

Supreme Court.—Henry E. Coleman of Caswell, Alexander Harris of Granville and John P. Gauze of Brunswick county, have obtained County Court Licences and William S. Ransom of Warren, & James Wright of Bladen have been admitted to Superior Court practice.

The demon of Party continues to wave his baleful wings over the Rulers of the day, and by every fresh instance of his predominance in their councils, lessens the character of the Administration, even amongst its own partisans. For those individuals, whom neither age, virtue or talents exempts from the political guillotine, our strongest sympathies are excited; but we sorrow more at the wounds inflicted on our national honor, by those who possessing might, forget right. Let the President and his advisers, continue exultingly to trample on the laws of humanity—let them laugh at the misery they have occasioned and let their satellites applaud them—but let them not mistake the approbation of each other for the sanction of the people. Let them bear in mind, that the Government is not hereditary, and that there is such a thing as retributive justice even here!

The removal of Mr. Watterston, the Librarian to Congress is the most extraordinary of the strange things which have occurred at Washington. It is in violation of a law, on the subject which provides that the Librarian shall give bond to be approved of by the Vice President & Speaker of the House of Representatives. As there is no Speaker now, no bond can be given; nor can the existing bond which covers all the deficiencies be cancelled until the meeting of Congress. It appears to us, that the securities of Mr. Watterston will be bound for any deficiency or neglect of the new Librarian, as their bond continues in force and no new securities can be taken. The National Journal in commenting upon this appointment, says:—

Congress reserved to themselves the right of saying who should be their Librarian, by giving to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House the power of demanding such security as they might think proper—thus intending to prevent the President from placing in so responsible a situation any irresponsible individual he might, in the exercise of his caprice or despotism, or for his own special purposes, think proper to thrust into this office. We are clearly of the opinion, that Mr. Watterston would have been entirely justified under these circumstances, in retaining the key of the Library, until the requisitions of the law had been complied with. We understand that he would consent to surrender it to the President only, conceiving that he could not, in any other way, be discharged from the obligation of his bond. The President has therefore assumed the responsibility, and must be amenable to Congress and the Nation for this open violation of law.

“Reform.”—George Watterston, Librarian, to Congress is removed to give place to John S. Meehan, of the Telegraph office.

E. B. Stelle Assistant Librarian, removed to give a birth to — Hume.

A. S. Thruston, late editor of the Florida Intelligencer, has been appointed Collector of the Customs, at Key West, vice William Pinckney, removed.

James Fillebrown, Jr. has been appointed Postmaster at Readfield Post Office, Maine, to succeed Samuel Currier, removed.

James Osborn has been appointed Postmaster in Kennebunk, Maine, to succeed Barnabas Palmer, resigned.

Isaac Merrill to be Postmaster in Hollis, Maine, to succeed Moses Davis, removed.

Benjamin B. Johnson has been appointed Postmaster at Frankfort, Kentucky, in place of James W. Hawkins, removed.

J. H. McPherson has been removed, as Postmaster at Xenia, Ohio, and Wm. T. Starks appointed in his stead.

Changes in the Post Office, in Vermont, in addition to those already announced:—

Middlebury, Calvin C. Walker, vice George Cleveland; Munkton, Edward Collins, vice Charles Dean; Bristol, H. Soper, vice Joseph Otis; Essex, Albert Stevens, vice Roswell Butler.

In the case of the third indictment against Dr. Tobias Watkins to which a demurrer was entered by his counsel, as in the previous ones, the Court have decided that the indictment is insufficient, and have of course sustained the demurrer.

Mr. John Pope has at last proceeded to Arkansas to take upon himself the office of Governor of that Territory to which he was appointed by the President. Previous to his leaving Kentucky he received an invitation to become a candidate for Congress, to which he replied, if elected he would resign his Governorship and go to Congress.

A Sturgeon weighing eighty-five pounds, was taken in a fish-trap, last week, at Cobbs's Mills, on Neuse.

We understand that a man was killed in Franklin county, last week by Lightning. Several others in company, were considerably stunned by the shock.

Death by Lightning.—Two persons were killed a few days since, in Conway, Massachusetts by Lightning. They were sitting in the Post-office at that place, where they had retreated from the stage during a violent storm.—When the building was struck, a third person was sitting between them who escaped unhurt. It is mentioned as a remarkable fact that this person took his seat but a few minutes before the lightning struck the building, and stated that Dr. Franklin said in his writings, that the safest place in a building during a thunder storm, was in the middle of the room, sitting in a chair with the feet upon the rounds of it. He sat in that position, and, it is supposed, thus escaped.

Latest from England.—By the ship Mentor, Captain Webb, arrived at New-York, which sailed from Liverpool on the 10th May, Liverpool papers of 9th and London of the 8th May are received.

The only article of intelligence is, that the riots in the manufacturing districts have unhappily produced the consequences that had been apprehended. Blood had been shed. Five men have been killed at Rochdale, and twenty-five wounded. For some time there had been discontent among the woollen & flannel manufacturers against some of the masters who pay lower wages. It was therefore resolved to destroy their looms, &c. They carried their intention into effect; a riot ensued. The military were called out, and a great number of rioters were taken into custody and committed to Lancaster Castle.—A large mob assembled before the Castle, for the purpose of liberating them. They attacked the soldiers with stones, and wounded one. A party of cavalry arrived, who fired on the mob, killed five and wounded twenty-five.

Visitors at West Point.—The New-York American states, that the public examination of the Cadets commenced yesterday week, and would probably continue during the present week.—After this exhibition the Cadets will go into tents for several weeks. The board of Visitors as constituted by the Secretary of War, Major Eaton, consists this year of the following gentlemen.

Gen. Pierce Van Cortlandt, of New-York, President; Hon. J. Burnett, a Senator from Ohio; Gen. M. Stokes of North-Carolina; Col. H. Whiteley, of Delaware; Lieut. Col. W. J. Worth, U. S. A.; Major W. A. Davis, of Kentucky; C. E. Robins, of Rhode-Island; Levi Pawling, of Pennsylvania; George P. Porter, of do; Timothy Walker of Round Hill, Massachusetts; Doctor Archer, U. S. A.; Doctor J. Augustine Smith, of New-York; Rev. F. W. Hatch, of Virginia; Col. Thomas S. Bell, of Pennsylvania; Wm. Lee, District of Columbia; C. T. Davis, of S. Carolina; Wm. Ross of Newburgh, N. York; and Rev. Mr. Clelland, of Kentucky. Most of these gentlemen are now present at the Point, and attend daily in the examination rooms.

The New-York Commercial (June 2) states, that Mr. Hamilton of S. Carolina, whom our readers will remember as the chairman of the Humbug, styled the “Retrenchment” Committee, in the House of Representatives—while in that city last week, spoke openly and frankly, in disapprobation of the proceedings at Washington. From north to south, and east to west, a strong sentiment of disgust and disappointment pervades the community. We declare that though in the daily habit of free and familiar converse with Jackson men of town and country, on political topics, we have met with two men only, who justified the system of removals and appointments, pursued at Washington, and one of them was an office seeker. In almost every case, disgust was unreservedly expressed. There are Jackson men left—but that wild enthusiasm of personal admiration for the Military Chieftain, which so strongly ran through the country, sweeping away in its progress the experience of mankind, the admonitions of our Republican sages, and the maxims before deemed irrefragable, is utterly defunct. Men continue to be Jacksonians, only from pride of consistency. They hate to confess that the individual upon whom they almost bestowed a living Apotheosis, turns out upon experiment, to be so little of a God, as to tamely surrender himself into the keeping of some of the most depraved men the country has ever reared—convicts of deep crimes, & the outcasts of society.—Rich. Whig.

A Bucks County paper states that a cabinet-maker has applied dogs to the turning of a lathe—that two of them move at a moderate trot, like a brace of squirrels, put the whole machinery in motion, and turn the latter with sufficient velocity from morning till night with very little intermission. The Baltimore Gazette suggests whether nine tenths of the worthless noisy animals in that town might not be put to a similar use.—We respectfully throw out the idea to the Turners of Richmond, not doubting that dogs enough might be found, to turn all the lathes which could be put in motion. Some such employment might save many of these lazy gentlemen from dying of the Dyspepsia, and might relieve the slumbering neighbours from their execrable howling music. By being worked in the day time, they might be disposed to keep better hours in the night—always exempting from the lathes, those useful centinels who earn their bread by guarding their master's premises from the midnight robber.—Richmond Comp.

Another Patriot of the Revolution gone!—Col. Allen M'Lane, Collector of the port of Wilmington, and the honored father of our Minister to England, died at Wilmington about sunset on Friday last, in the 83d year of his age. The deceased was born on the 6th of August 1746. He joined the army in the commencement of the Revolution, full of ardor and patriotic sentiments, which he illustrated by deeds of intrepidity, and by enterprise and talents, that secured to him the regard of his compatriots, and the particular confidence and esteem of the Commander-in-Chief.

Through a long life he preserved unsullied the bright reputation acquired in his revolutionary career; and as his days were long and prosperous, so his last moments were tranquil and full of hope. If to such men we owe much for their actual achievements in the time of national struggles for independence, do we not yet more to the abiding influence of their political and moral example upon present and succeeding generations?—Balt. Repub.

A Land Shoal.—During a shower on Sunday morning, several eels fell to the earth a few rods north of Capitol Hill, making impressions in the mud where they lighted, which very plainly indicates the great degree of momentum they had acquired in their descent. They were of various sizes, generally from a foot to a foot and a half in length, and when we saw them a few minutes after they had fallen, were as lively, and twisted themselves into as many different postures, as if they had just been taken from the water.

Maine Patriot. Domestic Manufactures.—The attention of many persons at the Federal street Theatre, was attracted, a few evenings since, by the appearance in the second tier of boxes, of four children, evidently members of the same family and apparently of nearly the same age. On enquiring, we were informed that these four children were the simultaneous pledges of affection between an individual attached to the theatre, and his wife—having been brought into the world at one birth. The two boys are astonishingly like each other, and the same remark may be applied to the two girls. They are now six years of age, strong, healthy and intelligent.

Boston Adv. The Boston Bulletin informs its readers that the Bank of Columbia, N. York, has suffered a paralytic shock, which has suspended its functions; and adds, that an unusual discharge of bilious matter from the chest was the cause. Other Banks in our neighborhood are threatened with the same disease. The Brokers are busy in feeling their pulse.

Another Improvement!—Mr. Daniel Richardson of Baltimore advertises that he has greatly improved his Refrigerator or Portable Ice House—and also constructed a Butter Box, on the principles of his refrigerator. He says that in these Butter Boxes, any quantity of butter may be transported to market from any distance by land or water, perfectly hard and without injury to the form of the prints, in the hottest season, and will bring nearly double the price that it would when brought in the common way. This last recommendation is (as we say of news) important if true. “Double the price!” He advises also that Captains of Steamboats and vessels going to sea will find the refrigerator the most useful thing of any on board their vessels they ever heard of, as coarse alum salt can be used in them to keep them cold instead of ice, and it can be warranted that a piece of fresh meat will not rot in one of them in six months.—Rich. Comp.

The Boston Courier inveighs against the practice pursued by many country farmers, of sending their sons into cities to become shopkeepers and trading merchants, instead of employing them at home on their farms. The Courier concludes its article with these observations:—“How happy would it be for hundreds and thousands of our young men, if they could be persuaded that a few acres of ground are better capital than as many thousands of dollars, procured by writing their names at the bottom of a negotiable note; and what years of misery might be saved if men would believe that a dollar actually earned by honorable and healthful labor as farmers and mechanics, is worth a hundred in prospect to be gained in trade and speculation.”

Medical Society of the State of New-York.—The Committee on prize questions and dissertations, consisting of Drs. Manley and Watts of New-York, and Drs. Eights, T. Romeyn Beck, and James McNaughton, of Albany, have unanimously awarded the premium of $100 for the best essay on typhus fever, to the dissertation having the motto “Ex principis nascitur probabilitas, ex factis vero veritas.” On opening the sealed note accompanying the successful candidate was found to be Alfred T. Magill, M. D. of Winchester, Virginia.

Norfolk, June 1. On Saturday last, a dog on board the North-Carolina 74, at Gosport, without any provocation, suddenly attacked and bit very severely, three of the hands who were at work in the ship. He was then killed.

This dog, we learn, had previously shown decided symptoms of madness, and had lacerated in a smocking manner another dog on board the ship. He was in consequence confined, but got loose, and the first use he made of his liberty was to attack the men. One of the persons bitten is a white man, whose name we did not learn; the other two are blacks, one belonging to Dr. Moseley of this Borough, the other to Lt. Lee, of the Navy.

Mobile, May 13. Something new.—The Steamboat Virginia, which arrived here yesterday from Tuscaloosa, brought a barrel of Hail-stones, some of which we saw; they were of an inch diameter, and would have weighed an ounce or more. This, it will be recollected, was ten days subsequent to the late storm. We learn from the Captain of the Virginia that large quantities of ice were still lying in valleys and places not open to a South exposure, when he left there. We also understand that a large quantity of Hail-stones had been collected in an ice-house in Tuscaloosa, from which ice-punch, creams, &c. were served up as required. The weather was warm—the thermometer ranging, at mid-day, as high as eighty degrees.

Isaac Sanderson, of Milton, Massachusetts, has invented and secured a patent for a new and highly important improvement in the cylinder paper machine, for manufacturing paper, consisting of a counteracting horizontal whirl-wheel—and a paper forming roller, by which the paper usually made by machine, is greatly improved in quality, strength, and durability—and several kinds of paper are made never before produced by any machine.

The will of the late Frederick Rhone, which was proved yesterday, has been a principal subject of conversation in the city since its contents were made known. This gentleman, while living, was liberal, without ostentation, in his donations for benevolent and useful purposes; though, being of retired habits and in delicate health, his name was not among those with which the public are familiar as the active promoters of schemes of general utility. It was presumed that a portion of his property would be bequeathed to charitable purposes; but the splendid endowments bestowed on some of our most valuable institutions far exceeds the most sanguine hopes entertained by their friends.—We have procured a list, and which we believe to be complete, of these legacies.

Two houses in Charleston are given to the City Council, in trust, for the Orphan Asylum of that place. The money legacies are to be paid immediately after the decease of the testator's widow. A large sum is bequeathed to individuals, and the residue to the executors, to distribute among such charities, in Pennsylvania and South Carolina, “as they may deem most beneficial to mankind, and so that part of the coloured population, of said States of Pennsylvania and South Carolina shall partake thereof.”—Phila. Chronicle.
