TRUST SALE.
WILL be sold, on Saturday, 31st day of January next, under a decree of Wake County Superior Court of Law and Equity, at the late dwelling house of William McCullers, Esq. dec'd. Two Tracts of Land belonging to said dec'd. Estate, lying in said county, on White Oak Creek, being the residence of the dec'd. last before his death. Each tract is said to contain six hundred and forty acres. They were taken up and secured many years past by old Mr. Joseph Lane, when surveys were not very particular in their calculations: it is believed therefore, that said tracts contain much more land than is above mentioned. Surveys will be made thereon before the day of sale. Six, twelve and eighteen months credit will be given. Negotiable notes, payable at either of the Banks in Raleigh, will be taken in payment.

NOTICE.
ON Tuesday, the 13th day of next month, on the premises, will be rented out to the highest bidder, the Plantation on Swift Creek, in Wake County, 7 miles South of Raleigh, for the ensuing year, belonging to the estate of Joseph Hawkins, dec'd. Bond with good security will be required. Notice is further given, that one of the Executors will attend at the same time and place, with the bonds given for the purchase of property of the Executors of Jos. Hawkins, in Dec. last, at said Plantation. It is hoped a general payment will be made. And on Thursday, the 15th day of the same month, one or more of the said Executors will attend in the City of Raleigh, at the Tavern of Mrs. Jeter, with the bonds due for the purchase of property of said Executors, at two different sales, one in Nov. 1827, and one in Dec. 1827. What can be expected otherwise, than a general payment from those in Raleigh?

Raleigh Register.
FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1829.
The Banks.—The bill introduced by Mr. Potter, for putting down the Banks, which has undergone a long discussion in the House of Commons, was rejected on Tuesday last, by the vote of the Speaker, on its third reading, the votes being 39 votes in favor of passing the bill, and 58 against it. After announcing the state of the vote, the Speaker observed, "This places me in a situation of great responsibility; but I shall not shrink from it; believing the bill ought not to pass, I place my vote with that of the minority." In the course of the discussion, the bill underwent various modifications. When it passed its first reading, a prosecution of all the Banks was contemplated; but on its second reading, the bill was put into a new shape, and proposed to prosecute the President and Directors of the State Bank only, and was thus passed, without allowing time to have the bill printed; but the next day, on its third and last reading, the bill having been printed, a further discussion took place, and it was rejected, as above stated.

Adjournment.—The Senate passed a resolution on Monday, that both Houses should adjourn yesterday; but it was rejected in the House of Commons by a large majority. Mr. Bethell supported the motion, and called the yeas and nays upon it, stating that the Session had already been the longest he had ever known, and that he was apprehensive of injury rather than good to the community, from a longer continuance of it. The Bank question had not then been decided.

Flats below Wilmington.—We have satisfaction in stating, that the bill making an additional appropriation of $8,920 for completing the removal of the obstructions in the Ship Channel of Cape-Fear River below Wilmington, has passed into a law. It was ably supported in the House of Commons on its last reading, by Mr. Eccles, Mr. Gaston and Mr. Swain, and passed by a vote of 75 to 41.

In the Senate, on Monday last, the bill providing for a term of the Supreme Court to be held annually at Statesville, passed its third reading, by a majority of five votes. On its reaching the House of Commons, it was again rejected by a majority of two votes.

On Tuesday, the following gentlemen were elected Councillors of State for the ensuing year, viz:—William B. Lockhart of Northampton, George W. Jeffreys of Caswell, Alexander Gray of Randolph, Archibald M'Byrde of Moore, Thomas L. Kenan of Duplin, Nathan B. Whitfield of Lenoir, and Gideon Alston of Warren.

In the House of Commons, on Wednesday, Mr. Gary presented a bill to compel the several Banks of the State to redeem their notes in specie, and for other purposes, which passed its first reading.

Mr. Eccles, from the committee on Internal Improvements, reported a bill to provide for constructing a Railroad, from the town of Fayetteville to the Cape-Fear River, which, on motion of Mr. Stedman, was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Potter submitted a resolution, directing the Public Treasurer to make no farther investment of the funds of the State, in stock of either of the Banks, which was adopted and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

In the Senate, Mr. Alexander presented a bill, to institute judicial proceedings against the State Bank, with similar provisions to that rejected in the House of Commons. It was indefinitely postponed on its first reading, without discussion, by a majority of one vote.

The bill to provide for the gradual diminution of the Capital Stock of the Banks of the State, by the purchase and extinguishment of shares, passed its third reading, and is now before the House.
Charles Luiteloh was elected Brigadier General of the 6th Brigade.

Railways.—By a gentleman just arrived in this City, we are told, that in an interview with Mr. Black, a member of the Legislature of South-Carolina on his way to Charleston, the following information was communicated. A company had been incorporated for constructing three Railroads. One of these was to extend from Augusta to Charleston; a second from Columbia, and another from Orangeburg to the same place. In two or three hours after the books were opened, Three Hundred Thousand Dollars were subscribed. No doubt was entertained that the whole stock would be immediately made up with avidity, as it was considered the best in the State. The cost of construction was $3,000 per mile, and plenty of contractors were ready to engage for the performance of the work. The Railways are to be of wood, and the iron on which the wheels are to run is already obtained from England at $62 1/2 a ton. Live Oak, Cypress and long-leaved Pine are to furnish the sleepers. When these rot, they will take care to have provided staves from the upper country, brought down upon the Railroad, to substitute in the place of the wood as it decays. Mr. B. said, that if the wood should last only ten, or even five years, they should consider it of little consequence, as they would thus have the means of giving it permanency afterwards. He was one of the Stockholders, and had been to England to obtain information personally on the methods and advantages of Internal Improvement. A model of a Railroad had been prepared in the neighborhood of Charleston, of about a mile perhaps in length, to put such a work to the test. The load for a horse was found to be ten tons. Five gentlemen had gone with him to visit this model. On arriving at it, the six jumped into the car, and calling upon the boy to give them a ride, they had an opportunity of seeing how easily and smoothly the movement was effected. From Columbia to Charleston is 120 miles, and the toll for transportation is to be 25 cents on the bale of Cotton from the one place to the other. The present price of conveyance by a Canal, through the same distance, is about a dollar and a half, so that the Railroad, as soon as completed, will probably wholly supersede the Canal, and make it of no use.

Theatre.—A desire having been generally expressed, that an Entertainment should be given at the Theatre, for the joint benefit of Mrs. Hatch, Mr. Shadgett, Mr. Eberle and Mr. M'Kinney; and the former representation of Othello and Paul Pry having been received with great applause, they will be repeated on Friday Evening, for the object above specified. As this will be last night but one of the Company's performance, it is hoped, they will have a bumper.

We have only room for a line, to advise all, who wish to see how near an approach the sagacity of irrational creatures makes to human reason, to visit the wonderful exhibitions of the Dog Carlo and the Bird Fairy. We are confident, no one can witness their feats without gratification.

The Central Bank Bill, the most important measure of the present session of the Legislature of Georgia, has been passed. Three Directors are to be annually chosen by the Legislature, with a salary of $750 each, who are to give bond in $50,000. President's salary $1500; Cashier $3000; Clerks $1000 each. No one allowed to borrow more than $5000. The Legislature to alter and control the charter at any time.

A Singular Omission.—The Savannah Georgian, of the 1st instant, says:—"The Hon. Judge R. Gilmer, a member elect of the 21st Congress, having failed to notify the Executive of his acceptance, with the necessary proofs of his eligibility, within the time prescribed by law, Gov. Forsythe has directed an election to be held on the 1st Monday in October, 1829, to fill the vacancy thus occasioned."

"This we consider very extraordinary, especially as Gov. Forsythe must recollect the contested election between Cowles Mead and Mr. Spaulding."

The editor of the Newbern Spectator, in speaking of the work entitled "Junius Unmasked," identifying Sir George Sackville as the author of the incomparable letters of Junius, concludes his paragraph with the following brief notice of Sir William Draper.

"It is a fact not known probably to the generality of our readers, that Sir William Draper, the victim of Junius' pen, waited upon Mr. Burke, to ascertain from him whether or not he was the author of Junius, and upon receiving an assurance that he was not, neither did he know who was, came to the conclusion that it was Sackville. Sir William, writhing under the effects of Junius' caustic lash, left his native country, and came to our town. Upon the walls of the old palace, a vestige which scarcely now remains, he inscribed a couplet in Latin, to which he affixed his signature. We have heard by tradition from our old inhabitants, that he was a man of pleasant and agreeable manners, and a regular attendant at the little brick church, which formerly stood in the corner of the square now occupied by the Protestant Episcopal Church."

We have been gratified with the sight of a letter to a gentleman in this place, which states that "the Baltimore Steam Company are about running a line between Elizabeth City and Newbern."

Newbern Spect.
U. S. Senator.—Littleton W. Tazewell, was on Saturday last, re-elected to the Senate of the United States, for the ensuing six years. The votes were, for Mr. T. 161—scattering 5.

Cotton.—We are much pleased to observe this important commercial staple finding its way to our market, from the neighboring Counties of our own State and those of North-Carolina, previous to the opening of our Canal, which in a few days now, may be expected to waft into this port the rich products of the Roanoke country and of the more interior counties. In addition to the 25 bales of middling quality, which arrived here from Southampton county on Thursday last, and were sold promptly for 9 1/2 cts. per lb. we have to notice the arrival, yesterday about noon, of 30 well packed square bales of fair quality, in wagons, which was raised by Mr. S. M. Nickels, of Scotland Neck, Halifax County, (N. C.)—9 1/2 cents was readily obtained for this parcel.

Norfolk Beacon.

Dismal Swamp Canal.—We announced, on Monday last, the arrival of Senators Holt, Wyatt, Martin and Allen, of the Virginia Legislature.—The object of the three latter gentlemen, who represent districts in that part of the State watered by the Roanoke and its branches, being to view the Dismal Swamp Canal (now on the eve of completion) they accordingly paid it a visit during the week in company with George Newbos, Esq. President of the Dismal Swamp Canal Company, and Mr. Speaker Holt. After spending three days in examining the line of the canal, its locks, its feeder, and its beautiful reservoir, Lake Drummond, the party returned to town on Friday evening; the gentlemen from the upper country expressing the utmost gratification at the superior style of the whole work, and fully impressed with its importance to them as a cheap, certain, and expeditious route to market, for the productions of the extensive and fertile section of country, between the waters of which and our own, it is a connecting link.

We have already mentioned a temporary hindrance to the progress of the work on the canal, in consequence of the blowing up of a waste; this impediment, however, is nearly removed, and we learn, that in 6 or 8 days at farthest, the work will be completed. The day on which the navigation is allowed to be resumed, should be publicly announced—Nay more,—it should be commemorated by a public rejoicing. What say you, fellow citizens of Norfolk and Portsmouth—shall we have an illumination? A civic procession? or any other demonstration of our feelings on this important event?—Nor. Herald.
