OUR FASHIONABLE WORLD.

So engrossed have we been of late with subjects of a political nature, that the movements of our 'beau monde,' have been entirely overlooked—nay, we omitted to offer in a becoming manner & at a proper time, our congratulations to our fair wanderers on their safe return from other climes.
We trust in future to atone for this unpardonable remissness by a scrupulous devoth-fulness to our 'better part of creation'.
The season for 'Soirees' and 'Conversations,' opens under very auspicious circumstances, so far as weddings and the rumours of weddings may go. At no period has the 'Ancient City' presented a more brilliant display of fashion and beauty, than daily graces our promenades, a ramble through which cannot fail to dispel the gloom, which Jacksonism has settled upon the most elongated phiz. Here at every step you encounter belles that mock the Hours of Asiatic poetry—eyes that glance so brightly brilliant, that Eagles might prove their young at them—rosy cheeks and killing smiles—visions of Uman spare our aching sight—our pen reels at the bewildering picture, and we can hardly realize, that all this array of witchery, is but 'the sober certainty of waking bliss,' at our Athenian Soirees, where joy brightens his crest as 'Wit' walks the rounds and Music fills the air, pouring all the Arabian Heaven on our nights.

Not a little curious to observe the effect which this effulgence of charms would produce on the 'Gentlemen of the Old School', after their sober celibate existence of last summer, we were much gratified to see them assume quite a swaggering port, and become suddenly imbued with the grim spirit of romance. Now we hold the 'Old School' in high estimation, as an invaluable corps to our gay circle. They are none of your dully sensible men; but having arrived at that age when the turbulence of youthful folly begins to subside, and the mist of vanity to vanish from the 'cor-lean of their mental sky,' and having suffered much extremity in matters of love, they have become the very embodiment of all that is chivalrous—the soul of wit and good fellowship.

Such of our 'back country beaux' as contemplate visiting this 'retreat of letters and abode of sound principles,' should not forego the present auspicious moment.
Notwithstanding the alarming inroads they continue to make in the charming circle of our fair friends, (productive to us of aching hearts and sleepless nights,) we are happy to state that the 'Society for the suppression of back country beaux,' (thanks to the magnanimity of the 'Old School,') no longer exists—a fact which our friends of the Register should lose no time in promulgating through their useful journal.
Let our Mountain friends then visit us forthwith, and such as may survive the arduous duties of legislation, cannot do more wisely, than to recruit under the benign influence of Athenian hospitality.
(They will depart from among us, heartless, (we trust) not hopeless—and as our lessening spires disappear through the mists of a tear, they will, sighing, exclaim with the Poet, Athens! thy glory far outduns e'en rumour's tongue,
And envious fame leaves half thy charms unsung.

PROSPERITY.
How miserable is the lot of man! In prosperity he forgets every one; and in adversity every one forgets him. In prosperity he appears to have lost his senses; and when loaded with misfortunes, he is said never to have had any. In his sudden elevation, he becomes discontented with all the world; and when hurled to the bottom of the wheel of fortune, all the world are discontented with him. He who basks in the sunshine of fortune, should remember, that riches sometimes take the wing, and suddenly fly away from us.

RELIGION.
Religion is a thing much talked of, but little understood, much pretended to, but little practised, because it is so little understood.
Knowledge therefore, must precede religion, since it is necessary to be wise in order to be virtuous; it must be known to whom and on what account our duty is owing, otherwise it can never be rightly paid. It must therefore be considered that God is the object of all religion, and that the soul is the subject wherein it exists and resides. From the soul it must proceed, and to God it must be directed, as to that Almighty Being whose power alone could create a rational soul, and whose goodness only could move him to make it capable of an eternal felicity; which infinite bounty of God has laid a perpetual obligation upon the soul to a constant obedience and adoration of him; and to an undoubted assurance that the same power and goodness that created man, will forever preserve and protect him, if he per-severes in the sincere performance of his duty.

PRIVATE SCHOOL.
THE ensuing session of Mr. Dwight's School will commence on Monday, the 3d day of January next. All branches of English and Classical Education will be taught.

Shocco Female Academy.

MRS. LUCAS respectfully informs her friends and the public, that the Exercises of the above Academy will be resumed on the 1st Monday in February next.

The utmost attention will be paid to the morals and behavior of the young Ladies placed in this Seminary; and its retired, pleasant & healthy situation, its salubrious air and fine spring water, make it a very desirable residence for youth. This Academy has been under her care for the last seven years, and only one case of sickness has occurred during that time, although the principal part of her pupils were from the most unhealthy parts of the State. Being only a few miles from the State road, her Academy affords opportunities for Parents and Guardians of regular communications with their Children and Wards.

In addition to the usual Elements of Education and Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, the young Ladies will be instructed in Geography, History, Astronomy, Chemistry, Biography, Philosophy, Mythology, Drawing and Painting on Velvet, Music &c.

Terms—Board and Tuition $50 per Session, Music $20. Painting on Velvet $5. For Drawing, Painting on Paper, or Needle Work, no extra charge will be made.

80 DOLLARS REWARD.

THE above reward will be given for the apprehending negro boy SAMUEL, who left me about the 25th day of December last. He is a very dark brown, approaching to almost a black; has a knot or scar on his forehead, is about 5 feet 6 or 8 inches high, speaks with great boldness and confidence when spoken to relative to his papers, which I have good reason to believe he has obtained. His dress is very good, consisting of a blue frock, cloth coat and pants-looms, a black suit, a dark grey seal skin cap, a furred and wool hat, boots, &c. He is about 21 years of age. I am apprehensive that he is endeavoring to get to Philadelphia or New York.
Captains of vessels will do well to collect the severity of the law upon this subject.

The Editors of the Petersburg Intelligencer and Richmond Enquirer will please insert

MIDWAY ACADEMY,

FRANKLIN COUNTY, N. C.
THE Exercises of this Institution will be again renewed on the first Monday in January next, under the immediate instruction of the Subscriber, assisted by his son DANIEL S.
HILL. The course of Studies will be conformable to the plan of Education as adopted at our University. As the Subscriber is preparing his buildings for a permanent establishment, and will devote himself entirely to the duties of his School, parents may rest assured that every exertion shall be made to advance his pupils both in moral and intellectual improvement. Board will be $40, and tuition $10 per session, payable in advance.

Midway is situated two miles below the main Stage Road, ten miles from Lenoir, six from Warrenton and four from the Shocco Springs.
For health, it is exceeded by no situation in the State: for 4 years, there were from forty to sixty Students, and not a case of fever occurred.— Should, however, medical aid be required, the attention of Dr. John Brodie, whose skill as a Physician is inferior to none in the State, will be at hand, as he resides within two miles of Midway. The Students will be barred from ex-posure to extravagance and dissipation, as there is not a store or gill-shop within five miles of the Academy.

In the government of Midway Academy, the Principal will pursue that course which he would wish his own children. He will advise and admonish; where these fail, the rod will be resorted to, but with parental prudence. When any pupil shall be deemed incorrigible in disorderly conduct, or habitually inattentive to his studies, his parent or guardian will be immediately informed thereof.

mark of the cut of a knife on one of his cheeks, 2 or 3 inches long. The name of the said negro is DAY, and son times calls himself Day Littjohn. He was seen in the neighborhood of Raleigh, within the last ten days, when a horse was stolen, and it is conjectured by him, to enable him to get to the North, where it is supposed he is gone. The above reward will be given for his apprehension and notice so that I get him again.

Fanny Utley, widow of William Utley, dec'd.
vs.
Thomas Utley, and others, heirs of said dec'd

Petition for Dower.
IT having been made appear to the Court, that one of the Defendants, to wit, Thomas Utley, lives beyond the limits of this State, so that the ordinary process cannot be served on him: It is therefore ordered by the Court, that advertisement be made in the Raleigh Register for six weeks, for said Thomas to come forward and
