Friday evenings. Jos. H. Jones, at the city market, has just received a lot of splendid beef, which can be obtained at his stall tomorrow morning. Next Sunday is the first anniversary o the Swain Street Baptist church, A programme of the exercises of the occasion will soon appear.

J. M. Heck, J. S. Alien and John Nichols returned to the city yesterday, from Shelby, where they had been to attend the Baptist state convention.

The white-plager Newbern Times, of Nov. 13, exclaims: "Begorra, Paddy, I hardly knowed ye whin I saw yer name in the Sintinel as Patroclus Donan. Och hone !"

E. J. Parish, the great Farmer's Warehouse man of Durham, was in the city to-day. He is one of the most liberal advertisers in the state, and a thorough-going business man, own, the radical Newbern Times of November 13, says: "The Sentine reports the hog cholera as prevailing in the Raleigh section. That paper is still issued, as the epidemic has not reached that office yet."

LAND ENTRIES .- Persons who have made entries of state land have only unt'l December 31, in which to obtain grants from the secretary of state. The general assembly has been in the habit of extending the time to such persons, but as the legislature will not be in session this winter, they must obtain their grants by that time or lose their rights under the law .

SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY.-Today the property of C. B. Harrison, sitnated just beyond the northern limits of the city, was sold at public auction. The residence and two acres of ground were purchased by S. P. Arrington, of Petersburg, Va., for $7,800 in gold. Ten small contiguous building lots were sold at an average price of $250 apiece, Gen. Hoke, W. W. Vass and Col. Sam. R iffin, of Alabama, being the purchasers.

SQUARED .- Sheriff Wyatt, of Allegha ny county, called on the auditor todsy, and paid over to the state $1,250,-57. That 57 cents is only tacked on to show the minuteness of state and county accuracy.

Sheriff Becton, of Lenolr, was around too and inflated the finances of the co:nmonwealth $5,392 worth.

And Sheriff Long, of Richmond, added $5,361.51 to the state pocket-book,

FOUND,-The Sentinel did it with its little notice. Moses Remme had migrated from German y thirty years ago. All trace of him was lost. A fortune was left him, and he was needed in the Fatherland. A. Overbach, of some jawbreaking Dutch town, wrote to Governor Brogden about it, His excellency, knowing where to put an item to do most good, furnished it to the Sentinel, The whole state press copied it at once, And the long lost sheep of the house of Remme, it seems, is found. The Statesville Landmark, of Nov. 13, after copying the Sentinel paragraph, adds:

"It's our little Moses at Wallace Bros. He was shipped yesterday by Wooten's Express to Wilmington, where he will embark for Germany."

Regeneration

Rev. E. R. Rich, the rector, occupied the pulpit of the free church of the vice, and the point, "what is regenera Good Shepherd (Episcopal), morning tion ?" was discussed in a lucid manner. and evening. The text of the morning sermon was taken from 1st John iii:2: Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is." The exposition of the text was, that though the lives of christians may be hidden here upon earth, and subject to trials and sorrows, still as "sons of God" they are "joint heirs with Jesus Christ," and shall in due time have their manifestation in the glories of heaven, where "seeing him as he is," they shall be like him and dwell forever in his presence. In the evening, the text was from 1st Corinthians xiv:15 and 40: What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also. Let all things be done decently and in order." The discourse set forth the beauty and propriety of the form of common prayer and the analogy of the prayer book with human

Rev. Dr. Marshall, the rector, preached an able and impressive sermon at Christ church, from Proverbs xiv:14: "The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways; and a good man shall be satisfied from himself." The learned doctor annivard with power the cause, evidences and cure of this "backsliding in heart," and vividly and feelingly portrayed the satisfaction and reward of the "good man" who perseveres, in this world and the world to rangement of "Great is the Lord," which was admirably rendered. In his ante-sermon prayer, Mr. Atkinson departed from the regular set styles in a fervent little petition for the press of the country. He took as the foundation of his remarks Joshua it 9, "Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of good courage; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest." The sermon was an earnest, practical appeal to christians for courage and Every argument was invoked, every thus, "saith the Lord" employed to stimulate the hearers to new and higher resolves. Every sweet promise to the over temptations and trials, was quoted with the unction of a soul fired with the nartyr spirit which it wished to enkindle in others. It was a sermon calculated to do good, and held the rapt attention of the audience to the close. Mr. Atkinson preached in the evening to another large crowd.

For his morning sermon, Rev. Dr. Burkhead selected his text from the gospel according to St. John iii: 3: "Jesus answered and said unto him, verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." As an introduction, the character of Nicodemus as a believer in Christ and betraying an ignorance of the plan of salvation, was contrasted with the position of mankind who assent to the truth of the Messiahship of Jesus, but who live in ignorance of his doctrines and teachings. The nature of regeneration was ably discussed. Regeneration is not the creation of any nev faculty of mind or heart, but a complete transformation of the spiritual nature of man. This point was illustrated by the conversion of Saul of Tarsus, Regeneration is not the renunciation of the world as an object of hope or happiness Under this head the duties of church holy virtues which they enjoin, were forcibly commented upon. The attraccline, and in many instances, loss of the soul. Christians were urged to eschew them in order to maintain inviochurch, although church affiliation was commended as a religious duty, and as a safeguard against apostacy. The subject was discussed as to its relation to church ordinances, the idea of a strict observance of the ordinances and sacraments as means of grace and solemn duty being urged, but not as carrying with them spiritual regeneration. The subject was resumed at the evening ser-

At the Person Street Methodist church the pastor, Rev. N. M. Jurney, officiated. In the morning, two members were received into the church by certificate. Mr. Jurney took as his text, Revelation iii : 2 : "Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die; for I have not found thy works perfect before God. The language of the text was addressed to the church at Sardit, in which a state of coldness and indifference, at variance with the true spirit of christianity, existed. Religion does not consist in a mere outward show, but is imbedded in the heart. The true christian is ever watchful, and by constant prayer and attention to his religious duties strengthens the spirit of grace that is within him. There is no standing still in religion; it must be progressive or retrogressive forward or backward. The life of a true christian is represented in the bible as that of a waylarer encompassed on every hand by dangers, but who goes perseveringly and watchfully forward until the goal is triumphantly reached. In the evening three members were received into the church. The pastor took his text from Issiah xli : 10 : "Fear thou not ; for I am with thee ; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness," The promises of God are always suited to the wants and condition of His people, and He always has rich blessings in store for them. God's people are subject to doubts and fears and are freque tly weighed down by disappointments and afflictions. This arises from a lack of faith and a too easy yielding to the sinful seductions of the world. If we but believe his words and strive with all

SWAIN STREET BAPTIST CHURCH, The Sunday School was well attended all'eing surprised to see their superintendent, J. S. Allen, and teachers of the infant class, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Louges, who had been attending the convention at Shelby, and were not ex-pected until Tuesday. The new song book, "Crown of Life," was used for the first time. Mr. Abbott, of New Hampshire, being present, made a few remarks. The superintendent spoke glowingly e his trip to the convention and said "we have got hard work ahead of us to keep up our reputation." Rev. Dr. Ston occupied the pulpit morning and evening. His text in the morning was Isaiah xiii : 10 : "Ye are my witnesses mith the Lord, and my servants whom have chosen." The preacher delivers the word, and the people illustrate it. The world reads the bible only in the lives of christians. If the christian does a wrong net, the world trumpets it over and over. The ungodly may be guilty of very mean things. and but little notice will be taken of it. The spiritual condition of 650,663. Custom receipts Saturday, this church last winter was due to the $45,066; for month to date, $5,176, bright testimonies made of Christ by 652; for fiscal year to date, $61,193, bright testimonies made of Christ by his people—the unconverted were constrained by it. We might and should always be in such a condition. In the evening, the church was well filled, and the new carpets and stoyes made everything appear most inviting and comfortable. The choir, which is composed partly of pupils from the asylum for the blind, sang a beautiful voluntary, "Thou wouldst be saved, why not to-night?" Dr. Stone preached from 1 Peter, iv: 18: "And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?" We must not take the word searcely literally, for there can be no such thing as failure about the righteous being saved. The course of the christian is up stream, and he has a hard time often to stem the current. The ungodly make no effort to find out God ; have nothing to do with hum; don't go to him with any of their troubles, nor ask his help or guidance. If they were saved i would be against their wishes as expressed in their lives. The lost soul has gone over prayers, sermons, appeals and the wooings of its own conscience in order to reach its destiny.
