

Ice formed in this City, on Friday last, of considerable thickness.

The National Intelligencer denies having ever used the language, imputed to it by the Star, in relation to Gen. Jackson.

The result of the Elections in Maryland and Delaware, has cast a terrible damper over the spirits of the Jackson party.

The Editor of the North-Carolina Journal, with his accustomed want of candor, has given the Register, the credit of having originated a paragraph, which he knew, for the fact stated him in the face, was copied from the Boston Statesman.

We did not espouse the cause of Mr. Adams, previous to the last Presidential Election, because we were heart and mind in favor of Mr. Crawford.

The last Star still harps on the stale and ridiculous story of corruption on the part of Mr. Adams, at the last election of President.

Major Moore stated to me, that he had just received a letter from Col. McAfee, informing him—and I think he said requesting him to inform me—that in the event of Jackson's election to the Presidency, I might be elected to the Senate.

These are the facts in the case—facts which I made known to some of my friends immediately after the communication was made to me, and to others with little reserve, since that time.

No disclosure has yet been made concerning General Jackson, which has caused a greater fluttering among the wounded pigeons of his party, than the imprudent manner in which he rebuffed himself to Col. Humphrey, relative to the reduction of the Army.

Humphrey as a witness. But it is paying a poor compliment to General Jackson to say, that he was in habits of correspondence with a man who is not to be believed.

The principal other manufactures are of flour, distilled spirits, paper, linseed and castor oil, salt, coppers, castings, iron, steam machinery, &c.

The Star publishes an extract from a letter written by General Jackson in 1801, to prove that he did not, in 1821, abuse the Government for reducing the Army.

The Annual expenses of the Government during Mr. Adams' Administration have been about $9,460,000.

The Editor of the North-Carolina Journal, with his accustomed want of candor, has given the Register, the credit of having originated a paragraph, which he knew, for the fact stated him in the face, was copied from the Boston Statesman.

We did not espouse the cause of Mr. Adams, previous to the last Presidential Election, because we were heart and mind in favor of Mr. Crawford.

As the case now stands, we can have no difficulty in chusing between the prospect of national peace and prosperity, and national degradation and political tyranny.

A very large meeting of merchants and other citizens, opposed to the Auction System, was held in the City of New-York, on the 10th instant—at which Walter Bowne, David B. Ogden, and Campbell P. White, Esqs were nominated and recommended to the support of the voters of that City opposed to Auctions, for members of Congress.

THINGS IN GENERAL.—An eloquent production purporting to be Jackson's address to his Army before New-Orleans, has been extensively published by the Jackson papers as evidence of the General's talents.

Singular.—A person in boring for fresh water recently at the end of the wharf in Providence, penetrated through the artificial soil, and then through several strata of mud, bog, sand and gravel, when, at the depth of 35 feet below the bed of the river he came to a quantity of vines, grapes, grape-seeds, hazel nuts, acorns, leaves, pine burs, and sundry fruit seeds of kinds unknown.

Kenyon College.—We learn by his advertisement, that Bishop Chase, by whose exertions at home and abroad a very considerable sum of money was obtained for the purpose of founding Kenyon College, in Ohio, has been compelled to offer his own farm with all its appurtenances, for sale, in order to pay the workmen employed in constructing the edifice.

Manufactures.—One of the most celebrated Woollen Manufactories in the Union is located at Steubenville, Ohio. 38,000 lbs. of wool on an average, valued at $35,000, is stated to be consumed yearly at this establishment.

Positiveness.—It was a shrewd maxim of Wesley, the founder of Methodism, not to be positive in things of doubt and uncertainty.

The election in Delaware, is of great importance in the general conflict. Taken in connexion with the results of the elections elsewhere, it leaves to the Combination a hopeless prospect.

We have before us a calculation, addressed by Mr. Wickliffe to his constituents, after his return home from the last sitting of Congress in which he claims for the military candidate 150 votes, certain. Amongst those he claims the following electoral votes:

Table with 2 columns: State, Votes. From the State of Maine, 2; New-York, 24; New-Jersey, 8; Delaware, 3; Maryland, 7.

He claims all of the other doubtful States. For the sake of argument, we will grant those to him; and then how stands the account? Deduct from his claim, as above stated, the votes claimed which the General will lose, viz:

Table with 2 columns: State, Votes. From the State of Maine, 2; New-York, 12; New-Jersey, 8; Delaware, 3; Maryland, 6.

And deduct these thirty-one votes from the 150 claimed as certain for the General, and we leave him, on Mr. Wickliffe's own showing in a minority of 119 votes, giving to Mr. Adams a plurality of 42 votes over him.

It is thus that already public sentiment discloses itself, overwhelms our adversaries on their own ground, and spreads its impenetrable Aegis over the cause which it has been our duty to endeavor to sustain.

Norfolk, Oct. 6.

We learn that 60,000 bushels of wheat arrived in New York from the South, in 5 days, which was sold at $1 30 to $1 40, and some $1 50 per bushel.

We announce with deep sorrow, the death of Capt. ROBERT HENLEY, of the U. S. Navy—at the time of his death commandant of the Naval Station at Charleston.

Fire!—We learn that the spacious and handsomely finished brick mans on house on the farm of GEORGE NEWTON, Esq. situate on Lynhaven River, Princess Anne County, about 20 miles from this town, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday last about mid-day.

Capt. H. died at his residence on Sullivan's Island, on the 6th inst. after a few days illness, of bilious fever, aged 45 years.

Sickness in the Neighbourhood.—Public prayers were offered in some of our churches last Sabbath, for the sick in the towns and villages adjacent to New-York.

A horse that is attacked with bots is said to receive immediate relief by drenching him with a quart of fish-brine.

The London papers say that Dr. Southey is engaged in a new work. It is a poem of which the hero and heroine belong to the Quaker denomination.

An old patriot in the State of Delaware writes to the Editors of the National Intelligencer as follows:

Our election has closed—the Administration has triumphed in Delaware. The majority for Johns (for Congress) is 419 in the State.

An old Boy.—There is at the almshouse at Bellevue, (N. Y.) a man by the name of Ceeley, who has reached the extraordinary age of 108 years.

ROBERT BURNS.—The following reminds us of the compliment which Fielding, in Tom Jones, paid to his friend Garrick, through Partridge:

The early patroness of Burns, (Mrs. Dunlop, of Dunlop), had an old housekeeper, a sort of privileged person, who had certain aristocratic notions of the family dignity, that made her utterly astonished at the attentions that were paid by her mistress to a man in such low worldly estate as the rustic poet.

Napoleon's letter to Savary on sending him to Russia is a good specimen of the acuteness of his mind.

Ambiguity of speech sometimes leads to very sad mistakes. A militia captain received a billet from a lady of fashion, requesting "the pleasure of his company, to tea" on a certain evening.
