HARMONIZING.

The religious elements have not harmonized so readily as the political. The northern and southern Methodists have not forgotten their old feuds. At Brooklyn recently, Dr. Talmage moved that each of the wings should send delegates to the other. That would look like harmonizing. We wish to see peace among professing christians especially. It is ugly to have politicians to be disturbing the peace and quiet of the country. With the latter angry words are expected, and must come, especially in these days of widespread peculation and corruption. For example, the Chatham railroad will swap bonds, payable in Confederate money, for good gold-bearing bonds. The people must be informed of it, and some of the gentlemen who get the advantage of the swap use cuss words against the man who tells the public about it. If there had been no public rogues among the radicals there would have been a better state of feeling between the conservatives and republicans. Certain conservatives, in the pay of the railroad corporations, attempted to bribe and buy us up. First, to accomplish the lease, then to exchange bonds in peace and quiet between the state and the Chatham road. We declined and hence the cuss words the bond-swappers have used upon us. These bond-swapping conservatives and democrats would have been harmonizing with the Sentinel, as they are with the cheap papers they have established themselves. Ugly conduct will beget criticism and criticism begets ugly words. We have often wondered if our Methodist and Presbyterian brethren are more resentful and unforgiving than Gen. Ransom, Gen. Gordon and the Confederate Generals now in Congress. If they can forgive and forget and live lovely and lovingly with their northern cousins, why cannot Presbyterians and Methodists do the same? We have heard it suggested that if there were high offices, good pay and mileage to be obtained by harmony of the religious societies, as there is by the political elements, then the reconcillation would be complete as it is between the politicians north and south. We repel such imputation upon the brethren and refuse to believe it, unless brother Bailey shall say there is something in it.

HUNTING DOWN CANDIDATES.

The newspapers all over the country are hunting down the men who are distasteful to them as candidates, or who are in the way of the candidate of their choice. Let a man be named and at him they go, because it diminishes the chance of some favorite for the place. The most to show to the people of Franklin that is said against Gov. Tilden because he has their interest at heart, but Mr. of some favorite for the place. The most is the strongest man and in the way of the most competitors. We have several communications against the nomination of Gov. Vance. A prominent official in Chatham writes that the county would not vote for Gov. Vance, because of the hostility of that county to secession and the war. A Johnston corres pondent is positive that Johnston county will be lost if Gov. Vance is the candi date.

JUST CONDEMNATION.

The House of Representatives is fearlessly performing a great public duty, and everywhere words of encouragement are sent up from the people to their representatives. The committee upon the Emma Mine investigation report thus:

First. Upon the authority of the dispatch of the Secretary of State that it was not proper for the American Minister at the Court of St. James to connect himself as a director of the Emma Mining Company of London. This position is confirmed by the authority of Phillimore (vol. 2, page 194), who says: In truth, every State ought, by expressly forbidding their ambassadors to combine engagements in private trade or commerce with the sacred duty of representation to recover and the contract of the company of the contract of th duty of representation, to prevent any question of the kind ever arising. The Roman law on this point deserves to be imitated, "Enim qui legatione fungitur, neque alienis neque propriis negotiis se interponere debeat."

Second. That the relations of General Schenck to the vendors of the Emma Mina were of such a character.

Emma Mine were of such a character as to cast suspicion upon his motives and subject his action to unfavorable criticism. But the committee believe that he was not guilty of a fraud, or of any fraudulent intention in his connec-tion with the company of the vendors of the mine.

Third. That his subsequent specula tive dealings in the shares of the com-pany were not compatible with his diplomatic station and the maintenance of a position of honor and usefulness at the court to which he was accredited.

the court to which he was accredited.

The committee, therefore, submit the following resolution, and unanimously recommend its passage by the House:

Resolved, That this House condemns the action of General Robert C. Schenck, United States Minister at the Court of St. James, in becoming a director of the Emwa Silver Mining Company of London, and his operations in connection with the shares of the said company and the vendors thereof, as illadvised, unfortunate and incompatible with the duties of his official position.

The committee, therefore, submit the radicals on this the great question of the day, then I say let us have democratic discopt. I again ask what are our members doing? Are they helping the western men or are they helping Wall street?

P. S. The indebtedness of the country, national, state, municipal and private, is put down at forty-two hundred millions. Restore specie and pay it in gold and you add about seven bundred millions to the amount. Quite an item. Enough to pay Carl Schurz to stump the states, besides Ohio.

The new cathedral at Baltimore was onsecrated Thursday. The Gazette of that city has this to say of the sermon delivered by Rt. Rev. James Gibbons, Bishop of Richmond and Vicariate Apostolic of North Carolina, on the Bishop-J. Gibbons, of Richmon delivered an excellent discourse on the subject of "Exterding the Churck," Taking his text, the command of the Saviour to the deciples, to "Go into the world and teach all nations, and baptize them in the name of the Lord," He said that on the day of the Feast of Ascension in 1821 this cathedral was Ascension in 1821 this cathedral was dedicated, and to-day is the vast audi-ence gathered to witness the solemn-ization of the ceremonies of consecra-tion. The lapse of fifty-five years be-tween the dedication and consecration is a long time, and the question may be asked, why is this? The church knows her destiny, which is to last forever and although expeditions, is never pre-cipitate; besides the perpetuity of the Catholic Church is established; her life, vigor and strength is unimpared. Its immortality is marvelous when we call to mind the numbers and variety of those against her. He referred to the persecutions which the church passed ough at the time of the dedication in 1821, and those who knew of it might well wonder that she had survived for fifty-three years. We saw her scat-tered like sheep without a shepherd, and all nations conspired to destroy the venerable Pontiff, who is the figure-head of the church. Such was the condition when the corner-stone was laid; but, thank God, that has passed away, and she is to day looked upon with large, and I do not doubt, sincere sympathy, and as one of the outposts of civilization. Reterring to the earlier ages, he continued: The church passed through persecutions unparalleled in history. Persecution in Rome was then in order, and to palliate those attrocities the victims were accused with most revolting crimes. If pestilence raged, or an earthquake occurred, it was ascribed to the christians, as was every other evil. But the infidel was compelled to submit to the sweet yoke of the gospel. I cannot stop to tell you of the history of the church from the seventh to the sixteenth century, when Ireland alone of all the nations of the north, remained loyal to the church; but the church knows that God is with her, and who can be against her? If it were of man it would have been destroyed, but it has not; therefore it is of God. She built a bridge from the past to the future, and she protects works of art. The churches, are not only temples of God, but museums of sacred art. The bishop then gave the comparative statistics of the church in 1806, when the corner-stone of the cathedral was laid, and the present.

After the sermon the concluding exercises were gone through with, the procession retired, and the congregation dispersed.

In speaking of the investigation of the frauds practiced by the republican officials in Franklin county, the Louisburg Courier has this to say about our Solicitor J. C. L. Harris :

Since the investigation by the County Commissioners of the frauds which have been committed against the coun-ty, and since there is a strong probability that the offenders will be caught and brought to grief, Mr. J. C. L. Harris, the Solicitor for this Judicial District, is spoiling to enter the fight. He wants Harris, you have let your opportunity slip for showing to the people of Frank-lin that you cared one cent for their in-terest. They asked you, through their terest. They asked you, through their grand jury, at the spring term of our court, to assist them in removing the foul stain from the otherwise fair name of their county; to assist them in bringing to justice those who had filched from her treasury until the whole county was almost bankrupt, and you refused. You turned a deaf ear to their entreaties, and now that they have determined to vindicate their county and place her vindicate their county and place her again in that high position which she oc-cupied before these recreant sons stained her fair name, you come forward and like a brave soldier to stab the dead enemy after the battle is over.

HARD VERSUS SOFT.

MR. EDITOR: It is admitted that a return to specie would work two results
1. All men who went in debt in 1. All men who went in debt in a greenback currency would by paying gold pay about one-sixth more than they agreed to pay. The contract would thus be "impaired" by a universal foray on all debtors in favor of all creditors. The creditor who lent out "rag money" would in getting gold be taking what an honest man would not accept.

2. All our taxes, all official salaries would be one-sixth heavier on the people than now.

The foregoing being clear we state the fact that the people of the south are groaning under their debts and heavy taxes. What are the members of Congress from the south doing? What are our members doing? We have heard nothing from them. Ohio, Indiana and other states have men there who are heard from on this currency who are heard from on this currency question. Why is it that our members question. Why is it that our members are "lying supinely on their backs? Why sit they all the day idle? The people of North Carolina demand more money. The universal ruin of every interest in the state has set the people to thinking. The question is becoming one of bread to the people. If our Senators and Representatives do not see that this state is interested against contraction they are not fit to be there. Let the people consider whether some of traction they are not fit to be there. Let the people consider whether some of them had not better be left at home. Democratic harmony is all staff. If we are to get democratic harmony only by giving up our interests and joining the radicals on this the great question of the day, then I say let us have democratic discopt. I again ask what are our members doing? Are they helping Wall street?

WAYLAND.

P. S. The indebtedness of the country. POLITICAL NOTES.

A Cincinuati music firm has published the "Bristow March." His "Requiem" will be out about the middle of June.

The Michigan democratic convention has elected the following delegates at large to the St. Louis convention: Wm. L. Wilber, Peter White, Terrill J. Mills, and Henry Chalbertin.

The Buffalo Express (rep.) persists in saying that Mr. Conking is not the first choice of the republican party in the state of New York, and that out side of it he has no support worth speaking of.

The Pittsburg Post says of the Ohio delegation: "Two, at least, of the delegates at large are Thurman men, and we incline to the opinion that a large majority of the district delegates will vote for him at St. Louis."

The republican convention of Nebraska has elected as delegates to the national convention at Cincinnati R. G. Brown, N. R. Pinney, L. W. Osborn, H. S. Koley, C. F. Bayhoof and A. Vance. They were instructed to vote for Blaine.

The republican convention of Minne-sota has elected nine out of her ten dele-gates to the Cincinnati convention in favor of Blaine. Alexander Ramsey heads the delegation. The convention adopted strong resolutions in favor of Blaine.

The Missouri republican convention has elected the following delegates to the Cincinnati convention: Benj. B Loane, R. T. Van Horn, G. A. Finklin-berg and James T. Smith, colored. The delegation is divided, a plurality being for Blaine.

Senator Dennis and Congressman O'Brien and Walsh, of Maryland, favor the nomination of Mr. Bayard, and the Baltimore Gazette says that they represent the democratic sentiment of their state. Mr. Lamar of Mississippi, also favors him.

The Galena Press says: We are satisfied that the first choice of democrats, as well as independents of our state would be Judge Davis; but this is not saving that there are no other men on whom the choice might fall who would carry the state against the republicans.

E. H. Rollins is thought to be ahead in the New Hampshire senatorial contest with ex-Governor Stearns close behind him. - Other candidates are Senator Cragin, Gilman Marston, A. F. Pike, Mason W. Tappan, Levi W. Barton, Aaron F. Stearns and O. C. Moore,

The Pittsburg Post says the bugle call for the St. Louis Convention will be no "forced contraction, no forced expansion, no forced resumption."
Candidates who are not pepared to stand upon this had better take a back seat, or prepare for a first-class funeral

The Boston Post thinks that the fatal fault of the address of the reform conference in New York is that it denie the responsibility of the republican party for its long term of maladminis-tration. Strip political parties of that and the people have no guarantee at all for the proper administration of the government.

The Alabama republican convention assembled at Montgomery Wednesday. Foster Blodgett, of Georgia, was pres-ent, and was received with eclat. Most of the delegates present were internal revenue collectors, postmasters and clerks and deputies from the United States Marshal's office. The Kansas republican convention met Wednesday. The sentiment of the convention was strongly in favor of Blaine

It promises to be war to the knife between Ames and Alcorn. Ames accuses Alcorn of being the cause of the loss of Mississippi to the radicals, and Alcorn's blood being up, he is charging Ames with all manner of corruption and rascalty. The Mississippi com-mittee will give Alcorn a chance to tell what he knows, and probably Morton cause to bewail that he so pertinacious-ly insisted upon its appointment.

The Illinois republican convention, The Illinois republican convention, Wednesday, appointed Joseph Robbins, R. G. Ingersoll, G. B. Raum and George S. Bangs delegates at large to the Cincinnati convention. Shelby M. Cullum was nominated for Governor, Andrew Thuman for Lieutenant Governor, George H. Harlow for Secretary of State, Thomas B. Needles for State Auditor, E. S. Rutts for State Treasurer, J. K. Edsall for Attorney General. Some "bloody shirt" resolutions were passed: also one shirt" resolutions were passed; also one expressive of confidence in Gen. Grant's administration.

The St. Louis Globe, McKee's newspaper, is enthusiastic for Blaine. It says: "Of all the aspirants to the presidential chair he is the only one who is equally at home in all parts of the Union, and who has acquired an universal popularity because he has thought and acted and lived as a national statesman." Stuff and nonsense.

Mr. Blaine is popular because he has been for years helping every struggling railroad and loaning them his money for the last fifteen years. Mr. Blaine is a public benefactor.

A New Mustard Plaster.—The medical value of a mustard plaster is understood in every family. Much time is spent in preparing a poultice and often the mustard is of poor quality and will not act, causing great suffering. This trying inconvenience is now perfectly overcome by Benson's Prepared Mustard Plaster. It is a great improvement on the ordinary article. It is very clean and can be applied and removed without discoloring the clothing or soiling the skin. It does not deteriorate with age. It is always reliable, as only the best quality of mustard is used in its preparation. It is ready for use at any moment, by simply dipping it in water. It is sold in half yard pieces at 25 cents per roll by all druggist. Sent by mail on receipt of price, by
