ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE FUTURE OF THE SENTINEL.

the Raleigh Sentinel, with its na e that, on the first day of July, they will issue a first-class morning daily and weekly democratic paper nder the name of the Sentinel. They hereby invoke the support and end gement of all the people of North Carolina, who desire to see pern ly established at the capital of the state, a wide-awake, vigorous des cratic newspaper, worthy of one of the oblest commonwealths in the south.

In the meantime, the Sentinel will oe continued, daily, semi-weekly and weekly, as at present.

The terms of the aily and Weekly Sentinel will remain unchanged. GEO. A. SMITE.

York, speaking of the appropriation ress, says that "the qu e trivial, a mere quarrel between two odies, which a little yielding on both aldes may compromise." Is a matter of forty or fifty millions of dollars a nomy against extra an anomised by a little yielding on both sides? Can either branch of Congress descend to the disgraceful plan of olitting the difference? The absorbing lasue of the Centennial campaign is that of retrenchment and reform, and the people demand that the House shall late republican convention, ex-Gov. Noves said he had defeated successfully Thurman, Pendleton and Wm. Allen. This was true, but not a good point. If my one chooses to investigate he will find that Hayes is not a strong candidate even lo his own state, and each time that he has been elected it has been by the "akin of his teeth." He first ran for Governor against Judge rman in 1867. The year before the lican candidate for Secretary of State had been elected by a majority of 42,696. Hayes received about 13,000 tes less, and his majority was only 2.983, while the excellent leadership of Thurman gave the democrats the Legislature for the first time in ten years. The next year the republicans carried the state by 17,383, and Grant had a majority of 41,428. The year after, 1869, Hayes was again a candidate for Governor when the republican majority ipped to 7,518, but the succeeding ing year, when Hayes was not on the ticket, it run up to 13,831. Last fall white flagoristan on the ticket agains Allen he got through with the meagre majority of 5,544 in an aggregate vote of 592,683. During fifteen campaigns in Ohio, when Hayes has not been on the ticket, the average republican majority has been 28,915; in the three ections when his name headed the licket the majority has averaged but 5,348. His majorities bave been 23,-567 less than the average of his party. There is nothing about such a candidate hard to beat. Under the changed condition of things it is not improbable he may be beaten in his own republican

JUDGE KERR AT CHURCH.

[Beaufort Eagle.] MR. Erron:-At 4 o'clock, p. m the bell was rung and a large congregation assembled in the Baptist Church of this place, on last Sunday, for the case of hearing a lecture from Judge r, of Beidaville. After reading the rges of Paul to Timothy and Titus very emphatic manner, he then ad-sed himself to the congregation and that if he was a regular preacher. escot himself to the congregation and id, that if he was a regular preacher, would take a very short text. These a the words from which he quoted d from which he preached, for did preach, "I have fought a od fight." The Judge, we beve, has both the faith and the leve, has both the faith and the works. He said the world in which we live is a battlefield, and the enemies with which we have to contend are many and varied in their character. Self is our greatest enemy, and the one mardest to be conquered, but when we can cry victory over self, the battle is well-nigh won. He spoke of the greatness of Paul, but says he is not a follower of him. He points out Jesus as his exemplar and bids all men to follow him. The Judge spoke for an hour and twenty-nine minutes to the edification of all who heard him. We hope our good brother will give us another call. TRUTH.

CARL SCHURZ AND HIS INDE-PENDENTS.

Beaufort, June 20, 1876.

It is said that we are to have the liberal republican sides here as well as at Cincinnati. John Cochran, of New York, has engaged rooms here, and Carl Schurz will also be on hand ostensibly to deliver a speech to his German tellow-citizens on the evening of the 4th of July. It is well known, however, that he is to be here in the interest of Tilden. His paper, the Westlieche Post, has not yet endorsed the Cincinnati ticket, but says it will wait to see the result of the Democratic deliberations here.

Post and Schurz will go in mocratic ticket.—St. Louis

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY.

And now the New York republicans are greaning over the lost opportunity to name the next President of the United States. But the New York delegation went to Cincinnati with its hands tied, and came away without glory. Neither New York nor Pennsylvania will be able to look back upon that occasion with much pride.—Philadelphia North American (Rep.)

Every vote thrown for Hayes and Wheeler outside the disciplined party ranks must be hardly earned, and if the St. Louis convention makes the most of its opportunities, there is no reason, either in politics or patriotism, to prevent the return of the democracy to power on the 4th of next March. But we cannot afford to make a mistake. Boston Courier (Dem.)

It would be folly to my that it will n to would be folly to say that it will not be a difficult task to defeat Hayes. His strength as a candidate consists in his weakness. It would not be easy to find flaws in the record of a man who has no national record. But it will be a pleasant thing to be able to eliminate personalities from the canvass, and to conduct the campaign week as a second of the campaign week. the campaign upon a square issue be-tween the parties.—St. Louis Times (Dem.)

Governor Hayes' chances for election are but meagre if the convention at St. Louis acts wisely and nominates Governor Hendricks. Such action on its part is most probable, and to us seems a necessity, since the republican nominee is a western man. With Mr. Hendricks as our candidate, Indiana will go democratic without a doubt, and the chance of his carrying Ohio is good.—Indianapolis Sentinel (Dem.)

There is abundant evidence that by those who advanced Hayes he was no more intended to be a candidate than Dom Pedro. His qualifications as a dummy were, however, those befitting such a compromise as amounted to a such a compromise as amounted to a general hari-kari of every man in the An infamous administration hides be-hind a private gentleman. But if he is in the way he will get hurt.—Milwankee News (Dem.)

The sally difficulty that will be ex-perioned in the coming campaign for Hayes is a lack of perional interest in Hayes is a lack of personal interest in the man, however unexceptionable be may be as a candidate. What the party needed was a great leader, full of personal magnetism, who could win the people: Popular enthusiasm is flat. The only hope we see is for Blaine to still bear the burden and lead the people in the campaign by his personal magnetism.—Troy Whig (Rep.)

Our latest advices show that Governor Tilden will have, in the beginning, New England almost solid, New York, the Pacific States and the Northwest. In addition to this, he will carry a large vote in the south. His chances at this time are undoubtedly much the best for the nomination. But there's many a slip, &c. The decision of a political convention, like that of a petit jury, is one of the things sceptical people doubt if even God Almighty can foretell.—Dayton (O.) Democrat (Dem.)

We are reliably informed that it is the programme of the radical party to carry at least five of the southern states at all hazards, viz: North Caro-lina, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississ-ippi and Louisiana, and they propose to give up the other states and devote their entire strength to this purpose. We entire strength to this purpose. We should therefore leave nothing undone, and if we do more than is actually necessary we can rejoice that their defeat is

The battle of 1876 is toward the setchosen since Harrison; and it may keenly wound the pride of the Empire State, whose thirty-five votes it regards as certain to be omnipotent in the electoral college; but it is the truth that both will float to republicanism or to democracy as Ohio and Indiana shall unitedly create the tidal wave in Oct. unitedly create the tidal wave in Octo-ber. Theorize as men may, there is the picture of the battle-field of 1876.— Philadelphia Times (Ind.)

Philadelphia Times (Ind.)

The southern delegates will come to St. Louis prepared to offer assurances that 116 electoral votes will be given the nominee of the convention, and they propose to allow the representatives of the party who are only required to assure its success by carrying enough states to cast sixty-nine votes to name the candidates and construct the platform upon which the contest must be fought out. The southern democrats are in earnest this time, and they propose to make any sacrifice of their own predilections in order that victory may be assured.—Little Bock Herald (Dem.)

MRS. TILTON POOR AND IN NEED, Mrs. Tilton sews for a living now. She seems to be the only one of the entire set that is trodden down and stoned. Theodore cares a respectable compaast that is trodden down and stoned. Theodore earns a respectable competency and is somewhat liouized by his lactures. Henry Ward B. secops in cash by the ten and hundred thousand dollars at a time. The poor woman is turned out to live the best way she can. None seem to have any decency in the matter. If Beecher be innocent why is Mrs. Tilton slighted and snubbed by the Pharisees of wicked Brooklyn? None of the lot have the manhood to stand by the woman who, whether innocent or guilty, merits their assistance.

SKETCH OF SECRETARY MOR

ing a long service in the Senate to the questions of finance which will constantly come before him in his new office. He was born at Beigrade, May, on May 3, 1813, and at 21 years of age entered Waterville College, where, however, he remained only a short time. In 1834 he began to study law, and five years afterward was admitted to the bar. During the 14 years which followed he acquired a lucrative, practice, and also became a prominent leader of the democratic party in the state. In the years state Strate in 1856 he was elected President of that body. The discussion of the slavery question grew fleroer throughout the country during 1855, in view of the approaching contest for the presidency in 1856, and many democrata, dissatisfied with the course of their party on this question, entored the republican party. Mr. Morrill had never defended alayery, had long disliked the institution, and therefore when his party seemed to favor the introduction of slavery into Kansas, he denounced its course and severed his connection with it. The republicans welcomed him to their ranks, nominated him for Governor in 1857, and elected him by a majority of over 15,000 votes. His administration was so successful that he was twice re-elected Governor, serving in that office in 1858, 1859 and 1860.

With the year 1860 came the election

re-elected Governor, serving in that office in 1858, 1859 and 1860.

With the year 1860 came the election of one of the United States Senators from the state, Hannibal Hamlin, as Vice-President, and Mr. Morrill was chosen by the state Legislature to serve out the remainder of Mr. Hamlin's term. He took his seat as Senator on Jan. 17, 1861, and was appointed a member of the committees on commerce, District of Columbia, and claims. In 1861 he attended the ineffectual "peace conference." During the stormy two years which followed he supported the government is reasy to seading the course was so warmly approved by his party in his native state that in the year 1863 he was re-elected to the Senate for a term ending in 1869. During this term he served as chairman of the committee on expenses, of the committee on the District of Columbia, of the committee on appropriations, and of the committee on Indian affairs. In a contest for the following term with Mr. Hamlin he was defeated in the republican caucus by one vote, and the latter was accordingly elected by the Legislature. Upon the death of Senator Fessendon in 1869, Mr. Morrill was appointed to serve out the former's unexpired form. In the year 1871 he was again elected United States Senator by the state Legislature, his term to expire on March 3, 1877. He has always favored hard-money measures, voting against the inflation bill which the President vehard-noney measures, voting against the inflation bill which the President vetoed, and in favor of the resumption act. He recently delivered a speech in the Benate advocating the resumption of specie payments.
