TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1876.

"Ring out the old, ring in the new ;" but whatever you do, ring out the rings both old and new.

Wendell Phillips wants to play Bee tonian chief of police for twenty-four hours. He'd come nearer playing the d-1.

Did you ever reflect upon the admir able wisdom of that Providence, which ripens raisins, bananas, turkeys, plumpuddings, tin trumpets and fire-crack ers, every year just in time for Christmas and New Year's ?

Chicago is talking of a vigilance committee to rid herself of her pickpockets, burglars, sneak-thieves and assassins. The chief obstacle is the trouble of having to send abroad to get bonest men enough to form the committee.

A statistically inclined exchange fornishes the information that there are 12,000 wind-mills in operation in Holland. And all of them combined would blush at their insignficance beside any average session of the Virginia legislature.

The executive committee of the National Union League of American head liars, thieves and corruptionists, has decided not to start the southern outrage-mill till mid-summer, and to have the first grand massacre of loyal lambs about two months before the election.

The rotten Hoosier leper, Morton, who has tried all the quack doctors and hot springs of christendom and heathendom in vain endeavors to obtain relief from the loathsome results of his vices, is doomed to go down to posterity,-other people's, not his own, --as the Great Bloody Shirter.

Our soul involuntarily raises her paws in admiration of the sublime nerve of that earnest but impecunious wouldbe benedict in Cleaveland county, who recently paid a bull-chariot load of corn shucks for 'a marriage license. Such heroic devotion richly merits the felicities of early widowerhood.

What a commentary on our so-called christian styles. 'Tarboro finds reason to congratulate herself over the fact that Christmas, the anniversary of the coming of the Savior, the Prince of Peace, passed off with as few bacchanalian orgies and bloody affrays, as the birthday of George Washington or an average 4th of July.

A HUGE HUMBUG.

To give our readers some idea of the magnitude of the preparations for the great centennial Philadelphia hasheryooss fattening show, we may state that the flooring of the various exhibition buildings covers 60 acres. The grounds include 230 acres. The covered space is three times as large as that of the World's Fair in London in 1851, and twice as large as the Paris exposition in 1855. Eleven foreign governments have erected buildings on the grounds.

The cost of the buildings will be something near $10,000,000. The appropriations made by foreign governments to pay the expenses to which they and their people will be subjected are, in gold: Great Britain, $250,000; Spain, $150,-000; Brazil, $150,000; Sweden, $125, 000; Siam, $100,000; France, $120,000; Germany, $171,000; Austria, $75,000; Italy, $76,000; Belgium, $40,000; Norway, $44,000 ; Argentine Confederation, $60,000 ; Ecuador, $10,000 ; Denmark, $10,000. The governments that have erected buildings are: Great Britain, 3; Japan, 3; Egypt, 2; Sweden, 2; Spain, 1; Germany, 1; Brazil, 1;

Canada, 1; Australia, 1; Turkey, 1; Moroco, 1.

The states of the Yankee Union that have erected buildings are Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michiigan, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Missouri, Kansas, West Virginia, Nevada, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota and Arkansas. Prof. W. C. Kerr, our state geologist. has been appointed by Governor Brogden to take charge of articles from North Carolina. The officers of the North Carolina Agricultural society will give information to any of our people who desire to exhibit articles. The centennial commissioners for North Carolina are S. F. Phillips and J. W. Albertson.

SUBSTANTIAL SYMPATHY.

A TEN-FOLD SUBSCRIBER, WHO COMES WITH EARNEST WORDS OF EN-COURAGEMENT-THE CAUSES OF PUBLIC DISTRESS.

JOHNSTON COUNTY, N. C., Jan. 9, '76. MY DEAR TURNER: I send you $20 for ten numbers of the Sentinel during this year. If I can't find ten neighborwho ought to take the Sentinel and don't, I shall be able to give it to them. If in this terrible money crisis, the Sentinel should be hard up, draw on me auy time through Leach Bros. for $100. have seen no politics in Raleigh since 1872; since Dr. Blacknall, of the Yarborough house, as the agent of Swepson & Co., offered to buy out the Sentinel for $20,000, and send you to congress. Not selling was your sin against the leaders of the party in Raleigh. I have come to the conclusion that the people do not ecovern conclusion that the people do not govern in tuis country, but the lawyers and politicians do, and now they have taken in with them banks, railroad corpora-tions and bondholders. The peo-ple never had much, and now they

Said Coffield in reply, "If I were to tell you I was glad you were free, you would not believe me, you would call me a liar." "Col. Dockery," he said, "owned 150 negroes on the Pedee. He "owned 150 negroes on the Pedee. He paid a white man $500 a year to blow them up for work before day. Saturday night the negro weat to him for a Lass to go to his wife's house. Now the same negro goes to him Saturday night for three dollars for his week's work instead of a pass. Is there any negro here who believes Dockery is glad his negroes are free ?" No! no! was the response all over the crowd. The col-onel was ready to start for his next appointment, but this vote and the telling words of Coffield, brought him back again. When he could not get a hearing, he attempted to force the issue by mounting the stand and silenc-ing Coffield. The negroes crowded ing Coffield. The negroes crowded around with sticks, the white men cocked pistols in their pockets, and stood by Coffield. Coffield, looking Dockery in the eye, said, "Leave tais stand, or the blood that is to be shed be upon you." The colonel sprung from the platform into the arms of his colored friends, the whites uncocked their nittels and mean mismed at Mat their pistols and peace reigned at Matthews' mill. The colonel acknowledged to his friends that Coffield was the most troublesome rebel he had met on the TURNER. stump. LEGAL AND AGRICULTURAL.

Merchants' and Manufacturers' Collection Bureau.

(Office in Yarborough House.) Raleigh, N. C., 8 Jan. 1876.

ALFRED WILLIAMS, ESq.

Sir: The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Collection Bureau has left at this office for collection a claim of So. Lightning Rod Co. against you for $28.80, with interest, amounting in all to $29.00.

If you desire to arrange the same without expense and trouble, you will please call on me without delay.

Yours, &c., WALTER CLARK, Attorney, Yarborough House,

We have placed the above-claim in the hands of Walter Clark for collection. Unless the same is arranged AT ONCE with him, we shall feel justified without further notification, in directing suit to be brought against you and entering your name upon the list of IRRESPONSIBLE PARTIES, kept by the bureau, which is published for the benefit of merchants generally. If you desire to retain your credit with these merchants, as well as to avoid the expense of further legal proceedings, you will attend to this immediately.

I don't care, colonel, whether by your I don't care, colonel, whether by your bureau I am classed among the "goats or sheep;" among the responsible or irresponsible. In old times, colonel, I would not have been so delinquent, and if I had, a constable would have waited on me for forty cents and collected the debt. I am, therefore, opposed to your whole peach-orchard, stove-pipe, insur-ance, sewing-machine, light ning-rod and grange bureau.

It now remains for me to pay the debt and subscribe myself your friend, fully supplied with fruit trees, stoves, nachines and lightning-rods. sewing ALFRED WILLIAMS.

DR. WM. J. HAWKINS.

"A prominent and well known citizen of this town, signing himself 'Anon, handed in the following communication yesterday. His idea no doubt will be caught at with much relish by the pub lic, 'Anon' says : "The motto of our lic, 'Anon' says: 'The motto of our little city appears to be upward and on-ward. I now opine an opportunity pre-sents itself to secure the gentleman whose name heads this article, not only as a citizen of our city, but as presiden of the largest bank in our place. The papers inform us that the annual meet-ing of the stockholders of the Raleigh National bank convenes this day, the 11th. The financial ability and influence of Dr. Hawkins cannot for a moment be ques-tioned, and if the stockholders like to further their interest, let them elect a directory committed to the election of Dr. Hawkins as their president. Those who intimately know hun consider him one of the best, if not the very best, financier in one state. The best evidence of a man's capacity is, has he been a success Mark the prediction ; if he is made president of the bank named, in less than two years its stock will command twenty per cent. premium instead of below par as it is now selling. This com-munication is written without any knowledge whatever on the part of Dr. Hawkins."--Baleigh News, Jan. 11.

If the bank wants rapid accumulation and sharp shooting he is the man. As president of the Raleigh & Gaston road he charged $1.25 for a barrel of vinegar from Kittrells to Raleigh, a distance of 40 miles. Vinegar comes from New York over the same road for about one dollar.

Again, on the Chatham road he charged $1 a thousand for shingles from Apex to Cary, a distance of six miles. Again, Littlefield says he got $2,000. 000 appropriated to the Chatham road and Dr. Hawkins promised him $200 000 in bonds and paid him only $100, 000.

The doctor made $3,000 when Holden and Dave Jenkins sold Swepson North Carolina railroad bonds for 65 cents, when they knew no bond of the road had ever sold for less than a dollar. The doctor played a hand in the exchange of bonds of the Chatham road for Confederate bonds or state bonds payable in Confederate money, at ten cents for a dollar. Swepson and that little incorporated thief, the Chatham road, and the Deep river swindlers may 'catch the idea" with avidity as well as a relish. Dunston, the barber under the bank, has been urged to go into the ministry. If he should, he must be called on to open bank meetings with prayer after the manner of old Jerry Holt, of Lexington, "shaking the polls in Galilee and onconverting the uncon-ing, who is a mad enthusiast on the subject of woman. He rhapsodizes interminably upon the divinity of her nature, the loveliness of her form, and the holiness of her character and influence. He expatiates eloquently and endlessly on the gleam of her eye, the tangled sunlight of her hair, the scraphic music of her voice and the rapt witchery of her smile. He goes into ecstatic conniptions, he-hysterics, over a lace handkerchief or a feather fan, and has wild paroxysms of poetic agony over a whitening-box, an India hemp chignon or a patent inflatable gunjun-rubber bustle. He harangues us by the hour, in gorgeous, rose-tinted and orangeblossom-scented, oriental phraseology, upon the beauties and glories, the Elysium-surpassing, Eden-eclipsing, New-Jerusalem rivaling blisses of the state matrimonial,-a brief trial of which would speedily and effectually free him from many of his hallucinations. In short he bores us like an artesian auger and we therefore tenderly and affectionately dedicate to him this little common-sense tribute, with an echo, to voice in ublic affairs. I have no objection to lawyers ruting so long as they are honest, but when they are moved as the puppets of cor-porations and banks, then 1 will not follow them in silence. I feel that I have been made poor by politicians, who were wanting in common sense as well as common honesty. Although myself incapable of suggesting exactly what or how, I feel that something can be done to relieve the country from its present distress. I regard the Sentinel s of far more service than a legislature in pointing out the means of relief to the people. I live in defiance of unwise and corrupt rulers. A foolish war reduced me to poverty. Since the war I paid a hundred per cent. to run my farm for two years ; 33 cents for cotton and doing much of the work myself enabled me to stand the extortion. I know the high rate of interest and the mortgage system have crippled me; I know it has broken up many a man who has worked hard; I know it has contributed to make this long continuation of hard times; and I care not what the advocates of free money may say, I have seen enough of free money and 12, 20 and 100 per cent. to know it is making the southern and western poor work for the southern and western poor work for the bondholders of the north. I know it is as destructive to the prosperity of the country as the march of Sherman Thank God, by hard licks and many of

He can't tell what ails the bees, whether it is epizootic, distemper, cholera or gaps. If any man can find out what is the matter with them it will be Coffield. He is no convert to the theory of Anthony Daugherty, of Orange, who says that the bee lost his skill and cunning during the war, by reason of the gunpowder burnt and the concussion produced by the roar of artillery. Cof-field and Oliver Dockery at Matthews' mill, in Barnett, will long be remembered. Oliver addressed a large assembly of negroes, having it all his own way, his competitor being absent.
