ANOTHER IMPEACHMENT HEARD FROM.

Impeachments are easily gotten up except in North Carolina. Lieutenant-Governor Davis, of Mississippi, negro, has been impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors. Only seven voted against the articles of impeachment. South Carolina and Mississippi go ahead of North Carolina in the business of impeachment. North Carolina is to-day in the jaws of railroad rotteness, such as prevailed in 1868-69. With free passes and pot lawyers, the railroad wing of the party expect to make all the nominations for state officers. These "pots" shall be shown up before they are nominated.

IS GRANT GUILTY?

Official and ring guilt is always determined not by positive proof, but by the force and combination of circumstances. The St. Louis correspondent of the New York Tribune thus writes and throws suspicion, if not conviction, upon Grant: "It is a singular fact, and one that may give rise to many speculations, that throughout the whole progress of this trial the prosecution have relied on the sympathy and co-operation of very few persons high in office. Among these were the secretary and solicitor of the treasury. Nearly all the rest of the government, from the president down to the clerks in the post office here, have been against them in sympathy, and many of them have actively demonstrated their feelings by prostituting the functions of their offices for the purpose of rendering aid to the defendant's cause. The most remarkable instance of this kind is that to which reference was made last night, namely, the installment of a secret emissary or spy in the interest of the defendant, in this case, in the office of the district attorney here, to take notes, watch maneuvers, and reveal plans to the other side. It is said that Mr. Pierpont will hear much more of the matter in due time. "Let no guilty man escape" was the first cry from the government at Washington when the indictments were first instituted against the whisky rings. Now an order has issued from Attorney-General Pierpont that no mercy must be looked for on the part of those who turn state's evidence. The success in prosecuting the big rascals has been owing to the fact that some of the little rascals turned state's evidence. When Grant and Babcock are about to be overtaken the "crown" officer, instead of offering pardon and oblivion to the little rascals for informing on Babcock and McDonald and Grant, issues an order that no mercy is to be expected on account of turning state's evidence. Pardon was offered to Wirtz if he would implicate Jefferson Davis in the assassination of Lincoln. Fat Carrow, late marshal, offered pardon to Capt. Shotwell if he would turn state's evidence. Not a word would the captain speak. Pardon was offered by the government, through Marshal Carrow, to Madox and eight others if they would turn state's evidence. Not a word did they speak, and all went to prison. Now the policy is changed and no pardon is offered to men who may tell on Grant's friends Babcock or other dignitaries of the government.

There are public plunderers and thieves enough to be seen with the naked eye in the administration party, without the trouble of searching in bread day-light with a candle to find an inefficient or dishonest man in the democratic camp. We have an enemy and a dangerous one to fight—that enemy is radicalism—its forces are well trained and united, and we need all of our ammunition for the approaching contest. It cannot possibly benefit us to turn our weapons against our friends and grope longer in the mournful desolation that the dark storm of radicalism has made; "united we stand, divided we fall" should be our motto.—Charlotte Observer.

Sound doctrine this, but when railroad corporations have stolen the railroads of Virginia and then invade North Carolina and hold it at the capital, after falling to bribe or buy up newspapers and editors, set up papers to break down those who would not be bought, is it not time to give such fellows a lift? What harm can come of it? There is stealing going on at the "center," and it requires no "lighted candle" to see it. The Chatham railroad exchanges with the state treasurer bonds on their face payable in Confederate money, and worth ten cents in the dollar, for bonds worth one dollar, and certain stockholders of this road furnished money to establish and run the Raleigh News, the only paper in the state, save the Hillsboro Recorder, which advocates this Hawkins-Littlefield trick, played so successfully upon the state. "United we stand, divided we fall." But we must not fail or fall, nor must we stand by silently and witness railroad corporations unite with Holden's old plunderers for further robbing the state. The "inefficient" in the democratic camp are dangerous to the best interests of the state and people, and though they command millions of money they must be looked after notwithstanding the greater number in the radical ranks to be discovered with the "naked eye."

MIXED PICKINGS AND STEALINGS.

An official phrase has been issued in Russia, forbidding women from exercising the functions of barrister.

After the termination of the rebellion within the borders of Spain, King Alfonso promises to send 40,000 troops to Cuba.

M. Leon Gambetta has formally protested against the exceptionally rigorous measures of the military authorities in prohibiting the private meeting of radicals.

A fine art university has been founded at Jeddo, in Japan. The government has sent to Italy for three professors, offering 20,000 francs per annum for a period of five years.

The Serbian minister of war has issued an order calling on all men between the ages of 20 and 50. They are directed to report themselves to the military conscription committee.

If Gen. Sebenek has resigned the country expects his resignation to be accepted; if he has not resigned the country expects him to be dismissed.—[Philadelphia Inquirer, Reps.]

During the year 1875 there were in St. Petersburg 171 women studying medicine, of whom 102 are described as "belonging to the nobility." Fifty-three were graduated during the year.

A social philosopher has discovered that men fill up all the window seats of boats in railroad cars; not because they are swine, but because they want to keep husbands and wives from sitting together. This thoughtfulness of seat-grabbers is purely American.

The latest legislature to be summoned on the presidential question is that of Kentucky. The inquiries were made only of Democratic members, of whom 46 were seen. Of this number 13 were for Hendricks, 13 for Allen, 7 for Tamm, 7 for Pennington, 3 for Elden, and 1 each for Boyard and Kerr.

Senator Thurman has written a letter to a member of the Ohio legislature denouncing his views on the currency question. He quotes from his speeches to show that he is opposed, and always has been, to the resumption act, because he believes it "impracticable and fraught with injury to the country."

Col. Broadhead, one of the counsel for the government in the trial of Gen. Babcock, had the courage to say, in summing up the case, that the answer of the president explaining why the order changing the supervisors was revoked was no explanation at all, whereas, we are told, there was a "sensation" in the court.

Hugh Courtney, who claims to be a son of the Earl of Devon, living in the south of England, was arrested at Buffalo late Saturday night for attempting to defraud the proprietor of the Fifth house of his bond for the last month, amounting to $325. The young man sent to some of the first families of Buffalo, where he had been entertained, who declined to help him.

M. Dumas, is tall, stalwart, very pale, and his first aspect is proud, cold, stern and a little defiant. But he quickly thaws, and shows himself the most fascinating of conversers. He is gay, cordial, vivacious and simple, full of anecdote, wit and laughter. He seems to wear his heart upon his sleeve, and to hear his conversation is like drinking champagne of a fine vintage.

The supporters of President Grant praise his steadfast adherence to and support of his friends. No former president of the United States ever had so many friends around him whose suspicious minds required so much support and backing from their chief as has Grant. In this respect his associations and companions have been not only suspicious but dangerous.

The Rev. Dr. Fayne of Cincinnati is evidently not a believer in the third term. In a recent address he spoke of the value of pertinacity as an element of character, citing President Grant as an example, and remarked that in case the country should demand his reelection this same quality of bull-dog perseverance would carry him through. To show the improbability of such a demand arising, the Doctor told a story of a venal negro in Iowa who was on trial for an offense against the state. "The state of Iowa versus Sampson Caesar," the aged African exclaimed: "What do whole state of Iowa gain by this trial? I surrender."

The following prophecy is said to have been made by Goethe on the 21st of February, 1827: "I am convinced that sooner or later the United States will carry a canal through Panama, so as to make a connection between the Mexican Gulf and the Pacific. I should like so much to live to see it, but I shall not. Secondly, I would like to see a connection between the Danube and the Rhine, but it is such a giant undertaking I fear the German nation never will have the means to carry it out. Thirdly, I would like to see the English in possession of a canal through the Isthmus of Suez. These three great events, could I live to see them, would be worth dragging out another 50 years of existence for."

MENTAL SUFFERING—Capacity and talent in this pushing and bustling age do not insure business success, but these, when coupled with resolute effort, untiring energy, suave manners, and thorough professional knowledge, lead to position, fame and success, for they deserve them. This is illustrated in the career of Dr. Jones, now at the McAfee House, Greensboro, in this state, until March 6th. He has devoted the best years of his life to cultivating good natural abilities and thoroughly qualifying himself to battle with the worst forms of disease that assail and prostrate the human system. The result is a practice extensive, growing and lucrative. Dr. Jones' peculiar experience in the treatment of chronic diseases of every name and nature make him in every way a skillful and trustworthy physician. Dr. Jones practices at the Arlington house, Danville, Va. from the 6th to the 13th of March. At the Ballard and Exchange hotel, Richmond, Va., from the 13th of March to the 3d of April, 1876.

A VOICE FROM MECHANICS.

SELL ANOTHER-THE BRAVER AT WORK.

Mr. TURNER: A prominent democrat said on the streets a few days since, that unless this complaint that the mechanics are making about the News is stopped in some way, and unless the Sentinel stops publishing their articles, it will cause a breach that cannot be healed and the consequence will be a large number of democratic votes lost, and that the Sentinel will be responsible for it, and further, that the Sentinel must close its columns against such articles as have appeared in it for the last week or two. Let us admit this as a fact, for argument's sake, and see whether the Sentinel is to be held responsible or not. The editor of the Sentinel has been doing an unpleasant and, we might say, a thankless work. First, in exposing the rings of the republican party, he incurred the displeasure not only of the leading ring men of that party, but also of many democratic lawyers who were as deep in the frauds as the republicans themselves; secondly, finding that there were rings in his own party, and not the less dangerous for that fact, he has not hesitated to perform the same service to the state that he did in exposing republican rings. But now the enemies of the Sentinel think they have a good chance to break that paper down. They are endeavoring to create the impression that Mr. Turner is causing all this disturbance, and that he should be held responsible for any breach that may be made in the party. Being a mechanic myself, and one that struggles bravely with all classes, I profess to know their sentiments; and I can tell you that the mechanics have no more use for rings in democratic circles than they have for them in republican circles. There are no more honest air-minded and discriminating ones of our fellow citizens than the well-to-do mechanics of the city. They are becoming thoroughly convinced that those who control the News, judging from their constant past and present, are not the friends of the workingmen. Then how can they be expected to support their votes any party, or any man, who endorses the conduct of the News? No reasonable man can expect them to do it. As a class they are decidedly democratic, there being few republican mechanics in the city of Raleigh, and the time has arrived when they are determined to have a voice in their party. Should their warnings go unheeded the Sentinel cannot be blamed. That paper makes war on fraud and corruption, wherever found, even though it be in the democratic party. If the News and its backers will find themselves mistaken, and if the democratic party thinks it can carry the News, and if the workingmen will follow in the trail, then that party will be woefully disappointed.

RUBBER AND CAPSULE. There is scarcely a branch of human industry in which India rubber has not in some form found its way. Although widely known and used, but few are aware of its medicinal virtues and great curative properties. Practical experiment has proven that it is a natural reservoir of electricity, containing more than any known substance or compound. Owing to this fact it has been used with success in curing nervous complaints and rheumatism that were invulnerable to drugs.

It has also been discovered that India rubber possesses all the properties valuable as a specific for pulmonary complaints and cures many forms of consumption and lung diseases. Combined with Capsaicin it is unparalleled as a pain reliever, whether external or internal. Nearly all the surgeons have adopted it on account of its great healing properties.

The most effective way of using the article is in the form of a perforated plaster. The extensive use of ordinary perforated or porous plasters, is a testimony to its merit. The only objection ever found with the ordinary Rubber Porus Plaster is that it acts too slowly—requiring days and often a course. A celebrated physician of New York, who has long made the medical properties of rubber a study has succeeded in making a great improvement in Porus Plasters by introducing Capsaicin, which overcomes all the former objections, causing the plaster to do in a few moments or hours, that which it formerly required days or weeks to accomplish. Capsaicin is the most valuable ingredient ever used as an external remedy. It operates with astonishing vigor and relieves pain immediately. Its curative properties have become so famous that an enterprising firm in New York took it in hand, and by bringing Capsaicin Plasters to the attention of physicians, have met with unprecedented success. The article is known as Benson's Capsaicin Plaster. The price is the same as the ordinary Porus Plaster, 25 cents. Every Druggist has them.
