The very fine results and increasing demand of the Star Ammoniated Soluble Phosphate seem to have created quite a sensation among manufacturers of and dealers in commercial fertilizers.
Other manufacturers have even commenced manufacturing and offering for sale a fertilizer called the "Star Bone Phosphate." Farmers should beware of imitations. The original and only genuine Star Ammoniated Soluble Phosphate has the trade mark of a star printed on each sack with the analysis manufactured by Lorentz & Ritter of Baltimore, Md., and for sale by A. C.
Sanders & Co., or their agents.

can convention, which met at Madison Tuesday, adopted a resolution condemning third termism and endorsing Blaine.

HABEAS CORPUS.—There is a well grounded report afloat in this city that late Tuesday night Col. T. C. Fuller, arrived in this city on a special train and got from Judge Settle, of the supreme court, a writ of habeas corpus for Geo.
W. Swenson. What understanding there is as to the return of the writ we have not been informed, though we have been diligent in our search after information.

SUPREME COURT.—Court met at 10 o'clock this morning; all the justices present.

The argument in the case of Joseph Harris vs. D. A. Jenkins, public treasurer, and Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line Railroad company, from Orange, commenced on yesterday, was resumed.
J. H. Fleming for plaintiff and Merrimon, Fuller & Ashe, J. B. Batchelor, and Walter Clark for defendants. Pending the argument the court adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

CHARGED WITH STEALING A COAT.—Yesterday afternoon Henry Biggs, the colored waiter on the supreme court rooms, and special policeman for the capitol, was arrested on the charge of attempting to steal a coat from the store of Zacharias, Fayetteville street. The case was heard before the mayor who deemed the evidence sufficient to bind Henry over to the next term of the Wake superior court in a bond of $200. Henry gave the bond, and is now pursuing the even tenor of his way.

THE MERCHANTS MEETING.—Pursuant to adjournment the merchants of this city met last evening in the mayor's office. The report of the committee appointed at the first meeting, in regard to consulting counsel in order to resist the action of Solicitor Harris was submitted. They reported that they had obtained counsel, but he was now absent from the city and would not return for some days, when he would give them his opinion. The secretary read out the names of 230 of the indicted merchants.
J. H. Ennis stated that he had consulted several lawyers, all of whom agreed that the indictments could be successfully resisted. Some lawyers doubted the solicitor's jurisdiction in the matter. Mr. Ennis also stated that the first day of January was a national holiday and people could not be required to list their taxes on that day, and Monday the sheriff was in court all day and could not give his time to attending to the taxes. The report of the committee was adopted and they were ordered to continue as a committee. Mr. Maroon thought it very queer that several merchants had listed the same day and part were indicted and part were not. And another thing that looked odd, he had seen the stubs in the sheriff's office and none were dated up to the 10th, but all were dated after the 10th of January. The meeting adjourned till next Wednesday night at Metropolitan hall, when Col. T. C. Fuller will address the meeting.

LETTER FROM ALAMANCE.

THE SWEPSON CASE.—THE OLD SET-TLERS—REVOLUTIONARY
REMINISCENCE.

GRAHAM, Feb. 23, 1876.

EDITOR SENTINEL: A great portion of the "Egula-or" of Alamance assembled here yesterday to witness the trial of Swenson. The people were ahead of the grand jury, who had found no bill until after midday. The defendant will be arraigned to-day. The public are not advised whether he will try to-day or remove the cause to another county. Ralls, Fuller, Boyd, Hason and Parker appear for the defendant. Solicitor Strudwick, Gilfillan, Dillard, Graham, Scott, Major Graham and Strong prosecute. The crowd was immense yesterday and promises to be as large to-day.

I have met many old acquaintances and friends who voted for me when I was a candidate for the legislature before Alamance was taken from Orange.
Col. Jerry Holt, the game chicken and whisky man, who is seventy and four, now turns out the best whisky and game cocks to be found. David Clapp, about the same age, has never forgotten his whiggery. His father lies buried at Briar Church, with this inscription upon his tombstone: "Here lies Barney Clapp, a whig of the revolution." His son David says all the evils of the country have resulted from the abandonment of old whig principles as practiced by his father and laid down by "Washington, Marshall and their co-peers." I met Thomas and Nathan Woody, the representatives of the Quakers who settled on Haw river, near Woody's ferry, long before the revolution. John Woody was the founder of the family who came from Baltimore, or near there, before Mrs. George peacefully acceded from King George. John Woody settled and cleared the plantation now owned by Junius Alston, on Haw river. He had four sons. His son James had three sons and eleven daughters. Thomas Woody is the son of Hugh, and Nathan the son of Samuel Woody. They are the great-grandchildren of John Woody, of Maryland, who settled on Haw River.
Time and the negro institution caused most of the family to move to Indiana and they are to be found in that and other states west. Nathan Woody tells me that the Friends disowned Herman Husband, the leader of the Regulators, before the revolution. William Allen, a nephew of Herman Husband, is now living in this county.
The grand-children and great-grandchildren of Col. Pyles are also here.
Col. Pyles was a doctor and of Quaker descent, a man of character, property and probity. His daughter Susan was the queen of trumps. One of the Alstons, from Chatham, who escaped from the hacking match where Col.
Washington hacked up Pyles and his men without giving quarter, informed the family that Col. Pyles lay dangerously wounded in the woods near a mill-pond 20 miles off. No man would venture to re-visit the bloody camp where no quarter had been shown. The girl was not afraid of Col. Washington or the bold men who followed him. Lighter than Light Horse Harry could have done, she sprang from the ground to the back of Selim, the tallest horse on the plantation, and galloped off in the nighttime to her wounded father and brought him home before day dawned, she riding behind him. Col. Pyles is buried where he lived, near Cain creek battle ground. The plantation is now owned by Dr. Worth, of Randolph.

In my next I will tell about the politics of Alamance.
P. S. Since writing the above I have learned that Swenson will be tried in this county. The arraignment takes place at 10 o'clock, after the mail closes, so you can get nothing of "to-days doings" until to-morrow.

ATTENTION RETAILERS.

EDITOR SENTINEL: The following item from the American Grocer should be published and kept standing in the Raleigh papers especially. And while I know that every wholesale grocer will apply it to his neighbor, and say "I never do so," I simply ask each and every one to look over his past record of business and see if he can't find not one or two offences, but a whole catalogue of such little crimes staring him in the face. I am in a position to notice these things, and the more particularly because I am interested. Here is what the Grocer says:
"A friend from Meadville, Pa., sends me a letter bearing on this subject, which will be found in our correspondence column. Whether carried on at Meadville or in any other part of the country, the practice on the part of the wholesale dealer of trenching on the profits of the retailer, by selling in a retail way at wholesale prices, cannot be too severely censured, both by wholesalers and retailers. The retailer of course suffers by such unfair competition, against which he cannot make any headway by buying ever so cheap; but the wholesaler also suffers, and the short-sighted policy of snatching a profit from the retailer in this way is detrimental, not only to the offending party, but to the entire wholesale interest. Whatever is lost to the retailer must naturally be lost to the wholesaler in the long run, and any serious encroachment upon his business is a direct weakening of the source of all the profits of the wholesale trade. The old fable of killing the bird that laid the golden eggs never had a better illustration. We don't think that any wholesale dealer, who could subsidize in any other way, would ever commit himself to a policy so dangerous to his own interest, independently of the odium attaching to such unfairness." Yours truly, RETAILER.

UNLIMITED REMEDIAL RESOURCES.

People sometimes suppose that Dr.
Pierce's Family Medicine represents the entire extent of his resources for curing diseases. This is an error. Experience proved that while the Golden Discovery, Favorite Prescription, Pleasant Purgative Pills, Compound Extract of Sassafras, and Dr. Sage's starch Remedy would, if faithfully used, cure a large variety of chronic complaints, there would be bare and there a case which, from its severity, or from its complication with other disorders, would resist their action. These exceptional cases required a thorough examination into their symptoms, to ascertain the exact nature and extent of the disease or diseases under which the patient was laboring, and the use of specific remedies to meet and overcome the same.
This led to the establishment of the World's Dispensary, at Buffalo, N. Y., with its faculty of physicians and surgeons, each of whom is skilled in the treatment of chronic disorders in general and those belonging to his own special department in particular. To one is assigned diseases of the throat and lungs; to another, diseases of the kidneys and urogenital organs; to another, diseases of the digestive system; to another, diseases of the nervous system; and to another, diseases of the eye and ear. Thus the highest degree of perfection in medicine and surgery is attained. The establishment of this institution enables the Doctor to meet a long-felt want in the treatment of the more severe chronic affections. By a careful consideration of the symptoms as given in writing, he successfully treats thousands of cases at their homes.
Others visit the Dispensary in person.
The amplest resources for the treatment of lingering affections are thus placed at the disposal of every patient, and those on whom the proprietary medicines do not have the desired effect can procure a more thorough and efficient course by a personal application to the proprietor of the World's Dispensary.

Secret voting is gradually "Americanizing" the electoral system of Great Britain. Instead of offering himself to the electors, the candidate in large cities is henceforth likely to be nominated by a convention. This, it appears from a London letter in the Tribune, was the case at Manchester, where Jacob Bright was made the Liberal nominee.

The man who killed the "Irish Giant," O'Baldin, has been acquitted, on the ground that if he had not the late giant would have killed him. At what height does a man's liability to be killed without danger to his slayer, if the big man quarrels, begin? All the tall men are anxious to know.

It is a sight that precisely accords with the eternal fitness of things to see Landauet Williams defending Babcock for defrauding the government, for did not Babcock and he often ride out in that fifteen hundred dollar landauet stolen from the government?

In discussing the presidential question the Chicago Tribune, Republican, says:
"The Republicans are not certain of electing their nominee by any manner of means. In the very best aspect of the case the contest will be desperate and doubtful."

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. LEMAY, Station B, Bible House, New York City, and you will receive it.

We have found by several years experience in selling the above Fertilizers, as well as by actual observation, that they have no superior, if any equal among Commercial Manures.
Our prices are much lower than others, not so universally popular, and that have proved unequal in results, upon sworn statements from many of our best farmers. All we ask is a fair trial with anything sold in the South. We refer to the following gentlemen of large experience, who have used our Phosphates for several years:
