ill on, roll on, thou turbid Stream ear thy waters dull and dark, he bounding bark ; v billows bear, heir blackness, mingling there.

On thy unruffled bosom's glare
The Queen of Night looks dimly down; and thy deep wildernesses wear livery of automnal brown; While scarce a zephyr sweeps across impendent wreaths of hoary moss.

strous main that toss mountains huge and depths of dread; sea-boy's fear, the merchant's loss, he rough, rude requiem of the dead; Thy tranquil current's course molest, Or wake its waters from their rest,

Thy onzy banks no foot has pressed Of swain robust, or roseate maid; to bard has sung, with raptured breast, by honours in their bowers of shade; Unfamed, thy way thou wend'st along, While meaner rivulets glide in song.

Dark, sullen stream! he doth thee wrong That scorns to tune his lyre for thee, Whose margent's pierceless glooms among Dwells Naruns, from eter nd Solitude, in voiceless hall Lists there the owlet's distant call.

le it delights, ere night-dews fall, Whilst glimmering twilight awes the mind, To wander midst thy arbours tall; Or watch thy weary waters wind; Or, in thy mirrour'd face, descry cted stars, and answering sky.

Wave after wave, resistless, by, To Ocean's vast abvss is borne :-So man departs; so pleasures fly; or man, nor pleasures, more return ! It, like the undistinguish'd waves, ss downward, to oblivious graves.

Of wealth, or fame, or power the slaves, Gay glides the hope-deluded throng; Ambuion still his bubble craves, Though power and wealth abide not long And he who yearns a mame to win, Must be, as if he ne'er had been!

Por me, who Life's tumultuous din Thus shun, by pensive stream to muse, I nurse no wish to pride akin, Nor long for laurels I must lose ; While others tempt the surge's roar, ne the safe, inglorious shore.*

Thy scenes, O Nature ! charm me more, y still retreats, than all beside in some lone spot, to pore pling brook, or rapid tide, ook and tide to Fancy seem Apt emblems of Time's fleeting dream !

Roll or, roll on, thou turbid Stream ! And bear thy waters dull and dark, Unsparking in the solar beam,
Unbroken by the bounding bark;
To Ocean all thy billows bear,
And bleach their blackness, mingling there.

NOTES.

1. The Post Master General may expedite the mails, and after the times for arrival and departure, at any time during the continuance of the contract, he paying an adequate compensation for any extra expense that may be occasioned thereby.

2. Seven minutes shall be allowed for open ing and closing the mail at all offices where no ing and closing the mail at all offices where no particular time is specified.

At low every fifteen minutes delay, in arriving after the time prescribed in any contract, the contractor shall forfeit five dollars; and, if the delay continue until the departure of any pending mail, whereby a trip is lost, a forfeiture of doubte the amount allowed for carrying the mail one trip, shall be incurred, unless it shall be made to appear that the delay was occasioned by unavaidable accident; in which case the amount of pay for a trip shall be forfeited.

These forfeitures, it will be observed, are unconditional; except for the failure of a trip by unavoidable accident, the penalty may be reduced to the pay for one trip. That on no condition is this sum, or the other penalties stated, to be remitted.

one month after the expiration of each quarter, 5. No other than a free white person shall be aployed to carry the mail. 6. Where the proposer intends to convey the mail in the budy of a stage carriage, he is desired to state it in his proposals; and the stage must be of sufficient size, unless otherwise expressed, to accommodate seven passengers.

7. Every proposer may offer in his bid to make any improvement in the transportation of the mail, from the terms invited, either as to the mode of transporting it, the speed required, or the frequency of the trips per week-which shall receive due consideration.

The number of the post route shall be stated lowing in every bid, and the proposal must be sealed and directed to the General Post Office, and endorsed " Proposals." * Strict attention must be given to the endorsement, as it is not intended to break the seal of any proposal, until the time for receiving bids shall have expired.

8. The Post Master General reserves to him self the right of declaring any contract at an end, whenever one failure happens, which amounts to the loss of a trip.

9. The distances stated are such as have been communicated to this office, and some of them may be incorrect : on this subject the contractor must inform himself-the Department will not be answerable for any mistake.

10. In every case where the mail is transported in stages, and the present contractor is underbid, and the underbidder shall not have such stage property as may be necessary for the performance of the contract, he shall be required to purchase from the present contractor, at a reasonable valuation, the whole or any part of the stage property, including horses, that may be suitable for the service, and make payment therefor, by reasonable instalments, as his pay becomes due, or as may be otherwise arranged.

This will be made a condition in the acceptance of any bids under the bid of the present contractor; and should the underbidder fail to comply, his bid will be offered to the present contractor; but should he decline making the contract at that rate, the proposal of the underpidder will be accepted unconditionally.

It is distinctly understood, that the mail will continue to be carried in stages on every route where it is now so conveyed.

11. No bid shall be withdrawn after the time for receiving bids shall have expired, and should any person refuse to take the contract at his bid, he shall be held responsible to the Department, for the difference between his bid and that at which the contract shall be made. The assignment of any contract, without the consent of the Post-Master General, shall forfeit it-and in all cases where application is made to the Department to sanction a transfer, the terms must be fully stated.

Should a contractor or his agent engage in the transmission of commercial information by express on his route, more rapidly than the mail, he shall forfeit his contract.

12. If a route should be discontinued by Congress, or become useless, in whole or in part, in the opinion of the Post-Master General, he may limit or dispense with the service of the contractor, on making him an allowance of one month's ex-

13. The contracts will all begin January 1st, 1829, and the contracts for routes in the states of Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, will continue for one year only. Contracts for routes in Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida Territory, will continue two years, and the contracts for the other routes will continue three years.

14. Post-Masters who receive an advertisement should give every person who applies, an opportunity to read it.

LIGHT Bay Horse, about 144 hands high, and four years old last Spring, was stolen from the subscriber's plantation, on the night of Wednesday, the 24th ult. I have good reason to believe that said horse was taken off by one Henry Williams, late of this county, who has probably gone to South-Carolina or the Western District of Tennessee. Said Williams is about 23 years of age, of ordinary stature, and dark complexion, and usually carries with him a horseman's pistol and a large dog.

I will give a reward of Ten Dollars for any inormation that may lead to the recovery of the Horse, and 25 Dollars for the apprehension of the thief. The horse has marks on his feet of a ecent founder.
