From Bayley's Lays of a Minstreh The bridal is over, the guests are all gone, The bride's only sister sits weeping alone ; The wrenth of white roses is torn from her brow and the heart of the bridesmaid is desolate now.

With smiles and caresses she decked the fair bride,

And then led her forth with affectionate pride She knew that together no more they should dwell,

Yet she smilled when she kissed her, and bade for receiving bids shall have expired. her farewell.

She would not embitter a festival day, Nor send her sweet sister in sadness away ; She hears the bells ringing, she sees her depart, She cannot veil longer the grief of her heart.

She thinks of each pleasure, each pain that endears

The gentle companion of happier years ; The wreath of white roses is torn from her brow, And the heart of the bridesmaid is desolate now.

Beware of a Swindler!

URING the Spring of 1827, the Subscriber D employed a certain Moses Wood, of this (Wake) County, to take charge of his horse Napoleon, and believing him trust-worthy, authorised him to receive payment for services rendered by said Stallion. Under cover of this authority, Wood received sums of money from sundry persons, for which he has never pretended to account. Sensible of having appropriated to his own use, that which did not belong to him, and fearful of consequences, said Wood fled to Tennessee, and it is to prevent the good people of that State from falling victims to his dishonest purposes, that this notice is given. Wood was indebted to the Subscriber for many acts of kindness which renders him ungrateful as well as dishonest. He is about 26 years of age, 5 feet 4 or 5 inches high, with blue eyes, light hair and GREEN BOBBITT. light complexion. Raleigh, Aug. 30.
