Capt. Tim Lee is sick.

By getting Zeigler's cigars you will not be deceived. All he asks is a trial. Zeigler's Raleigh favorite cigar store is the place to get the best and the purest cigars in the city.

The incorporators of the Wilmington, Raleigh & Danville railroad are called to meet in this city, Jan. 12.

The 78th session of J. M. Lovejoy's school begins January 17. Mr. Lovejoy is too well-known throughout the south as an educator, to require a word of recommendation from any source. See advertisement.

Messrs. A. C. Sanders & Co. have for sale two good mules, one beautiful pony, one new buggy and one second-hand carriage, just repaired and painted, as good as new. Call on them at No. 2, Martin street, for a bargain.

Warner Moore, the popular and handsome young member of the firm of Asa Snyder & Co., Richmond, paid us a visit yesterday. His establishmenf-did the ornamental iron work for the new government building in this city, and it was well done.

The annual meeting of Hook and Ladder Company No. 1 will be held at Fireman's hall this evening. The election of officers will take place, and the new belmet caps will be distributed, which leads us to exclaim, "To helme every member at 7:30 of the clock."

DESTITUTION. - Within a square of the capitol yesterday, a distributor of the Young Men's Christian Association destitution. A negro woman in the last stages of consumption, spitting blood, in an old shed, without furniture, a stick of wood, a morsel of food or even a cup to hold water. Not a soul in the miserable den with her, not a spark of fire, and every feature distorted with disease and starvation. She was promptly relieved and, thanks to the noble organization of young christian brethren, is now comparatively comfortable, SOL SMITH RUSSELL LAID IN THE SHADE,-The many friends of Professor Waters, of the city police force, will be highly gratified to learn that he has recently performed a greater feat than Sol Smith Russell, or probably any other man of the same heft. Waters heard Russell, during his recent visit here with the Berger family, tell about eating a stuffed goose, and thinking it a very good thing, but that he could go several better, bought a lot and pitched in. After running the experiment a week, he concluded to sum up the amount of damages, and after gathering up and measuring the bones, found that by actual count, he had devoured eighteen geese and four possums, besides all the "sage and ingons." Three cheers and a gander for Waters. Sol Smith Russell's nowhere.

PATRONIZING HOME ENTERPRISE -Being in the large printing and binding establishment of Messrs, Edwards, Broughton & Co., yesterday, we were shown a set of Policy Registers, just completed by their binder, W. T. Lee, for Mesars, Berkeley & Brown, and were really surprised to know that such work was being so well done in our city. No house north or south can do better work, or at least no better could be desired. This firm deserves great praise for the complete establishment which they have fitted up in our midst. Their printing has always stood firstela Their machinery and type is of the latest pattern and their workmen among the most skilled. WEEK OF PRAYER.

Methodist church A The home was filled to its atmost capacity; many were standing in the ables and some could tears were seen to glisten in the eyes of many present. Rev. W. C. Norman, the new paster of the church, conducted the exercises, reading as the lesson, the 21th Psaim, after which he meed the subjects for prayers and discussions to be : "Prayer for families for godless parents; for prodigal sons for children at school; for those enterlife; for widows and orphans; for som and daughters in foreign lands; and for all who are mentally or o herwise afflicted," He said there was nothing that so crippled the church of Christ as lutidelry among her members; one of the peculiar marks of it is, a lack of prayer. The Savior said, "therefore I say unto you, whatsoever things ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye shall receive them and ye shall have them " We say our prayers, but how man exercise that faith that is requisite to make them effectual. Said he, to-night we are to pray for ungodly parents, and wayward children. He spoke of special prayer and what it had and would accomplish, and exhorted parents to pray especially for their unconverted children and friends, and the children to pray for their godiess parents and associates, and the congregation to pray for any who were sick in body and soul spirit of God in a great and gloriourevival of religion all over the land.

Dr. Pritchard, said he boned to hear short addresses to-night instead of long ones, so that it would enable more per sons to speak, thereby giving a greater variety, and he was particularly anxious to hear the layinen, they were practical men and had good ideas. He expected to commence a series of meetings in his church in a few weeks, and wanted the prayers of all christians in behalf of Tuesday, Feb. 15. bimself and his church.

Rev. J. M. Atkinson said it was truly grange will meet in Raleigh, Tuesday, an imposing scene to look upon so many people who had come together as a band of brethren of different denominations to unite their prayers for the same objects. "It had cost him some little to come out as he was quite unwell, but he was traly glad he had done to. He spoke of the peculiar interest manifested in the meeting that the prayer of some humble follower of the bles Savior might be answered in behalf of a wayward son or daughter. He said he had received a letter from a gentle asking him to look after his wayward son, and asked the prayers of the congregation for him. He exhorted all to be more faithful and pray for a deeper work of grace in the hearts of members of the church. John Armstropy said he was a stron believer in special prayer, and related a very touching incident in his own life; very touching incident in the had been a wayward youth, but had a praying mother who prayed especially for his conversion. He told of one of his Sabbath School scholars, how he had made him the special object of prayer; that he had been converted and was now preparing for the ministry. S. M. Parish desired to add his testimony as a believer in special prayer, and related the case of his brother, his con-viction and conversion. He exhorted all to faithfulness and to work more assiduously for the master.

Dr. Eurkheed said he was trained up religiously, but was pretty wild, was converted in his eighteenth year. He exhorfed parents to pray for their children, and the children to pray for their

A. M. McPheeters said, in the various subjects for prayer there was one which lay bearest his heart, that of children; and the thought was truly gratifying to think that not only here to-night, but all over the land, christian people were praying for his children.
Rev. N. M. Jurney made a very uffecting talk. He spoke of his former connection with that church as its pastor and exhorted all to be more faithful. He spoke of the power of prayer, and related the circumstance of a little boy's prayers for a godless father, and of a little afflicted girl's prayers for her

MEAT SPOTLING ALL OVER THE STATE.

The unprecedentedly warm weather of the last two weeks has done almost nealculable damage to our farmers. All who killed their hogs during the cold spell early in December, are in danger of losing their entire year's supply of in our own county, among a host of similar sufferers, Calvin Pool, near Auburn, has lost 1,500 pounds of meat; and Urias Bancous, of the same region has lost 3,000 pounds. Mr. Burt, of Holly Springs, has lost all his hams and shoulders, and his neighbors generally are losing large quantities. Rev. D. P. Mescham, who has just returned from a trip through Wilson and Wayne coun ties, reposes having heard of a loss of over 30,000 pounds among his friends in those counties. And a gentlemen from Chatham reports the farmers up there bauling their most off and throwing it away. From every region comes the same complaint, and it really seem as though a mest famine may be the result of weather that is, in every other respect, delightful. Cannot some of our granger friends suggest a remedy, som mosdier and surer means of curing meat than that in vogue? Our columns will be gladly thrown open to any one who has a suggestion to make,

A REPORM NEEDED .- A visit to police headquarters in our city will satisfy any man with a spark of philanthropy left in him, that it is more fit for a pig-stye, than for men, we care not how low or degraded, to stay in. We take it that because men are put on the police force it does not necessarily make brutes of them. The doctrine of making elean the outside of the cup and platter is good indeed if the inside is washed oo, but to have as line a set of policemen as Raleigh has, and require them to sleep in such a nasty, filthy den, is, to say the least of it, placing them in very low esteem. There are vermin large enough in there to move a man weighing over 20) pounds. Humanity calls for better quarters.

GRANGE MATTERS, - A private letter from our esteemed friend, G. W. Lawrence, secretary of the state grange, informs us that the third annual session of the North Carolina state grange will be held in Greensboro, commencing

The executive committee of the state Jan. 18. State exchanges will please notice.

THE MIGHTY FALLEN.

"MAN'S INHUMANITY TO MAN,"

No. 126.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 5, 1876. Mr. Turner: I am fond of Colone Donau as an editor, but I am glad also to see that your pen is not wanting. The "Woodsin" is refeshing. If there were ever two lickspittles for whom the workingmen of Raleigh felt supreme diagust and contempt, it was these "birds of a feather." They came to our city with nothing, were the tools of tyrants, oppressors, "bondholders and thieves," a you call them, and they left with nothing. "The best local editor in the state" was kept "cheap Johning" as long as it paid, and then was kicked out. The paid, and then was kicked out. The "Manager" was kept at the "case" set-ting type and superintending a lot of "rate" (understrappers) as long as it paid, and then he was kicked out.

Over all this the workingmen, the mechanics and their families have cause for rejoicing. About six months ago some half dozen or more journeymen printers who were working there, were told they could no longer have employment in the News office, simply because they would not submit to a reduction of their wages, contrary to the rules of their Union, and for no just cause they were turned out with no work and no bread, to gratify the tyrannical heart of the chief stockholder, whose opinion of a workingman is, that he is only fit to be

"bossed" and made a slave.

True to the pledge they had tak en to abide by the scare of prices adopted by their Union, with four "honorable" exceptions, these journeymen printers. discharged from the News office, nove gave over and never returned there. The moneyed tyrants would have been defeated but for the aid of the "Manager," who proved a traitor to his craftsmen, and gave them the benefit of his experience as a printer as we!l as a 'cook." Boys and haif-hands were employed, and to this day it is run by them. The skilled mechanic who serves his years to learn his trade being almost a beggar on our streets. The botched condition of the News and of all the work they turn out is the proof of who does it. And yet this office, that has thus tried to break down the mechanics and workingmen of our city, is supported and kept up to a great extent by the citizens and business men of Raleigh, hen not one of the crew of the News own a foot of land or a dollar's interest in anything connected with us further than their paper. It is simply money and corporations against labor. We are glad our fair city is rid of the "editor" and the "cook," We believe they left us for our good. And we have just enough sympathy for them to hope that they may profit by their experience and remember that the traitor sooner or later comes to his reward. And that no poor man ever yet elevated himself or his fellows by being a lickspittle for rich corporations. I believe it to be the duty of every true North Carolinian to turn his back upon this den of corruption and oppression. Especially do I believe it to be the duty of every mechanic and every working man to give his influence to ward not only ridding our state of the "tools" that they have used, but the pa per and its tyrannical owners. You, Mr. Turner, have stood by the mechanics at all times. I know that you have given employment to skilled workmen when you had to borrow the money to pay them, and I for one hope to see you sustained and supported to the end that oppressors, corporations, rats, 'cheap John' editors, 'cook' man-agers and all such cattle shall find no abiding place in North Carolina,

With an abiding trust in the final triimph of right, I am a NATIVE MECHANIC.
