She saw her brother Peterkin Roll comething large and round, Which he beside the rivulet In playing there had found, He came to ask what he had i That was so large, and smooth,

Old Kaspar took it from the b Who stood expectant by-And with a natural sigh; I'm some poor fellow's skull, said he, Who fell in the great victory.

I find them in the garden, for There's many here about— And often when I go to plough The plaughshares turn them out; For many thousand men, said he, Were slain in the great victory.

Now tell us what 'twas all about, Young Peterkin he cries, And little Wilhelmine looks up With wonder waiting eyes; Now tell us all about the war, And what they killed each other for.

It was the English, Kaspar cried, Who put the French to rout— But what they killed each other for, I could not well make out. But every body said, quoth he, That 'twas a famous victory.

My father lived at Blenheim then, You little stream hard by—
They burnt his dwelling to the ground,
And he was forced to fly— So with his wife and child he fled, Nor had he where to rest his head.

With fire and sword the country round Was wasted far and wide, And many a childing mother then, And new-born infant died, But things like these, you know, must be, At every famous victory.

They say it was a shocking sight, After the the field was won, For many thousand bodies here
Lay rotting in the sun;
But things like that you know must be After a famous victory.

Great praise the Duke of Mariboro' won, And our good Prince Eugene : Why, twas a very wicked thing ! Said little Wilhelmine. Nay-nay-my little girl, quoth he, It was a famous victory.

And every body praised the Duke Who such a light did win. But what good came of it at last? Quoth little Peterkin. Why, I cannot tell, said he, But 'twas a famous victory.

GALES & SEATON.

THE National Intelligencer is an old establish-ed Journal, at the Seat of the General Covernment. It publishes, originally, regularly, and fully, the Proceedings and Debates of Cono, all the State Papers and Documents erest, laid before Congress, or origin that body, and all the Acts passed by them. These recommendations, in addition to a variety of other information which is to be found in its columns, connected with the Gene ral interests of our own country, with Literature and Science, and the Affairs of the world at large; gether with the character of general fairness ch the paper has sustained under its presen editors for many years, make the National Intel-ligencer useful and even valuable, to all who feel an interest in the concerns of this or of

The National Intelligencer is not a party pa per, but censures or approves where censure or ation seems to be due to public measures. It supported the late Administration of the General Government, when the measures of that Administration were such as to meet its approbation. It avows a determination, though it opposed the election of General Jackson, to support the just measures of this Administration, but as certainly to oppose the unjust or the pro-scriptise. It will be, in principle, opposed to any Administration of the Government, whose measures shall show it to have the interests of a party at heart, rather than the great interests of the country. For the first time, an effort is made to enlarge the subscription to it, by sending forth this Prospectus, which our adversaries in politics are expected to deal so generously with as to let it be seen, and our friends so kindly as to further our purpose with their aut and countenance. Here u fore, we have headly wished to enlarge our subscription list. Intending hereafter, however, to devote ourselves wholly to the newspaper, and to a proper improvement of "the condition of the Press," we invite such further subscriptions, as, being punctually paid, will remunerate our labor and expenses.

The National Intelligencer is published daily, at ten dollars per annum, payable in advance. It is published, also, for the more convenient condition where a daily mail does not penetrate, three times a week at six dollars per annum, payable in advance. TO THE AFFLICTED. HADLOCK'S

Vegetable Sirup and Powder FOR DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

THE Proprietor of this Medicine, after repeated trials of its virtues, which have been attended with the most signal success, now offers it to those who are afflicted with the wasting diseases which it is designed to relieve, in full confidence that it will be found efficacious, particularly if taken in the incipient stages of these

For two years past, this Medicine has been prepared in the form of a Powder, & taken as an infusion, with the most happy success. It is now offered to the afflicted in the form of a Sirup or in Powder, as the Patient may prefer, under the conviction, that either form will produce the same happy result. Among its most prominent qualities the following may be mentioned, as en-titled to particular consideration. It promotes that gentle perspiration which is deemed healthy, and checks those sweats which are morbid and | Orange Carrot pernicious. It relieves chronic affections and congestions of the lungs by giving force to the languid circulation. It assuages coughs. It promotes free and bland expectoration. It removes pain from the chest. It relieves asthmatic and difficult respiration. It corrects obstinate costiveness, and thus leaves the bowels in a regular and healthy state. Thus, it is found, that these painful symptoms which indicate diseased lungs, readily yield to this powerful remedy, when seasonably resorted to, and that it restores the padisorder the consumption, if left to its natural operation, would very speedily destroy. Certificates respecting the virtue of this Medicine will accompany each bottle. Price $2 50 a bottle, or $24 a dozen. JAMES HADLOCK.
