MEMORY There is a hand which mine hath prest,

But which it ne'er can press again, Save in the midnight hour of rest, When sleep imparts its fancies vain. There is an eye of floating blue, Which ever kindly beamed on me; There is a cheek of filly hue,

Which I alas I no more shall see There is a smile of gentleness, Of sweet and lovely purity;
Which oft in vision comes to bless The mellowed eye of memory.

There is a name which I conceal,

Deep in affection's sacred shrine;

Nor whisper, lest I should reveal, per, lest I should reveal, To any ear this name of mine.

There is a being pure and bright,
As a young boney flower of May,
That was a beam of golden light, Upon a dark and lonely day.

There is a heart which mine hath prized, Above all other hearts on earth Which I have dearly idolized, For all its sweetness, all its worth.

There is a feeling in this breast, Untired by time, decay or care; That cannot, will not be suppressed, But ever glow in freshness there.

THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER, Published in the CITY OF WASHINGTON,

GALES & SEATON.

THE National Intelligencer is an old established Journal, at the Seat of the General Government. It publishes, originally, regularly, and fully, the Proceedings and Debates of Congress; also, all the State Papers and Documents of public interest, laid before Congress, or original nating in that body, and all the Acts passed by them. These recommendations, in addition to a variety of other information which is to be found in its columns, connected with the Gene ral interests of our own country, with Literature and Science, and the Affairs of the world at large; together with the character of general fairness which the paper has sustained under its present editors for many years, make the National Intelligencer meful and even valuable, to all who feel an interest in the concerns of this or of other countries.

The National Intelligencer is not a party paper, but censures or approves where censure or approbation seems to be due to public measures. It supported the late Administration of the General Government, when the measures of that administration were such as to meet its approhation. It avows a determination, though it op-nosed the election of General Jackson, to sup-port the just measures of this Administration, but as certainly to oppose the unjust or the pro-scriptive. It will be, in principle, opposed to any Administration of the Government, whose measures shall show it to have the interests of a party at heart, rather than the great interests of he country. It is, in a word, what its title de-notes, a National paper.

For the independent and impartial course.

thich it has pursued, the National Intelligencer as been denounced, and an attempt has been rade to put it down, right or wrong, by the strong arm of power directed by caucus agency. attempt is as vain as it would be for any modern prophet to bid the sun to stand still .-Thirty years old, this National paper is not yet in its prime, but acquires strength and power with every day of its existence.

Without having ever sought for popularity, or courted public patronage, the National Intelli-gencer enjoys already the widest circulation of y newspaper in the United States. It is read in every State and Territory in the Union, and Hume's Essays, 2 vols. Memoirs of Madame and in every city and town, as well as in the country. It is read in every capital in Europe, and possesses sources of information exceeded by

For the first time, an effort is made to enlarge the subscription to it, by sending forth this Prospectus, which our adversaries in politics are exected to deal so generously with as to let it be seen, and our friends so kindly as to further our se with their aid and countenance. Herewe have hardly wished to enlarge our otion list. Intending hereafter, however, vote ourselves wholly to the newspaper, and to a proper improvement of "the condition of the Press," we invite such further subscriptions, as, being punctually paid, will remunerate our labor and expenses.

The National Intelligencer is published daily at ten dollars per annum, payable in advance. It is published, also, for the more convenient circulation where a daily mail does not penetrate, three times a week at six dollars per annum, ayable in advance. A remittance of either of these amounts in bank paper, by mail, will ensure the prompt and regular transmission of ev ery paper that may be ordered.

hose subscribing will please to signify whether they desire the paper for a year only, and then to be stopped without further notice, or wish it to be continued un'il counterminded. Washington, March 5, 1829.

TO THE AFFLICTED. HADLOCK'S

Vegetable Sirup and Powder, FOR DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

THE Proprietor of this Medicine, after repeated trials of its virtues, which have been atended with the most signal success, now offers t to those who are afflicted with the wasting diseases which it is designed to relieve, in full confidence that it will be found efficacious, particularly if taken in the incipient stages of these

For two years past, this Medicine has been prepared in the form of a Powder, & taken as an infusion, with the most happy success. It is now offered to the afflicted in the form of a Sirup or in Powder, as the Patient may prefer, under the conviction, that either form will produce the same happy result. Among its most prominent qualities the following may be mentioned, as en-titled to particular consideration. It promotes that gentle perspiration which is deemed healthy, and checks those sweats which are morbid and pernicious. It relieves chronic affections and congestions of the lungs by giving force to the languid circulation. It assuages coughs. It promotes free and bland expectoration. It removes pain from the chest. It relieves asthmatic and difficult respiration. It corrects obstinate costiveness, and thus leaves the bowels in a regular and healthy state. Thus, it is found, that these painful symptoms which indicate diseased lungs, readily yield to this powerful remedy, when seasonably resorted to, and that it restores the patient to that bodily vigour, which that cruel disorder the consumption, if left to its natural operation, would very speedily destroy.

Certificates respecting the virtue of this Medicine will accompany each bottle. Price $2 50 a bottle, or $24 a dozen. JAMES HADLOCK.

He will cover mares at $75 the season, payable on the first of January next, with one dollar to the groom in all cases. Such of Sir Archie's friends as live at a distance will send their notes with the mares, payable on the first of January-Also, the feeding of the mares to be paid for when taken away. The season commenced on the 1st February and will terminate on the first of August next. Extensive field s of small grain and clover are sowed for the benefit of mares that may be left with the horse, with the addition of grain feeding at 2s per day Separate enclosures are provided for mares with colts. No pains will be spared in taking the best possible care of mares, &c. that may be left, but no responsibility for escapes or accidents. Sir Archie's blood, great size, performance on the turf, and celebrity as a foal getter, are sufficient recommendations.
