The City.

Cotton active at 1 1/4.
The city scales are complained of as inaccurate.
L. C. Jones, of Fayetteville, president of the western railroad, was in the city today.
The Berger family will visit us Dec. 17. They are always greeted with crowded houses in Raleigh.
Deputy Sheriff Cahoon, of Pamlico, this morning introduced another Republican voter into the penitentiary. His name is Robert Moore.
Owing to a large amount of type being locked up in the president's message for the weekly, reading matter in this issue is of necessity short.

At the request of many citizens, we have introduced our fine "DIAMOND OIL," 30 degrees higher test than any in town. Price 40 cents. Law & Co.

The December number of our Living and Our Dead will be mailed to subscribers Dec. 17th. Subsequent numbers between the 1st and 10th of each month.

Messrs. A. C. Sanders & Co., have for sale two good nudes, one beautiful pony, one new buggy and one second-hand carriage, just repaired and painted as good as new. Call on them at No. 2, Martin street, for a bargain.

The adjournment of the masonic grand lodge and the thinning out of those having business in the U. S. court, cause our streets to look somewhat deserted when compared with the bustle of the past week.

The police court this morning had a very small docket. John Sewell, the cow thief arrested yesterday, was arraigned and in default of $500 bail, went to jail to await the coming of Greasy Sam next month.

It is said that a change in the schedule of the North Carolina railroad is soon to take place. The mail going west will pass this city early in the morning, and going east in the evening. The precise times have not yet been made known.

Within the past few days the following, not hitherto reported, have settled with the auditor and squared with the state treasurer: Tax Collector A. R. Black, of New Hanover county, $24, 58.07; Sheriff F. W. Bell, of Bertie, $6,037.85; Tax Collector T. N. Jordan, of Caswell, $6,983.24.

Yesterday afternoon we had the pleasure of a brief visit from James H. Moore, steward of the Oxford orphan asylum, on his way to Mars Hill, where he will spend the next month to regulate the affairs of the asylum at that point. No more genial and kind-hearted man lives than Mr. Moore.

WAKE TEMPLE OF HONOR.—Last evening a number of young men met in the hall of the Good Templars to consult in regard to organizing a Temple of Honor in this city. It was decided to establish one and to name it after the county. An application has been made to the Pennsylvania grand lodge for a charter, and a meeting will be held Friday evening to perfect the organization.

REMOVED.—The Howe Machine Company have removed from their old stand on Fayetteville street to the new store of Chas. D. Heartt, three doors from their former place of business. Mr. Heartt will have charge of their business during the absence of the agent, and will cheerfully attend to the wants of the patrons of the Howe. A full supply of machines, needles, oil, attachments, &c., constantly on hand. All are invited to examine the new improved, light running Howe before purchasing elsewhere. Dec 9-Thursday & Saturday.

WARRANT OF DELIVERY.—To-day Governor Brogden, in response to a requisition of Governor Chamberlain, of South Carolina, issued a warrant of delivery to the authorities of South Carolina for the body of James Fetter now in jail at Charlotte. Yesterday Fetter had a hearing in Charlotte before Judge Bynum, associate justice of the supreme court, at chambers, on a writ of habeas corpus, who decided he was a fugitive from justice and remanded him to jail for the space of six months, or to await the action mentioned above. Fetter is the engineer at whose door the responsibility for the recent accident on the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta railroad is laid, and is indicted in South Carolina for murder.

CHAPEL HILL UNIVERSITY.—To publish to-day a circular letter addressed to the ladies of North Carolina, by a lady whose name is a synonym for patriotism, and goodness, wherever it is known in North Carolina. The case is an urgent one. Scientific apparatus is much needed. The state, burdened as it is with a monster debt, is unable to supply the need. It can be done only by individual generosity. The ladies can do it, if they will. What is it that a woman cannot accomplish when she has a mind to?

The plan suggested is eminently practicable, the best, perhaps, that could be hit upon in this case. The ladies are deeply interested parties; it is their sons for whom the university is designed; they cannot take too lively an interest in its welfare and its glory. To them, then, this appeal is very properly addressed.
Will the ladies of Raleigh take hold of this project? They should do so and set an example to our sister towns and cities throughout the state. The capital is the place next to Chapel Hill where the movement should begin. Raleigh might furnish a pair of globes or a telescope. Here is the letter: CIRCULAR RESPECTFULLY ADDRESSED TO THE LADIES OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Ladies: Eighty years ago, when the state university was founded, and when all the friends of education in the state were looking with fond and glad anticipation upon the new enterprise, a few of the ladies of that day most conspicuous for social position, refinement and culture, came forward and presented the infant institution with a pair of globes and a quadrant as an expression of their sympathy and cordial good wishes for its success. It was done by them without solicitation and was well and kindly done, and their names are preserved to-day with affectionate respect and gratitude at Chapel Hill.

Will the ladies of North Carolina in 1875 do as much for the institution which has educated so many of their grandfathers, fathers, lovers, brothers, husbands and sons for more than two generations; which, in educating and elevating the men has also equally though indirectly elevated and benefited the women of the state; and which, after a period of desertion, is again revived to renew its good work for the land we love? Have the ladies of 1875 as much patriotism, as much intelligence, as much liberality, as much public spirit as the ladies of 1795? We believe they have more. Will they step forward now with dignity and grace all their own, and aid the gentlemen of the state in their attempt to re-fit and refurbish their university, so as to put the advantages it offers our young men on an equal footing with those of any of the first class colleges of the Union? This appeal is made to you, ladies, in the confident hope that you will.

The university scientific apparatus is in ruins. The gentlemen of the faculty are managing out of the wreck to make-shift for the present, but every week, in its course, brings them nearer the time when a new outfit for the departments of natural science will be imperatively and unavoidably necessary. What arrangements the ex. com. of the board of trustees may be able to make to meet this call is uncertain. They talk of sending an agent to canvass the state; meanwhile the way is clear for the ladies by united personal effort in soliciting subscribers, and by giving liberally themselves to supply the pressing need, and present the college with apparatus second to none in the country. Our boys need it, and they must have it.

The ladies can do this if they will. There is no doubt of it. Their influence and their example have worked miracles before now and can do it again. If the matrons will sanction, and if the young ladies will take it up with all the quick and generous enthusiasm which we know is theirs, will organize systematically in every town, select committees, and canvass thoroughly for this object, they can easily make the University a Christmas present of ten thousand dollars.

We suggest that the ladies of each town shall select some one instrument or apparatus to present; their names to be engraved on it for their great-grandchildren to see and be proud of. For instance the ladies of _____ might choose to give a good telescope; ladies of _____ a pair of $200 globes; ladies of _____ an Atwood's machine; ladies of _____ Balmkoff's coil; ladies of _____ a galvanic battery; ladies of _____ a set of wall maps; ladies of _____ a set of instruments for illustrating sound, light, heat, &c.; ladies of _____ a magic lantern for scientific illustrations. These articles cost each, from $50 to $200, or $400. The ladies of _____ might furnish the department of analytical chemistry, (Prof. Kimberly) and the ladies of _____ that of Elementary Chemistry, Mineralogy and Geology, (Prof. Redd). The chemical and small pieces needed in these laboratories, too numerous to mention, would cost from $150 to $500. Each of the three departments of natural science needs from $2,500 to $3,000 expended on it.

This is the work we set before our ladies. It appeals to the best feelings and best principles of our common nature, and calls into exercise every generous and tender emotion. Done, and well done, promptly and nobly, it will make the heart of every honest man and boy in North Carolina throb higher with pride in our women and girls, and with resolve to be worthy of such care. No act of generosity or tenderness from woman to man, ever went unrewarded or unappreciated, whatever refinements, exalts and blesses him must react with the same effect on her. Neither is it a work only for ourselves, but is to benefit our posterity in many ways, and for generations to come. Nor do we urge it merely as a good investment. Is it not an offering due, prompted by gratitude, and peculiarly graceful and beautiful to those who were so lately in arms and counted not their lives dear in defence of their country? The women of the south owe much to the men of the south, and no woman has ever boasted truer or more gallant defenders than the women of North Carolina. They repair annually in crowds to lay fresh wreaths on the graves where their young heroes sleep. Will they not consider this, too, a pious duty, and make this work, now respectfully suggested to you, an offering to the youth who remain, and who are now, at great disadvantage, to repair the loss and waste of war and bring the state up abreast with the culture of the age? We believe that you will.

P. S. Communications may be addressed to Mrs. C. P. Spencer, Chapel Hill, agent for the executive committee of trustees, who will cheerfully co-operate with ladies in any way they may suggest.

GOLD NUGGETS.—THE FRANKLIN AND NASH COUNTY MINES.—To-day we were shown by Thomas K. Thomas, brother of our townsman, C. H. Thomas, the well known landlord of the Central hotel, some fine specimens of gold from the Ransom Bridge and Arrington gold mines, the former in Franklin and the latter in Nash county, in close proximity to each other. The specimens have been declared by experienced miners to be exceedingly rich. Mr. Thomas was for many years the sole owner of the old and famous Portis mine, in Franklin, where he made thousands of dollars, and after selling which purchased the mine at Ransom's Bridge. The Portis mine is now being developed by Mr. Sturges, an experienced miner, and we learn that despite many discouraging failures this old mine is giving unmistakable evidence of vast riches. The quartz of the new vein, recently opened, is being shipped to Baltimore and New York, and produces more than 5 ounces ($100) to the ton on an average. The decomposed quartz slate, and gravel in the belt on being washed to a depth of some 20 to 25 feet produce more than $1 to the cubic yard. Messrs. Calk & Sons, Willard's hotel, Washington, D. C., and W. A. Brown, a mining engineer of Philadelphia, have recently purchased the Mann mine in Nash county, and are actively engaged in erecting the proper machinery to grind the quartz. They have, it is said, found the true vein, and it gives promise to be immensely rich. Many intelligent engineers and capitalists have visited this section recently, and large sums of money will no doubt ere long be invested there in gold mining.

Mr. Thomas expects to remain in this city for several days for the purpose of arranging business in connection with his mining interests.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Yesterday afternoon the case of Seymour & Co., of New York, vs. the Western railroad came to a close for this term, the jury not being able to agree. A juror was withdrawing, a mistrial declared and the case continued until next term. This morning the case of Thomas D. Broadway and Sarah A. Pettit vs. R. C. Windley, occupied the time of the court. This is an action for damages upon an attachment bond, arising from the attachment of the schooner Watauga, at Washington, N. C., in 1871. The present plaintiffs, who were the defendants in the attachment having gained a verdict in the original action, bring this suit to recover damages on the attachment bond given in the former suit. Messrs. Busbee & Busbee appear for the plaintiff, and Battle & Son and Smith & Strong represent the defendant.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are so compounded from concentrated principles, extracted from roots and herbs, as to combine in each small granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, as much cathartic power as is contained in any larger pills for sale in drug-stores. They are not only pleasant to take, but their operation is easy—unattended with any gripping pain. They operate without producing any constitutional disturbance. Unlike other cathartics, they do not render the bowels costive after operation, but on the contrary, they establish a permanently healthy action. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them.

$500 reward is offered by the proprietor to any one who will detect in these Pellets any calomel or other form of mercury, mineral poison or injurious drug.

They are sold by Druggists.

Elmwood collars are the best imitation of linen. They fit better, wear longer, and look nicer, than even linen itself.
