appear that some North Carolina solicitor exhibited a profound ignorance of three things—the bible, the law and the game of faro. When we read the slander in the magazine, we little thought it would be republished in a North Carolina newspaper, where the acquaintance of the bar with all three of the subjects is notorious. The Sentinel asks who is it? We answer it was no North Carolina lawser. line lawyer.

THE THE REVIVAL, -There is evi dently a revival on the temperance question going on in the city. Last evening Hickman lodge of Good Templars was thronged with members, fourteen were initiated and about thirty petitioned for membership. Mr. Varnadore, of Atlanta, Ga., was present and presided, and also addressed the lodge. Dr. Towles delivered a lecture on drunken ness as a disease, "Grandpa, Bless Your Little Nell," was sung as a duet by two fair nisters, and altogether the meet ing was pronounced by those present a most enjoyable affair. This lodge has already done a glorious work in our city and from the character and energy of its members, it will assuredly go on to still greater achievements.

CAROLINA AT PRINCETON.-At Princeton college, J. C. Jenkins, son of our state treasurer, carried off laurel enough to make a brush-broom. His subject, "A Glimpse of Lincoln's Ad ministration," was handled with decid ed ability; and, although we have no sympathy with the young orator's theme, or his eulogistic treatment of it, we are gratified at the prominent place which, in the name of our proud old state, he has claimed and won in Prince-ton's venerable and classic halls. The Princeton Press, of Nov. 6, says:

"One of the speakers of the second division of the Senior class on the chapel stage last Saturday, Mr. J. C. Jenkins, of North Carolina, had for his Jenkins, of North Carolina, had for his subject one which was received by all with respectful attention, but which a few years ago many would have heard with marked disapprobation. We are glad to note this reversion of opinion and of action, and hall it as an omen for good. The speaking of Mr. Jenkins, and of some others, was excellent, giving promise of usefulness and position in the future."

BUTTER LATE THAN NEVER. - City Treasurer Heartt, yesterday, paid the municipal officers and employes for the mouth of August, leaving two months' wages still in arrears. The amount paid to salaried officers and men was $1,544,72; the street bands and tequisters received $629.75. Two months' pay is yet due. This tar-diness should be avoided, especially as regards the day laborers in the city's employ. We know the present administration is not to blame for it. The radicals recklessly plunged our city finances into rule, leaving to those now in power a herculean task in maintain ing her credit. Close, prudent manfriends fear thay will not be able to of our people will soon put our municiobey the scriptural injunction to "save pal affairs on a sound basis. Let us

MESSES, W. H. & R. S. TUCKER, -By tisement of this well-known and popular firm was not noticed at the proper time. The Messrs. Tucker carry on the largest retail dry goods business in the state and few in the entire south surpass them, and their wholesale trade is exte business perfectly in all its details, and ourry it on in a fair and legitimate way. Their magnificent establishment is an ornament to the city, and at once impresse the visitor with the energy and public spirit of the proprietors. If we had a few more men of the enterprise, fairness and liberality of these gentlemen, our city would prosper in every way. Qur country merchants have no need to go to the expense of visiting the northern markets for articles in the line of the Messrs. Tucker, but can obtain them here cheaper than elsewhere, when freightage is considered.

BRILLIANT WEDDING,-At 8 o'clock this morning, at Christ spoken the solemn last evening, the president, Rev. Dr. which link together for life the destinies of S. F. Mordecai, of Raleigh, and Miss Bettie, daughter of Gen. Bryan Grimes, of Pitt county. Rev. M. M. Marshall conducted the ceremony. The attendants were Mr. John Dever oux and Miss Nannie Grimes, Mr. Chas Hinton and Miss Rebecca Davis, Mr. Chas, Johnson and Miss Meta Devereux, Mr. Iredell Johnson and Miss Janet Hogg, Mr. Geo. M. Smedes and Miss Lee Jeffries, Mr. P. F. Pescud and Miss Mary Winder, Mr. Grimes Cowper and Miss Bessie Grimes. The bride was given away by her father, and after receiving the heart-felt congratulations of a large number of relatives and friends, the young pair started on a tour of the north.

The Wilmington papers tell of vil-lainy rewarded. A gentleman was robbed of his watch and chain at the Weldon fair. He offered a reward of weldon lair.
