OFFICE SEEKING.

We subjoin the observations of B. W Leigh, upon the subject of office seeking, a vice, for it may well be called one, as prevalent with Americans as any other penin the Convention, Mr. Leigh said :

"I fear, sir, we are in the habit of counting too much upon the purity and virtue of our society, as a permanent security against all political evils. I told the committee yesterday that I intended James Westbrook,) Original attachment. Le to open my whole mind without reserve : this is the last scene of my political life; before I came here I weeded all the hopes of ambition from my heart; & I now declare my conscientious belief unpopular as the avowal of it may be, that from the beginning of leigh Register for six weeks successively, so that time, never any nation made a more rapid the said defendant may come forward at our next progress in corruption than have these for said county at the Court-house in Snowhill, United States during the last quarter of a on the 2d Monday of February next, and replecentury. I beg leave to mention a few of vy, &c. Witness, Wm. Williams, Clerk of said the most obvious of many symptoms - Court at Office, the 2d Monday of Nov. 1829. Even in this good Old Dominion, for one place hunter that was to be seen when I grew up to manhood, there are ten now; yes the number is ten fold at least. They Alfred Vestal & others vs. Thos. Vestal & others. swarm in the country and the city, they infest our public places, they invade our privacy, and disturb the quiet of their industrious neighbors with their solicita this case, is not an inhabitant of this State; it is tions. They are themselves marketable therefore ordered, that notice be published in commodities, they put up their principles, the Raleigh Register for six months of the filing their opinions, their votes, at auction to the Petition, and that the said John Vestal, at the highest bidder, setting the highest valthe highest bidder, setting the highest val-ue upon their services, but willing to take petition, or the same will be taken pro confesso any price they get. Men hardly fit for a and heard exparte. clerkship aspire to embassies, and men, who aspire to embassies, will descend to clerkship office-office and emolument,

There is a little white ant in the West Indies, the pest of the country: lay the smallest lump of sugar on a mahogany table and in 15 minutes, there will be hundreds around it; tread upon a lizard in die, and before his remains are committed to his mother earth, the whole swarm is ac Press; which in this country is the true sary Outhouse, all in good repair. exemplar vitæ morumque. Why is it that upon all political questions-presidential elections, or what not-the whole argument turns upon the single point, which majority; for the party that shall prevail, is to have the disposal of honors, and offices, and emolument, and partizans are to xcited to exertion, or acquired only by the hope of reward.

There is another class of men, who have sprung up in Virginia, or rather begun to the last 15 years. They do not regard themselves as a part of the people; they that Valuable Tract of Land, situated in Johnprofess themselves the people's servants, ston County, on the south side of Neuse River, meaning nothing more, in plain English, than that they are the men for the people's money. They have no opinions and no Grounds and not subject to inundation. A fur-will of their own; whatever the people ther description is not here given, as it is prethink, they think; whatever the people sumed that no person would make an investment desire, they desire; whatever the people of the value of the land now offered for sale, will they are content : and, therefore, whatever of honor or emolument the peo- field, in Johnston, or Mr. Charles Stevens resid ple have to beslow they expect to receive ing near the land, will show its lines and local it at their hands. Sir, I am one of the ties. people; and I have noted the ways, and know perfectly how to appreciate the motives and merits of these our kind and officious friends and servants. In monarchies, the King is the foundation of honor and office, in republics, the people. -There are courtiers of the people, as well the family of the is as courtiers of Kings. The motives of both of good character. are exactly alike; their ends the same; their conduct is different only in mode; and from the number of Slaves, it is confidently and it is equally true of the courtiers of expected that purchasers will be suited in their Card, to request all such as have any belonging son, or by letter, directed to Thomas' Ferry, Irepeople, as of the courtiers of King, that, views. exactly in proportion to the contempt they entertain in their hearts for the persons to whom their flatteries are addressed, is the ex ravagance of their adulation. Sir, the last hope of the Republic rests in that class; and, thank Heaven, it yet constitutes the great body of the people; who, possessing the means of subsistence, if improved by honest industry, placed above the tempta tions of poverty, and exempt from the temptations of prosperity, never so much as dream of the emoluments of office; the honest hard-working yeomanry of this country, who hitherto have fed, clothed, protected, and sustained society."

Boydton Male Academy, Mecklenburg County, Va.

THE Subscriber, who was some time a Tutor in the University of this State, has taken charge of the Boydton Male Academy .-The Exercises will commence on the 19th inst. In addition to the Branches of Learning usually taught in the best institutions of this grade, instruction will be given to such as desire it, in the French and Spanish. Terms of tuition, for the Languages and Mathematics $12 50. Common and English Branches, as Grammar, Geography, &c. $10, for the Session of five months. Board may be obtained in respectable families at $6 per month. When every hing is furnished to Students, as fuel, washing, candles &c. the expence in no case will exceed 35 dollars a session. From its great healthfulness, moral and refined society, central situation and convenience of access, Boydton possesses many advantages for a permanent literray establishment. [The Academy is very retired and remote from the bustle of the town, and the inhabitants will cooperate with the teacher in the suppression of vice and the preservation of order. As the morals of those committed to my care will be strict ly guarded, none of notoriously bad character need be sent, as they will not be permitted, by remaining to contaminate others. Of the eligibility of its situation, the fact of its having been selected as a location for the contemplated College, is sufficient evidence, With a view to the design of which institution, to bring liberal learning within the reach of persons of moderate fortunes, the Board and Tuition have been fixed

My house is large and roomy; and I have begun to erect small but comfortable Cabins, similar to those at the Winnsborough and Platt Spring Academies of South Carolina. The situation is a handsome one-is known to be perfectly healthy, and has the advantage of being entirely removed from all places of dissipation. No scholars will be taken who cannot board with me as a member of my family.

I will teach the Latin and Greek Languages. the Mathematics, and the Elements of the other Sciences: And also, if required by parents or guardians, I will teach with great care the elementary branches of an English education Tuition and boarding, including candles, wishing, &c. &c. will be furnished for one hundred dol lars per annum, twenty-five of which must be paid in advance. No scholar will be taken for a less term than one quarter; but entrance may be had for one or more quarters at any time after the opening of the school.

I now have one Law Student, and am anxious to get a few more; to whose examination and instruction I would devote a sufficient portion of time to enable them to proceed with much greater ease than they generally do in lawyers' offices, in acquiring a knowledge of their profession , for it is a notorious fact, that practising lawyers have neither time nor inclination to direct the studies of their students, and that they do not examine them as often as once a month. Under such circumstances, a young man must pursue his studies to great disadvantage; and obtain license to practise without a competent holders of said Company, passed at their last an- fund of practical information.
