OIL STRUCK IN HALIPAX.

At Halifax, last Wednesday, we told the people how the milroad corporations had put certain editors and pet lawyers upon us. How President Humphrey told us of President Buford setting up Manager Hearne with a demceratic paper to show us up as a thief, stealing from the state treasury. How the stockholders in the Chatham road had set up Jordan Stone and the Raleigh News with some $25,000 to buy out Manager Hearne and continue the abuse of us. How lawyer Waring, senator from Charlette, rewarded Jordan with the public printing for his gallantry as a soldier, and how it was that Jordan's name was not on the muster roll, with 120,000 other soldiers, in the office of the secretary of state, and how Jordan's captain, in Greensbero, told us that Jordan was cook for company B, 12th Virginia regiment during the war. We told them when Jordan pretended to break down with the News, the stockholders in the establishment had to be replaced, and to hide the black hand of he railroad corporation the white hand of James Mullen, attorney-at-law, was used and one thousand dollars of stock in the Raleigh News given to him and the money paid in, and all without his knowledge, sanction or the 4th of July, 1776, which proclaimed to the world "that all men are created consent, and if it was not so they could call on Mr. Mullon and he would give the facts and correct all errors. We told how Stockholder Blacknall, of the News, offered us $20,000 and a seat in congress for the Sentinel in the name of the ring, and how he furnished money to buy the Asheville Citizen. We told them no single man everfo ught against such odds, but unless they, the people we were talking to, were as corrupt as the Chatham railroad, we would whip out that road, the pet lawyers and brindle-tail politicians, who were supported by the corporation, and

NIAL.

RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1875.

In response to resolutions of the exexecutive committee of the state agricultural society, in reference to the state being properly represented at the Philadelphia centennial, Governor Brogden gives yent to an outburst of patriotism. stimulated doubtless by a fond rememberance of recent fastivities at the centennial grounds, in the appended letter: TATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,)

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 27, 1875.

To Gen'l R. F. Hoke, Col. D. M. Carter, and Dr. James McCulla .. Committee. Sec. .

Gentlemen : I acknowledge with pleasure the receipt from you if the proceed-ings of a meeting of the state agricultural society in relation to the representation of our state in the great international exhibition at the city of Philadelphia, in 1876, and in compliance with the request of the committee I will cheerfully authorize and request Professor W. C. Kerr, our state geologist, "to take immediate steps to make the best possible exhibition of our products and resources in the centennial exhibition."

I heartily approve the recommendation of the committee as the most feasible plan which we can now adopt to enable us to participate with ocr sister states, in 1876, in the greatest international exhibition which the world has ever seen.

It will furnish the best opportunity we have ever had to show our products and resources to the world, to invite immigration and capital to come and locate among us, and assist in the improvement of our state and in the development of her vast resources. We have gold, ellver, copper, iron, coal, graphite. mica, pyrites and other valu-able minerals. I hope that many of our patriotic and public-spirited citizens will assist us with their means and influence to make a creditable exhibition of our productions and resources. At the centennial anniversary of our national declaration of independence our state is cordially invited to join with her sister states in the celebration of that grand and important event which made a nation of freemen. The history of the rise and progress of North Carolina can never be buried by the revolution of time.

North Carolina participated in the first Continental congress that assem-bled in Carpenter's Hall, in the city of Philadelphia, in September, 1774, for the purpose of discussing certain grievances imputed against the mothe country. On the 12th of April, 1776, the Provincial congress of North Carolina adopted a resolution instructing the del ship, of forgetfulness of all unkind feelings among all our citizens, and that we may look only to the benefits which this country, by the favor and blessing of God, has vouchsafed to the people.

Sentmel.

I desire to co-operate with you, gentlemen, and with any and all of our fellow-citizens, who will assist in making the nece-sary arrangements to enable our state to participate in the cen-tennial exhibition at Philadelphia. We have a country to serve and a fame to maintain. We are urged by every con-sideration of interest, of duty and of pathotism, by the recollections of the past, the realization of the present, and the hopes of the future, to take part in the centennial exhibition, and we must neither falter nor fail. Very respectfuly,

Your ob't servant, C. H. BROGDEN,

Governor. "MORE HAIR ON THE HOLLOW."-

Soon anager Stone will, with the ap proval of Stockholder Blacknall, go to Asheville to aid Manager Furman in the conduct of the Citizen. Robert, like Manager Hearne, is too extravagant in the management of papers. The departure of Woodson, Stone and Uzzell will not kill the paper. Gentlemen of greater family distinction, will be called in to run the paper. Bald mountain trembled when Robert went up and pronounced eulogiums on Sir Edward Matthews. How much will the old mountain shake when Jordan flows over the ridge ?

VEHICULAR FASHIONS IN DURHAM --Young gentlemen in Durham have novel way of transporting ladies to balls, parties, &c. It's too muddy to walk, so other means of locomotion have to be devised. When carriages, buggies, wagons, caris, &c., can't be had, the wheelbarrow is brought into use. The other night a determined Durhamite made use of this last named humble vehicular mode of transportatior. He rolled a young lady to a sociable through the muddy streets and landed her safely at the door. This your g man will surely succeed in life.

WHERE DOES IT ALL COME FROM ?-Pints and quarts of filthy Catarrhal discharges. Where does it all come from The mucous membrane which lines the chambers of the nose, and its little glands are discused, so that they draw rom the blood its liquid, and exposure to the air changes it into corruption. This life-liquid is needed to build up the system, but it is extracted, and the system is weakened by the loss. To cure. gain flesh and strength by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which also acts directly upon these glands, correcting them, and apply Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy with Dr. Prerce's Nasal Douche, the only method of reaching the upper cavities, where the discharge accumulates and comes from. The instrument and both medicines dos by druggists and dealers in medicines.

CHRISTMAS TIDE. - Christmas-tide, properly speaking, extends from he evening before Christmas day to the first of Febuary, the eve of the feast of the Purification, or Candlemas day, when the Christma decorations are removed from the chatches. The great holiday season, however, may be said to end on Twelfth- lay, the feast of the Epiphany, January 6th. In England Twelfth-night is second only to Christmas eve as a popular holiday. On that day the sovereign, in commemoration of the adoration of the Mari, makes an offering of gold, frankincense and myrrh at the altar of the Chapel Royal, and at home the Twelfth-cake is enten and the Twelfth pight games are played. We have always been disposed to associate the giv-ing of presents at Christmas-tide with the gifts of the wise mer. Certainly there hus always been such an association in the gifts of monarchs and the heads of great houses to the poor upon that day, especially in the East, where the Epiphany, or Theophany, or the feast of Lights, is one of the great festivals of the year.

place. T. AN EDUCATED BEAR. -Yesterday afternoon while looking up a local, we saw S. V. House, Sam. Thompson, Robt, Levy, M. B. Barbee, Geo. Waitt, Tom. Waitt, J. W. Gorman, Charles Bullock, J. S. Allen, the latter in his buggy J. V. Williams, V. Royster, and a large number of juvenile Africans, going down Harnett street in full tilt. Thinking there was a first-class local on hand we followed the crowd to the Baptist grove, and found the excitement to be an educated hear, which two Italians, Portugese, Spaniards, or some outlandish chaps, were exhibiting, and such bear talk was never heard before. It was all Greak to the crowd, but the bear understood it, for he would dance. go through the manual of arms, turn summersaults and cut up generally. The proprietors intimated that if some one would pay them a quarter they would inake him climb a tree, whereupon sam Thompson took up a collecti n, the money was raised and the performance commenced. The first tree was too large and his bearship climbed about ten feet high which was out of reach of the boss, and quietly seated himself on a limb and took a view of the surroundings, when the ring-master pitched up a rod at bruin and, giving him a good punch on the larboard side, he hasted down without much down without much order as to his coming. These who invested in the climb told the chap who held the rope, that they hadn't got their money's worth, so he selected a smaller tree, and the performance was again gone through with to the amusement of a arge number of spectators.

North Carolina participated in that memorable congress of patriots and statesmen assembled in Philadelphia, on equal ; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness North Carolina participated in the congress at Philadelphia in July, 1778, which adopted articles of confederation nd perpetual union.

North Carolina participated in the common dangers, privations and sufferings through the revolutionary war for the establishment of our independence, and in the common benefits and bless ings of its mighty achievement.

North Carolina participated in the con-vention at Philadelphia in 1787, which framed the constitution of the United States of America, "in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity. North Carolina performed a noble and important part in the long and perilons struggle which resulted in the formation of the Union; she still retains a lively interest in its welfare and preservation and it would not seem to be in accordance with her early revolutionary history for her now to fail to take any part with sisters in the centennial celebration of the anniverrary of American independ-

Thomas Jefferson said, "no state was more fixed or forward in the cause of independence than North Carolina." If she was the foremost then, let her not be a laggard now, when her attachment to liberty remains as firm and strong as it was one hundred years ago. North Carolina participated with alacrity and zeal in the honors of achieving our independence and in the establishment of free representative government, and as she is one of the old thirteen states of the Union, it is her right and duty to participate with her sisters in the celebration and exhibition of our national centennial. North Carolina may well be proud of her revolutionary history. Let it stand as an enduring monument to her patriotism and devotion to civil and religious liberty for centuries yet to come. Let us participate in the great it ternational exhibition as American citizens, whether native or adopted, as the friends of progress, as the friends of peace, and as the friends of our common countcy. Let us show our appreciation of that religious liberty, which is the greatest boon, the brightest jewell, and the most precicus gem in the diadem of tightly about him, he thought, "how is
