

THE SENTINEL.

NEWBERN: SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1829.

It will be seen by the following letter to the publisher of this paper, that Dr. JAMES MANNEY, of Beaufort, is a candidate for election to the next Congress.

BEAUFORT, March 22d, 1829.

Dear Sir, You will please do me the favor to announce my name in your next paper, as a candidate to represent this district in the next Congress. I am anxious to promote the objects of Internal Improvement, which have been commenced within the last four years—and which will require the aid of the General Government to effect.

If the People should think proper to confide their interests to my care, they may rest assured that all which industry and perseverance and zeal can accomplish, will be done to remove the obstacles which obstruct our commercial intercourse with the world. I shall deem it my duty to give an honest and energetic support to all the measures of General Jackson's Administration, which are calculated to promote the prosperity, happiness and glory of our beloved country.

I am, very respectfully, your ob't servant, JAMES MANNEY.

The Raleigh Star is in error, in attributing to the Newbern Spectator, the first mention of an extra meeting of the Legislature for the exclusive consideration of the Bank question. This suggestion was, if we mistake not, originally thrown out in this paper. It was made under a solemn sense of the extraordinary difficulties of the subject in all its bearings, and a conviction that immediate measures of relief, were imperiously called for, by the nature of the evil.

One good event has certainly arisen from the suggestion. It has kept public attention awake on the subject, and has promoted and stimulated enquiry. The presses throughout the State, have generally expressed their opinions on the subject, and invited a discussion in their columns. Several Grand Juries in different counties have taken the subject under consideration and have published their views, under the form of a presentment. All these proceedings, if they do not succeed in convincing those in authority of the urgent necessity of some instant measures of relief from the hands of the legislature, will have a salutary influence on the minds of the succeeding General Assembly, impressing them with a solemn conviction of the importance of the subject, and the earnestness with which the people desire it to be definitively settled.

What is the reason, that the U. S. Telegraph is always a mail behind the other Washington papers?—Can Gen. Green explain?

Colonel Dorrego, the ex-president of Buenos Ayres, was shot by order of Gen. Lavalle, Dec. 19. The intentions of Lavalle are unknown, but are very much feared and suspected.

speech vituperative of the President and insulting to the people. Mr. Clay having lost his character as an honest and consistent politician, is certainly in a fair way to secure that of an accomplished ratter and demagogue.

The Banker Stephenson.—This fugitive, who escaping from English justice, lately arrived at Savannah, on board the brig Kingston, has been forcibly kidnapped and carried out of the State of Georgia, by ruffians, for the purpose of obtaining the reward offered for his apprehension. The Deputy Jailor, of Savannah, Mr. Oaks, assisted by several other persons armed with pistols and dirks, entered the bedroom to which he was confined, about 17 miles from Savannah by a fall from a gig, took him without legal process, and carried him by force on board a pilot boat, which was in waiting, bound him hand and foot, transferred him after sailing a few miles to the pilot boat Savannah, and sailed immediately for New York, at which place they arrived after a passage of 4 days. Lloyd was also taken, but the number of persons concerned rendered it impossible, to carry him in the same carriage in which Stephenson was carried to the first vessel and he was accordingly put out on the road. The carriage broke down five several times in the distance of 17 miles. On the arrival of the Savannah at N. York, where J. W. Parkins, Esq. to whom Stephenson was indebted £17,000, had offered a reward of $1500 for his apprehension, the greatest excitement pervaded the city.

The Statesman also states, that they have reason to believe that the accounts of Stephenson's conduct, are much overcharged. And asserts upon unquestionable evidence that the stories of his profligacy and dissipation are in every particular untrue.

The recent elections in New Hampshire have terminated in the entire success of the Jackson party. The Jackson candidate for Governor is elected; the Legislature has a Jackson majority of at least 40, and the entire delegation to Congress favorable to the present administration, is chosen by a majority of not less than 3000 votes. New Hampshire is consistent in this certainly,—that she adheres to the administration.

Part of our impression of last week's paper, contained several errors, some of which we will point out for correction.—"Their gentlemanly temper and courtesy "is exemplified" should read "are exemplified." "The important passage," should be "passages." "A forfeiture of their charters," should read, "of the charters."

We are authorised to state that a correspondence has been held between the late President John Q. Adams and James A. Hamilton, respecting the letter of William Plumer, of New Hampshire, addressed to the former dated Dec. 20th, 1828.

KINGSTON, (Jan.) Jan. 9.—Mr. Owen, of New-Lanark.—This celebrated individual arrived here yesterday in the packet. We understand he proceeds on a journey to Mexico, by the packet for Vera Cruz, whence he will go directly to the Capital. From Mexico, after coming to an understanding with the government, it is supposed he will proceed to New-Orleans, thence ascend the Mississippi, & after visiting New Harmony, attend the celebrated meeting appointed to be held in Ohio, in April next. If Mr. Owen can come to terms with the Mexican government, he will, it is said, return to Lanark in the course of the year to make arrangements for finally fixing his residence in America.

The steam engine of the New York Dry Dock Company, by which a ship of 700 tons is drawn from the water for repairs on an extensive rail-way, at the same time converts a log of wood in a few minutes into boards of any required thickness, planes and joints, and grooves and tongues them, and turns a lathe by which columns, balls, or any thing else, are turned with the greatest expedition. Such are the triumphs of steam power!

the King, was received with marked courtesy and kindness of manner. The reception of Mr. Gallatin, on the contrary, was repulsive in the extreme. The Duke of Wellington is probably a much more honest Minister than Mr. Canning, and the Political condition of Europe renders it particularly expedient, at the present moment, for England to add to the number of her friends."—Balt. Amer.

The Descendant of Pocahontas.—From the following article, it appears to be really true (what we had always considered as a fable) that Mr. Randolph, the late talented, though eccentric, Representative in Congress from Virginia, is of aboriginal descent.

Mr. Editor:—As every thing relating to Mr. John Randolph is interesting, and as it is said that he prides himself on his Indian descent, I send you the following account of his genealogy. It is taken from a memorandum furnished by the great Virginia Orator himself, which he placed in the hands of a friend, and is transcribed in his own words, as you will see:

"Pocahontas, (whose true name was Matouca) baptised by the name of Rebecca, married John Rolfe, Esq. and left an only son, Thomas; whose only daughter married Robert Bolling, of Bolling Hall, West Riding of York, who left a son, John Randolph of Custis, whose youngest son, John Randolph of Roanoke, married Frances Bland. Your humble servant is one of the only surviving issue of that marriage, and sixth in descent from Pocahontas."

In relation to the arrest of Stephenson, and the excitement growing out of it, the National Gazette has the following remarks.

Our readers will see by the details which we have copied from the New York Commercial Advertiser, that much excitement has been produced in that city by the apprehension of Stephenson, the fugitive London banker. Whatever irregularity or oppression may have been practised against him, should be lamented and rectified; but to treat him as a pitiable martyr,—an object of public sympathy and kindness—would be extremely improper and disreputable. Those are most to be commiserated—his partners, friends, children, creditors—whom he betrayed, sacrificed, plundered and deserted. If we may credit any of the London accounts, he led a life of the most profligate dissipation, and has committed dreadful havoc with the most elaborate hypocrisy and selfishness. This is a criminal, who, though not yet convicted in the courts, has shaken the credit and prosperity of the whole banking system of the British capital; who has inflicted the deepest distress on perhaps hundreds of respectable and confiding persons; who has violated the most sacred and important ties, and after whom all England seems to have raised a hue and cry. Let it not be said in Europe, that he has found in one of our chief cities, a sort of public patronage and condole, and been obliged to plead with the multitude, for the protection of residents accused of treating him with incivility. In reference to their own dignity and interests the American people will not allow their laws to be infringed, stained or contemned; nor will they, we trust, ever supererogate, or display any very tender solicitude, in order to secure impunity to undisputed guilt, in the regular violation of which the welfare of society and the rights of innocent individuals in another country, are unfortunately involved. Generally, we owe it to ourselves, to our international connexions, and to the cause of honor and virtue, to give as little protection and countenance to foreign crime sheltering itself among us, as possible, consistently with the freedom and independence of our institutions; we must not encourage the citizens or subjects of other governments, who become culprits at home, to presume that they will find here any advantage or favor beyond what those institutions afford, strictly and sternly construed for the occasion. As we boast of superior morality, we ought to avoid most carefully movements which avert or counteract the salutary penalties of transgression.

Shipping List. ARRIVED. Schr. Susan Mary, Snow, New York, ballast. Schr. Hero, Chapman, New York, ballast. Passenger Mr. Cook. Schr. Nause, Fuller, New York.—Passengers Captain Wm. H. Taylor and Mr. P. Henry. Schr. Amity, Cross, New York, merchidiz. S. Brown.—Passenger Mr. Wilson. Schr. Philadelphia, Leaming, Philadelphia.

CLEARED. Brig Jane, Jones, Guadaloupe. Sch. Prox, Brookfield, St. Barts. Sch. Tillman, Osgood, Martinico. Sch. Nause, Fuller, New York. Sch. Baltimore, Higgins, Baltimore. Sch. Mary, Chadwick, St. Barts. Sch. Philadelphia, Leaming, Philadelphia.

BATTALION ORDER. THE Commissioned Officers belonging to the Craven Regiment of Militia, will assemble in the town of Newbern, on Monday the 11th of May next; and appear on parade in front of St. John's Lodge, precisely at 4 o'clock, P. M. equipped with a musket and bayonet, or a good and sufficient firelock, a cartridge box, and twelve rounds blank cartridges. Those officers who have been appointed, and have not received their commissions, will also attend. W. M. NELSON, Col. Comd'g. Craven Regiment, N. C. M. Newbern, March 28, 1829.

NEW GOODS. JNO. G. KINCEY, has just received by the packet schooner Philadelphia, from Philadelphia, the following articles, which he offers very low for cash. An invoice of DOMESTIC GOODS, consisting of Brown and bleached Shirtings and Sheetings, Fines superfine and prem. Bed Tickings, 1 piece superfine 4-4 linen do. Furniture and apron-Check, real indigo dyes, Indigo Plisids and Stripes, Brown cotton Drilling, Cotton Yarn, or spun Cotton, Brown and bleached cotton Table Diaper, Indigo blue weaving Yarn. An Invoice consisting of Gentlemen's best beaver HATS of the latest fashion. Gentlemen's Castors and Rorams, 6 doz. fine wool Hats. An invoice of Umbrellas and Parasols. An invoice consisting of a handsome assortment of Shell Tuck, Crescent, Curl and side Combs, Brazilian impressed tuck Combs, do Crescent, Curl and Long Combs, Mock shell, Tuck and Long Combs, do flowered do. ALSO, A few pieces supf and com. 6-4 Irish Linen Sheetings, 1 piece elegant 10-4 damask table Diaper, 5 4, 6-4, 7-4 and 8-4 common do. 3-4 Scotch table Diaper, Russia do. Fine Irish Linens in half and whole pieces. One box fresh London Mustard. Newbern, March 24, 1829.

CHEAP GARDEN SEEDS. Warranted Fresh and Genuine. THE Subscriber has just received from the Nursery of D. & C. LANDRETH Philadelphia, a choice and general assortment of Garden Seeds, which he will sell much lower than the usual retail prices. They are carefully done up in packages, each of which contains the warrantee of the Proprietors, who hold themselves responsible for the good quality of the Seed.

They consist in part of the following:— Early York Cabbage, Large Drumhead do. Large Bergen do. Long Red Beet, Long Turnip rooted Beet, Long Orange Carrot, Large Parsnip, Round Spinach, Early Dutch Turnip, Red Top do. Long Scarlet Radish do. Salmon do. Yellow Summer do. White Spanish do. Black do do. Curled Parsley, Curled Cress, Early Bush Squash, White Solid Celery, Red do do. Early Cabbage Lettuce, Early Curled do. Nutmeg Melon, White Onion, Yellow do. Red eye Branch Beans, Early Brown Speckled, Six weeks Carolina, or Sewee, Early Frame Peas, Blue Imperial do. Dwarf Marrowfat do. ALSO, A variety of HERB and FLOWER Seeds. THOMAS WATSON. Newbern, March 28.—72 80

PLANK. 25,000 feet good inch Plank, for sale by STEVENSON & COOK, East Front Street. March 28, 1829.—72 73

BOARDING HOUSE. JOSEPH F. ANTHONY, RESPECTFULLY informs his friends and the public generally, that he has opened a BOARDING HOUSE at his residence on South Front-street, where he is prepared to accommodate Boarders and Lodgers in a manner that he trusts will give entire satisfaction to those who may favor him with their company. Newbern, March 21, 1829.—72

The Ladies' Literary Port Folio; Or Friendships' Offering for every week in the year.—Philadelphia. A Literary and Miscellaneous Repository; devoted to the Fine Arts, Sciences, Reviews, Criticisms, the Drama, the Toilet, Tales, Poetry, Sketches, Music, Engravings, General Literature, News, &c. &c. The Original articles are by distinguished American writers. The selected from the leading Journals of the day, including the choicest beauties of the London Monthly Magazine, The Athenaeum, London Weekly Review, New Monthly Magazine, Edinburgh Review, London Literary Gazette, Edinburgh Review, London Literary Gazette, Blackwood's Magazine, &c. The Forget-me-not, Keep sake, Amulet, and other Annals.

EDITORIAL NOTICES. The Ladies' Literary Port Folio bids fair to stand at the head of publications of its class. The acknowledged talents of its principal editor, (who has for a number of years been engaged in similar works,) and of his able literary coadjutors, will certainly give it a character which few others possess, &c.—Wellburg Va. Gas. The Ladies Department is conducted by one of the most distinguished female writers of our country.—Rockingham Va. Register. It is more elevated and chaste in its character than the generality of similar publications, &c. Utica N. Y. Intelligencer.

The editors have the assistance of several eminent writers, and they present a work well worthy of patronage, &c. The N. Y. Morning Courier. In point of literary merit and mechanical execution, it surpasses every similar publication we have yet seen, &c.—Watertown N. Y. Register. Indeed it is altogether a superior work, &c. N. Y. Mirror and Ladies' Literary Gas. Several of the daily gazettes in this city, in New York, &c. with editors of the most respectable Journals in the United States have concurred in those opinions which are respectfully submitted to such as have not had an opportunity of examining the work for themselves. New subscribers (see furnished with the miniature portraits of Shakespeare, Byron, Scott, Campbell and Moore, engraved expressly for this work. Portraits of American authors, in a similar style, will also enrich this Volume.

PROPOSALS. FOR building four boats to be used as lighters at Ocracoke, will be received of the Engineer's office, Fort Macon, Beaufort, N. C. until the 7th day of April, 1829. The dimensions of the boats to be as follows, viz: length of keel measured from heel to scarf, 35 feet; breadth of beam, measured from out to out, 12 feet; depth of hold in centre, 3 feet; length on deck, 40 feet. To have a central chamber nearly of the following dimensions, viz: Length at top 12 feet, at bottom 9 feet 11 inches. Deck to have a bulk head fore and aft of chamber of 8 inches—to be ceiled water tight fore and aft—to have one hatchway fore and aft. Timbers for frame to be as much as possible of good cedar, the rest of good pitch pine or white oak. Plank for bottom, 3 inches thick, to be bevelled, for side 1-2 inch, for deck 1-4 inch.

Will at the same time and place, be received proposals for building a boat, to be used as a tow boat at Ocracoke, to be nearly of the following dimensions, viz: Length of keel measured from heel to scarf 40 feet, breadth of beam 13 feet, measured from out to out, with guards running fore and aft with a clear opening of 4 1-2 feet, measured on the beam, to have 5 feet clear depth of hold, 44 feet long on deck, to have a bulwark running fore and aft 18 inches in height, to be copper fastened to light water mark and in the bends. Proposers will state the description and quality of materials, &c. and be particular to specify every thing they deem important, as the boat must be built in conformity with the directions of the Agent of the U. States, unless specified by the contract. Any further information can be obtained in relation to said boats by applying at the Engineer's Office, where a draft of the boats can be seen at all times. The four lighters to be delivered either at Newbern, Beaufort, or Portsmouth, N. C. The tow boat to be delivered at Newbern, by the 1st day of May, 1829.

F. L. DANCY, Lieut. on Engineer Service. Fort Macon, Beaufort, N. C. } March 24th, 1829.

PROPOSALS. WILL be received at the Engineer Office, Fort Macon, Beaufort, N. C. until the 20th day of April, 1829, for the delivery of 100 cords of good pitch pine wood, at Shell Castle, or some of the adjacent rocks, (so as to be secure from the tides) by the 1st of May, 1829. I can likewise inform the public, that from 7 to 9 hundred cords, will be required at the said place during the year. Proposers will state the price per cord. F. L. DANCY, Lieut. on Engineer Service. Fort Macon, Beaufort Harbor, } N. C. March 24, 1829.

DANCING SCHOOL. MR. PEARSON respectfully informs the Inhabitants of Newbern and its vicinity, that he will open a DANCING SCHOOL, for one month, so soon as a sufficient number of pupils can be obtained. He will, in addition to the ordinary Dances and Steps, instruct his pupils in the various Scotch Steps & Dances, including the HIGHLAND FLING & SCOTCH LILT, so much admired, in all the cities of this country. Newbern, March 28.

NOTICE. THE DEBTORS to the estate of Moses Griffin, deceased, are again earnestly requested to call on the Executors to pay or renew their obligations. The Trustees under the will, having purchased the ground whereon it is proposed to erect the building for a Free School, as enjoined by the will, invite any person disposed to contract for the same, to call on Francis Hawks, who will make known to them what is required, and receive their proposals. LOTS No. 45, on Pollock-street, No. 1 & 4 and front on East Front-street, and part of Lot No. 304, on New-street, are offered to be let to the first of January next. Several likely Negroes, amongst whom is a house carpenter, and a ship carpenter, and caulker, may be had at private sale on application to F. Hawks.

THE EXECUTORS. March 20, 1829.—71-74

PORK, LARD, & C. 25 bbls. MESS. } PORK, 45 do. Prime, } A few half bbls. do. 30 bbls. BEEF, } 30 small kegs superior quality LARD, put up for family use, 100 bushels IRISH POTATOES—for sale by GEORGE A. HALL. March 14—70 74

TO BE RENTED, THAT commodious brick Dwelling House on Front-street, and possession immediately given. Apply, in the absence of the subscriber, to Francis Hawks or John Burgwin. JOHN DEVEREUX. March 14—70 73

FOR RENT, THE HOUSE &c. on Broad-street, late the residence of Frederick Jones, and possession given the 14th May;—and for sale a Gig and Harness, which will be given a great bargain. ASA JONES. Newbern, March 20th, 1829.—71-73.

BANK OF NEWBERN. At the annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Bank of Newbern, holden on the fifth day of January last, and continued to Tuesday the sixth of said month, it was resolved, that the said meeting be adjourned to the 30th Monday of March, of which resolution public notice should be given by the Cashier. JNO. W. GUION, Cashier. Feb. 20, 1829.