W. H. & B. S. Tucker are out in another attractive announcement. Read and learn what an elegant stock they have for you to select from.

Read the letter of our venerable and distinguished fellow-citizen, Judge W. H. Battle, formerly of the supreme bench of our state. The object suggested is one which should commend itself at once to every true son and daughter of North Carolina.

The Wilmington Star, of Feb. 10, is kind enough to say: "A splendidly gotten up vocabulary of local queer names appears in Monday's Raleigh Sentinel. The writer is 'Perfect in that line, and of course takes the rag off the bus.'"

The Wilmington Star, of Feb. 10, sheds this gently lustrous beam: "Raleigh could never be satisfied without incubating a paper or two a year. We see that a new weekly, to be 'red-hot democratic,' is soon to make its appearance in that already hot-bed of newspaperdom."

The very fine results and increasing demand of the Star Ammoniated Soluble Phosphate seem to have created quite a sensation among manufacturers of and dealers in commercial fertilizers. Other manufacturers have even commenced manufacturing and offering for sale a fertilizer called the "Star Bone Phosphate." Farmers should beware of imitations. The original and only genuine Star Ammoniated Soluble Phosphate has the trade mark of a star printed on each sack with the analysis manufactured by Loxbury & Bidler of Baltimore, Md., and for sale by A. C. Saunders & Co., or their agents.

SUPREME COURT. Court opened at 10 o'clock this morning, all the justices present.

State vs. William E. Norwood, from Greenville; argument commenced on yesterday, concluded. Attorney-General Hargrove for the State and A. S. Pate for defendant.

State vs. George Evans, from Halifax; argued by Attorney-General Hargrove for plaintiff and Barlow & Burton and Busbee & Busbee for defendant.

James Mandy vs. Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company, from Halifax; argued by Batcher & Son and W. H. Day for plaintiff and Moore & Gatling for defendant.

Richard P. Spizer vs. Hales & Haines & Co., from Halifax; argued by Walter Clark for plaintiff and Moore & Gatling and Batcher & Son for defendant.

Court adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY. About two o'clock this morning, Frank Mayo and Matthew Smith, both loyal black Republicans voters, made an attempt to burglarize the dry-goods store of J. P. Gulley & Co., on Fayetteville street. It seems that Mayo some time during the night succeeded in stealing from the pockets of one of the clerks, W. R. Chamberlin, the front door key, and at the hour above mentioned entered the store with his companion. Mr. Chamberlin, hearing a noise, sprang from his bed and discovering the loss of the key gave the alarm. Smith in his hurry to escape locked Mayo in and he was nabbed by Policemen Bessey and Batts, who were promptly on the spot. This morning Smith was arrested and the pair are now in jail. Both were employed in the store, one as porter and the other as druggist.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

NOW ABOUT THAT INCREASED MORTGAGE?

This morning's News contains a scathing appeal to our citizens to attend a meeting this evening at Metropolitan hall, in order to save the State Agricultural Society from disorganization, and preserve to Raleigh the glory of having future fairs. Who authorized the call for this proposed meeting we are not informed; but judging from the paths of the invocation, which says, "unless the people of Raleigh meet to-night in full strength and put forth the best exertions of tongue and pen and purse, there is great danger that she will lose all she has gained, and sink back to provincial obscurity," and from the number of "dodgers" in reference to the same subject, it must have emanated from an official source, or from some person or persons, having an interest in the matter that smacks more of percent than patriotism. There are a number of things connected with the association that the public would like to know: Where is that complete exhibit of affairs, promised in 90 days after the close of the fair in 1875? Some time in 1874 there appeared in the News and State Agricultural Journal a statement about twenty lines long, which hardly gave to the uninformed as much information as the quarterly report of a national bank to the comptroller of currency. How about that additional $2,000 or $3,000 mortgage, which the city government recently authorized the executive committee, or somebody or something else connected with the association, to place on the fair grounds?

At the last fair, when the association met evening after evening, no statement was made even regarding the desperate condition of affairs which this ostensibly unauthorized but pitiful call for a meeting would indicate. To be sure, a certain amount of indebtedness was acknowledged, but it was asserted by those whose business it was to know, that it could be readily managed and that upon the whole the association was in a flourishing condition. What has transpired since the last fair to change all this to a gloomy cloud over the fair?

In saying that the affairs of the association have been conducted more like those of a close corporation, than an open, free State enterprise, we do not mean to reflect upon the integrity of the large number of honorable gentlemen who are connected with its management. But such is the case. A full, complete and satisfactory publication of its condition and prospects, has never been made, though promised time and again. At the last meeting of the association, property was proclaimed, yet but a few weeks had elapsed, before there were whispers about an effort to be made to get the charter amended in order to limit it to a joint-stock concern. Next came a successful application to the city authorities to place an additional mortgage on the fair grounds, and now here is a call from some source, for a meeting of the citizens of Raleigh, backed by a sort of semi-official article imploring them to save, by the "best exertions of their tongues and pens and purses," the association from utter extinction. There are many matters connected with the subject which need elucidation, and we hope to see the whole matter opened up this evening.

GOVERNOR RICHARD CASWELL.

LETTER FROM JUDGE BATTLE.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 11, 1876. EDITOR OF THE SENTINEL: I saw in your paper of yesterday an interesting account of a visit by your correspondent, H. W. Best, Esq., to the grave of Governor Richard Caswell, the first governor of North Carolina. Mr. Best mentions that I did not know before, that there is not even a marble slab to mark the last resting place of the illustrious dead, and suggests that I commence a movement to have what he calls a repository for our people, taken away. Governor Caswell was undoubtedly the most distinguished man in North Carolina during the revolutionary period of our history. Besides being the commander, or at least one of the commanders, of our little army at the celebrated battle of Moore's Creek Bridge that broke the power of the Tory party, he was one of our delegates in the continental congress, was president of the state congress at Halifax, which framed and adopted the constitution of the state, which made us an independent nation, and was thus chosen the first governor of that nation. The 18th day of next November will be the centennial of our North Carolina national existence, and nothing can be more appropriate than to have it celebrated by inaugurating a monument to the memory of the illustrious man whose name is so indissolubly connected with it. I have no doubt the amount necessary for the purpose can be easily raised by one dollar subscriptions. I take pleasure in acting upon the suggestion of Mr. Best and his friends, and will thankfully receive contributions from all persons disposed to favor the patriotic enterprise.

Yours truly, W. H. BATTLE. Papers in the state friendly to the proposed plan will please copy.

EXTRACT FROM THE LONDON TIMES.

LONDON, ENGLAND, JANUARY, 1858. DE J. A. JONES, the young surgeon who is creating so great a sensation among the profession, promises fair to excel in skill and surpass in success even his distinguished uncle, Sir Walter Jones, M. D. Testimony of an aged planter, of Victoria, Texas.—Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption Cured by Dr. Jones.

For seventeen years I have had oppression, difficult breathing, pain in the sides, coughing, rapping, scraping of my throat, wheezing, hoarseness—everything you name from cold and laid me up for weeks, until I was pronounced a consumptive; and thus a complete invalid, wasted away—having been injured much by drugs given me by family doctors—I came to Dr. Jones, who examined me at once, told me he could again make me comfortable and save my life by his peculiar Remedies and Instruments for inhaling them. I commenced improving, and in three weeks was quite well, could eat, sleep well, breathe perfect, and my color is good. I have gained flesh and health from the very hour that I first commenced his treatment. It is now two months. I am well, and attend to every kind of business. I was expected to die with consumption every day. Now my acquaintances seek me who in the world raised me from the dead. I tell them Dr. Jones. I feel that money is no equivalent for such advice as Dr. Jones renders.

J. J. WALKER. Dr. Jones is now curing the afflicted at the McAdoo House, Greensboro, N. C., where he remains a short time. Dr. J., straightens cross eyes, inserts artificial eyes. Send for a circular.

The Salem coroner-banders will celebrate the birthday of G. Hatchet Washington, the father of a country which he wouldn't recognize to-day, with a grand ball, or correctly speaking a hopera.

A dead-beat, small scale imitator of our noble president, giving the name of Wilson and representing himself as a painter from Denmark, has been victimizing Murfreesboro landlords and landladies.

The Mayville (Ky.) Bulletin thus chronicles the movements of a venerable Tar-bell: "John Allen, who has reached his remarkable age of 104 years and 5 months, passed down the river in the steamer Ohio, Sunday morning. He was born the 9th of October, 1771, at sea, while his parents were coming from England to America. He left his home near Greenville, N. C., on Tar River, and walked to Huntington, West Virginia, being very nearly a year on the road. He was never married. He chews tobacco, and enjoys his cup of coffee every morning."

LOOK INTO THIS MIRROR AND SEE IF IT REFLECTS YOU.—1st. Of the head-heavy, dull aching over the eyes, sometimes extending back through different parts of the head, and causing a weight or heat or coldness on top of the head, snapping and cracking noise in the ears, dullness of hearing—often the secretion collects in middle ear, closing up the eustachian tubes, producing deafness; the lining membrane being the same from the head through the whole alimentary canal, and down into the lungs, it has but to extend itself to affect the whole system. It becomes violent in the nose sometimes, causing a tenderness, or producing offensive breath, discharges of yellowish matter and scabs the shape of the nostrils, or if the partition bone is only affected, then the feathers are flat, and when they discharge, which is generally after exertion, the nose is open, the patient breathes more easily and the head feels more clear—the heaviness over the eyes and across the forehead is seldom entirely gone, but it is aggravated by every fresh cold. The offensive mucus which the unfortunate chews many kinds of drugs to neutralize or destroy, and thereby be enabled to go into society without being a positive nuisance, which persons of both sexes are, on account of this barbarous and offensive disease, called ozona, which has now assumed a tertiary form of cancer, destroying everything but the outside skin, leaving the nose sink in, extending to the throat, destroying the voice, etc., when the disease is called Laryngitis, Tracheitis, Bronchitis, etc.

Dr. Jones at the McAdoo House, Greensboro, cures this disease.

The huge, drastic, gripping, sickening pills, constructed of crude opium and bulky ingredients, are fast being superseded by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pills: or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated Root and Herbal Juice—Anth-Bilious Granules—the "Little Giant" Cathartic or Saline in Puro Physio. Modern Chemical Science enables Dr. Pierce to extract from the juices of the most valuable roots and herbs their active medicinal principles, which, when worked into little Pills or Granules, are sooty larger than mustard seed, render each little Pill as active and powerful as a large pill, while they are much more palatable and pleasant in effect.

Dr. J. A. Thayer, of Raonensburg, Ohio, writes: "I regard your Little Giant Pills as the best remedy for the conditions for which you prescribe them of anything I have ever used, so mild and certain in effect, and leaving the bowels in a excellent condition. It seems to me they must take the place of all other cathartic pills and medicines."

Lydia M. McComber, Druggist, Vermillion, D. T., says: "We think they are going to sell like hot cakes as soon as people get acquainted with them and will sell the pill trade, as those that have used them like them much better than large pills."

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

By virtue of a mortgage executed to A. J. Bynum & Son, on the 14th of September, 1874, by E. N. Clegg, and by virtue of a second mortgage executed by the above-named E. N. Clegg to A. J. Bynum on 3d of March, 1875, the undersigned will sell on the premises at public auction on the 17TH DAY OF MARCH, 1876, for cash, the valuable farm on Deep River, in the county of Johnston, opposite the town of Lockville, known as the Clegg farm, containing FIVE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-THREE acres.

The Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line railroad divides the tract, and Deep River is navigable for steamboats about 12 miles above and 12 miles below Lockville. The farm is about 80 miles from Raleigh and 42 miles from Fayetteville by rail. The tract contains 100 acres of Deep River long leaf pine. It is well adapted to the raising of grain, cereals, cotton, and vegetables, and can be divided easily into three excellent farms. The railroad depots within 150 yards of the farm and Merchants mill, saw mill and log dry within 75 yards. The state of N. C. has granular phosphate beds farm within the rich coal and iron formations of the Deep River basin.
