SUBSCRIBERS.

TO ALL OF THE LIVING SUBSCRIBERS AND READERS OF THE SENTINEL FROM ITS FOUNDATION.

All persons now living, who have ever been subscribers and readers of the Sentinel since its establishment by the late and lamented Rev. Wm. E. Pell, are respectfully solicited to again become subscribers and readers of the paper. In everything that is desirable, we promise to make it equal to what the Sentinel ever was, either under the management of Mr. Pell or Mr. Turner.

ADVERTISERS.

TO THE OLD ADVERTISING PATRONS OF THE SENTINEL.

The old patrons of the Sentinel in Raleigh are respectfully and earnestly solicited to resume business relations with the paper, and renew their contracts. It is especially desired to have them do so before the first of July, as the paper will on that date appear entirely renewed and perfectly restored. All advertisements handed in under such contracts, between this and July, will be published to that date free of charge.

Mr. John C. Syme, an old institution of the Sentinel is on hand, and will make contracts to date from the beginning of the last half year, with pleasure.

LOCAL NOTICES.

We are all looking steady. Every man is a turn coat.

The Exchange hotel had green corn yesterday gathered fresh from the garden.

Round trip ten day tickets to Morehead City, $4.35, on sale at Central depot.

Mocking birds are brought from the country and sold on the streets at a dollar and a half a pair.

Grant will be present at the republican convention. He has engaged rooms at the National hotel for July 1st.

The gentleman with a flat head and whose ears stick out like an ape's was disappointed in not getting his accustomed place on the jury this week.

Professor Norman left with his lady to New York this morning. The stay they made here was pleasant to the community and fraught with impressions that will remain pleasing so long as music hath its charms.

Our old friend John G. Williams, the banker, has for thirty years been a regular teacher in the Baptist church Sunday school. He meets every day with his old scholars on the highway of life and if one of them does beat a bass drum in a brass band, he does it well and is always on time.

A number of young ladies in town who are longing for a promenade upon the wave-washed beach, with some nice young men handsome enough to come here and elope for keeps, are anxiously enquiring when is that excursion to Beaufort. Somebody that knows will please answer.

They are catching chameleons in Moore county, and a horned frog is now on show in a box at the Yarbore, while Phil Walker has two young alligators in a large tub of water. The mind of the people is to quit work and go hunting for animals. We are digging for a mole in the garden.

The association of manufacturing chemists of the United States met in annual convention in Philadelphia Thursday. After re-electing the present officers the association held a private business meeting. The members visited the centennial exhibition grounds in the after noon, and a banquet was given them at the Union League House in the evening.

John C. Syme is for the present in charge of the Sentinel. He is a fully authorized manager, and all his contracts and engagements with patrons are binding on the future of the paper.

SUPERIOR COURT.—The morning was spent in organizing and charging the juries. Nearly all the witnesses were called. A submission was made in the case of Smith who is now in jail for murdering the woman in this county he wanted to marry. Smith pleads crazy.

THE SWERNOS TRIAL.—It is set for Wednesday. Judge Watts ordered to day one hundred good and honest and intelligent free-holders, men who paid their taxes last year and have paid them for this, to be summoned here a special venue to get a way to try the case of the state against George W. Swenson for the killing of Adolphus G. Moore.

THE CITY CASE.—SUPEREDDEAS TO BE ASKED.—The mandamus before Judge Watts last Saturday was decided in favor of Goffman and his board, and on the 29th Maule and his board are ordered to surrender the public property to Goffman, and are restrained from exercising any public functions. There was an appeal to the supreme court, and it being contended that the judgment must be obeyed notwithstanding supersedeas, it was ordered that a writ of supersedeas will be moved for before the supreme court to-morrow, to restrain the enforcement of the judgment of Judge Watt until the case can be heard in the supreme court.

THE GOLDSBORO FORTH.—Yes, we want an old time fourth. Everybody says so, and all the old people are in for it. Jack Snipes, from Eagle Rock, says he hasn't seen a good Fourth of July in twenty years.

"How hot it is," said Jack, "I don't mind it to hell once." Jack is remembered by the oldest inhabitant. He always makes a speech at the dinner table. It was in the old Lovejoy grove many years ago the Fourth was celebrated, and the toasts flew thick and fast. One young man, well dressed up, waved his glass, and proposed in a wild cat voice, "Gentlemen, dine vicissim, siuecum!" "By Hookey!" shouted Jack from the other end of the table, "that's the ticket! dumb beasts and wild yarmits I aliers was fond of." Yes, let us have an old time fourth.

SUPERIOR COURT.—Court met at 9 o'clock. All the Justices present.

Appeals from the 8th district were called and the following disposition made:

George C. Douglas vs R. A. Caldwell, from Rowan. Continued. McCorkle & Bailey and Wilson & Son for plaintiff, and D. G. Fowle and Moore & Gatling for defendant.

J. M. Love et al. vs Elisha Collins, from Surry. Continued. J. F. Graves for plaintiff, no counsel contra.

Mary A. Miller vs John C. Miller, from Rowan. Argued by Shipp & Bailey for plaintiff and J. M. McCorkle and J. S. Henderson for defendant.

William J. Mills et al. vs Salisbury Building and Loan Association, from Rowan. Argued by McCorkle and Shipp & Bailey for plaintiffs and J. S. Henderson contra.

J. S. Pennington, trustee vs Mary Pennington, from Davie. Argued by Clement for plaintiff, and Shipp & Bailey for defendant.

Court adjourned until to-morrow at 9 o'clock.

SILVER TEA AND APE.—AN OLD NEGRO DYING FROM A NAIL IN HIS HEART.—A negro man lies dying at Apex simply from imagining he is tricked. Our correspondent "Pintos" tells us the old man's name is Charles Hunter. Crowds of negroes fill his cabin at night and howl and sing the whole night long, and to such an extent that a white lady living near has moved away from home in order to get a little sleep. Hunter says that one day he saw his picture drawn on a tree with a nail stuck in the centre of his heart, and he felt a sinking inside immediately and forthwith went to bed. He has felt the nail going home slowly and surely ever since. "When de head teches my heart, boss, I'm gone." The regular physicians of Apex have failed to give the old man any relief. His colored friends have tried for four nights the effects of earnest prayer and spiritual singing, but all to no purpose; the old fellow lies as still as a mummy, only crying out whenever he feels the nail go up. As a last resort the negroes held a consultation yesterday and made a bowl of silver tea which they administered at a late hour last night. They made the tea from twelve shining quarters. If the tea cures him specie will go up about here.
