

POETRY.

BY MONTGOMERY.

A poor way-faring man of grief,
Hath often crossed me on my way;
Who sued so humbly for relief,
That I could never answer nay;

Once when my scanty meal was spread
He entered, not a word he spoke;
Just perishing for want of bread,
I gave him all, he blest it, brake
And ate; but gave me part again;

I spied him where a fountain burst
Clear from the rock; his strength was gone,
The heedless water mock'd his thirst,
He heard it saw it hurrying on;
I ran to raise the sufferer up,

'Twas night; the floods were out; it blew
A winter's hurricane aloof;
I heard his voice abroad, and flew
To bid him welcome to my roof;
I warm'd, I cloth'd, I cheer'd my guest,

In prison I saw him next, condemn'd
To meet a traitor's doom at morn;
The tide of lying tongues I stem'd,
And honor'd him midst shame and scorn;
My friendship's utmost zeal to try,

Then in a moment to my view,
The stranger started from disguise,
The token in his hands I knew,
My Saviour stood before mine eyes;
He spake, and my poor name he nam'd

Then in a moment to my view,
The stranger started from disguise,
The token in his hands I knew,
My Saviour stood before mine eyes;
He spake, and my poor name he nam'd

NOTES.
1. The Post Master General may examine the mails, and alter the times for arrival and departure, at any time during the continuance of the contract, by paying an adequate compensation for any extra expense that may be occasioned thereby.

2. Seven minutes shall be allowed for opening and closing the mail at all offices where no particular time is specified.

3. For every fifteen minutes delay, in arriving after the time prescribed in any contract, the contractor shall forfeit five dollars; and, if the delay continue until the departure of any pending mail, whereby a trip is lost, a forfeiture of double the amount allowed for carrying the mail one trip, shall be incurred, unless it shall be made to appear that the delay was occasioned by unavoidable accident; in which case the amount of pay for a trip shall be forfeited.

4. These forfeitures, it will be observed, are unconditional; except for the failure of a trip by unavoidable accident, the penalty may be reduced to the pay for one trip. That on no condition is this sum, or the other penalties stated, to be remitted.

5. Persons making proposals are requested to state their prices by the year. Those who contract will receive their pay quarterly—in the months of May, August, November and February, one month after the expiration of each quarter.

ed to the pay for one trip. That on no condition is this sum, or the other penalties stated, to be remitted.

6. Where the proposer intends to convey the mail in the body of a stage carriage, he is desired to state it in his proposals; and the stage must be of sufficient size, unless otherwise expressed, to accommodate seven passengers.

7. Every proposer may offer in his bid to make any improvement in the transportation of the mail, from the terms invited, either as to the mode of transporting it, the speed required, or the frequency of the trips per week—which shall receive due consideration.

8. The number of the post route shall be stated in every bid, and the proposal must be sealed and directed to the General Post Office, and endorsed "Proposals." Strict attention must be given to the endorsement, as it is not intended to break the seal of any proposal, until the time for receiving bids shall have expired.

9. The distances stated are such as have been communicated to this office, and some of them may be incorrect: on this subject the contractor must inform himself—the Department will not be answerable for any mistake.

10. In every case where the mail is transported in stages, and the present contractor is underbid, and the underbidder shall not have such stage property as may be necessary for the performance of the contract, he shall be required to purchase from the present contractor, at a reasonable valuation, the whole or any part of the stage property, including horses, that may be suitable for the service, and make payment therefor, by reasonable instalments, as his pay becomes due, or as may be otherwise arranged.

11. No bid shall be withdrawn after the time for receiving bids shall have expired, and should any person refuse to take the contract at his bid, he shall be held responsible to the Department, for the difference between his bid and that at which the contract shall be made. The assignment of any contract, without the consent of the Post-Master General, shall forfeit it—and in all cases where application is made to the Department to sanction a transfer, the terms must be fully stated.

12. If a route should be discontinued by Congress, or become useless, in whole or in part, in the opinion of the Post-Master General, he may limit or dispense with the service of the contractor, on making him an allowance of one month's extra pay.

13. The contracts will all begin January 1st, 1829, and the contracts for routes in the states of Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, will continue for one year only. Contracts for routes in Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida Territory, will continue two years, and the contracts for the other routes will continue three years.

14. Post-Masters who receive an advertisement should give every person who applies, an opportunity to read it.

15. The bidder will state such improvements as present themselves to him. If in a stage, it will be proper for him to say so. He should distinctly state the number of the route, and not only the number, but the beginning and end of it.—He should also clearly state his residence, as to the State and Town in which he lives. If he be not a contractor, he must accompany his bids by suitable recommendations.

James's Anti-Dyspeptic Pills.

DYSPEPSIA has of late become so frequent, and is so well known, that it is considered unnecessary to describe minutely its characteristic symptoms. The most prominent, however, and some or all of which will at once be recognized by every dyspeptic, are flatulency, acid stomach, occasional nausea in the morning, and bitter taste in the mouth; costiveness, but sometimes diarrhoea and a loose state of the bowels; loss of appetite, or an unnatural craving for food, piles, yellowness of the eyes and skin, uneasiness of the stomach after eating, &c. The above Pills are confidently believed to be a remedy for this formidable disease. They are not recommended on the principle of any mysterious or specific operation; their use is predicated upon a consistent theory of the disease and a thorough knowledge of the physiology of the human system, and the nature of the remedy employed.—Their efficacy has been tested by long experience, attended with a degree of success very far beyond the most sanguine expectations of the inventor.

Beware of a Swindler!

DURING the Spring of 1827, the Subscriber employed a certain Moses Wood, of this (Wake) County, to take charge of his horse Nuboleon, and believing him trust-worthy, authorized him to receive payment for services rendered by said Stallion. Under cover of this authority, Wood received sums of money from sundry persons, for which he has never pretended to account. Sensible of having appropriated to his own use, that which did not belong to him, and fearful of consequences, said Wood fled to Tennessee, and it is to prevent the good people of that State from falling victims to his dishonest purposes, that this notice is given. Wood was indebted to the Subscriber for many acts of kindness which renders him ungrateful as well as dishonest. He is about 26 years of age, 5 feet 4 or 5 inches high, with blue eyes, light hair and light complexion.
