LEA & PERRIN'S
is the only GENUINE
WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE.

The City.

The Oak City Pleasure Club will meet in its court-house this evening at half-past 7 o'clock.

J. A. Robinson, of the Oxford Torch-light, is in the city on his way to Virginia to spend the Christmas holidays.

The Charlotte Southern Home says: "If there's anything in a name, the Sentinel has the Best local editor in the state."

Cotton receipts yesterday, 104 bales. Market to-day rather active for best grades at 12. Orders moderate. Trade generally dull.

At the request of many citizens, we have introduced our fine "DIAMOND OIL," 30 degrees higher test than any in town. Price 40 cents. Law & Co.

Messrs. A. C. Sanders & Co. have for sale two good mules, one beautiful pony, one new buggy and one second-hand carriage, just repaired and painted, as good as new. Call on them at No. 2, Martin street, for a bargain.

Ben Plummer, Ethio, was before the mayor this morning for violating the dry ordinance. The offended majesty of the municipal law was amply vindicated by the payment of a rag V and the addition of $2.25 in the shape of costs.

Speaking of the district convention of Good Templars recently in session at Graham, the Alliance Gleaner says: "W. S. Ball and Dr. Booth delivered stirring addresses; and that 'G. W. C. T. N. B. Broughton, of Raleigh, was present during the entire convention and added much to its interest.'"

The Newbern Nutshell tells this tough old marriage yarn: "Mrs. Betty Ives, the grandmother of our esteemed citizen, Philemon Holland, was married at the age of 100 years, after a widowhood of 45 years, to John P. Ives, an ex-revolutionary soldier, who was 95 years of age."

The Alliance Gleaner, of Dec. 14, says: "Col. P. Donan, editor of the Sentinel has been elected an honorary member of the Oak City Pleasure Club. He ought to have been made an active member. An inference of old age retirement about the honorary membership."

The Charlotte Southern Home, of Dec. 6, says: "Here is an incident that escaped Donan, of the Sentinel: While the young ladies of St. Mary's college were out at an evening concert, some irreverent wretch nailed up all the gates, and the spectacle of seventy-five young maidens, in fashionable attire, climbing the fence in a row was, as a victim writes, 'almost sublime.'"

We had the pleasure, yesterday afternoon, of a call from Lieutenants E. L. Huggins and W. A. Simpson, of the garrison near this city. Lieutenant Huggins has recently been ordered here from Minnesota, and is a North Carolinian by ancestry. Both do credit to a uniform which was once—alas, long ago—a guarantee that its wearer was a gentleman; and we trust they may find their stay in our region agreeable.

The Petersburg Index-Appal, of Dec. 11, says: "We had the pleasure of a call last night from Captain Tom Evans, late of Raleigh, N. C., and now connected with the Richmond Enquirer, in the interest of which paper he visits this city. This gentleman enjoys a well-earned and well-deserved reputation throughout the south, as a humorist and wit of the first water, who is capable, also, as most real humorists are, of other more serious and pathetic compositions."

A MURDERER ARRESTED AND SENT.—Last Sunday W. V. Clifton, of this city, under a special commission from the executive office, arrested in Cumberland county Hillman Morgan, a nigger who murdered a brother African named John Crudup, in Franklin county, in 1871. Crudup became cognizant of some theft committed by Morgan and threatened to peach on him, when Morgan waylaid and killed him, and fled the country. Information being received that Morgan was living in Cumberland county under an assumed name, a special commission for his arrest was issued a few days ago by the governor and placed in the hands of Mr. Clifton. The arrest was effected Sunday morning, but not before Morgan had received a pistol bullet in the thigh in his attempt to escape. He is now in jail in Fayetteville awaiting the time when the condition of his wound will admit of his transfer to the Louisa jail.

EMERSON OF OVERCARS.—Last evening W. G. Hill lodge F. and A. M., elected officers for the ensuing masonic year. Here is the slate: Worshipful Master, J. R. Williams; Senior Warden, D. S. Waitt; Junior Warden, W. R. Cox; Treasurer, Wm. Simpson; Secretary, W. P. Wetherell. The appointed officers will be announced Dec. 27.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of Thomas D. Bradley and Sarah A. Pettit vs. R. C. Windley, returned a verdict of $1,164 in favor of the plaintiffs. This morning the case of W. H. Bledsoe vs. the Atlantic Fire Insurance Company, of New York, was taken up and will probably consume the day. Messrs. D. G. Fowle and Busbee & Busbee appear for the plaintiff, and Merrimon, Fuller & Ashe, for the defendant.

BE SURE TO REGISTER.—It should be borne in mind by every voter that the law governing elections, such as the enrolling one on the funding question, requires a majority of the qualified voters of the city to be polled in the affirmative to carry the proposed measure. The count in the approaching election to ascertain whether a majority of the qualified voters of the city has been polled, will be based upon the registration ordered by the ordinance submitting this question of funding to the people. So if you wish your vote to count, either by voting directly or by staying away from the polls, you should by all means register promptly.

MAZEPPA.—Last evening, Miss Kate Fisher, supported or rather unsupported by as poor a gang of burlesques on actors as ever aired their bungling before a Raleigh audience, appeared at Tucker hall in the bare-backed and bare-ankled sensation of Mazeppa. The barest thing about it all was the bare-faced humbuggery of pretending to call it a dramatic performance. If Miss Fisher ever deserved the fiftieth part of the puffery bestowed upon her by the papers in Richmond and elsewhere, we were our wrong leather spectacles last evening, or she eminently failed to do herself justice. The only actor worthy of mention in the whole troupe was the trained horse, "Wonder," who did his part, all things considered, admirably, but lacked support commensurate with his abilities and accomplishments. Candor compels us to say that we scarcely deem the concern worthy of the space we have given it.

PORTER ALIAS FLOURNOY.—Some three or four months ago a gentlemanly looking stranger, giving his name as Flournoy, appeared in this city in quest of employment, which he obtained at the saloon of J. P. Prairie as bar-tender. In this position Flournoy became acquainted with a large number of our citizens, and his quiet and gentlemanly manner produced a good impression upon all who met him. Last Saturday night our police authorities received information from Atlanta, Georgia, that a fugitive from justice from that state was believed to be in this city, and the description given of the man led to the arrest of another and innocent man. The mistake was soon discovered, and when a search was made for Flournoy it was discovered that he had got wind of the affair and decamped. Immediately all sorts of reports were in circulation, and were so contradictory that we determined to sift the matter to the bottom before making mention of it. The story that Flournoy was in the Georgia penitentiary for manslaughter is all bosh. Here are the facts in the case, gathered from papers in the executive office, from whence a warrant for the arrest and delivery of Porter was issued to-day: Porter was formerly constable of Fulton county, Georgia, and arrested a man named Singleton, charged on the information of one Coppedge, with selling liquor without a license. Porter collected $25 from Singleton and paid it over to Coppedge, who agreed to have nothing more to do with the matter, and Singleton was allowed to go free. For this Porter was indicted for a misdemeanor and sentenced to pay the costs and a fine of $600 within 3 days, or to work 12 months on the public roads. Not being able to raise the money, he took flight and has since been at large passing under the name of Flournoy. These are the facts from official sources. We did not mention the matter yesterday, for we were assured that the reports afloat were devoid of truth.

P. S. Since the above was put in type we learn that Porter has been arrested in Wilmington.

LECTURE IN GRAHAM.—The Alliance Gleaner, of Dec. 14, contains this announcement: "The Rev. Dr. T. H. Pritchard, of Raleigh, will on next Thursday night, the 16th inst., deliver in the court house in this place, his famous lecture on 'The Literary Attractions of the Bible.' The proceeds of the lecture to be devoted to aid in the building of a Baptist church in this place. It is seldom that the people of this place, or other small towns, have the opportunity of hearing at home a lecturer so distinguished. The doctor as a speaker stands justly high and those who fail to hear him will have themselves to blame for missing a rare literary treat."

THE LEE MAUSOLEUM.—Copying the Sentinel's article on this subject, the Wilmington Journal, of Dec. 12, adds: "The above we clip from the Raleigh Sentinel. It meets with our hearty endorsement. Gen. Lilly, who is now in the city, has met with success in the matter of contributions, and our people have manifested quite an interest in the cause which he represents. Now let our ladies take the matter in hand and get up an entertainment as those of other cities have done. The ladies of Raleigh and Fayetteville have already taken steps in the matter, and let our city not be behind in this tribute to the great Confederate chief. An entertainment with such an object in view would be well patronized, and its proceeds would materially aid in the erection of the Mausoleum."

LOYAL FETTERLOCKS.—Alas, alas! why was this thimble? Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity. It is like the sweet-scented, cinnamon-drap hair-oil that trickles down over an Ethiopian buck's courting kinks. But verily, verily, it sometimes gets obstinately. This morning, Col. Ike Young, informal revenue collector of this much consolidated district, and the victim of Grant's recent picaresque lecture on nepotism, met Dr. Chapin, an ex-infernal revenuier, of the Andy Johnson stripe, and now a resident of good old Clatham county, Fayetteville street was the scene. The two brothers in loyalty paused, surveyed each other with wistful looks, shook their heads like evaporated willamgonts, called each the other a few pet names and clinched. Little fists which were not made to punch each other's eyes flew thick and fast upon the larid air. Plug hats lit out to see a fellow around the corner. Bob-tailed coats gyrated like abbreviated calf caudals in a yellow-jackets' camp. Hair, wool, sweat and vigorous English, flew every-which-a-way, but no blood. Signs of riot abounded; but, with the exception of a sudden and abnormal phenological development on the doctor's pate, no damage was done. The rumpus originated in efforts made by Chapin and others to oust Young from the fat little place he holds by the grace of Ulysses. Ike J. was bound over to interview his judicial greatness, Big-Hog Sam, at the next term of the Wake superior court. Order reigns in Raleigh; and nobody hurt. Let us have pea-soup.

PLEASANT PARTY.—A charming little social assembly took place last evening at the residence of Rev. W. J. W. Crowder, on Jones street. It was given by his daughter, Miss Mary, to her cousin, Miss Callie Crowder, of Wake county. Some seventy-five guests of the young, the gallant and the fair were present, prominent among whom we noticed Miss Minnie Hauff and Misses Fannie and Jennie Miller, of Newbern; Miss Sue Utley, of Sampson county, a sister of Mrs. Samuel White, of this city; and Misses Annie Best, Sallie and Dora Carroll, Mary Pseud, Jennie and Lizzie Betts, Emma Green, Mollie McAllister, Lillian Scarlett, Susie Lamson and Eleanor Royator, of the city; and Messrs. Bagwell, Latta, Barbee, Wyatt, Cheatham, Turner, Bingham, Carroll, Royster, Jewell, Foust and Pseud. The costumes were handsome and sensible. Piano and vocal music by Misses Best, Crowder and others enlivened the evening. Conversation and mild flirtation added their delights. Refreshments were served at 11 o'clock, and about midnight the merry-makers dispersed, unanimously voting it an event to be remembered with unmingled pleasure.

THE CHARLOTTE OBSERVER.—The Charlotte Observer is distressed at the idea of North Carolina's alibi showing at the centennial jubilee. Extensive coal deposits have been found along the line of the Carolina Central road in Anson county. 250 tons of iron for the Western North Carolina railroad have been shipped from Liverpool to Wilmington. The Salt Lake Methodist preachers denounce Bishop Haven's stump-oratorical dabbling in third-term deviltries. Baker & Broadhurst's store in Goldsboro was gutted, the other night, of $40 in hard and $20 in soft money. The Charlotte Home regrets that there is no law authorizing the killing outright of street corner and crossing loafers. Tarboro is getting out her Sunday-go-to-meeting duds in anticipation of the coming of the Bergers and their bella. Warrenton is to enjoy the overwhelming combined honor and felicity of having "Judge" Big-Hog Sam. Watts as a resident. Wilmington has an increasing appetite. Last week, it took 59 beefs, 12 sheep, 5 calves, 136 hogs and 1 deer to feed her. The children of St. John's church, Wilmington, have a festival and promenade concert Thursday and Friday evenings. The Eastern Medical society holds its next annual gathering of saw-hones and pill-baggers, at Tarboro, the first Tuesday in December, 1876.

THE HOUSE OF PHIL ALTON, in Moore county, where a band of Whigs had a bloody fight during the revolution with Fanning and his Tory gang, is still standing. The Charlotte Observer has, during the past week or two, been going for Governor Brogden on the pardon question, without gloves and with thundering long finger-nails. The Sentinel had no idea what a rooccus it was starting, when it first tapped this subject a month or so ago, but the discussion will do good. ANOTHER TOUCH.—Judge Schenck has evidently been reading the Sentinel. In the course of his able address, a few days ago, to the grand jury of Mecklenburg county, he said: "The increase of crime in this community is alarming; and the too frequent exercise of the pardoning power by the chief executive of the state, by which men are 'encouraged to do evil,' is a subject which requires the serious consideration of every reflecting man. In vain may grand juries discharge their duty in presenting offenders, and in vain may solicitors prosecute them and the court pronounce the heavy penalties of the law upon them, if impunity is vouchsafed to them through executive clemency. But the executive is not altogether to blame; in some cases he is misled by petitions. Good citizens should carefully read and consider these petitions for the pardon of felons, before they sign their names to them. It is false sympathy, which brings danger to hundreds, in order to relieve the distress of one."

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PURGATIVE PELLETS are so compounded from concentrated principles, extracted from roots and herbs, as to combine in each small granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, as much cathartic power as is contained in any larger pills for sale in drug-stores. They are not only pleasant to take, but their operation is easy—unattended with any gripping pain. They operate without producing any constitutional disturbance. Unlike other cathartics, they do not render the bowels costive after operation, but on the contrary, they establish a permanently healthy action. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. $500 reward is offered by the proprietor to any one who will detect in these pellets any calomel or other form of mercury, mineral poison or injurious drug. They are sold by Druggists.

NEWS AND NOTES.

The Germans are kicking up at their taxes.

Milton, Pennsylvania, had a $100,000 blaze yesterday.

Spain talks of putting $5,000 men in the field against the Carlists.

Moody thinks if Grant were to die, it might never be known in heaven, at all.

Edgar A. Poe was a grandson of Benedict Arnold, but it wa'n't his fault.

8,000 Spaniards are daily expected in Cuba. Its soil will soon be too rich for use.

The prince of Wales reached Madras Sunday, amid a huge fluttering of bunting and flunkeys.

The last few days of moderate weather have enabled the ice-caught Hudson boats to escape to safe places.

Jalapa, Mexico, has a three-armed girl. She can hug a fellow, pick his pocket and pull his hair all at once.

The Boston independents have nominated Samuel C. Cobb for mayor, and 8 white-niggers and 4 democrats for aldermen.

A. W. Thompson, of Union county, South Carolina, made 124 bushels of corn on one acre of ground, and took the tin-cup at his county fair.

The communists of Chicago are arming, and drilling nightly. American streets may yet resound with the soul-courdling cry of "Bread or Blood."

Dr. Dunham, of Savannah, was recently found dead at New Brunswick, New Jersey, and the question thereabouts is murder, accident or suicide.

John DeB. Kops, who has too much tangled front name to amount to any great shakes, has been recognized as vice-consul of the Netherlands at Savannah.

Tweed's sureties are being stirred up about his forfeited bond. Give us a rest. The vamoosed boss is as honest as half the office-holders and office-seekers of the land, beginning with our noble president.

The democratic caucus of the Virginia legislature balloted yesterday for U. S. senator without any result. A resolution was adopted just before adjournment, providing that all persons to be voted for should be placed in nomination, and the one receiving the lowest vote on each ballot to be dropped and not to be re-nominated but twice.

Under this ruling the names of John Goode, John Letcher, John W. Johnston, Billy Smith, A. H. H. Stuart, T. J. Flournoy, John M. Daniel, W. J. Robertson, J. W. Shelley, Robt. A. Coghill, A. B. Cochran, John T. Harris and J. R. Tucker were presented to the caucus.

Endorsed by the Faculty. The reputation of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has been solely achieved on account of its merit. Physicians prescribe it.
