

Gideon Alston, William Blackledge, John Owen, John M'Dowell (of Rutherford) Meshack Franklin, George W. Jeffers, and Thomas Maney, Esqrs. have been elected by the Legislature Councillors of State for the ensuing year.

Our University.—At a meeting of the Trustees of this Institution, held at the Executive Office in this city, a few evenings since, the Rev. Elijah Mitchell, late Professor of Mathematics, was appointed to fill the Chemical Chair, vacated by the resignation of Denison Olinsted, who has accepted of the appointment of Professor of Mathematics in Yale College; and a new Professorship of Modern Languages was created. We have not learnt that either this new Professorship, or that of Mathematics, has been filled.

The highest Prize, $20,000, in the late Class of the Oxford Academy Lottery, was sold in Providence, Rhode-Island. A thousand dollar prize was also sold in Boston.

We insert the following note, verbatim et literatim, from the framer of the Bank bill, which has been before the Legislature for several years:

"Gentlemen,—In looking over that portion of the debate on the Bill to establish a Bank on behalf of the State ascribed to me in the Register of yesterday, I have been unable to recognise a single Sentence clothed in my own language—it is not my dictation, neither can I acknowledge it to be my Speech—some of the positions are correctly stated, but not a single one of them goes to the Point in the Publication—to which they were urged in the debate—I feel it due to myself therefore under present circumstances, to request as a favour—to insist if I may be permitted to do so that you will not publish any thing more as coming from me on that Subject—I have learnt Stenography was an art difficult to be understood, and knowing the Precipitancy with which I sometimes speak in public, I am willing to conclude on the present occasion that a very small portion of my views only could be comprehended by the Compositor. Respectfully

RO. MARTIN."

The Reporter will not insist that he has always used the language of the gentleman; but he believes he has given his sentiments. We leave this however to the decision of those who heard the Speech. We do not understand Mr. M. when he says, that though "some of his positions are correctly stated, not a single one of them goes to the point in the publication to which they were urged in debate." If the Reporter stated his positions correctly, he could do no more. We will certainly attend to his request not to publish any more of his speeches.

THIS Institution, which, for several years past, has been conducted by Messrs. Andrews and Jones, will in future be superintended by the Revd. Joseph Labaree, assisted by the Revd. Thomas Skelton and wife, from Massachusetts, Miss Hannah Kennedy, who, for several years past, has taught Painting and Drawing, in the school of Messrs. Andrews and Jones, and three other able and experienced teachers. The plan of instruction in the institution, will be the same as that heretofore pursued.

Except when parents or guardians have near relatives in town, the pupils will board with the principal, will take their meals at the same table with his family, and in all respects be treated as his own children.

Board and tuition, in all the branches of English study, and needlework, will be charged at only sixty dollars per session. Music at thirty, Painting and Drawing at twenty. The foreign and dead languages, if required, will be taught by competent instructors. The school will be a cheap one. The principal is determined that there shall be no cause of complaint in future of extra and unexpected charges. No charges will be allowed except such as are particularly required by the parent or guardian. The government of the school will be strictly paternal—the government of kindness and of reason.

The principal will feel himself responsible for the morals and manners of his pupils, and while every thing sectarian on the subject of religion will wholly be avoided, he will do all in his power to give them genteel manners and to imbue their minds with those moral truths, which elevate the views, ennoble the feelings, and give some just notions of the real dignity of our nature.

The first session will commence on the 2d Monday of January next. Each pupil will be required to furnish her own sheets, blankets, and counterpane.
