LOCAL DOTS.

The negro volunteer military company drill every night.

Hon. A. S. Merrimon, our able U. S. Senator, is in the city.

Chapel Hill and St. John's picnic emptied the city yesterday.

The Board of Aldermen meet to-night.

No funding proposition, if you please, gentlemen.

The Raleigh Light Infantry has decided not to join the excursion to Norfolk on the 8th inst.

The dying dirge of the doomed delegate is dreadfully deleterious to the delicate nerves of some of our down town dear ones.

A party of our citizens have purchased the fish in Penny's pond and they will commence to draw off the water to-morrow.

Yesterday afternoon the Citizens' Cornet band enlivened things by rendering excellent music in the capitol square.

A number of young ladies on their way home from the Greensboro Female College stopped at the National this morning.

Our pot-house politicians are trying to start the fire under the political cauldron. Ram mill and corner canons are the order of the day and night.

Among the democrats of this city there are quite a number of Hendricks men, but Bayard seems to have the strongest following. Tilden don't show much strength.

Commencement exercises at Peace Institute take place on the 14th inst. On the evening of the 15th inst., Rev. J. Henry Smith, of Greensboro, delivers the annual address.

Rev. Dr. Vaughan, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city, has been on a visit to Greensboro. The good people of Greensboro were delighted with the Doctor.

Messrs. D. W. Bain, S. D. Waitt, John Nichols, J. B. Neathery and W. P. Wetherell, leave for Charlotte to-morrow in order to attend the meeting of the Grand Chapter in that city next Monday. Acting Grand High Priest, Col. T. S. Kanan, of Wilson, will also be present.

This is likely to be a lively month. The State Supreme and U. S. Circuit Courts convene next Monday. On the 14th the democratic state convention will assemble, and on the 12th of next month will be followed by the republican state convention.

PARDONED FROM ALBANY.

United States Marshal Hill, of this city, has received a warrant of pardon from the President for John Henning, of Robeson county, who was put in the penitentiary at Albany some six months since for robbing the United States mail.

RAILROAD RATES.

Delegates to the democratic-conservative state convention, assembling in Raleigh June 14th, will be passed over the Wilmington & Weldon road at the rate of three cents per mile each way. In order to obtain this rate round trip tickets should be purchased at the starting station.

DR. NALL, THE SPECIALIST.

A gentleman rode twenty-five miles on a bed last week to this city to consult Dr. Nall, the specialist. Another gentleman residing in Raleigh has so much improved recently, while under treatment from Dr. Nall, that when he went home his dog did not recognize him. Dr. Nall is meeting with much success in his profession.

RESPIED YESTERDAY.

Yesterday Gov. Brogden respited Elias Powell, the negro murderer, until July 7th. Powell is the negro who murdered a merchant named Cohen at Whitaker's sometime ago, and was to have been hanged at Halifax to-day. We learn that the respite is not preliminary to a pardon or commutation, but was granted at the urgent request of counsel and spiritual advisers in order that the condemned might have ample time to prepare for his end. We are informed that after the above mentioned date the Governor will not again interfere.

A NEW ADVERTISING IDEA.

Messrs. W. H. & R. S. Tucker have struck upon a new mode of advertising—new to this latitude. In order to call special attention to the various attractions in their magnificent establishment they have employed the Citizens' Cornet band to play each Saturday afternoon between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock, during the summer season. This is a beautiful and novel idea in the advertising line, and at the same time encourages a very promising band in their practice. The band will occupy the iron balcony just over the front entrance of the store.

CURIOSITIES FOR THE CENTENNIAL.

On Monday Mr. J. A. Dugan, of Williamson, Warren county, N. C., arrived here en route to Philadelphia with a curiosity for exhibition at the centennial in the shape of a negro with a perfect horn, some four inches long, growing out of the forehead between the left eye and the nose. The negro's name is Drawey Riddick. He is sixty-five years old, and a resident of Warren county. The horn commenced to grow thirty years ago, but has been cut off repeatedly. The present excrescence has grown within the past four years.

Another gentleman from Warren county arrived Monday, having in charge a five-legged calf, which he expects to reap a fortune among the centennialists. The entire party left Monday night on the Clyde steamer Alliance.—Norfolk Landmark.

Anna Browder denies the report that there has been an epidemic in Rome this season. Rome, she declares, is as healthy as Boston or Philadelphia, and much healthier than London, Paris or Vienna.

ST. JOHN'S PIC-NIC.

The Catholics of this city, and their friends, had a most enjoyable pic-nic at the new fair grounds on yesterday. During the forenoon and early afternoon omnibuses and carriages were running to the grounds, crowded at every trip, and the large dining room in the grand stand was soon filled with company of both sexes, young and old. The young people were dancing at intervals from 12 o'clock m. until sunset, and the more sedate were engaged in pleasant chats about the old times and the new, and looking at the dance and enjoying the fine music by Stanley's band. The spacious grounds afforded full space for walks and drives without, while the gay festivities went on within the grand stand, which seemed admirably adapted to the occasion. The day was balmy and beautiful, and the view from the grand stand was very fine. Raleigh, to the east, embowered in oaks and elms, apparently very near, but too far away to send even a murmur of its life to the fair grounds, appeared to sleep in the mellowed glory of the sun, while the horizon beyond, rimmed with blue, formed an enchanting picture. But there were pictures within the spacious hall where the dance went on, which were more captivating than these distant views, and substantial in edibles and innocent drinkables, to which full justice was done by all.

THE COMPANY LINGERED.

The company lingered, and at last dispersed about sunset, leaving very pleasant recollections with all who participated in these festivities. We do not know anything better calculated than gatherings like these to promote good feeling among our people. On such occasions all classes who are respectable meet and mingle, and learn to know each other better and to esteem one another more. The members of the different churches are also more closely united as neighbors and friends, and unworthy prejudices are dissipated into thin air. Such was this occasion of the St. John's pic-nic. We saw persons of all classes and the different denominations present, and the Catholic and Protestant were side by side in friendly converse. Nothing whatever occurred to mar the festive day, and we feel sure that every one who was present will long remember with pleasure the enjoyments of the occasion.

BLOOD FOR BLOOD.

How SIX MURDERERS WERE LYONED.—The telegraph announced the lynching of a few days since, near Edgemoor, South Carolina, of six colored men, charged with the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon, a venerable and influential white couple. The Charleston News and Courier says when the inquest closed the prisoners were delivered into the custody of the sheriff for commitment to jail. But immediately the Sheriff was seized by the crowd, which numbered about six hundred persons, his head was hastily covered with a bag, and he was carried off by force and confined. All of the prisoners were taken by the crowd, which was composed of both black and white citizens, and marched to a point half a mile from the scene of the murder. There the six men who had committed the crime were tied firmly together in a row, and five minutes were given to them to pray, at the expiration of which time a volley of one hundred shots were fired, and the six wretches fell dead to the ground. About three hundred men took part in the last act of the lynching. They were variously armed with rifles, shot guns and pistols. No masks were worn by anybody, and there was no exhibition of any excitement of any kind; no loud talking, and no whisky. Previous to their execution two of the men confessed the murder for several weeks. After the murder the house was gutted of everything valuable, and a part of the goods were recovered in the hands of one of the men who was executed.

WE HAVE NO REASON TO BE DISCOURAGED.

about the Centennial. The number of paying visitors for the first thirteen days aggregate 238,734, whilst the number visiting the Vienna Exposition for the first thirteen days only numbered 72,729, showing that the pay visitors to the American Exhibition are more than three times as numerous thus far as these to the Vienna Exposition during the corresponding period, whilst the price of admission is about the same.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

In answer to "Alphabetical," in your last issue, for a remedy for consumption in its first stages, I can recommend Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," if taken according to directions, for it has been thoroughly tried in my family, and the results were glorious. "Alphabetical" must not expect one bottle to do the work—my wife took three bottles before she could discover any change, but after the third bottle every dose seemed to strengthen the lungs, and now she is well and hearty. If "Alphabetical" will write to me I will get witnesses to the above.

TAR DROPS.

Randolph Regulator: Not but one marriage, no runaways, in fact nothing but loathing.

Murfreesboro Enquirer: The revival at the Baptist church is still in progress, and will continue all the week.—The number of converts so far are about twenty.

Randolph Regulator: The plan for renovating our court-house is now on file in the office of the Register of Deeds. It was drawn by Lyndon Swain, architect of Greensboro.

Greensboro Patriot: The dedication service of the Baptist church will take place on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Eld. C. Durham, of Durham, N. C., will preach the dedication sermon.

Charlotte Observer: Capt. Waring announces through a card in another column that he is not a candidate for the nomination for the Senate, and would not accept it if tendered to him.

Greensboro Patriot: C. P. Mendenhall's peacock is meandering all over town, in doing his level best to run opposition to the locomotive in the screaming way—with the odds in his favor.

Charlotte Observer: The congressional convention meets at Wadesboro one week from Monday. By this time next week we shall know who will carry our congressional banner in the coming campaign.

Winston Sentinel: The managers of the fourth of July celebration made a judicious selection when they elected Wm. G. Glenn orator of the day. Mr. Glenn is a graceful and eloquent speaker and something good may be expected from him on the glorious fourth.

Murfreesboro Enquirer: We learn there has been a petition circulating around in favor of releasing the youth, Henry T. Barnes, sent to the penitentiary at last court. We understand that good many signed it, and the father of Barnes, it is said, started to Raleigh on foot.

Murfreesboro Enquirer: Elias Powell will be executed at Halifax Friday for the murder of a Jew in Edgemoor county in 1874. He was removed to Halifax for trial, was convicted, and appeal was taken and was overruled. He was re-sentenced by Judge Henry on May 18th, and will be executed Friday morning between the hours of 6 and 7.

Randolph Regulator: What's that whistle? We are 22 miles from any railroad. Upon inquiring we have found out that the noise emanates from one of the boarders at P. H. Barn's hotel. He looks through the grates and gives forth his whistles with such good mimicry that any engineer would be misled if he could not see him.

Charlotte Observer: Another interesting work which Mr. Bailey owns is the first law book ever printed in North Carolina. It is what is known as the "Yellow Jacket," so called, it is said, on account of the color of the binding, it being of yellow leather. This book is Swann's Revised, and is a compilation of all the acts of Assembly of the Province, then in force. The book was printed in Newbern by Jas. Davis in 1752.

THE STRUGGLES OF LIFE.—From the cradle to the grave life is full of struggles. Some struggle for riches, some for pleasure, some for honor, and others struggle to regain that greatest of all blessings—health—and in their efforts they often resort to means which place it farther and farther out of their reach. They take drastic compounds, which shock the system, or violent minerals which poison by degrees and thus the vital energies are weakened and the very fountains of life polluted. Nature provides remedies for every disease, and it is from the vegetable kingdom that Dr. TUTT'S LIVER PILLS derive their ingredients, and in their use there is the nappy certainty that if they do no good, they do no harm. But of their efficacy, thousands who have been cured of diseased liver, kidneys, spleen stomach and bowels, live to-day to testify.

A NEW MUSTARD PLASTER.—The medical value of a mustard plaster is understood in every family. Much time is spent in preparing a poultice and often is applied of poor quality and will not act, causing great suffering. This not act, causing great suffering. This not act, causing great suffering. This not act, causing great suffering.

CENTENNIAL TOPICS.

The Liberal League of Philadelphia discussed the Sunday opening question last Sunday and did its best to prevent a rational settlement of the question by inveighing against "priestly rule" and abusing christianity generally.

The proprietors of the places of amusement are cheered by the estimate that there are only 20,000 strangers in Philadelphia now, but that there will be 100,000 a month hence. There are more than forty-two places of entertainment open.

Whittier's centennial hymn was sung in the old Christ church in Philadelphia last Sunday. This most venerable of revolutionary edifices was thronged. The ode was well given, a special choir of one hundred voices being joined to the chorus of boys.

Those who are in favor of opening the exhibition on Sunday have begun to hold mass meetings. A very large one convened at Muncial Fair Hall on Saturday evening, and flowed over into the street, where a second was organized. Gen. H. H. Bingham presided. Col. Forney was among the speakers.

The Thomas orchestra did not play on Saturday evening, owing to a disagreement with the management of the Woman's Centennial Music Hall. The orchestra desired a guaranty of regular and prompt payment. Many gentlemen, it is intimated, are ready to come forward and supply capital for the continuance of the concerts.
