THE CITY.

J. D. Cameron, editor of the News, is sick at his home, near Hillsboro.

30 cords wood at Osborne's Grain & Feed Store, for sale cheap for cash.

J. J. WELSHEDEN & Co., dealers in grain. Cereals specialty. Newbern, N. C.

The communication of one of the indicted gentlemen of the city is crowded out to day.

From all accounts this city will be filled to overflowing with visitors during the Methodist centennial.

Bradley & Leonard, of the new candy-factory, have just brought on a lot of dainty bride's-cake decorations.

T. T. Oliver manufactures best heart pine and poplar lumber, &c. Seasoned flooring always on hand. Pine Level, N. C.

Cotton market very dull. Middlings 11 1/2; low middlings 10 1/2; clean stains 9; deep stains 7 1/2. Trade very dull in all branches.

The new street recently opened through the Blodsoe lands presents an opportunity for the purchase of desirable and cheap building lots.

Niggers are already beginning to colonize upon us for the municipal election. We call upon Mayor Manly to arrest these squatters under the vagrant law.

Our bachelor governor has another namesake. The locomotive Junaluska, on the western North Carolina road, has just been christened "Gov. Brogden."

The Italian string band is once more mingling music with moonlight on our streets—though the moonshine part of the mixture has been rather thin for a few nights past.

Mr. J. D. Whitaker is selling good oak wood at $3.50; pine $3.00 @ $3.25 per cord delivered, provided the cash attends the order. Call on him in rear of Citizen's National Bank.

The "Then and Now" festival and concert of the Methodist ladies takes place this evening at Metropolitan hall, and will be repeated to-morrow evening. A very pleasant time will be had by all who attend. Go.

Our county commissioners deserve thanks, especially from our country friends, for the substantial bridge recently erected over Walnut creek, on the Holleman road. It takes the place of a dilapidated and dangerous old dead-fall of an affair.

The Wilmington Journal, of March 1, speaking of the Swenson case, says: "Swenson has done the state much harm, and the gentleman he killed was our friend, but in view of all the facts, we feel obliged to say we think Judge Settle did right in admitting the prisoner to bail."

L. Prang & Co., art and educational publishers, of Boston, are preparing for the publication of the coats-of-arms of the various states of the Union for exhibition at the Philadelphia centennial, and have addressed a letter to our secretary of state asking information in order to have that of North Carolina properly represented.

George Allen & Co., Flow Manufacturers, Newbern, N. C., offer to send to any address, samples of their Labor Saving Plows. Atlas anti-choking Turning Plows, Dickson, Allen and Magnolia Steel Cotton Sweeps, at a liberal discount for cash, with privilege of returning them at their expense should they not give perfect satisfaction.

Send for illustrated circular and prices.

Messrs. R. F. Jones & Co., agents for J. W. Rhodes & Co.'s Super Phosphate, which is one of the best standard fertilizers in the market. The success it gained last year is such that they have sold this year already a great deal more than they expected to sell. Their facilities for supplying farmers with this valuable fertilizer are great, and farmers should buy at once. This guano, instead of impoverishing the land, improves it permanently. Read their advertisement in another column.

The very fine results and increasing demand of the Star Ammoniated Soluble Phosphate seem to have created quite a sensation among manufacturers of and dealers in commercial fertilizers. Other manufacturers have even commenced manipulating and offering for sale a fertilizer called the "Star Bone Phosphate." Farmers should beware of imitations. The original and only genuine Star Ammoniated Soluble Phosphate has the trade mark of a star printed on each sack with the analysis manufactured by Lorens & Ritter of Baltimore, Md., and for sale by A. C. Sanders & Co., or their agents.

RALEIGH, N. C., THURSDAY, MARCH 2, 1876.

No. 9.

CATHOLIC UNION.—Last evening a number of our Catholic citizens met and organized the "Catholic Union of Raleigh." The officers elected are: President, M. B. Barbee; vice-president, Patrick McGowan; secretary, James P. Hayes; corresponding secretary, N. Pinnadore; treasurer, P. Gallagher.

MARRIED.—James Mullen, a fireman on the yard engine at the shops of the Raleigh & Gaston railroad, was severely mangled this morning while attempting to couple some cars. We have not been able to ascertain the particulars of the accident, but learn that Mr. Mullen is painfully though not dangerously hurt.

STONEWALL JACKSON.—W. B. Troy, of Fayetteville, a son of State Senator W. C. Troy, is now in the city in the interest of a military biography of Stonewall Jackson, illustrated with handsome portraits of all the prominent Confederate generals. The work is published by Appleton, and is fully worth the price asked.

SUPREME COURT.—Court met at 10 o'clock, all the justices present. Gideon Perry et al. vs. Henry M. Tupper, from Wake. Argument begun yesterday and was resumed to day. A. M. Lewis and D. G. Fowle for plaintiffs and E. G. Haywood and Smith & Strong contra. Pending the argument the court adjourned until to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

FIRE.—The double log cabin of one of our colored fellow-citizens, who sports the rather rare and startling name of Smith, was burned in White Oak township last Tuesday night. Col. Smith lost all his furniture and apparel, not including a Chickering piano, marble-topped bureaus and tables, a rosewood escritoire, and several other articles of value which were uninsured.

COMMENDABLE.—Col. C. S. Brown, the popular landlord of the National hotel, has given the superintendent of the Oxford orphan asylum a standing invitation to stop at his house free of cost, whenever he has occasion to pass through our city with any of his little charges. The generous offer, which was made some time since, has been accepted and acted on.

In his pastoral letter for Lent, Archbishop Bayley, of Baltimore, uses these strong and truthful words: "Religious teaching is as necessary to anything that deserves the name of education as oxygen is to the air we breathe. Without it, it may be seriously doubted whether a good deal of what is now called education does not do more harm than good. It is ridiculous to speak of sharpening up a quick intellect with a corrupt heart and depraved will under it, as if you were necessarily preparing such a person to be a good citizen and a useful member of society. To say nothing of our political combinations, our penitentiaries and state prisons are full of these 'well-educated people.'"

THE HAWKINS ORGAN.—We will reply in time to the Raleigh News of the 24 inst. They renew the old radical charge that Swenson bought the Sentinel. We told all about it in 1868. We never "lie, steal, burn or blow up a house, or attempted to bribe Mr. Atwater." Such attacks have failed these seven years to damage our character. The railroad presidents and pet lawyers who expect to be helped to office by railroad papers are indignant that we refused $20,000 for the Sentinel when it was offered by stockholder Blackmail, of the Raleigh News. Dr. Hawkins, and his board of directors, will not be able to justify the fraud now going on with the Chatham road. Everything connected with our private or public life is both honest and honorable. Nor can Swenson, Hawkins, McAden, and all the office-hunting lawyers behind them, make it appear to the contrary.

MOORE'S CREEK CELEBRATION.—The celebration last Monday of the hundredth anniversary of the battle of Moore's Creek Bridge was a grand affair. The crowd is estimated at 5,000. The roar of artillery and the melodious crash of drums and cymbals lent a martial flavor to the occasion. Orations were delivered by F. K. Kerr, of Sampson; Rev. J. N. Stallings, of Duplin; and Hon. Edward Cantwell, of Wilmington. The first orator of the day was Capt. S. A. Ashe, of our city, of whom the Wilmington Journal says, he is "a descendant of the John Ashe who, with Hugh Waddell, resisted the landing of British stamps on the banks of the Cape Fear, and who was engaged in the great event which the celebration commemorated." His address was greeted with music and firing of cannon. The affair wound up with a ball at the Masonic hall in Lillington, in which eight or ten counties were represented.

AN INTERESTING RELIC.

A SWORD THAT WAS STAINED WITH BLOOD AT THE BATTLE OF MOORE'S CREEK BRIDGE A HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

Johnstone Jones, of this city, has in his possession a sword which was used at the battle of Moore's Creek bridge, February 27, 1776, by his wife's great-grandfather, Colonel, afterwards General, Thomas Brown, of Bladen county. A member of the family now living heard from the lips of the widow of Gen. Brown that he brought this sword from the battle-field stained with blood. Another descendant of this gallant soldier has in possession the cocked hat which he wore at the battle. It is a three-cornered black felt, and is perforated with several bullet-holes, and is still in a good state of preservation.

General Brown rendered distinguished service during the revolution. He was early in arms under Governor Tryon, at Alamance, in 1771, and afterwards was wounded at the battle of Great Bridge, in Virginia. In 1775, he was appointed lieutenant colonel of the Bladen regiment, of which Thomas Robeson was colonel, and Thomas Owen and James Richardson majors.

He won great distinction by his victory over the Tories at Elizabethtown, in July, 1781, where with sixty men he attacked and routed three hundred of the enemy. This battle ended the Tory power in Bladen. In Wheeler's history of North Carolina, volume 2, page 361, is given a glowing record of this brilliant achievement. It is there said of Gen. Brown, that "when the history of our state shall be written this action alone, apart from his chivalric conduct at the Great Bridge, will place him by the side of his compatriots, Henry, Marion and Sumpter, of the south; and further, that 'the vanquished enemy by the exercise of such skill as could not have been surpassed, and by a boldness and hardihood in promptitude of obedience and rapidity of movement on the part of those under his command, that would have shed a lustre on the disciplined legions of modern Europe.'"

Mr. Wheeler says of him: "The affair of Elizabethtown proves that the service of war was congenial to his fearless temper. His life, character and services will afford some future biographer an opportunity to present his claims to the respect, love and admiration of his countrymen."

TOO WHITE TO PASS.—Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, in his paper of March 1, tells this yarn: "A good many of our readers, if not here, in other parts of the state, know Jordan Chambers, colored. He was a slave of Maj. P. B. Chambers, of Irrell county, and one of the best in all the land. He is almost as white as one of pure Anglo-Saxon blood, is smart and intelligent, and many a white man might envy him his address. Jordan became a rampant republican, however, after the war, ran for the legislature once or twice in Irrell, and was defeated, and has of late acted as a servant at the executive office in Raleigh. One of our citizens who is just from Raleigh, tells us that a week or two ago, Jordan took his daughter who is whiter even than his father to the colored normal school, which is conducted in that city by Rev. John Smedes, a brother of Rev. Alder Smedes, D. D., the principal of the celebrated St. Mary's college. He introduced himself, and explained the object of his visit. Mr. Smedes called him 'Mr. Chambers' and blushed and told him that he was mistaken in the place; that no admixture of the race was allowed there, and that he was no doubt looking for the school of his brother, which was in another part of the city. Jordan asked if that was not a school for colored girls, and being answered in the affirmative, told Mr. Smedes that he and his daughter were colored people and that he was not mistaken in the place. The girl was accordingly put to school, and Jordan left, mightily tickled and mightily flattered."

THE SCIENCE OF HEALING.—The Greeks believed that the nearest approach to the divinity was a successful physician, and they appointed Esculapius and Asclepius, of Ionia, father and son, the gods of medicine.

The modern scientific man errs in his appreciation of skill in the healing art rather by patronizing the living than the dead; and this explains the crowd of patients who have sought the office of Dr. Jones, at the McAden house, Greensboro, often going hundreds of miles for his treatment and operation and returning cured and rejoicing. And owing to this great and increasing demand for his skill, the doctor has been induced to remain in our state a while longer. Dr. Jones remains at the McAden house, in Greensboro, until March 6th. Dr. Jones will practice at the Arlington House, Danville, Va., from the 6th to the 12th of March. Dr. Jones will practice at the Ballard & Exchange, Richmond, Va., from the 13th of March until the third of April.

The epidemic question on the streets is, When will Solicitor Harris be "Home" from?

MERCHANTS' MEETING LAST NIGHT.

The adjourned meeting of the merchants came off last night, notwithstanding the rain. Jordan Womble took the chair and called the meeting to order. J. C. Marcom took his place as secretary.

A letter was read from Solicitor Harris, proposing to compromise and dismiss the indictments upon payment of half the fees. This proposition was rejected unanimously.

A letter was read from William A. Hearne, showing the difference between the action of the federal government and Solicitor Harris in regard to the time allowed to take out licenses.

Hon. T. C. Fuller, counsel for the merchants, being called on, said it was no occasion for a speech and he should talk as with his clients. He said there were no culprits, no criminals among the indicted citizens. The animus, the intent, made the criminal. He felt sure there could be no conviction under the present indictments.

Josiah Turner was called upon, who said he came for the purpose of listening and learning; the spoke he would have to imitate members of congress who always talked about everything except the question before the house. He knew no better time than now, if the business of the meeting was over, to consider the matter of railroad freight.

The freight was higher in North Carolina than in any other state or part of the world, and it is borne with patience and submission. The people of the north are set up and carried up and down a when they were not half so high and heavy as the business men of Raleigh pay every day. He had talked to a merchant that day to learn something about the rates of freight on all the roads leading to the city. One showed him two bills of lading from Wilmington for hominy. One lot, which came direct to Raleigh by Goldsboro, was 18 1/2 cents a bushel. The other lot was "through freight" and taken to Weldon and by the Raleigh & Gaston road to Raleigh, and the freight was 14 1/2 cents a bushel, the distance being 173 miles farther. An Alamance farmer yesterday brought 6 bales of cotton from Mebaneville, a distance of fifty miles. The freight was $9.78 or $16.3 a bale. He saw sitting in the meeting a merchant who paid $1.25 for a barrel of vinegar from Kittrell's to Raleigh, a distance of about 39 miles. If the barrel had only started at New York, it would have been brought for one dollar and had the honor of coming by Kittrell's too.

The freight on smoking tobacco from Durham, 27 miles, is 50 cents a hundred. From Atlanta to New York, 800 miles, it is only 41 cents. From Raleigh to New York, 525 miles, the price is 40 cents. What has Raleigh done that she should suffer such penalties in the way of freights? But this is not the worst. Another merchant showed him a box of manufactured tobacco and a bill of lading which was at the rate of one dollar a hundred from Durham to Raleigh. A barrel of flour from Mebaneville to Raleigh, 50 miles, 45 cents; to New York, 525 miles, it is only 70 cents. Such a tariff and tax is at war with and must kill all honest labor and business. If you be men, no longer bear it. If you will quietly submit to this extortion your oppressors will soon make it higher. These high-tariff railroad corporations are running cheap newspapers and lawyers in North Carolina and Virginia, and all along the lines of their roads. They control your politicians and make your candidates. Mr. Turner said he had relied upon the grange to check these monopolies, but when he found out that J. D. Cameron and Jordan Stone were grangers, and running a newspaper for the railroads and in their interest, he had not been so hopeful of aid from that quarter. He concluded by moving that a committee of five merchants be appointed to wait upon the railroads and ask a reduction of such ruinous freights. Mr. Turner's motion for a committee was adopted, and the chair appointed Jordan Womble, Mr. A. C. Creech, L. H. Adams, R. S. Tucker and W. C. Stone as said committee.

On motion, the meeting then adjourned, subject to the call of the committee.

The rails have inaugurated a series of midnight how-rows with reference to the coming city election. Devilry is being concocted. We smell a nice, bad, or words to that effect.

DR. JONES.—Dr. Jones' office is daily crowded with patients from far and near. Among his surgical operations, yesterday, was one for polypos in the nose. Mr. Henry Palmer, of Fairfield, an aged planter. Mrs. J. Speigle, of Charleston, who was greatly relieved of osseous. Both wish their cases made public and express the utmost satisfaction. Dr. Jones remains at the McAden house, in Greensboro, until March 6th. Dr. Jones will practice at the Arlington House, Danville, Va., from the 6th to the 12th of March. Dr. Jones will practice at the Ballard & Exchange, Richmond, Va., from the 13th of March until the third of April.

NEWS AND NOTES.

Spain will soon send 30,000 troops to Cuba. Farewell to all Ulysses' dreams of West Indian greatness.

The visit of the disreputable ex-Queen Isabella to Spain is said to have no political significance.

A caucus of northern railroaders was held at the St. Nicholas hotel, New York, yesterday, to prepare for a little deeper freight-gouging.

Prayer-gauge Tyndall was married in London, last Tuesday, to Miss Louisa, daughter of Lord Claude Hamilton. The matrimonial bow-knot was tied by Dean Stanley.

The Louisiana house of representatives is threatening to march in a body to the senate, and demand the impeachment of the infamous malefactor, Kellogg. Better go slow, brethren.

Linderman, the federal mint director yesterday assured the house committee on appropriations that specie resumption is possible now. He says there is $15,000,000 of silver coin and bullion ready for use, and several mints can be started on silver any time. Linderman is evidently a near kinsman of Balaam's saddle animal.

A. W. Strange, Esq., Lynchburg, Va., writes: "I use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup regularly for a hacking cough at night. It gives relief and puts me to sleep. It is much used here."
