MASONIC DEDICATION AND INSTALLA-TION CEROMONTES. Monday evening the new masonic hall in the Fisher building will be dedicated. Deputy-Grand Master Grissom will officiate and F. H. Busbee delivers the oration. At the same time and place, the officers elect of the city lodges will be installed. The public is cordially invited to attend and witness the interesting and august ceremonies. The butting william-goat is locked-up for the evening, so that even the ladies need have no fears about gratifying their curiosity-that is if they have any.

EARTHQUAKE. -Some of our citizens, who happened to be awake at 18 minutes after 12 o'clock last night, were startled by two sharp earthquake shocks. The shaky wave seemed to move from east to west. Windows and crockery ware rattled, and some buildings are said to have swayed perceptibly. We don't want that sort of thing to become too numerous around here. It's one of the manifestations of omnipotence which compels even the toughest fellow to feel his utter helplessness

RALEIGH FEMALE SEMINARY. THE GRAND LODGE ON A TOUR OF TN-

In the Biblical Recorder of Dec. 11, a correspondent furnishes this sketch of the recent visit of the masonic grand lodge to the Baptist female seminary of this city: The grand lodge of masons were invited during their recent session in Raleigh, to pay a visit of inspection to the Baptist female sominary of this city. They were received in the beautiful chapel of the school by the principal, teachers and pupils. Prof. Hobgood announced as the order of the entertainment, first, a short pro-gramme of music; then an inspection of the recitation and music rooms, the philosophical and chemical apparatus, geological cabinet, planos, &c ; thirdly, an inspection of the paintings and draw ings of the pupils; and, lastly, the calis-thenic exercises of the young ladics. Of the music it is unnecessary to speak-suffice it to say that we have never heard better from school girls, and that we have never seen a more interested audience. Prof. Agthe has impressed himself on our community as a christian gentleman and unusually successful teacher.

The music over, the inspection of the lecture rooms, apparatus, &c., was made. The lecture rooms are cheerful, comfortable and inviting, supplied with every facility for successful teaching. In the music rooms we found new and first class instruments for use both of teachers and pupils. The drawings and paintings, which have been noticed before, were next inspected.

Then came the calisthenic exercise which I will try to describe, as but few of your readers, doubtless, have seen it : A large room, with the positions painted on the floor, in which the performers are to stand, is appropriated to this beau-tiful exercise. The audience on this occasion took the places assigned them, and the young fadies came in dressin loose suits of uniform made ed for the purpose of exercise, the teacher also dressed in uniform, and took their positions. The order was given, "First series of free gymnas-tics," the piano sounded, all eyes were fastened on the young ladies, to the front twice went twenty-four right arms, then twice twenty-four left, then right and left twice alternately, then together twice, then above the heads in the same order as in front, then by the sides, &c. This over, then comes then the chest, then the back. All this the shoulder exercise, then the neck is done in perfect time, by the music of the phano. Free gymnastics over, the command is given, "Get your dumb bells." The piano sounds a march, the young ladies step off on the left foot, march to one corner of the room, where

White, residing near Tupper's college, had been missing fine large cabbages from his garden, but could not get on the track of the cabbager. I ast night another raid was made on him, and this morning he displayed his detective ingenuity by digging up the stalks from which the cabbages had been cut, and taking them to the market-house succeeded in fitting several perfectly. The theft was by this means fastened on James Moore, a muddy republican, who was returned to the next term of the Wake superior court in a bond of $100.

CEBE REDIVIVUS .- Since Ceburn L Harris was so completely routed in his mayoralty aspirations by Capt. W. H. Harrison, and out-generaled by Ikey Young in his effort to obtain the collecship of this district, he has been apparently slumbering sweetly and quietly in the shades of private life, a ost forgotten by his fellow men. Now he comes to the front again with his appetite for office rendered doubly keen by a long enforced abstinence; and is endeavoring to oust Manager Hearne as superintendent of the government. building now being erected in this city. Cebe is so de-Cebe-in dat de debil wouldn't beliebe him ; but it's possible he might make a superintendent of other men's work, as he won't work himself.

HON. JOSIAH TUBNER .- This gentleman returned yesterday afternoon, from a month's campaigning trip in the eastern part of the state. He spoke in twelve or fifteen counties, and everywhere received an enthusiastic welcome. He came back loa led down with wild ducks and geese, a swan and one deer horn. He carries in his pocket 19 shingle-nails, taken from the craw of a goose killed a few days ago, by Mr-Williams, of Camden. He has fish. stories big as any old whaler's and a new theory of the solar system which he derived from Prof. E. S. Proctor, of Elizabeth City, who is writing a book on it. In fact he has collected such a vast amount of curious knowledge that, knowing he must blow off or blow up, the present editor of the Sentinel, being somewhat indisposed physically, has determined to surren ler the editorial dunce-block to him during Christmas week. We'll holiday and receptor ste, while he'll edit and tell all the marvels he has learned.

the dumb bells are kept, select two each, and march back in perfect order to their former places. The piano sounds again, and oh, with what ease and energy the girls can swing the dumb bells. The audience cannot restrain themselves, and applaud heartily. After this comes the wand exercise They handle their wands with great dexterity, occasionally causing a laugh by making some of the audience dodge for fear of being struck on the head. Then they march and put up their wands, just as they did the dumb bells, and take their rings. One young lady holds one of these in each hand, her partner grasps it also, they pull against each other, twist their arms new this way, now that, then in an instant they turn their backs to each other with their hands still grasping the rings ; and in this position they perform interesting feats.

This over, comes the marching in single file, double file and four abreast.

The exercise concluded, Grand Mas ter Blount called on Mr. E. S. Martin to return the thanks of the grand lodge to the school, which he did eloquently, One of the members said he wished to make a speech detracting a little from the merits of the exercise. " My objection." said he, "is that you teach them in marching to put the foot down so heavily that I am afraid they will exemplify it in after life."

Parents in attendance were delighted with the exercise for the health and vigorit gives; the unmarried gentlemen were equally delighted for the grace of movement it imparts.

BROWN'S MUSEUM .- Among the most elegant establishments in the city is Brown's museum, in the Holloman building, Fayetteville street, where such a collection of toys is to be found as was never before seen by juvenile Balelah optics. Everything you want from a slipping-jack up to the newest and most costly specimens of mechanical ingenuity in this line can be obtained. All kinds of musical instruments are to be had from a pennywhistle up to a grand and full-toned organ. Speaking of organs, reminds us that Mr. Brown is the general agent for this state for the celebrated Estey organ, of which the famous Anton Rubinstein, director of the imperial conservatory and the musical society at Moscow, Russia, says :

"It gives me great pleasure to give for their really splendid organs. The tone of these instruments is full, no-ble and charming, and bas, the advantage of pleasing and captivating the car. To these artistic qualities must be added that they are of solid workmanship and of the most elegant finish, and I doubt not their having an extraordi-nary success in Russin."
