The Executive Committee was instructed to make inquiries for suitable candidates, it being the purpose of the board to elect none but a first-class man and an expert in organizing and conducting agricultural colleges, a man not only of attainments, but possessed of energy and of real and practical views.

The reports of the faculty and the individual professors were submitted and considered.

STATE CONVENTION.

North Carolina Democratic Council.

OVER ONE THOUSAND DELEGATES PRESENT.

ALL THE COUNTIES REPRESENTED EXCEPT ONE.

HON. Z. B. VANCE Nominated for Governor.

Such an outpouring of the best elements of our state has never been before seen. Representative men from all parts of the state are here in the interest of our noble old commonwealth.

Long before the convention was called to order Metropolitan hall was packed with eager delegates. On the chairman's stand was a beautiful pyramid of fragrant flowers, the testimonial of the deep interest that the pure and good women of the land feel in the success of the party of reform.

The convention was called to order by Gen'l W. R. Cox, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, who nominated for temporary chairman, J S Dancy, of Edgecombe, and for secretaries, Robert Furman, of Buncombe, and Henry A London, of Chatham.

On motion the following committees were appointed, viz: Committee on Credentials—Messrs. W C Troy, F D Watson, P B Means, M T McCauley, J E Whitley, Jas Shepherd, J S Dancy, H R Bryant, B H Bunn, W H Yarbrough, Daniel Worth, C G Yates, P G Carlton, J A Bellamy, R McBrays and John Reed.

Committee on Permanent Organization—Messrs. D D Ferrebee, Bryan Grimes, Speer Whitaker, F. A. Woodard, S. L. Freeman, J B Davis, J S Amis, A M Noble, Geo Williamson, Walter W King, J H Wilson, L L Polk, Chas Price, E M Ervin, S L Love and A H Boyden.

Committee on Platform.—Messrs. J E Moore, H N Gilliam, R B Peebles, W T Dortch, H B Short, J N Stallings, C M Busbee, John Manning, J M Leach, A J Boyd, C David, S F Finger, T S Tucker, F J McMillan, T L Clingman and J L Robinson.

On motion of Robinson, of Macon, Aunt Abby House, who has been identified with the democratic party for a number of years, was invited to a seat on the floor, when this venerable lady came forward amidst great applause and took her seat among the delegates.

During the absence of the committees Messrs. W. N. H. Smith, Maurice Waddell, Rob't Strange, Walter L Steele, and Seaton Gales entertained the convention in short and patriotic speeches.

The committee on credentials reported every county represented with the exception of Gaston.

The committee on permanent organization recommended the following officers, which were elected unanimously: President—F B Shober. Vice Presidents—Dr D T Taylor, H G Williams, J W Graham, J G LeGrand, J C McRae, E S Parker, J S Henderson and J W Wilson.

The following gentlemen were placed in nomination: Messrs. Z. B. Vance, D. G. Fowie, D. S. Reid, W. R. Cox, J. A. Gilmer, C. C. Clarke and W. F. Martin.

The vote was on the basis of the Merriam-Caldwell election, and resulted, Vance 862, Reid 4. The result was announced by the chair amid tremendous applause.

Our report must close here in order to save our mail.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF THE BAPTIST FEMALE SEMINARY.—The exercises at this school last evening consisted of Anthem, Thus, Oh Lord, is the Greatness. Prayer by Rev. Dr. J. M. Atkinson. Announcement of distinctions and conferring of diplomas by Prof. Hobbgood, and presentation of Bible by Rev. C. T. Bailey.

Annual address by Rev. J. B. Taylor of Wilmington, N. C. Anthem, Lord of my Salvation. Benediction.

There was a large and select audience, the weather was pleasant, and all the exercises were of the most interesting character. The music, as usual in this school, was of rare excellence.

The address was one of the most appropriate and interesting of any that it has ever been our good fortune to hear. It was unique, and evinced very careful preparation. The speaker's manner was animated, being of the nervous kind, and the interest of the young ladies to whom the address was made, as well as that of the entire audience, was sustained throughout its delivery.

After the exercises were concluded, the audience was invited to remain and inspect the paintings and drawings of the young ladies. There were about sixty very handsome ones decorating the walls of the chapel. The annual concert occurs to-night. The paintings and drawings will be on exhibition this afternoon from 4 to 6 1/2 o'clock.

Delegates attending the democratic convention are cordially invited to attend. We can safely promise them some unusually fine singing.

FASHION NOTES.

Cream color is on the wane. Very little false hair is worn. Frizettes are no longer fashionable. Chateaines continue in great favor. Fashionable shirt bosoms remain plain. Corsages are still made in curiass shape. Smyrna lace grows in fashionable favor. Calico grows more and more fashionable. The "Baby bonnet" is the rage in Paris. Gentlemen's fashions follow English styles.

Silver pearl gray is the latest fashionable color. Polonaises are all provided with long side pockets. Gentlemen's cuffs have the corners cut off or rounded. Egyptian and Byzantine styles of jewelry are in vogue. Shoes in the place of boots will be much worn this summer.

Linen suits are braided in rows, not in set figures as formerly. Skirts are tied back around the knee, instead of the hips, as they were.

A magnificent silk fabric lately introduced is called "Empress of India."

Most of the percale and calico suits have buttons that only half fit the figure.

Five seams in the back of cuirasses and polonaises are becoming to stout women.

Gentlemen's business suits are of checks and large plaids, brown and gray mixtures.

Skirts worn with any bodice simulate being open from the waist over an underkirt.

Marie Stuart and Cathrine de Medici hats or rather bonnets, are coming in vogue.

Tulle ruffles sprinkled with delicate flowers are worn under the brims of hats and bonnets.

English gray and brown mixtures, in all shades, are much in demand in traveling dress fabrics.

Skirts that are worn with cuirasses or coal bodice simulate an open train over an underskirt.

The newest thing in parasols is a vignette of colored or white cut glass finishing the handles.

The "woman's friend" is what Dr. Bull's Vegetable Pills may well be termed, for every woman that has once used them will not be without them.

We were shown a centennial horn this week by Mr. John Wilgoff. It was carried through the battle of King's Mountain, by Mr. Wilgoff's father, and has been kept ever since as a family relic.—Hickory Press.

THE SWEET OLD FASHION OF LOVING!

O, 'tis sad, and work to love and lose! And so much of it makes us weary. As we stumbl' ahead on the road of life Where the shadows are long and dreary; But I'd rather die of loving too well! And that fatal love approving, Than that ever my heart should forget to dwell On the sweet old fashion of loving!

O, take, if you will, the red from my cheek, And take the pulse from my hand, And darken my eyes from the spring-time light. And the blossoming of the land; Take all of the rest, that is fairest and best, And mightiest at heart moving; But leave me, to take to the far country, The sweet old fashion of loving!

And though it may bring the tears to my eyes, And may bid the pain to my heart; And kindle the hunger for what is not That makes love's bitterest part; As the nightingale hides the thorn in her breast, Though the pain be past all proving, I'll cling to mine, if with it must go The sweet old fashion of loving!

A CARD FROM MR. KINGSBURY.—Mr. Kingsbury is out in this morning's News in a card declaring that he is not a candidate for the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction. Here is what he says on the subject:

The mention of my name recently in the public prints in connection with the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction was without my seeking, although I am grateful for any kind expressions indulged. I have never been a candidate for any political office, although editing newspapers in many heated canvasses and with my pen assisting others to win. I am not now a candidate, as I have received no special indications that the state needs my services. Blessed with a due share of that sort of disinterested patriotism that does not despise the sweet emoluments of place, I am none the less a partial victim of that exploded political tenet of the past, that the office, or the people, if you prefer, should seek the man.
