Josh Billings at Tucker Hall tomorrow evening.

George W. Swenson arrived in the city yesterday afternoon.

Judge Bynum has returned from a visit to his home in Charlotte.

No work to-day on the government building on account of the cold.

The rats and mice are making out their slate of municipal candidates.

J. J. WOLFENDELL & Co., dealers in grain. Corn a specialty. Newbern, N. C.

Woods' pine at $3.50; seasoned oak at $4.00; field pine at $3.00. Call on J. D. Whitaker near Citizens Bank for supplies.

Let all corn buyers ask for corn that has been fanned and cleaned at the City Granary expressly for this market. feb 2-1v.

Our morning contemporary adventures for burglars, and holds out a tempting array of the inducements and advantages Raleigh offers to knights of the jimmy, crowbar and skeleton key.

If you want to be sure to double your crops of cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco, etc., call on A. C. Sanders & Co. for a pamphlet telling you how to do it, and then buy some of their guano.

"E. H. POSER & Co. will have their first grand special sale of Leaf Tobacco at Webb's Warehouse" Hillsboro, on the 8th and 9th of February. They claim that Hillsboro is at present the best market for all grades. 29t.

It pains us to announce an advance in the local tariff on lightwood knots. It will fall heavily upon those of our worthy but somewhat impetuous villagers, who are forced to depend on this resource for illuminating purposes.

Cotton market quiet. Middlings 12; low middlings 11; clear stains 10; deep stains 8.

LES MAUSOLEUM.—The ladies of this city will meet Saturday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, in the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association, Briggs building, to consult in regard to raising a fund for the Les Mausoleum. It is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance, and that some plan will be adopted whereby a handsome fund can be raised for this purpose. In nearly every city of the south this has already been done, and our ladies should not be found lacking where others have so nobly come to the front.

THE GRAND WORTHY CHIEF TEMPLAR.—Under this head, the Wilmington Review of Jan. 31, says: "Mr. N. B. Broughton, of Raleigh, W. C. T. of the order of Good Templars in this state, will arrive in this city this evening on a business visit of a few days and will put up at the Manning house. He will meet with the members of the order in this city at temperance hall, on Wednesday evening, when the officers of Wilmington lodge, No. 64, will be installed. Mr. Broughton, on his arrival here will be invited to address the temperance meeting to be held at Brooklyn hall this evening."

Daily Sentinel

VOL. XXI RALEIGH, N. C. THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1876. No. 141

WANTED.—By a young man who is willing to work, a situation as night-witchman, or at some other honorable business. He is capable of attending to ordinary business. Reference given. Address J. M. S., Sentinel office.

THE REVIVAL.—The Salisbury Street Baptist church was crowded last evening, and the interest seems to be steadily on the increase. There were five mourners, and many expressed anxiety as to their spiritual condition. Rev. Dr. Thomas, of Norfolk, is expected to preach this evening.

JANUARY TEMPERATURE.—A correspondent furnishes the News a record of the mean temperature of the month of January for seven years past. It gives the average thermometer range at sunrise: 1870—39°; 1871—33°; 1872—30°; 1873—33°; 1874—36°; 1875—31°; 1876—41°. As will be seen, the figures were higher last month than in January of any previous year of all the seven.

GOOD CHOICE.—Col. H. T. Douglas has just been elected president of the Petersburg & Weldon railroad, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Col. W. C. Carrington. Col. Douglas is a railroad man of long experience, of broad and liberal views, and thoroughly familiar with all the details of his profession. The road, already a good one, can but prosper under his management.

CONCERT.—The ladies of the church of the Good Shepherd are preparing to give a concert in order to raise a fund for the benefit of their church. The concert will be a good one, for we believe it is generally admitted that there is more musical talent in the congregation of the Good Shepherd than any other church in this city, and we suppose the ladies will bring to their aid all the best amateur talent of the city outside of their own fold.

IN LIMBO.—Tom Brown and Lewis Wilkins, a couple of ginger-cake republicans, hailing from Wilmington, have been cooped by our police under a strong suspicion that they are not as moral as they represent themselves to be. They have been passing off as deputy sheriffs. The mayor will investigate them this afternoon. There is a suspicion that they are members of the gang who recently perpetrated so many highway robberies in the vicinity of Charlotte.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION.—Tomorrow week the two literary societies of Wake Forest College, the Euclidian and Philomathean, celebrate their first anniversary. The public debate commences at 2 p. m., and Messrs. W. L. Poteat, of N. C.; E. E. Folk, of Tenn.; J. B. Powers, of N. C.; C. W. Scarborough, of N. C., are the debaters. J. L. Britt, of Wayne county, is the orator on the part of the Euclidian, and J. T. Bland, of Fender county, on the part of the Philomathean; they speak in the evening. Messrs. J. L. Sprickard, W. Daniel, J. B. Jones and W. J. R. Ford are the marshals of the occasion.

SUPREME COURT.—Court met at 10 o'clock this morning. Present Chief Justice Pearson and Associate Justices Reade, Rodman and Settle. Justice Bynum absent on account of sickness. The following cases were called and disposed of as follows:

J. W. Wilson et al. vs Western North Carolina Land Company from Caldwell; argued by B. F. Arnold and Johnstone Jones for plaintiffs and W. W. Fleming and Smith & Strong for defendant.

J. M. Craiglines vs Daniel Reynolds et al. from Buncombe continued. Phillips & Merrimon for plaintiff and J. H. Merrimon, McCorkle & Bailey, A. T. & T. F. Davidson and Josiah Collins for defendants.

Jesse Sumner vs Thomas J. Candier from Buncombe; argued by J. H. Merrimon for plaintiff, no counsel for defendant.

G. W. Swenson vs Clayton vs. A. T. Summey, administrator, from Buncombe; argued by J. H. Merrimon for plaintiff. No counsel for defendant.

John G. Chambers, administrator vs. G. F. Penland, from Buncombe; argued by J. H. Merrimon for plaintiff, no counsel contra.

John G. Chambers, administrator, vs. Henry Devere, et al. from Madison; argued by J. H. Merrimon for the plaintiff, and Smith & Strong for defendant.

J. M. Foster vs Parham & Boyd, from Buncombe; argued by James H. Merrimon for plaintiffs, and Smith & Strong for defendants.

McDougal & Sinclair vs Joseph Graham, from McDowell; continued. Court adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

TAR DROPS. The Durham hotel has been closed. Bald mountain has commenced to grow again. Enfield had a mad dog excitement the other day. A Talkin county man killed a 600-pound hog the other day. During the week ending Jan. 31, Concord sold 119 bales of cotton. Several crooked whisky seizures have been made in Halifax county. "Oppressive stillness" reigns at Concord concerts, if the Sun's rays are reliable.

The Shelby Aurora will henceforth scatter its radiant beams overutherford.

A tame bear and an unbearable banjo have been enlivening the streets of Wadesboro.

At a dinner "Martha Washington party" in Wilmington, Benedict Arnold was represented by Judge Ince; a slight mixture of antique celebrities.

Robert Kirkland, of Hillsboro, for several years a resident of Uruguay, South America, has arrived at Key West and is soon expected on a visit to his Orange friends.

T. G. Gensert and O. A. Beaman, of Durham, had a little misunderstanding last Friday evening, in the course of which Beaman was knocked senseless by a blow over the left eye. It was at first thought his skull was broken, but examination showed the wound to be less serious.

NEWS AND NOTES. John B. Gough is sick. Thermometer at Detroit 26 degrees below zero. Oregon is sending a 5,000-pound ox to the centennial. Great damage all over the north by Tuesday night's storm. The Spanish mutual throat-cutting and skedaddling goes animatedly on. French rads are bitterly hostile to Gambetta, which is a good sign of him. The thermometers at Louisville tumbled 40 degrees in 24 hours Tuesday. Agricultural hall on the centennial humbug grounds, much damaged by the storm. Robert Dale Owen is going to give Enoch Arden readings in Marquette, Michigan. The Southern Life Insurance Company, of Memphis, has flunked with $1,000,000 of liabilities. Con. Maguire has plead guilty to part of the counts in the St. Louis whisky indictment against him. Geo. Eakins, infernal ravenute at Milwaukee, has been indicted for whisky frauds. Still the circle widens, but the big thief of all goes free. Only one more of the daily list. Harvey N. Rowland, radical treasurer of Lawrence county, New York, is a defaulter to the merry little tune of anything from $50,000 to $100,000. The London Times is surprised and relieved to find that all Grant's war hellabolos has dwindled down to a mere request to European nations to unite with him in Cuban intermeddling. The house committee on Pacific railroads spent yesterday hearing all the for and against of the Southern Pacific, Texas Pacific, Little Rock, Mississippi & Texas and St. Louis & Iron Mountain roads. Congress spent yesterday spouting gab on the constitutional amendment in regard to the presidential term. The bill was lost by a slight party vote of 154 yeas to 166 nays. It will be reconsidered on a motion of Sam. Randall.

JUDICIAL REORGANIZATION. In congress yesterday, the judiciary committee reported a bill reorganizing the judiciary of the United States. It was made the special order for the 16th inst. The bill provides for a circuit court in each judicial district, and establishes a court of appeals, which is to have appellate jurisdiction of cases arising in the courts within such circuit. The terms of the court of appeals are to be held in Boston, Albany, Philadelphia, Richmond, New Orleans, Louisville, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco. The decisions of these courts of appeals are to be final and conclusive, but a review upon the law may be had on a writ of error or appeal to the United States supreme court, where the matter in controversy exceeds the sum of $10,000, or where the adjudication involves a constitutional question or any treaty or law of the United States or where the court shall certify that it involves a legal question of sufficient importance to require a final decision by the supreme court.

J. Q. A. Haldway, Esq., of the Episcopal Methodist, Baltimore, Md., writes: "With much pleasure I testify to the good effect of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in my family. Have used it in many cases, and in each instance the result was entirely satisfactory."

As a reliable and cheap remedy for the various affections of the throat and lungs, we heartily recommend Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Small 25¢, and large bottles 50 cents.

For the Sentinel. A TALE WITH A MORAL. One day in this winter, when mud was not scarce, And the walking so bad that it couldn't be worse, A spruce young gallant, with mustaches quite fierce, And jetty-eyed whiskers, so charming, Came straggling along, with his nose in his hand, Wearing lavender gloves, a most dainty new pair, Swinging lightly his stony cane, in great care— Who had he to fear, that's alarming? I'll tell you directly; right plump in his way Was a deep sticky mud-hole that many a day Had beguiled the incursions, and ere one could say, "Look out!" our young dandy was in it, Taken all by surprise at the depth of the mire, He struggled, and—swore, but the mud got up higher; And a new patent-leather,—disturbance—stuck faster and faster, each minute. Just then a rough farmer came whistling along, And seeing our hero, cried, "Hallo! what's wrong? You're full of mud, ain't you? You're using it strong! For my part, I always walk round it! Our dandy looked up, then extended his cane, Saying, "I'm a regular do that is plain. Come! don't stand there laughing! That don't help a grain! Now, pull out a fellow, oldfellow!" The farmer caught hold of the stick, at one end, And pulling discreetly, released our young friend, Crestfallen and heavy, as you may depend, But, excepting his boots, sadly muddled, He much wept for his accident,—"so, with a sigh, And a—thank you, good fellow! I think I will try To keep out of the mud, for the future. Good bye!" And away our young exquisite scudded. As he went on, quite briskly, his spirits soon rose, He forgot his adventure, forgot his boots; He met a young lady, who, all the town knew, Had for him all her other beaux banished; And, thanking his stars that he happened to meet Her directly, there, he bowed low, looking sweet. But a newsway screamed, "Boys! here's a stunner! Such feet!" He remembered that mudhole, and—vanished.

MORAL. Young friends! life has many a mudhole, I say, And when you are going on, thoughtless and gay, Before you can stop, or turn out of the way, You'll be in to your infinite dismay. Perhaps some kind friend may extend you a hand, And, by pulling and tugging, put you on dry land, But the mud on your boots will be there,—understand. To show that you once have "been under."

MIXED PICKINGS AND STEALINGS. Writing of five noted men—types of French character—who all died on the same day in Paris, M. Arsene Houssaye succeeds in treating a solemn topic in a pleasant way. His story of Pierrot, "who was an ass, but not a savant," will entertain young readers, while it may make older readers admit that Sterne was not the last to make a "sentimental journey."

There is some complaint in Cincinnati that the republican committee which has been appointed to make arrangements for the national convention is composed of men who have a strong leaning toward a third term. Ben. Eggleston is chairman, a furious Hayes man, of whom the Commercial says it would be supposed that he "had Hayes on the way to heaven in a hand-basket." Eggleston has been known also to elevate his nose at the idea of "unwritten law" standing in the way of a third term. Another member of the committee is Gen. Hickenlooper, an old comrade of the president and an ardent supporter of him.

MEETING OF THE STATE DEMOCRATIC-CONSERVATIVE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. Rooms of the Dem. Con. Ex. Com. Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 29, 1876. At a meeting of the Central Executive Committee of the Democratic-Conservative party this day held, it was resolved that a meeting of the State Executive Committee be called to assemble in the city of Raleigh on Wednesday, the 16th day of March, 1876. The object of the meeting is to decide upon the time and place of holding the State Convention of the Democratic-Conservative party and to consider such matters before the Committee. Each member of the Committee is earnestly requested to be present. W. R. COX, Chm. J. J. LITCHFORD, Sec'y.

The democratic consultation committee at Washington consists of Cox of New York, Whitborne of Tennessee, Randall of Pennsylvania, Goods of Virginia, Buckner of Missouri, Wigginton of California, Hartridge of Georgia, Blackburn of Kentucky, Tarbox of Massachusetts, Lynde of Wisconsin, Eden of Illinois, Payne of Ohio, and Caldwell of Alabama. The campaign committee is Glycer of Pennsylvania, Chapin of Massachusetts, Throckmorton of Texas, Hooker of Mississippi, Hewitt of New York, Robbins of North Carolina, Taylor of Ohio, Messrs. Goreman, Harvey and Mason of the District, and Senators White of Maryland, Wallace of Pennsylvania and Goldson of Georgia.

THE BEST FERTILIZERS IN USE. The Star Ammoniated and Map's Nitrogenized SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE AND SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME. We have found by several years experience in selling the above Fertilizers, as well as by actual observation, that they have no superior, if any equal among Commercial Manures. Our prices are much lower than others, not so universally popular, and that have proved unequal in results, upon sworn statements from many of our best farmers. All we ask is a fair trial with anything sold in the South. We refer to the following gentlemen of large experience, who have used our Phosphates for several years: R. TVEY, Wake County. JOHN AVERA, Johnston County. W. H. WHITAKE, Wake County. W. H. SANDERS, " M. H. HORTON, " DAVID ADAMS, " M. C. UTLEY, " JAMES PAGE, Chatham County. COL. E. STEWART, Harnett County. W. M. THOMAS, " R. H. WILSON, " JAMES A. JOHNSON, " ELIAS HAINES, " D. Mc. McKAY, " And many others who will gladly give their experience. For Sale by A. C. SANDERS & Co., AGENTS, RALEIGH, N. C. Jan 26-1v.
