

IN MEMORIAM.

On the bosom of a river,
Where the sun unbound his quiver,
And the starlight gleamed forever...

At her brow a pilot beaming,
In the flush of youth stood dreaming,
And he was in glorious seeming...

Through these locks so billowy flowing,
Buds of laurel bloom were blowing,
And his hands were throwing...

Anxious hearts with fond devotion,
Watched him sailing to the ocean,
Prayed that never wild commotion...

But those purple waves enchanted,
Rolled beside a city haunted,
By an awful spell that daunted...

Then there rushed with lightning quickness,
O'er his face a mortal sickness,
And the dew in fearful thickens...

Still rolls on that radiant river,
And the sun unbinds his quiver,
And the starlight gleams forever...
