VOL. XXI. RALEIGH, N. C. WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1876. No. 140

LATEST FROM THE SWEPSON CASE.—A dispatch just received announces the close of the preliminary trial of George W. Swebson for the killing of Adolphus Moore, in Alamance county. Swebson was held for trial in a bond of $10,000, which he gave promptly.

EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.—Within the past few days Governor Brogden has made these appointments: C. S. Ellis, notary public at Wilmington; Ned. Ellington, notary public at Greensboro; Robert F. Robb, commissioner of deeds for North Carolina at Pittsburg, Pa.

RALEIGH MEETING.—Last evening, despite the inclemency of the weather, the meeting at the Salisbury Street Baptist church was largely attended and much interest manifested. Prof. Taylor preaches to-night, and Rev. Dr. Thomas, of Norfolk, Va., is expected to return and occupy the pulpit to-morrow night.

SHIPPED HER.—William Patterson, a night-shade republican, came before the mayor this morning on a warrant sworn out by his fond wife, who accused him of beating her. It was proved that he had only slapped her for some cause, and the mayor dismissed the case, telling Patterson he should have given her a good spanking.

RECORDED.—The editor of the Sentinel acknowledges the courtesy of an invitation to attend the semi-annual exhibition of the first and second classes of the Carolina Military Institute, at Charlotte. The entertainment is very highly complimented by the press of the great opera-house city, and our own knowledge of the excellent principal is sufficient to satisfy us that the entertainers are deserved. Absence from home and the state prevented our attendance or earlier acknowledgment of the invitation.

SWEPSON TRIAL.—This investigation going on at Graham was adjourned on Saturday to Monday at 3 o'clock. On Monday two witnesses were examined, King and Overby. King was the witness spoken of by the boy witness, who passed just before the shooting. Overby proved threats made by Moore against Swebson in 1874. On Tuesday Mrs. Fonville had just taken her stand when our informant left. Mrs. Fonville was the lady at Swebson's when the shooting took place. Capt. Moore had many warm friends in Alamance, and the feeling runs high on his side.

EASTER.—Easter will fall this year on the 16th rather than on the 9th of April, because Easter Day is regulated not by a solar, but by a lunar cycle—the cycle that regulates the Golden Number. Now, by a solar calculation a day always begins at midnight; but by a lunar calculation it begins at noon. If, therefore, the Paschal moon falls on a Saturday after 12 M., it is counted as falling on Sunday, and then Easter Day is, under the rule in the prayer book, the Sunday following. This is what happens in the present year. The Paschal full moon falls on Saturday, April 8, at 2:43 P. M. It is therefore counted as falling on Sunday, April 9, and Easter Day is the Sunday following—i. e. April 16. It may be added that should the full moon fall on March 21 before 12 M., that full moon (counted as falling on March 20) would not regulate Easter Day, but the one following. This happened in 1819.

JUST NINETEEN.—Henry Smith, of Rhamkatte, was the old man we followed to the court-house door yesterday and failed to get his name. We met him in the afternoon on his way home alone, or rather on crutches. He was crippled 25 years ago by Baldy Atkins in a fight. The great day of his life was seeing Col. Polk welcome Lafayette in 1822. He remembers when this city was nothing more than a cross-road place, and deer were killed where the capital now stands. He mentioned Gen. David and Edmund Lape as great hunters in their day. He remembers when the old court-house was where George Cook's hotel now stands. Jacob Stanley, colored, moved the old court-house and all the houses at that day. He remembers the building of the old state house. John and Rhodes Adkins were among the boys who worked on it. The war of 1812 was well remembered by the old man. He had two chances to be drafted. He was on the muster roll in St. Matthews as well as St. Marks district, having lived in both. He drew "no go" both times. Col. John Bell commanded the regiment. His camp was west of town about the Boylan house. He came to town to see them off. They marched about 2 o'clock on the road where David Hinton now lives. He does not know a man now living who was in the war of 1812.

GOOD TEMPLARS HALL.—We learn that a proposition is before Hickman lodge of Good Templars, to create a sinking fund for the purpose of building a hall in this city worthy of the strength and character of the order. This fund is to be raised by monthly assessments upon members.

APPRAISAL.—Frank Bryant and Stanley, a couple of niggers, got into a dispute over a piece of leather this morning at Peck's corner, Wilmington street, which resulted in Frank hitting Stanley over with a rock, inflicting an ugly gash over the right temple. The mayor investigated the matter and sent Frank on to court in a bond of $30, and fined Stanley $5, and costs for disorderly conduct.

MEETING OF THE STATE DEMOCRATIC-CONSERVATIVE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

ROOMS OF THE DEM. CON. EX. COM. Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 29, 1876. At a meeting of the Central Executive Committee of the Democratic-Conservative party this day held, it was resolved that a meeting of the State Executive Committee be called to assemble in the city of Raleigh on Wednesday, the 15th day of March, 1876. The object of the meeting is to decide upon the time and place of holding the State Convention of the Democratic-Conservative party and to consider such other matters before the Committee. Each member of the Committee is earnestly requested to be present. W. R. COX, Chm. J. J. LITCHFORD, Sec'y.

SUPREME COURT. The court met this morning at 10 o'clock, all the justices present. The following cases were disposed of:

James Calloway et al. vs. Ore Knob Company, from A-he. Argued by M. L. McCorkle for plaintiff and Armfield & Folk and Johnstone Jones for defendant.

A. W. Austin vs. R. E. Miller, from Caldwell. Argued by Armfield & Folk and Johnstone Jones for plaintiff and no counsel for defendant.

H. S. Edwards vs. Thomas Jarvis, from Algonny. Argued by M. L. McCorkle for defendant, no counsel for plaintiff.

L. D. Triplett and wife vs. W. P. Witherspoon et al., from Caldwell. Argued by R. F. Armfield and Johnstone Jones for plaintiff and G. N. Folk for defendant.

Court adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

THE SWEPSON-MOORE HOMICIDE.

SOME FURTHER MINOR PARTICULARS.

GRAHAM, N. C., Jan. 31, 1876.

Col. DONXAN. This little village was thrown into great excitement last week when Mr. Gilchrist Albright rode up at a gallop and called for a physician, saying, "Capt. Moore is shot—Mr. Swebson shot him." As Mr. Swebson had sent out messengers in various directions who reported that the shooting was done in self-defense, and Mr. Moore's friends believed that he had been shot in a cowardly manner from a concealed position, the air was soon full of rumors. The trial before the magistrate's court, which is now in session, will probably clear up matters. The house of Mr. Swebson is only about a quarter of a mile from Haw River depot and about the same distance from the office of Capt. Adolphus G. Moore. Mr. Swebson's house was built by Gen. Ben. Trullinger and occupied by him as a residence for several years. The big road passes within a few steps of the door. Capt. Moore was in the big road a little past the front gate when the fatal bullet passed out of Mr. Swebson's window from his Sharpe's rifle. The ball passed through a plank palisade about one inch thick before it struck Moore.

THE FIRST FIRE MISSED.

The ball struck the plank and went through. Moore did not fire at all. His gun was cocked, I hear, but that is the way he usually carries it when hunting. Moore's life was insured for ten thousand dollars. He made a will which was witnessed after he was shot. He gave his diamond ring, which cost several hundred dollars, to his niece. He said he was mortally wounded from the first. "Go," said he to the little boy standing near him when he was shot, "and tell Col. Holt I'm a dead man." He was perfectly sane all the time. He talked freely.

for one in his condition. He did not say a unkind word that I have heard of about any one after he was shot. He had been curing some that evening. He prayed very humbly, and asked his physician to talk to him about religion. This report is all hearsay. I heard once he made a profession of religion. Then I heard that was a mistake. Rev. A. Currie, of the Presbyterian church, was with him most of the time; Rev. D. A. Long, of the Christian church, was there a short time. I haven't heard what they report. May write you again when the trial is over.

A greedy Wilmington hog the other day ate off the side of a nigger child's face. At last accounts the child was living, but it was thought it would die. T. W. Austin, of Germantown, Friday night blew out the gas in his room in the Purcell house, Wilmington, and the next morning was found dead in his bed of asphyxia.

The Charlotte Southern Home says: Friday Jones, colored, aged 66, issues to the freedmen of North Carolina an appeal to stop stealing, fighting and drinking, and behave themselves, or they'll wish they had. It is a right good piece, but, alas! "words, nice words."

As a reliable and cheap remedy for the various affections of the throat and lungs, we heartily recommend Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Small 25, and large bottles 50 cents.

GRATUITOUS ADVICE.

This species of advice is not always acceptable, but doubtless in many instances much benefit would be derived were it promptly acted upon. No section of the country is exempt from disease, and many regions have its "ills that flesh is heir to." To know the best means of combating this common enemy with the least injury to our pockets and tastes, is certainly a great advantage. At this season we must expect torpid liver, congested spleen, vitiated bile and inactive bowels, and prudent persons should supply themselves with Tuff's Liver Pills, which will stimulate the liver, relieve the engorged spleen, determine a healthy flow of bile, thus regulating the bowels and causing all unhealthy secretions to pass off in a natural manner. Remember that "an ounce of preventive is worth more than a pound of cure." Jan 29-2w
