MARRIED. - This morning, at the Salisbury Street Baptist church, E. R. Stamps and Miss Bettle Williams, both of this city, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. Fathers and mothers, make your children work; don't encourage idleness, for if you do, you encourage crime. Idleness is the latuer of crime. Colored people of North Carolina, you must arouse to the necessity of doing something to put a stop to this thing, or we are a ruined people. Keep it before the people, talk to them, preach to them, exhort them by every lawful means, to live honestly and in the fear of God. In your churches, at home, in the schoulhouse, everywhere, keep alive the inet that crime must be stopped. In the name of Heaven, I implore every preacher, and every man of influence, to go to work and do something to put a stop to crime among our people.

Think of it ye mothers and wives and daughters in time, for you know not THE MOORE-SWEPSON FRACAS.—Late yesterday afternoon, long after our press hour, intelligence was received in this city that A. G. Moore, of Alamance, and George W. Swepson, of this city, had a collision at Haw River, which resulted in the former gentleman receiving a severe pistol-shot wound. We have not been able to learn the particulars of the how soon you will see one of your be-loved ones being led in shackles and handcuffs to the felon's cell. Think of it in time, and God will bless and reunfortunate affair, but hear it rumored that ill-will had long existed between them. The rumor obtained in this city late in the evening that Mr. Moore was dead, but it was afterwards scortained that the wound is not mortal, but

P. S. Two conflicting rumors reached us about the fight since the above was set up. One is that Mr. Moore attacked Swepson in his, Swepson's, house. Another is that Mr. Moore was passing with a gentleman on a hunting expedition, when a negro at Swepson's gate was insolent to him. Mr. Moore started for the negro who retreated to the yard, Moore following him, when Swepson ap-peared and shot him with a Sharpe's rifle.

nex. L. FIERCS, D. D.

We greatly desired to have this venerable servant of God with us.—Our people generally, had rather see and hear Dr. Pierce than any other man in the church. The Doctor writes us a long four-page letter, filled with the spirit of christian love and affection; but he cannot be with us.—He says: "I take it for granted my N. C. friends did not know I had lost my voice; so that I am seldom able even to pray in the family."

"I have made but one outstanding appointment in two years; but filled other men's places nearly every Sabbath."

"And now, as to N. C. How glad I would be, to be in it, at this Centennial Jubilee. I was born in Halifax county, N. C., near Roanoke river, March 24th, 1784.—So, you see, my 92d birth day will come off the last day or your centennial celebration. I was removed to S. C. when a child. Was raised in Barnwell District Heard at 1801, by James Jenkins—was awakened under it, and converted in August 1803. Admitted as a travelling preacher in the S. C. Conference in Charleston, Christmas week, 1804; and traveled Great Pee Dee and Lynch's Creek circuit in 1805. That was the nearest I ever got to N. C., although half of it was in my conference. They stuck me down in Georgia as a young P. E. in 1809. So I have given 67 years out of my 71 in the ministry to my dear old Georgia. S. C. got 1806 and 1808. And Alabama, in Montgomery 1842, and in Mobile, 1843. All the balance here. They still keep me on the effective list—the greatest honor of my life. It is for what I have been—and not what I am now. My dear native state has only got a few picked up sermons. Raleigh, I think, got one or two small efforts in 1840. But I can hope, by the time her second centennial comes round she will be all Methodists. I a u now getting afraid of things that are high. Stand night travelling badiy—cannot take care of myself. The result of the French senatorial election is still in doubt. The prime minister has the returns but will not let the papers publish them, and it is supposed by this that it is not favorable to the government.

An engineering feat of stupendous proportions is underconsideration, being no less than the dramage of the Zuyder Zee, making that inland gulf, in extent two hundred and old miles by about sixty, once indeed what, says the Lonsixty, once indeed what, says the Lon-don Iron, it will probably again be, a fruitful plain dotted with smilling vil-lages. The Haarlem Lake, the bed of which was overwhelmed by an cruption of the sea in the sixteenth century, wadrained not many years ago by a com-pany of English engineers. The Zuyder Zee dates from about the time when Earl Godwin's lands became a treach-erous sandbank—an epoch remarkable for extensive inroads of the sea along the whole southern coast of the Sea along the whole southern coast of the German ocean. The addition which the drain-age of the Zuyder Zee would make to Holland would be nearly equal to six per cent. of the whole present area of that country.
