We respectfully dedicate this paragraph from the Baltimore Gazette, of Nov. 20, to Col. Ikey Young, our worthy infernal revenue man, who is the object of its allusion: "The internal revenue department has been overhauling one of its collectors on the charge of nepotism. Why doesn't the president protect him from censure ? - He but imitates the example act by him."

and glass ware ever presented in this city, is to be seen at the store of Law & Co., Marietta street. It is better than an art gallery to look at, and can not fail to charm every lover of pretty things, and artistic taste, and the goods are so elegant, so good, and so cheap that those who have to buy are de-lighted with the bargains. We notice a few new designs in glass-ware that are charming, not only for their elegance but for their convenience. A patent syrup pitcher, is particularly fine and cannot fail to commend itself to the good opinion of every housewife. The stock of china is simply superb, while the entire store is well filled with choice and select goods. No firm in the city stands on a better basis than that of Law & Co., and all that they want to induce trade is for the people to call and examine their stock.

HOME INDUSTRY .-- In our last issue a brief mention was made of the fact that McCallum, Wykoff & Hope, of this city, had furnished the tobacco factory of W. T. Blackwell & Co., at Durham, with a couple of the largest boilers ever manufactured in North Carolina. We are assured by those skilled in such work that the job would reflect credit on any establishment in the country. The fronts are made of cust-iron threequarters of an inch thick, ornamented with mouldings. They are 6 feet in width, 14 feet in length and of 50 horsepower each. Few of our citizens know of the extent and capacity of the establishment of McCallum, Wykoff & Hops. Every species of work usually done in the most extensive machine shops, is turned out here by skilled mechanics. As an evidence of the estimation in which the work of this foundry is held abroad, it is only necessary to state that the contract for the manufacture of these boilers was given to McCallum, Wykoff & Hope though their bid was $400 in excess of the lowest bidder. R. V. Mitchell, of Philadelphia, is foreman of the machinery department, and is in every way competent to execute orders in his line, as satisfactorily and expeditiously as is possible anywhere. Though this is usually a dull season with such establishments, the daily orders received by this firm are far in excess of their power to fill. We are glad to note the success of these gentlemen, as it is an indication that Raleigh offers an inviting field to all to come with their skill, energy and capital. We have room here for all sorts of manufacturing enterprises, and a hearty welcome awaits all who come to cast their fortunes with us, or make their fortunes fairly out of us.

SEND HIM BACK .- Last Sunday

closed Rev. N. M. Jurney's engagement. as pastor of the Person Street Methodist church in this city. His labors have been attended with gratifying success, and we hope the wishes of his congregation may be acceded to in his return for another year.

POLICE COURT.-His honor had a dull time of it to-day. Only two little cases were up : William Morgan, charged with disorderly conduct, had to pay $5 in rag money and supplement it with $2.25 as costs. John Jeffreys, charged with an obliviousness as to the difference between meum and fuum, was sent on under a bond of $50.

A BEAUTY .- We were shown yesterday an exquisite point-lace handkerchief, every stitch of which is the work of Mrs. Mary Lucas, of this city, who is 81 years of age. The work is rich and delicate, some of the figures of birds and flowers seeming like gossamer fabrics. Mrs. Lucas has never yet used spectacles or any other artificial aids to eye-sight.

"MARRIED AND DIVORCED."-La evening the Wildman troupe rendered this play to a very alim andience at Tucker hall. The leading roles, Florence Grantley and Mortimer Theophilus Muggie, were sustained by Miss Clara Wildmon and F. J. Wildman, Miss Wildman really possesses merit, but she did not show to advantage last evening ; her acting was devoid of anything like animation ; probably the large number of vacant chairs threw a damper over her spirits. Mr. Wildman seemed to be the only one equal to the occasion, - the readition of his character was excellent. J. Daymond, as Uncle Burditt, has some claim to praise, but he too was lifeless and seemed to go through his part mechanically. The other characters are not worth mention. This even-ing "The Two Orphans" will be pro-duced, but with an entirely different cast of characters from that of the Hall Combination. We hope the company will at least try to establish a reputation, even if they have to play to a few appre-ciative multices.

RATHER A JOKE. - But which is the joked party we are unable to decide. Sheriff Hall, of Rockingham county, came in to-day with six recruits for the striped-back Union-League hotel. Among the number was a white man named Rose, who turns out to have been only sentenced to a short term in the county jail instead of the penitentiary. Hall will have to haul him back home this evening, and transplant him to bloom in a less extensive botanical collection. If Rose isn't careful, he may bud in the jail to blossom yet in the peniten tinry.

PROMPT RECOGNITION, -The charitable suggestion of Governor Brogden in his thanksgiving proclamation, that collections in behalf of our state orphan asylums be taken up in all churches holding services next Thursday, is meeting with an almost universal cordial response. commendation. The appended letter is one specimen, which speaks for itself:
