THE ATTORNEY TO HIS MISTRESS.

We do not recollect to have heard the techn califies of the Law so agreeably employed in any instance, as in the Plea before us.]

O, thou! bright image of a saint above, Whose charms these soft sensations now i

Behold how Capid, in the Court of Love. Has mark'd his writ and seized upon my heart

That heart, arrested by thy dazzling eyes, No sounds can raise, no melody can cheer But in thy bosom now imprisoned lies, As may more fully, and at large appear.

And will you not take pity on its woes, And hear the sail recital of its grief? n some few words; its case I shall disclose Plead in its cause, and humbly pray relief

O, beauteous maid! with each perfection blest, Who now engrossest all my tender care Lay not thy sad injunction on my breast, But fan the flame which thou hast kindled

And here, I cov'nant, promise and agree, No other maid my passion shall decoy, Ah! no, I'll give and grant it all to thee, To have, hold, occupy, possess, enjoy.

For oh! thy beauty with severe controul, Has brought its action against every sense, And served its sweet subpana on my soul, To which, alas! I dare not make defence.

Thus, then, each comfort of my life is gone, And every joy in sequestration lies, But all released shall shortly be, by one-One beaming glance of thy refulgent eyes!

F-Oh! they outvie my sparkling silver sand, More black than e'en the ink I daily spill; Like my red wax thy blushing smiles expand, Thy form! how far more stately than my Quill!

Like my brief paper is thy bosom fair! Where every soft persuasive feeling sports: But with thy mind, what other can compare? Ah! none indeed, if we believe reports!

Thus, thus, my tender passion I impart, Hear then, sole object of my fond desire; How thou hast th'en possession of my heart, And with love's flambeau set my soul on fire!

Oh ! then no longer let it furious burn, Nor rage destructive, through this tortured

But oh! do thou in fond affection turn, And hill in Hymen's rites the sacred flame

Come, let us now the obligation real, And the blest hand perform, fulfil, and keep Till age at last shall o'er our senses steal, And close our eyes in everlasting sleep

And when our lives' short tenure shall be o'er, And death, with dread habere shall appear, In quiet peace, possession we'll restore, Then, fiy to Heaven's high court, and enter students there.

1st. A Collection of one hundred of Perrin's Pables, accompanied by a Key, containing the text a literal-and free translation, arranged in such a minner as to point out the difference between the French and the English idioms,-Also, a figured pronunciation of the French, according to the best French works extant on he subject. The whole preceded by a Treatise on the sounds of the French language, as compared with those of the English; after which is a Syllabaire, or collection of French words. with the English, from one to eight syllables.

2. Les Aventures de Telemaque par Fenelon accompanied by a Key to the first eight books; containing like the Fables—the text—a literal and free translation; intended as a Sequel to the Fables.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

HADLOCK'S Vegetable Sirup and Powder, FOR DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

THE Proprietor of this Medicine, after repested trials of its virtues, which have been attended with the most signal success, now offers it to those who are afflicted will the wasting. diseases which it is designed to relieve, in full confidence that it will be found efficacious, particularly if taken in the incipient stages of these

For two years past, this Medicine has been prepared in the form of a Powder, & taken as an usion, with the most happy success. It is now fered to the afflicted in the form of a Sirup or in Powder, as the Patient may prefer, under the conviction, that either form will produce the same happy result. Among its most prominent qualities the following may be mentioned, as en-titled to particular consideration. It promotes that gentle perspiration which is deemed healthy and checks those sweats which are morbid and pernicious. It relieves chronic affections and congestions of the lungs by giving force to the languid circulation. It assuages coughs. It promotes face and bland expectoration. It removes pain from the chest. It relieves asthmatic and difficult respiration. It corrects obstinate cos-tiveness, and thus leaves the bowels in a regular and healthy state. Thus, it is found, that these pandul symptoms which indicate diseased lungs, read ly yield to this powerful remedy, when seasonably resorted to, and that it restores the patient to that bodily vigour, which that cruel disorder the consumption, if left to its natural operation, would very speedily destroy.

Certificates respecting the virtue of this Meditime will accompany each bottle. Price of the byrup, $2.50 per bottle, or $24 a dozen. Of the Fowder $1 per bottle, or $9 n dozen.

COTTON YARN! COTTON YARN COTTON YARN!!!

N order to meet the exigency of the present times & competition on a fair ground-Also, to enable Country Merchants and others to purchase COTTON YARNS, as cheap in Virginia as other parts of the Union-I have concluded to sell my Cotton Yarns by the quantity of 150 pounds and upwards, in assortments of equal quantities from No. 5, to 10 at 21 cents per pound, with an advance of three cents per No. up to No. 20. It is not necessary to say much about the quality of these Yarns as they are so generally well known, and allowed by all who have used them to be superior to any in the Union. Orders left or forwarded to Mr. Wm. Clark, jr. Petersburg; to Mr. Wm. Wallace, Mr. John Wyse and Mr. Wm. Clark, of Richmond, or to myself at the Factory, will be promptly attended to and forwarded.

I am also prepared to furnish Cotton Yarns dved of any color, suitable for striping Checks or Ginghams, at prices to suit the times. Good white seed Cotton will be taken in exchange for Cotton Yarns, or Ginned for the customary toll, or will be purchased at the Factory and the highest price given. I have a Wool Carding Machine is operation at the Factory with a new set of Cards all complete, which I warrant to card Wool Rolls in a manner superior to any other in this country. Price for carding ten cents a pound or 122 cents if I find the grease. The arrangement is so made with this machine that Wool can be carded in winter as well as in sum-JOSEPH HEYWOOD, Powhatan Cotton Factory.
