

Our Market.—Complaints having been made of the irregular manner in which the business of our market has been heretofore conducted, the Commissioners of the City have taken the subject into consideration, and resolved to reform the abuses complained of.

To effect this object, the Market-House has been repaired; and an Ordinance passed to regulate the order of business of the Market in future.

Mr. Wm. Peck is appointed Clerk of the Market, and we have no doubt that he will perform his duty, and that no complaint will hereafter be heard on this head; or if any be made, that the cause will be immediately rectified.

During the Summer, the market is to be closed daily at 10 o'clock in the forenoon; at other seasons, it will be kept open till noon.

A correspondent in Randolph, informs us that a Coroner's inquest was held on the 27th ultimo, over the body of a man found dead in the Dutch Meeting-House in that county, who, as it appeared from his papers, was from Wake, and whose name was Titus Jennings Turner. The verdict of the Jury was, that he died a natural death.

We were well acquainted with the deceased, and we have seldom known a more extraordinary character. He was an active soldier of the Revolution, the events of which he could detail with such accuracy and feeling as to render them doubly interesting. He was nearly or quite 90 years of age, a man of temperate and correct habits, of inoffensive deportment and a considerable politician. He possessed a strong mind and retentive memory, and was exceedingly fond of reading rare or abstruse works. We have known him sit hours together, poring over some musty work of Divinity or Law (his favourite branches of Science,) and scarcely ever withdraw his attention for a moment, until the declining sun betokened the approach of night. He was poor, and never having had any great relish for work, was supported pretty much by visiting from house to house, in the part of the country where he had always lived, circulating the "newest news" and occasionally instructing the children in their first rudiments for learning.

Supreme Court.—Z. W. Barrow of Beaufort County, has received County Court Licence; and Thomas M. Wadsworth of Newbern, and J. Albert King of Iredell, have been admitted to Superior Court practice.

A collection was taken up in the Presbyterian Church of this City, on Sunday last, in aid of the funds of the Colonization Society.

By a Proclamation of the 6th July, the President of the United States has recognized P. R. Dickinson as Vice Consul of his Danish Majesty for the State of North Carolina, to reside in Washington in this State.

The Bank of the United States has declared a dividend of three and a half per cent. on its capital stock for the last six months.

We understand that a large Panther has made its appearance in that part of Orange county, which borders on Wake, to the great terror of the inhabitants.—If he will extend his visit, our sportsmen will give a good account of him.

We have been reminded, that in our account of the celebration of the late Anniversary, we omitted to state that the Franklin Debating Society in this city, observed the day in an appropriate manner. The Declaration of Independence was read at night, in the Methodist Church, by James L. Grimes and an Oration delivered by Henry W. Miller, both members of the Society.

Major Stevens.—It will be seen from a notice in another column, that this celebrated Dwarf is now in our city, and proposes to give an exhibition on Saturday evening next, for the entertainment of our citizens. We have seen the Major, and he is really a sensible, interesting personage. His situation deserves our sympathy and patronage, and we hope he will receive them.

Honors to the President.—On the 8th inst. President Jackson left Washington, on a visit to Old Point Comfort. He was attended by the Secretaries of the Navy and War Departments, by the Postmaster General, by General McComb, Commander in Chief of the Army, Gen. Bernard, of the Engineer Corps, General Gibson, Commodore Rogers and Warrington of the Navy Board, Majors Donaldson and Greer, and Lieut. Van Buren. He was also accompanied by the following members of the families of the President and Heads of Departments, viz. Miss Easton, niece of the President, Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. Barry, Mrs. Donaldson of the President's family, two daughters of the Secretary of the Navy, and Miss M'Comb.

On landing at Old Point, from the Steam Boat, the President was greeted with a salute of 24 guns from the garrison, and received the military honors due to his rank, from the Battalion stationed at the Post, who were drawn up a short distance from the wharf ready to receive him.

A Committee from Norfolk met the President at Old Point, and invited him to visit the borough and receive the hospitality of its citizens. This the President accepted, having verbally returned his acknowledgements. He was also solicited to visit Portsmouth, and partake of a public dinner, to which the President replied, his stay would be so short as to prevent his accepting their invitation to dine, but that he would spend an hour in Portsmouth, on his way to Norfolk at any place to be designated by the committee, where he would be happy to meet his fellow-citizens. He did so and was greeted with demonstrations of respect and cordiality. A salute of 24 guns was fired from a battery of four 12 pounders. At Norfolk, upon the Steam Boat nearing the Wharf, a salute was fired in handsome style, from the Revenue Cutter Wasp, Capt. Coody, lying in the stream, and the President was waited upon on board by a Committee of the Court and Common Council, and a number of citizens; was addressed by Wm. Maxwell, Esq. on behalf of the authorities, and with his suite he was escorted to the platform at the Ferry Wharf, where he was received with Military honors by a Battalion of Volunteers, composed of the Norfolk Cavalry, Capt. Jones, Independents, Capt. Capron's Juniors, Capt. Gibbons, and the three Companies from Portsmouth, who were drawn up in a handsome, well dressed line, extending from the Wharf nearly to the Steam Boat Hotel. The President and suite having passed the front of the line, it broke into column and escorted them to Johnson's Hotel, where accommodations had been provided for their reception by the Corporate authorities, and whither the Ladies of their respective families had preceded them.

A great number of Citizens, Ladies & Gentlemen, visited the President, his suite and the Ladies of their families, during the evening, and were received with the greatest affability and respect.

Jacob Gould has been appointed Collector of the port of Rochester, vice J. Hawley, removed.

Dr. John B. Ellwood, has been appointed Postmaster at Rochester, vice Abelard Reynolds, removed.

Nashville, Ten. June 26.

The U. S. Circuit Court for this district adjourned on Tuesday evening last, after having disposed of all the cases upon the docket. This being the first term at which Judge M'Lean had presided, and the first occasion on which he had appeared among us at all, the eyes of our bar and of the community generally were strongly and attentively fixed upon him. He came to under circumstances by no means favorable to a successful impression. Having occupied with uncommon talent and reputation the head of an important department of our national government, high expectations were naturally formed.—Yet, coming to a new and responsible station, after having been withdrawn for many years from those pursuits and habits of thought which are most congenial with its duties, and in some degree essential to their prompt and correct discharge; especially being the immediate successor of a man so eminently gifted and thoroughly qualified as the late lamented Trimble, it was feared that he would find himself unable to sustain in his new office that high reputation which his almost unrivalled success in his late station had acquired him.

Notwithstanding all these difficulties, however, we are confident we utter the sentiment prevailing with great unanimity among the most judicious, competent, and attentive observers, when we say that the discharge of his most important duties has been equal to every reasonable anticipation, and although it was impossible for him to feel or to display that readiness and confidence in his decisions which habit and long familiarity only can afford, yet entire satisfaction was given by the correctness, rapidity and judgment with which he investigated questions and matured opinions. On the whole, he has during the short intercourse of the present term, given us ample assurance of his intellectual power and uncommon industry, of his worth as a man, his dignity and urbanity as a gentleman, and of his ultimate promise as a Judge of the highest reputation and ampest attainments.

The New York Commercial of Tuesday, says that soon after twelve o'clock on Monday night, the citizens were aroused by the cry of fire, and the general ringing of the bells. It was soon ascertained that the fire was in the upper part of that city, and that it bore an alarming appearance. It commenced in the rear of 241, Spring Street, and destroyed upwards of twenty buildings on the block bounded East by Varick Street, West by Hudson Street, North by Vandam Street, and South by Spring Street. Most of the small buildings in the rear were frame, small, and occupied by numerous families whose names we find it very difficult to obtain. On Spring Street, six good two-story brick buildings were destroyed. They were occupied as follows; by Wm. Mourou, Mr. Ingie, Mr. Boyce, Mr. Marsh, Mr. Applegate, Ebenezer Inglee, Parsons Inglee, Mr. Deane, Mr. Elset, and widow Catharine Price. The loss of property is estimated at from 25 to $30,000, about one-fourth of which was insured.

The firemen had a severe duty, and several companies were still at work at ten o'clock in the morning, having been on duty ten hours. A citizen was much bruised by the falling of a wall. As to the origin of the fire, nothing satisfactory had been obtained. Some say the building was set on fire by the falling of a small balloon, and others that crackers had been thrown into a stable.

Dreadful Steam Boat Disaster.—A citizen of this place who has just returned from Louisville gives us the following particulars of the explosion of a boiler of the S. B. Kennawha, and its consequences, which took place on the 24th ult. at the mouth of Gyanlotte, on board of which he was a passenger at the time.

The Kennawha had stopped to discharge and receive passengers. After the boat was pushed off, the Engine was started, and the pump put in motion to supply the boilers with water. The boilers being rather low, and hot at the shore, and but little steam having been let off during their stay at the shore, the moment the cold water came in contact with the starboard boiler, it burst; both ends blowing off, the boiler itself breaking quite asunder; a boat midway of its length, one half of which was ripped lengthwise and spread out in the form of a piece of sheet iron, and the fine collapsing was cast upon shore, a considerable distance by the violence of the explosion.

There were at the time, about 25 Cabin and 60 Deck passengers on board, the former of which escaped uninjured. Of the latter including hands, the following is a list of the persons killed and injured by the explosion:

Killed.—Abraham Barnes, Fireman; Thomas Bryant, Passenger; James Sheriff, do. a child of 3 years old; Hamilton, do. a lad, surname not known but whose father resides near Sunfish Ohio.

Died of Scalds and wounds up to 7 o'clock.—A. M. of June, 26, 4.—C. Davis, colored man, passenger.

Engineers.
Joel Sloop,
Thomas Phillips,
Lewis Handy, Deck hand.

Dangerously injured.—4.—Captain Rodgers, H. St. Clare, John Bremwell, late of Poplar Springs; A. Williams colored man, cook.

Slightly injured.—11.—Joseph Sheriff, saddler, formerly of Pittsburg who served his apprenticeship with Mr. Little. Mrs. Sheriff, had her heel bone broken, and was slightly scalded; Ann Riggs, Mary Ann Graham, Martha Woodruff and child, C. Rust, and Samuel Edgar—all deck passengers.—Wheeling Gaz.

Schenectady July 4, 1829.

I have just witnessed an unfortunate accident which occurred here, by the discharge of a cannon. A man by the name of Crandell has lost one hand, otherwise seriously hurt, it was thought mortal, but hopes are entertained of his recovery. (Since dead.)

Another, Francis Truax, of Watervliet, had his left arm very much mangled, and his face shockingly burnt.

"Remarkable Cow and Calf."—Mr. Jeremiah Stickney, of Rowley, has a Cow, of bay colour, which produced a Cow Calf this season, weighing at the time of its birth 93 lbs. At the age of 6 weeks, the calf weighed 196 lbs. making a growth of 2 3/7 lbs per day. In addition to supplying the calf, the cow now affords 8 quarts (beer measure) of milk, the richest quality, daily. The calf being taken from the cow to ascertain the quantity of milk she would give daily, 19 quarts (beer measure) were taken from her. The cow is of large size, remarkably well proportioned and handsome.—The calf is a very fine animal, and resembles the cow both as to colour and shape. The cow afforded milk up to the time of her calving, with no other keeping than hay.

Salem Register.

Philadelphia, May 14.
Yesterday a calf exactly 5 months old, belonging to Jacob Hiltzheimer, Esq. of this city, weighed, in the presence of a number of gentlemen, 624 lbs. As a matter of curiosity, and to excite emulation among the farmers, we insert its weight at the following ages, which may be depended on as accurate, viz:

At 1 day's old	116 lbs.
18 do.	162
31 do.	223
49 do.	309
61 do.	321
89 do.	433
104 do.	469
139 do.	624 as above.

No extraordinary means of forcing the growth was used, and it sucked the milk of one Cow only."

Exports of Charleston.—We have been favored with a statement of the exports of Cotton and Rice from the port of Charleston during this season, including the month of June, from which it appears that there has been a very large increase of the former article over the year previous. The exports of cotton for this season have amounted to 224,600 bales, and there are 16,746 bales in port; while the exports of the year previous, amounted to only 127,667. We learn that there has been an increased export from Savannah also, to what extent we know not. These facts are not cheering. While the Manufacturers of Europe are in great distress, and the consumption is evidently not increasing, there can be no reasonable expectation of an increase of price of this article. We should be sincerely glad to see more of our planters turning their attention to some other object of culture, as it is too evident that this is overdone. We would again call their attention to the Vine, the Silk Worm and the growing of Wool, as offering each a prospect of profitable investment of capital and employment of labour. And we do sincerely hope that circumstances will awaken the farmers of N. C. to a consideration of the subject. If we thought that they could be content with the price they now get for their cotton, or there was a probability of a rise of that price, we should not urge it upon them. They are the best judges whether or not that probability exists.

The exports of Rice from Charleston the past season have been 189,191 tierces; season previous, 144,221.—Fay. Obs.

The Franklin Legacies.—It is well known that Dr. Franklin left by will, a fund of one thousand pounds to each of the cities of Philadelphia and Boston; to be loaned out in small sums at moderate interest, to young, married mechanics, to enable them to commence business. A statement of the present condition of these funds has been lately published, by their respective trustees, from which it appears that the Boston fund is in a much more healthy condition than that of Philadelphia. The nominal amount of the Philadelphia Franklin Fund is now $20,600 90—but the trustees state in their report, that a very large proportion of it is in hands from which it can never be reclaimed; and may therefore be deemed virtually lost; and that on the whole, the object of the benevolent donor has been in a great measure defeated. The Boston Fund on the other hand is stated to be in a prosperous condition. Its present amount is $17,234 04—and it is represented to be nearly, if not quite all, in good hands.

The Sun Flower.—It is said by experienced agriculturalists, that this plant, properly cultivated, is probably the most profitable of any ever cultivated. The oil extracted from its seeds, which are more oleaginuous than those of any plant to us, combines the qualities, for eating of the olive or sweetoil; for burning, of the best Sperm oil, without the smoke of the latter, and for painting, of the flaxseed oil. The young flower cups of this plant are very esculent and agreeable to the taste, when prepared and eaten as artichokes. The stalks are an excellent substitute for hemp in manufacturing pack thread. From its flowers, the most luscious and highly flavored honey is extracted. It is estimated that the plant will yield between 80 and 100 bushels of seed to the acre; which will furnish from five to seven quarts of oil to the bushel. We think it would be an object for our agriculturalists to make the experiment. The flower will flourish on ground unfit for any thing else.

Travellers who visit the Va. Springs, for pleasure or health, can easily take in a variety of curiosities which are eminently worthy of being seen. Going by Lynchburg from Richmond, the stranger can see on the first day from Lynchburg the Peaks of Otter (the peak of which presents the most sublime prospect in the United States, with the exception perhaps of the lofty mountains in New-Hampshire)—The next day brings him to the Natural Bridge and the canal through the Blue Ridge.—In the course of a few days he can visit the Sweet Springs, the White Sulphur, the Salt Sulphur, the Red Sulphur (for consumptive patients,) the Hot Springs and the Warm Springs (the latter celebrated for its immense bath and the grand prospect which the Warm Spring Rock displays to him)—On his way to Staunton, he passes the Blowing Cave.—On the first day from Staunton, he reaches Weyer's Cave, one of the most astonishing works of Subterranean Nature in the world.—Going up the Valley, he will visit at Harper's Ferry, the celebrated junction of the Shenandoah and Potomac. The country, through which some of this road conducts him, is not only remarkable for the beauty of the picturesque, but the fertility of its soil.—The grass lands are uncommonly beautiful.

A visit to Virginia is well worthy the attention of the passenger who travels for pleasure or for health.—Rich. Comp.
